BRITISH INVASION EXPECTED THIS WEEK

'U. S. Is Ready If Forced To Fight' Says Knox

NAVY, MARINE RESERVES TO REPORT NOW

'Alliance Directed At America'

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Secretary Knox ordered 27,591 navy and marine reservists into uniform Saturday after pointedly warning the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo Axis that "if a fight is forced upon us we shall be ready."

The order applied to the entire organized and fleet reserves of the navy and marine corps. It will swell to 239,281 the number of officers and men on active duty, giving the seagoing forces a strength in personnel they have not possessed since the post-World War period.

Warns Of Menace

Shortly before he issued his order, the naval secretary said unequivocally in an address to graduates of the National Police Academy that the Japanese-German-Italian alliance "is directed at us," and that the United States would not be "intimidated." His remarks were widely interpreted as an administration reply to Friday's assertion by Prince Konoye, the Japanese premier, that any challenge of the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo Axis would tumble the United States into a "fight to the finish."

"We are the largest obstacle in the path of the totalitarian powers," Knox said. "Should Great Britain fail to stem the wide of ever advancing tyranny we shall find ourselves surrounded by these international brigands, whose greatest victory would be the destruction of the United States.

"We Haven't Lost Yet?"

"Never understanding us they suppose our people can be brought under their iron rule. Both as an American and as an official of the navy I know differently. If a fight is forced upon us we shall be ready for them. We have never lost a war yet."

Just back from an inspection of the fleet, Hawaiian and west coast defenses, Knox asserted that the American sea force was the "most powerful, most efficient fleet in the world today, fully capable of upholding the American tradition of victory at sea, which has done so much to establish and continue us as a free people."

Asserting that "our mode of life has never been so challenged as it now is," Knox said that under the circumstances an adequate navy "demands that we be able to meet enemies far from our own shores and defeat them in both oceans—simultaneously if necessary.

DEMOS CLAIM WILLKIE 'SNOB'

Republicans Confer On Strategy

By The Associated Press

Wendell L. Willkie talked strategy with Republican Party leaders of New York Saturday while at the other end of the empire State Democratic Attorney General Robert H. Jackson was accusing the Republican nominee of "snobbery" in his campaigning.

State Republican leaders met Willkie as he stepped from his train at New York City and they hurried off for a day of conferences before the nominee headed out on a series of night speeches in Brooklyn. The conferences were a prelude to a scheduled chain of speeches and appearances in New Jersey and New England during the forthcoming week.

Willkie Criticized

Jackson criticized Willkie in an address at Buffalo in ceremonies formally notifying Senator James M. Mead of his renomination by the Democrats.

Willkie, Jackson asserted, is "talking down to his fellow Americans

Invasion Coast Is Ablaze After Raid

LONDON—(AP)—British bombers made a mighty attack upon the German-held ports across the Channel Saturday night, cliff watchers reported that the French "invasion" coast appeared aflame from Dunkerque to Boulogne.

British sources in the meantime responded to reports that the long-awaited Nazi attempt at invasion seemed close at hand: "If they come, we're ready for them!"

Draftees Get Relief

Guard House To Be Used 'Sparingly' And Discipline Won't Be So Tough

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Instructions went out to army posts Saturday to use the guard house as sparingly as possible when disciplining the men soon to be drafted for mass training.

Major General Leslie J. McNair, general headquarters chief of staff, said all means should be used to avoid absenting men from training designed to harden and season them.

"While the highest standards of discipline are essential, disciplinary action preferably and where practicable will be of forms which do not involve absence from training," General McNair said. "Confinement especially be reduced to the minimum."

Just Like War

Other instructions issued indicated an intention to steel the eardrums and nerves of recruits to the blasting sounds of war. They specified that when the stage of training in units is reached, blank ammunition should be used frequently to approximate actual battle sounds. Numerous firing tests with live ammunition also will be given.

Veteran officers suggested it was important that recruits become accustomed to battlefield tumult to minimize the peril of panic and confusion when troops are first under fire in wartime.

Rewards To Be Prompt

In his directive, General McNair advised that the army be prompt to reward with promotion and increased responsibility new soldiers who demonstrate qualities of leadership.

"Inadequate leadership must be uncovered equally promptly and replaced," he added.

He also said in effect the drafted men should be allowed to take it easy until they are hardened.

"Training," he said, "must insure proper and gradual conditioning of the trainees, avoiding undue physical demands initially but developing eventually ability to endure prolonged and severe physical exertion."

SERIES AGAIN EVEN AS REDS WIN GAME 5-2

Newsom, Thompson May Pitch Today

BRIGGS STADIUM, Detroit—(AP)—The courageous Cincinnati Reds coursed back onto even terms in the 1940 World Series Saturday by muzzling the Detroit Tigers, 5 to 2, on the five-hit pitching of big Paul Derringer.

The Reds raided three Detroit pitchers for 11 hits and were always on the attack, to the amazement of a crowd of 54,093 who turned out for the fourth fracas of the annual autumn classic.

Derringer Is Star

They kept up a more or less constant shower of hits, but the important contribution to the conquest was the strong-arm hurling of Derringer.

It was the fifth time the 33-year-old Kentuckian had started in a World Series, once when he was breaking in for the St. Louis Cardinals and four times with the Reds, and this was his first victory.

He went into Saturday's tussle as a bit of surprising strategy on the part of Manager Bill McKechnie and determined to stifle the Tiger sluggers. He did it with the same stout-hearted elbowing that he has used to pull the National League champions out of many another tight hole.

Wild At Start

He was wild at the start, but the longer he pitched the tougher he became, giving no hits and no walks after the sixth inning.

The Reds, in the meantime, had pounced on Paul (Dizzy) Trout for two runs in the first inning and shelled him off the mound before he got anybody out in the third.

As usual the bell cow of the Cincinnati club was Bill Werber, who went to the plate five times and got on base four—with two singles and two walks.

He waited out a pass to start the game and after he had been forced by Mike McCormick, little Ival Goodman slammed the first pitch into the left field corner for a double and a run. Goodman went to third on an infield out and scored himself when Pinky Higgins let a grounder by Jim Ripple get through him for an error.

Trout To Showers

Trout was touched for two more singles in the second without damage, but in the third Goodman led off with a sizzling single to right center and on the hit and run went to third as Frank (Buck) McCormick singled to right. Ripple doubled to score Goodman and send the bespectacled right-hander plodding to the showers.

Clay Smith, who went to the rescue, squeezed out of the jam by forcing two players to pop up, purposely passing Billy Myers to fill

Water Pumped From Panamanian

GALVESTON—(AP)—Tugs were at work all day Saturday pumping water out of the flooded engineroom of the Panamanian taker Panamanian, as she lay aground in the roads of Galveston harbor, but the work had not been completed early Saturday night, and completion of an underwriters' survey was awaiting the completion of the pumping.

The vessel, which loaded 65 drums of gasoline for Japan at the Galveston harbor port of Texas City had her engineroom flooded about 2 o'clock Friday morning as she lay at anchor in the roads. It is believed that the flooding resulted from faulty functioning of the steam condensing system. Tugs were called to the vessel, and she was moved to a shallow place and beached.

5 KILLED IN TEXAS CRASH

Barnstormers Collide Over Velasco

FREEPORT, Tex.—(AP)—Five persons crashed to death Saturday as plane piloted by a barnstorming father and son collided in the air near Velasco. The father was among those killed, the son escaped injury.

Jack Turner, Freeport undertaker, said that Tag Eure told him his small craft struck a larger ship in which his father, Claude Eure, was taking four persons on a pleasure flight. The collision fouled the controls of the elder Eure's plane.

The son glided down in a "dead stick" landing, the propeller of his ship broken.

The dead besides Eure:

Dave S. Crowley, about 60, of Velasco. His son, J. R. Crowley, about 21, employe of the Freeport Sulphur Company.

Tom J. Knowles, about 45, employe of the Freeport Sulphur Company.

One middle-aged unidentified man.

Persons who examined the instruments said that the plane apparently fell from an altitude of 1800 feet.

Eure had been in this vicinity, with his plane for several weeks. He had been taking passengers on brief flights over the area.

Texas' 36th Guard Outstanding In US

FORT WORTH—(AP)—Heritage of the old thirty-sixth division is reflected in the present Texas National Guard bearing its name, Col. Ernest O. Thompson, officer of the present day thirty-sixth and a member of the railroad commission of Texas, told the veterans at their reunion banquet here Saturday night.

"The thirty-sixth division today is the outstanding national guard division in the nation," Col. Thompson said, "and it has been made so because sons, nephews and other kinsmen of you men are only trying to live up to the enviable reputation you made overseas."

100,000 At Opening Of Texas State Fair

Fair president Harry L. Seay estimated the crowd at more than 100,000 which would exceed the record attendance of 93,000 at last year's opening day.

8700 ELIGIBLE TO REGISTER IN CAMERON

Draft Boards, Places Are Revealed

BROWNSVILLE — Estimated total registration of draft eligibles in Cameron county was revised downward Saturday by County Clerk H. D. Seago. The anticipated total is now 8,700 as compared with the first estimate of 10,000. Of this total 1,500 were expected from Harlingen, 3,050 from Brownsville and 950 from San Benito.

All 35 precinct registration places were announced Saturday, as were appointments of 32 of the 35 chief registrars. A conference of all chief registrars for instruction in duties and regulations will be called next week, Mr. Seago said.

Precinct 30 Largest

By far the largest precinct is expected to be No. 30 in Harlingen where 600 eligibles are anticipated. Next in size are the seventh, eighth and tenth in Brownsville, with 400 each. The two smallest are the 23rd at Rangerville and the 28th at Wilson with 75 each.

Registration blanks are expected in the county clerk's office Tuesday. Regulations governing the event have been received and copies will be given all chief registrars. More than 200 more volunteer workers are still needed, although several schools have not yet been heard from where considerable teacher aid is expected.

Three Draft Boards

Three local draft boards will be set up in Cameron county, according to information received Saturday by County Clerk Seago. One is located in Brownsville and definite information concerning the other two has not yet been announced, but these are expected for Harlingen and San Benito.

The local draft boards will start work October 17, the day following registration day. They will assemble all cards and classify registrants. President Roosevelt is expected to announce the appointment of the personnel of the Cameron county draft boards next week. It is understood the appointments have already been made, but need only the president's confirmation.

Small Towns Offer Poorest Diet, Says Nutrition Expert

AUSTIN—(AP)—Small towns offer the poorest diets in Texas, a vocational educator told nutrition experts and social science workers here Saturday.

Miss Ruth Huey, director of home economics in the vocational division of the state department of education, asserted the small community diet standards were worse than those of either rural or urban areas.

Draftees May Offer Registration Help

AUSTIN—(AP)—Modifying a previous interpretation, the adjutant general's department said Saturday men of draft age may volunteer their services as registration workers.

In a letter to Binford Arney of Amarillo, president of the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce, Adjutant General J. Watt Page said members of the chamber may offer their services to county clerks and judges.

San Antonio Tot Is Killed In Accident

SAN ANTONIO —(AP)— Six-year-old Leroy Gerla died Saturday a few hours after being hit by a car.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy L. Gerla.

Who Said Autumn

Temperature Climbs To 95 Saturday

HARLINGEN—The weather man was not paying much attention to the calendar Saturday, with a maximum temperature of 95 degrees recorded here. The minimum Friday night was 68, making a range of 27 degrees between the low and high.

At the Brownsville airport weather station, a maximum of 91 and a minimum of 70 were reported.

Coach Fired For Marring The Grass

Czar Of Orange Ired When Team Practices On His Pretty Field

During the summer, he put some 100 members of the Bengal Guards, girls drill squad, into new uniforms and sent them on a $20,000 special train trip to a Chicago music festival.

The high school football team this fall is playing in a new $50,000 stadium donated by the financier.

Now, Dexter Shelley, former Texas University football star and Orange coach, said Saturday that Stark had provided the school with a new head coach.

"Mr. Stark was displeased over the fact that I took my team out on the new field instead of the practice field for a workout Thursday night," Shelley said, "so I am no longer coach.

"Apparently Mr. Stark was afraid that the cleats would mar the surface of the new field unnecessarily in practice."

Stark's only comment was: "We have a definite policy, a very definite policy, in our organization. We never explain, we never admit, we never deny.

"All I have to say is, I believe Shelley pulled a blade of grass."

TRACTOR AND AUTO COLLIDE

Three Men Hurt Near Raymondville

RAYMONDVILLE — Three men were seriously injured in an auto-tractor smash up a mile north of here early Saturday morning.

D. E. Lauderback, Jr., Hebbronville, was driver of a car in which Clause Moran, Raymondville, was passenger, when the machine crashed into a Farmall tractor. Both vehicles were badly damaged.

The tractor, which State Highway Patrolmen Ben Thomas and J. H. Hollyfield said was equipped with lights, was operated by Carmen Cantu, employe of J. R. Florence, Raymondville.

Cantu suffered a broken bone and deep gash in left ankle, ribs and chest injuries; Moran a severe wound about the mouth and nose, back, ribs and other hurts; and Lauderback suffered four broken ribs and cuts and bruises about the body. The three were taken for treatment to Raymondville Hospital in a Duddlesten ambulance, but were released.

County Attorney James Strawn said charges would be filed Monday in the case.

TELEGRAPHER DIES

SPRINGFIELD, Mo.—(AP)— Marion Tavner Fullington, 54, of Springfield, vice president of the International Order of Railroad Telegraphers, died on a train near Austin, Texas, Friday night. The funeral will be here Monday afternoon.

AT A GLANCE

By The Associated Press

U. S. NAVY, MARINE RESERVISTS CALLED:

Secretary Knox orders 27,591 naval and marine reservists into uniform after warning triple alliance "if a fight is forced upon us we shall be ready."

WHERE NEXT?

Observers foresee as next Axis blow: Simultaneous German attempt to invade England and Italian drive in Egypt; Rome, Berlin still keep plans in dark, hint at imminent new move; British express confidence at outcome of any "surprise."

BATTLE OF BRITAIN

Nazi raiders return for 29th successive night of raids on London; met by most thunderous anti-aircraft fire so far; British claim 23 German planes downed in widespread day attacks, admit nine losses themselves; Germans give day's tally as 30 British planes and five Germans.

IRON GUARD

Rumanian government takes all rural land and homes to which Jews hold title.

Siam Will Continue Quest For Territory

TOKYO —(AP)— Premier Luang Bipul Songgram of Thailand (Siam) declared in an interview Saturday that his country is determined to pursue its quest of disputed regions in French Indo-China, but has no intention of resorting to arms, Domei (Japanese news agency) reported in a dispatch from Bangkok.

OPTIMISM SEEN OVER ENGLAND

British Are Ready For Axis Surprise

LONDON—(AP)—Whatever "surprises" the axis dictators arranged at their Brenner Pass meeting, military sources here look to the approaching winter with what they term "reasonable confidence" and a feeling that the worst of the air asault on England has been dealt in the last four weeks.

Certain high ranking experts still believe there is a possibility of a German invasion attempt in October or November, but the public does not. Most authoritative sources agree, however, that Hitler will not try it until he thinks he has mastery of the air over England.

Raids A Failure

The air warfare intended to knock out London was launched four weeks ago. The raiders have destroyed homes, bombed hospitals and schools, flattened whole blocks of East End tenements, ripped open dignified West End stores, blown up office buildings in the center of the city and fired the docks along the Thames.

London stands battered but unbowed.

There are staggering problems, however.

Britain must provide new homes for the people bombed out of their own and safer and more comfortable shelters for all.

Many are without gas or sanitary

TWIN ATTACK ON EMPIRE IS FORECAST

Italian Fliers Move To French Ports

BULLETIN

BERLIN (Sunday)—(AP)—The German shortwave radio broadcast early today that "maybe" waves of German bombers now flying toward England would be followed "soon" by hundreds of thousands of troops now standing ready.

By The Associated Press

An Axis drive soon to smash Britain and her empire—with the Germans attempting to storm England while Italy strikes at her Mediterranean lifelines—shaped up Saturday night as the reported next turn in Rome-Berlin strategy.

This was the belief of veteran observers in Switzerland, both neutral and belligerent, who previously had discounted such indications as camouflage.

Armies Are Ready

Their conclusion that the Germans may attempt the long-threatened invasion of England soon—perhaps in the coming week—was based on reports that all was ready for Adolph Hitler's command at the "invasion ports," with Italian planes and fliers in occupied France behind the Nazi forces.

Belief the Italians are ready to start a major offensive toward Alexandria and the Suez was based on reports from Italy of German troops, engineers and specialists passing through the Brenner Pass on the way to the Italian base in Libya.

It was believed possible also that Spain, despite assertions of her continuing non-belligerency, might try to grab Gibraltar with the help of Italy by sea and air and Germany by land.

Plans Are Secret

Berlin and Rome, although hinting at an impending knockout swing, still made a mystery of axis

VALLEY FRUIT MOVES FASTER

Harlingen, McAllen Have First Cars

HARLINGEN — Although only three cars of new season Valley citrus fruit were reported officially to have been shipped, the total for Saturday was expected to be around eight cars. Growers were said to be getting around $25 a ton for Marsh seedless grapefruit.

The South Texas Produce Company moved McAllen's first car Saturday while the Stuart Place Citrus Association and A. J. (French) LeFort moved Harlingen's first cars.

Plants at Edinburg, Alamo and other points were reported loading but the Texas-Federal Shipping Point Inspection service had no final word on whether the cars actually moved. Polis and Hagen of Edinburg had fruit almost ready to move Friday and other firms reported busy, especially at Alamo. Some of the fruit went out by truck in less than car lots.

The South Texas Produce Company car was a solid car of Foster pinks. W. S. Dougherty of the firm said the 372 boxes of fruit came from the V. C. Gillespie orchard, Mission. Another car was to be loaded Sunday.

There will be no Sunday loading after this week, according to Hart T. Longino, supervisor of the Texas-Federal Shipping Point Inspection Service.

The Stuart Place Association car consisted of Duncan grapefruit with almost two-thirds grading U. S.

Willkie Calls Down 'Cowards, Curs' Who Impugn Patriotism

NEW YORK —(AP)— Wendell L. Willkie told a cheering Brooklyn audience Saturday night that "any man, no matter how high his position, who impugns the completeness of my patriotism is a coward and a cur."

He said he had been informed that "there is a whispering campaign about Wendell Willkie."

Speaking in a Brooklyn high school auditorium, the Republican presidential nominee appealed for the protection of civil liberties and said they should be guarded "without prejudice from any source."

PLANS READY FOR M'ALLEN FIELD MASS

Rev. Fr. Sexton Will Deliver Sermon

McALLEN—Rev. Fr. George Sexton, O.M.I., prominent southwestern missionary preacher, will deliver the sermon Sunday, Oct. 13, at a 10 a.m. field mass for world peace here.

The solemn high mass will be sung at the east side of the McAllen High school athletic field, where sufficient seating accommodations will be installed to take care of thousands of Valley Catholics and Protestants expected to attend.

Sponsored by the McAllen-Mission council of the Knights of Columbus, the mass will mark their observance of Columbus Day, Oct. 12, and provide a "unified massed prayer for peace in a troubled world," Rev. Fr. George Laliberte, O.M.I., assistant pastor at Sacred Heart church here, said. Fr. Laliberte is also chaplain for the local K. of C. council.

Rev. Fr. Tymen, O.M.I., pastor of the Mission church and dean of Valley Catholic priests, will be celebrant of the mass. He will be assisted by Rev. Ft. Charles Buckley of McAllen as deacon and Rev. Fr. Phillip Hoag, assistant pastor of Weslaco, a subdeacon. Fr. Laliberte will be master of ceremonies.

A meeting of all men in the local parish has been called for Sunday, Oct. 6, immediately following the 10 a.m. mass.

In addition to the colorful and symbolic ritual of the Catholic mass, there will be a procession of all members of church societies from the local church to the field. The procession, to be headed by the McAllen High school band, will proceed from the church at 9:30 a.m. During the march the decades of the rosary will be chanted.

A mixed choir from the McAllen, Mission and Weslaco churches will sing responses to the mass. A public address system will be installed at the temporary altar and choir loft so that the words of the ceremony will be spread over the field.

Sponsors of the mass have invited all Valley residents to attend.

Who's Exempted?

Draft Won't Affect Armed Classes

AUSTIN— (AP) —Members of the organized reserve corps are not required to register for selective service purposes on October 16, the adjutant general's department announced Saturday.

Reviewing requirements of the law, the department listed these classes as the only ones exempt from registration:

Members of the armed forces of the United States, the active national guard, the reserve corps, coast guard, coast and geodetic survey, public health service, cadets and midshipmen at the U. S. Military and Naval academies and cadets of the advanced course, senior division, reserve officers training corps and naval reserve officers training corps.

Staffs of foreign diplomatic establishments in this country also are exempt.

Texas Deficit Hits High Of 26 Million

AUSTIN—(AP)—Climbing to an unprecedented record, the state's general fund deficit Saturday stood at $26,125,278.

In the Red $1,639,164 more than it was 15 days ago, the growing deficit was attributed to a loss of revenue to relief bond sinking funds which receive a large share of general revenue during the first three months of each fiscal year. The previous record deficit was $24,726,225 on November 28, 1939.

Narrow Escape From Guernsey Told In Letter To Woman At Fort Isabel; 50 Killed In German Raid On Docks

PORT ISABEL — Miss Marion MacDonald of Port Isabel received a letter from her cousin, Mrs. H. H. Langton, who spoke of her sister in war-torn England.

She said "We had been, as you realize, very anxious about Amy and George living, till June 28th, in Guernsey. On that day they got away in the last mail boat to England, fortunately escaping with their lives when their boat was bombed after they had gone on board.

"For five hours, from 7 p. m. until 12, they had to stand up in the lounge (no cabins available) with life belts on, expecting at any moment to be killed. After 12 they were allowed to take off life belts and keep them beside them to be ready for another attack.

"The anti-aircraft guns on their steamer kept the German attackers so high up they could not aim directly at any time, but more than 50 people were killed or wounded on and near the Guernsey docks, so the bombs fell fairly near their ship. After 36 hours they got to England."

Mrs. Eleanor Roth's Painting Displayed At City News Stand

HARLINGEN — Mrs. Eleanor Roth's painting of St. Helena Canyon, in the proposed Big Bend national park sector, will be on display at City News Stand all this week, Mrs. Herman Bupp, proprietor of the stand, said Saturday.

The picture took first honors in a contest the past summer among art students at Alpine.

Jap Bombers Strike Again At Sino City

CHUNGKING —(AP)— Japanese bombers struck Chengtu, capital of Szechwan province, at noon Saturday in a second consecutive daily raid, and inflicted some damage in the southwestern section of the city, where there is foreign mission property. Three Japanese planes were reported shot down.

At least 500 casualties were caused by Friday's attack among Chinese bunched near the city's eastern gate.

Indians At War With US Are To Register

MIAMI, Fla. —(AP)— Braves of the Seminole Indian tribe, still technically at war with the United States, are going to register for conscription.

There are 65 members of the tribe in the Florida Everglades subject to the draft who will register on October 16.

Although the Seminole war has been ended a century, the tribe never has formally made peace with the United States.

Lady's Rheumatism Is Long Lost Needle

TERRE HAUTE, Ind.—(AP)—Mrs. Lela Jeffers told her husband, the Rev. A. R. Jeffers, she believed she had rheumatism in her right leg.

The minister examined her leg and pulled out a needle.

Mrs. Jeffers said she must have swallowed it when a girl but didn't remember doing so.

Entire Crew Saved As Vessel Is Sunk

LONDON —(AP)—The entire crew of the Donaldson Line Ship Corrientes, 6,863 tons, sunk by German action more than a week ago, is safe, the owners reported after receiving a radio message from Captain Stewart.

The mesasge said all 50 crewmen had been picked up by a westbound freighter and probably would be landed at an American or Canadian port.

and they resent it further," Jackson said, there is "deep resentment" at Willkie's "sneers at President fine command of the English Roosevelt's education, sneers at his language, and sneers because the president is a member of a distinguished American family."

Willkie's presence in the politically important state coincided with a visit by the president to New York. When Mr. Roosevelt left the capital for a week-end stay at his Hyde Park home he was accompanied by an old adviser on presidential addresses and campaigning, Justice Samuel I. Rosenman of the New York supreme court.

Roosevelt Speaks

In a speech dedicating three Dutchess county schools the president reviewed some of the record of his administration since its inception eight years ago. Among other things, he said.

"There were some in those days (eight years ago) who chanted that nature had to run its course of misery, that deflation could not be stopped, and that the depression was only the working of natural economic laws in a system of free enterprise.

"The American government decided to reject this philosophy of inaction and irresponsibility and indifference to the destitution of its citizens. In its place was substituted a new doctrine—that the government owned a continuing responsibility to see to it that no one should starve who was willing to work."

McNary Raps Treaties

Senator Charles McNary, Republican vice presidential nominee, in a talk prepared for a Ulen, Minn., meeting, said the reciprocal trade treaties promoted by the Roosevelt administration, had failed to promote peace or benefit agriculture.

"The New Deal already has made our economic borders defenseless," McNary said. "Because of the reciprocal trade treaties our trade frontiers are unprotected."

At Washington, an argument (through the medium of an exchange of public statements) arose over administration handling of unemployment statistics as related to the national census.

Representative Keefe (R-Wis) accused the commerce department of "deliberately holding up announcement of the total figures on unemployment from the 1940 census until after the presidential election." He said "reliable sources" reported the census would show 12,500,000 unemployed in the spring of 1940, which he said was an increase of almost 2,000,000 since 1937.

Jones Wants Figures

Secretary Jesse Jones, in reply, said it was a "physical impossibility to obtain total results respecting unemployment or any of the other 30-odd classificatons until an actual hand-count of the total population has been completed and punch cards made representing each of the 131,409,881 individual returns." The law allows until December 1, he added, to complete this count.

Ancient Roman Ruin Found As Air Raid Shelters Are Built

CARLISLE, Scotland—(AP)—Workmen constructing air raid shelters in the suburb of Stanwix have uncovered a nine-acre Roman fort dating back to about the second century.

The Fort, which formed part of Hadrian's Wall, is rectangular shaped, 580 feet by 700 feet and is 300 feet broader than any other fort on the wall.

Hadrian's Wall, 74 miles long, was built by Roman Emperor Hadrian in about 120 A. D. and stretched from Solway Firth to the mouth of the Tyne. It was designed to protect Roman Britain from the tribes of the north.

Powder Box Plant Is Razed By Fire

MEDIA, Pa. —(AP)— Fire early Saturday swept the Paper Canister Co., Fernwood, Delaware county, which has been making powder containers for the government.

Three New Jersey men were held for questioning, and Fire Chief Harry Straub of East Lansdowne said:

"It looks very much like sabotage because the fire spread so quickly."

plans. Nazi informants spoke of a blow at an especially "vulnerable spot"—unnamed—while talk in Berlin centered on the eastern Mediterranean as a potential decisive battleground.

Fascist editorial guns turned on Turkey as a satellite of Britain and the United States, but Virginia Gayda, Italy's most authoritative editorial voice, contented himself with the declaration that "the two Axis powers are resuming their war operations . . . the effect will be seen soon."

Britain "Confident"

Whatever "surprises" the Axis may plan, British military sources looked toward the winter, they said, with "reasonable confidence" as the Nazi air siege of London went into its fifth week.

Although Nazi raiders struck from the Channel to London and all over England Saturday, British informants said they believed the worst of Germany's aerial storm had passed.

Some German planes broke through the British defenses during the day, and the sky over London was red again last night with the most thunderous anti-aircraft barrage heard yet in the British capital.

But the British said the Germans had paid dearly for their attacks, losing 23 planes to nine British craft lost up to evening.

Invasion Ports Raided

Cliff watchers on the Channel coast said a mighty attack by British bombers had strung a line of flame from Dunkerque to Boulogne.

The Germans, listing railroad facilities, gas tanks, troop concentrations, docks, airports and munitions works as their bombers' targets, said 30 British planes had been bagged in the day's fighting and only five Nazi planes lost.

In Rumania, the month-old Iron Guard government decreed a law making state property of all rural land and dwellings to which Jews held title, and intensified its campaign on foreign interests in the country and on the regime of abdicated King Carol.

Toolmakers' Jobs

US Service Has 600 Appointments Now

HARLINGEN—The United States Civil Service Commission Saturday announced open positions for toolmakers, in connection with the national defense program.

Frank Lee, Harlingen secretary for the board of examiners, said immediate appointments are to be made at ordnance and naval establishments at Philadelphia, Boston, Springfield and Watertown, Watervliet, N. Y., and Washington, D. C. Approximately 600 appointments will be made at the Frankford Arsenal alone.

Pay scales vary according the the place of employment, Lee said, ranging from $6.24 a day to $1.17 an hour. Applicants must have completed a four-year apprenticeship as toolmaker or must have four years of practical experience in the trade. Information may be secured from Lee here, or from any first- or second-class postoffice.

Siamese Planes Are Raiding Indo-China

VICHY, France —(AP)— Thailand (Siamese) planes, the Petain government charges, are violating the French Indo-China frontier "systematically" in groups of 20 to 40 to back up territorial claims.

The flights range deep into Indo-China, the French declared, and began simultaneously with the appearance of Thailand borber reinforcements October 1, after Vichy refused demands for frontier revisions a second time.

KELLY RETURNS

BROWNSVILLE—John O. Kelly, Brownsville city engineer, returned to his office Friday after a month's vacation and leave of absence.

DETAINED

Dr. Frederick Ernest Auhagen, German citizen under subpoena before the Dies committee, is shown in custody at Los Angeles following his arrest by federal officers as he prepared to board a Japanese liner for Japan, Auhagen, former Columbia university language professor, was accused of express shipment of obscene literature from Chicago to Los Angeles.

Combination. Some Marsh seedless was shipped by truck by the association.

LeFort said his car was straight Marsh seedless with 70 per cent grading U. S. Combination and the rest U. S. No. 2. He said he expected to load two cars Monday and three Tuesday.

L. E. Pratt, chief of the maturity division of the state department of agriculture, said that the percentage of fruit passing was still about the same as when inspections started Tuesday, with much grapefruit still faling to pass.

Six or seven truckloads of fruit, mostly oranges, were shipped out Saturday from the Polis and Hagan plant at Edinburg. The bulk of the oranges were of the Hamlin variety.

The Edinburg Citrus association was also loading a carlot of fruit Saturday afternoon, but it was not expected to leave before the weekend.

Truck shipments were being loaded out of Pharr in large lots from the W. E. Baden and Valley Fruit company sheds.

OPTIMISM SEEN OVER ENGLAND

facilities. Winter epidemics could become a dangerous menace.

Authoritative persons, however, believe British morale is tough enough to prevail with the aid of three things:

1. Intensified removal of mothers and children, with the possibility this will be extended to the aged and infirm.

2. A new shelter policy, expected under dynamic Socialist Herbert Morrison, new minister of home security.

3. "Rest periods" from Nazi raids of two or three days at a time when the winter weather gets too bad for bombing.

Most experts are counting, too, upon the RAF growing ever stronger as a defensive and offensive force from steady acceleration of aircraft production here and machine reinenforcements from the United States.

ROGERS VISIT

ALMAZAN AIDE APPLIES ANEW

U. S. Cancels Agent's Application Card

SAN ANTONIO— (AP) —Francisco Cardenas, representative of Gen. Juan Andrew Almazan, claimant to the presidency of Mexico, said here Saturday he was sent an air-mail letter, containing a new application for registration under the foreign agents act, to the Department of State, Washington, D. C.

Earlier in the day, the department of state announced that Cardenas' application had been cancelled because his registration statement contained "surplusage inimical to the foreign policy of the United States."

The former governor of Nueva Leon, Mex., said he had been instructed to eliminate any "descriptive or qualifying phrases."

In his first application, Cardenas had identified himself a representing the Revolutionary Party of National Unification of Mexico and Gen. Juan Andreu Almazan, "as legitimate president-elect of Mexico."

RAF Bombers Hit At Lowlands, Germany; Nazis Planes Reply

BERLIN (Sunday)—(AP)—British bombers Saturday night and early today raided points in Holland, Belgium and Western Germany, but authorized German sources said they were turned back without losses.

There was no raid in Berlin, which has been without alarm for the past few nights.

The Germans at the same time reported they bombed middle and southeast England during the night.

Crew Of Sunk Liner Is Rescued At Sea

NEW YORK —(AP)— British refugee children reported on arrival that their ship, the Empress of Australia, stopped enroute to Canada and rescued the entire crew of the Holand-America Liner Volendam which they said had either been torpedoed or had struck a magnetic mine.

The children said they did not know what had happened to the passengers, if any, aboard the Volendam.

The rescued crew, the children said, were left at Halifax where the Empress of Australia docked. The children went by train to Montreal and from there to New York.

25 Years Assessed In Medina Slaying

BANDERA—(AP)—A district court jury here Saturday convicted Jess M. Autry of murder in the slaying of Hal Smith near Medina last January 13, and gave Autry a term of 25 years in the penitentiary.

Neutral Observers Believe Now That Invasion Is Due

BERN, Switzerland—(AP)—Signs of an imminent Axis offensive against both England and the British empire, dismissed at first as a smoke screen, were regarded by neutral and belligerent military observers alike here Saturday as probably correct.

British sources have begun to credit what they first took as Axis inspired reports that German forces on the North Sea and English Channel now have completed preparations for a smash at England and are only waiting the word "go."

Similar reports from the Mediterranean indicate the Italians also are set for a land drive across Egypt toward Alexandria and the Suez Canal and down the Valley of the Nile from Ethiopia.

May Attack Gibraltar

Spain, which the Axis has pictured as sticking to her non-belligerent role, is believed in these quarters to be ready to try to seize Gibraltar with air and sea aid from Italy and land aid from Germany.

(Dispatches from Algeciras, Spain, said 2,000 British troops landed Saturday to strengthen the garrison of the "rock" sentinel of the western Mediterranean.)

Here are some of the reports many veteran foreign observes have added up to mean an Axis offensive—perhaps in the coming week:

From Italy, accounts of travelers that German army engineers and specialists, even some Nazi troops, have been moving through the Brenner Pass toward Italian Libya;

From similar channels in Italy, that 500 Italian warplanes and 3,000 Italian fliers, navigators and air-gunners now are in Nazi-occupied France and the low countries ready to bolster an attempt to invade England.

Invasion Talked Up

The Axis press and radio, inclined in September to talk down an invasion attempt, has begun since the Brenner meeting between Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini to hint it is not so far off after all.

The Axis powers are believed here to have based plans for an attack on Britain on all fronts before the United States elections November 5, primarily with an eye to America.

One Axis source in this country said a triumph against Egypt, Gibraltar or England herself is needed to convince the United States that it "is too late to save Britain."

Defense May Force Texas To Retrench

AUSTIN—(AP)—Unpaid state social security obligations and expanding federal appropriations for defense purposes force the issue of curtailing "ordinary" state expenditures, several members of Texas' next house of representatives opined Saturday.

While withholding a prediction the lawmakers would wield the economy ax lustily at the general session beginning next January, the group declared a retrenchment program probably would find many active supporters.

FULLEM RITE SET SUNDAY

Funeral To Be Held From Mortuary

HARLINGEN—Funeral services will be held at 3 p.m. Sunday from the Stotler-Burdette Mortuary for Mrs. Bertha Theresa Fullem, 25, who died at 2 p.m. Friday in the Valley Baptist Hospital.

Rev. Paul Weiss of the Primera-Combes Methodist Church will conduct the services to be followed by interment in the Combes Cemetery.

Pallbearers will be Wade Smith, Murray Eddings, Other Fullem, Dave Fulton, Charles Craig and Glenn Hewitt.

She is survived by her husband, John P. Fullem, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Maschler of the Briggs-Coleman tract, two sisters, Mrs. W. H. Patty of Houston, and Miss Sophia Maschler of Harlingen; and two brothers, George and Victor of Harlingen, four nieces and one nephew.

Paul Vickers Talks At Baptist Service

HARLINGEN—Paul T. Vickers, manager of the McAllen Chamber of Commerce, will fill the pulpit Sunday at the First Baptist church here in the absence of Rev. E. Douglas Carver, pastor.

Reverend Carver is conducting a revival at Clarksville. Vickers will talk on "The Hands of Jesus," at the 11 a. m. service, and at 8 p. m. on "Breaking the Vicious Circle."

Defense Board Has Finished Sessions

YARMOUTH, N. S. —(AP)— United States members of the Canada-U. S. Permanent Joint Defense Board were on their way home by steamship Saturday after mapping definite North American defense measures, some of them possibly to be taken at once.

Headed by New York's Mayor F. H. La Guardia, the United States group boarded the boat Friday night for Boston after a meeting in Halifax which La Guardia said "completed the work we started earlier elsewhere."

MOVE TO NEW HOME

MISSION—Mr. and Mrs. George Brooks, Jr., and family have moved to the Brooks home southwest of Mission. Their home on Conway has been sold to R. N. Smith.

VALLEY GETS SOUTH TEXAS SPEECH MEET

December Program Set At McAllen

McALLEN—Sponsored by the state Interscholastic League, a South Texas speech conference will be held here Dec. 4, Don Irwin of the McAllen public schools announced Saturday.

The program will include debates, extemporaneous speeches, declamations and one-act plays.

The speakers who will attend, all from the University of Texas, are Dr. Thomas Rouses, director of debates; Roy Bedicheck, director of the bureau of public school extracurricular activities and F. L. Winship, director of speech activities, all of the Interscholastic League.

Irwin said the conference is held annually to promote interest in all speech activities. It has been held at Texas A. and I., Kingsville for the past two years.

Mexican Chamber

Antonio Garcia New Mercedes Chief

MERCEDES — Antonio Garcia, Mercedes groceryman, was elected president of the newly organized Mexican Chamber of Commerce at Mercedes. Jose De La Santos was chosen secretary and Jose Leal treasurer, while Carlos Leal was selected as publicity agent of the new organization. Vocales, or directors, are Zeferino Rios, Juvention De Leon, Gustavo Saldana and Leonado Galvan.

The first meeting of the organization was held Tuesday night when the alien registration act, the national conscription program and a number of matters pertaining to local matters was discussed by a number of speakers to a crowd of several hundred Latin-Americans. Officials of the Mercedes Chamber of Commerce were among the speakers.

Families In Cameron To Eat Frozen Food

SAN BENITO—Cameron county farm families are going to have fun this winter eating their own home-grown, quick frozen foods because cold storage lockers have come their way, in the opinion of Miss Lu Elsie Nagel, county home demonstration agent.

"The deliciousness of fresh foods eaten out of season will be enjoyed because these families have taken advantage of the new service given them in cold storage plants where quick freeze units have been installed," she stated.

Auxiliary Meet To Stress Americanism

MERCEDES—A special program featuring Americanism has been arranged for the next regular meeting of the Mercedes Legion Auxiliary next Tuesday evening, October 8. Mrs. H. Schmalzried, immediate past president, will be in charge of the program.

The meeting, originally scheduled for Monday night, was postponed until Tuesday on account of another event scheduled for Monday. Mrs. Dewey Acker is president of the auxiliary.

Delphian Play Set For Mercedes High

MERCEDES—A one act play, entitled "The Man Who Stayed For Dinner" will be presented by Mrs. Marvin McAskill of Edinburg in the music room of the Mercedes high school next Monday evening under the sponsorship of the Delphian Chapter.

The proceeds of the play will be applied to the building fund for a new women's building at Mercedes.

C. D. Ritter Teaches Farm Youth Classes

RAYMONDVILLE — Natoinal Farm Youth Foundation classes will be taught by C. D. Ritter, vocational agriculture instructor in the Raymondville schools, according to an announcement by J. B. Phillips.

The first meeting will be on Monday night in the school at the vocational agriculture building.

They Need More Room

150 Changes In State Laws Will Be Voted In November

More Than Half Of States Will Study New Proposals Along With Election

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Approximately 150 state constitutional amendments, referenda, and initiative measures will be voted on in next month's elections.

More than half the states will have on their ballots proposals dealing with liquor, old age pensions, taxes, horse-racing, gambling, and bond issues.

One state—New Mexico—will vote on a constitutional amendment authorizing absentee balloting in future elections.

The fact that many states do not allow absentee voting has stirred agitation for change in view of the government's new military programs. Thousands of national guardsmen already called to active training will be unable to vote because of the absentee laws.

Old Age Pensions

Old age pension questions will come before the voters in only four states this year.

Colorado having provision now for one of the highest pensions for the aged in the country—$45 a month—has on its ballot a constitutional amendment to substitute a "guaranteed" $30 pension.

Arkansas will have a proposal to create a new pension system for persons over 60, the payments to come from revenues from sales, liquor, racing, pool hall and slot machine taxes.

Washington State will ballot on a minimum pension of $5 a month for those over 65, and Louisiana voters will decide whether to give pensions to aged state officers.

5 On Liquor Questions

Five states will vote on liquor questions: Massachusetts, on a referendum to retain its present law; Oklahoma, a constitutional amendment to repeal its present bone-dry law and to legalize liquor sales; Oregon, on a referendum to regulate mixing of drinks in hotels, clubs and restaurants, and an initiative to permit private sale of liquor in place of sale by state stores, as at present; Idaho, on initiatives providing machinery allowing counties local option in the sale of liquor and various other regulations; and Arkansas, on a referendum to relax requirements for calling local elections.

Four states are to settle racing and gambling questions: Arizona, to legalize gambling, with $4,000,000 of estimated annual revenues to go for social security and relief; Colorado, to legalize pari-mutuel betting on horse and dog racing; Oregon, to legalize pin ball games and bank nights; and Florida, to equalize distribution among counties of revenues derived from pari-mutuels.

Alabama, Louisiana, Montana and New Mexico will vote on an aggregate of $26,600,000 in bond issue proposals.

ALMAZAN SAYS THOUANDS DIE

Mexican Communism Said Responsible

SAN ANTONIO—(AP)—The Evening News said Saturday a manifesto charging that more than 23,000 persons have been killed in Mexico during the past six years in behalf of "totalitarian Communism," has been distributed by the congress supporting claims of Gen. Juan Andreu Almazan to the presidency.

The News said copies of the manifesto were released in San Antonio by Francisco A. Cardenas, authorized representative of Gen. Almazan.

The manifesto was quoted as saying the deaths occurred as a result of efforts of President Lazaro Cardenas to "give totalitarian Communism a strategic base on the American continent."

(In Mexico City, President Cardenas was quoted as saying Almazan "must be considered no less than a rebel" if he "continues to work against our country in the United States.")

MORRISON VISITS

WOMEN FACE THEFT TRIAL

County Court Cases To Be Called

EDINBURG—Two Dallas women will go to trial again on theft charges in Hidalgo county court-at-law here Monday, Assistant District Attorney Hollis H. Rankin announced Saturday.

The defendants are Mrs. Nola Dollar and Mrs. Annabelle Williamson, both of whom were tried on other theft charges last week before Justice of the Peace T. W. Kelly of McAllen, where they were fined. Mrs. Dollar drew a $100 penalty and Mrs. Williamson $200.

Three separate cases are on file in county court against each of the women, Rankin said. Thus six cases must be tried, and in addition the court will hear the women's appeals from the McAllen justice court decisions.

Bert Barr of Dallas, attorney, is scheduled to arrive during the week-end to head the defense counsel, according to information received by the district attorney's office here.

Whether additional cases will be filed against the women in this county has not been determined, Rankin said. He added that warrants for them had been issued from Hondo.

The women were taken into custody last week in connection with a series of shoplifing cases ranging from stores in McAllen to Weslaco. A large quantity of merchandise has been recovered by officers and identified by grocers and department store owners over the Valley.

The women are expected to plead not guilty and ask for a trial by jury when the county court cases are called.

Rankin said he expected the six cases, plus the two appeals from justice court, to require at least two days for trial.

Fruit Man Is Fined For Check Purchase

SAN JUAN — B. F. Tullis of Progreso was fined $25 and costs by Justice of the Peace R. L. Savage on a complaint that he purchased fruit with a check when he was licensed to buy only with currency.

He is alleged to have purchased fruit from W. B. Caperton of San Juan and to have given a check for $116.90 which was not negotiable Tullis was said to have held a cash buyer's license but not to have had a $5,000 bond required of dealers giving checks. Tom Yates of Harlingen was present as an observer for the state bonding and licensing division. Tullis filed an appeal bond and the case will go to county court.

Brownsville Gains In Postal Receipts

BROWNSVILLE —Postal receipts for the Brownsvill post office during the month of September totalled $5,265.48, Postmaster W. T. Burnett announced Friday.

This compared with $4,842.48 during the month of September, 1939, and $5,078.65 during August, 1940, making a gain over both periods.

Barron Calls Meet On Bond Refunding

BROWNSVILLE — County school superintendent John F. Barron Friday called a meeting of county school board members for Monday at 9:30 a.m. in his office in the courthouse.

Refunding of various bonds will be discussed, Barron said.

Commission To Fix Draft Registration

BROWNSVILLE — The Cameron county commissioners' court will have a quorum meeting at the courthouse Saturday morning to discuss final plans for the draft act registration on October 16 and to receive county tax rolls to be presented by tax assessor-collector Ralph T. Agar.

Tourist Welcome Sign To Be Fixed

McALLEN—The large neon sign north of Edinburg welcoming visitors to the Valley will be rebuilt, Hidalgo county chambers of commerce have decided. The Neo Art Co. of McAllen has agreed to do the job for $20, which is less than one-third of the next lowest bid, $66.

The chambers agreed to allocation of the expense and the funds are now being collected by the McAllen chamber at the request of others.

West Brownsville's PTA Meets Thursday

BROWNSVILLE — The West Brownsville School Parent-Teacher Association will hold its first meeting of the year Thursday, October 10, at 3 p. m., at the school, according to Mrs. E. B. Russell, principal.

"A teacher alone is useless, a teacher of a child is better, but it takes a teacher, a child and an understanding parent to make a real school," Mrs. Russell said in urging a full attendance at an initial meeting.

STATE DEFICIT HIGHEST EVER

Increase Is Said To Be Seasonal

AUSTIN—(AP)—The state's general fund deficit soared Saturday to an all-time record of $26,125,278, an increase of $1,639,164 since September 20.

The increase, seasonally normal because relief bond sinking funds take a heavy toll on general revenue for the first three months of the fiscal year, compared with the previous high of $24,726,225 on November 28, 1939.

The deficit was announced in connection with a call for payment of $43,873 in warrants through November 27, 1939.

ATTEND GRID GAME

McALLEN—Miss Baba Hare, Larry Fritz and Dallas Harmon left Saturday to attend the football game at San Antonio.

PLEDES PEACE

Arnulfo Arias, in a speech attending his inauguration as youngest president in the history of Panama, pledged his administration to a policy of "peace and friendship toward all nations." Arias is 39.

VALLEY LIKES SAME HOLIDAY

Nov. 28 Thanksgiving Is Urged Here

McALLEN—The majority of Valley business men contacted by chambers of commerce secretaries favor the "regular" Thanksgiving Day rather than the "Roosevelt turkey day," local chamber officials declared today, Saturday. The regular day falls on November 28.

The biggest Texas college football games are scheduled for the "old" Thanksgiving Day and Valley schools are believed to be generally in favor of observing November 28.

The survey of sentiment is in anticipation of any possibility that a new day may be set, as no publicity has yet been given for any change.

COTTON WORK OVER VALLEY WINS PRAISE

Stalk Cleanup Near End On Border

McALLEN—The best cooperation in the history of the annual Valley cotton stalk clean-up program has marked the 1940 campaign, D. M. McEachern, chief of the pink bollworm control p oject, disclosed today. Some 220,000 acre swere planted to cotton this year in the Valley.

No complaints have been filed for violation of the Oct. 1 deadline on standing stalks. McEachern explained that in some instances stalks are still standing where conditions beyond the growers' control have intervened. Upon investigating, McEachern said, extensions were allowed in a few instances.

The same cooperation has marked the clean-up program on the Mexican side, he said. Other than in scattered areas the 150,000 acres planted in cotton in northern Mexico, bordering the Rio Grande, are clean.

The pink bollworm chief stressed extermination of scattered standing stalks in fields already ploughed. Unless these stalks are out before they begin bearing again, the program for the eradication of the pest will be defeated.

Pharr Building

Total Hits $11,975 In September

PHARR — Building permits for September totaled $11,975 to bring the new construction total for 1940 to $87,391, far more than it has been in many years and nearly three times the total at the same date in 1939, according to L. M. Flowers, city clerk.

Included in the 15 permits issued during September were three new residences. One is for Alfred Bartlett in the Ford subdivision, brick veneer construction and will cost $3,000. Another is for Almus Palmer in Wittbold Addition for $2,500. It is also brick veneer. The third is for Cecil Roberts, a 5-room tile and stucco for $2,000.

Permits for 1940 now exceed the total for all of 1939 by $25,706. Permits to October 1, 1939, totaled $29,975 and for the entire year $61,685.

Permits for September were as follows: Edd M. Boler, packing plant, $1,000; Burt Coate, remodeling house, $1,500; Zeferina Compas, $30; Cecil Roberts, residence, $2,000; Higinio Esparza, $30; Jack Williams, platform, $50; Salar Palacios, $65; Cecil Roberts, packing shed addition, $100; R. Oliver Carter, addition to shop, $250; Petra A. Chapa, $200; Franklin, $350; E. G. Chapa, store, $600; Almus Palmer, residence, $2,500; Alfred Bartlett, residence, $3,000; D. C. Hogan, garage, $300.

Senior Class Names Leonard Fraser As Editor Of 'Bobcat'

EDINBURG—Leonard Fraser was elected editor of the Edinburg high school annual, "The BobCat," at a meeting of the senior class Thursday, and Miss Arline Edwards, business manager.

The class voted to join the junior class in sponsoring a carnival on Hallowe'en to raise funds for the Junior-Senior banquet and the annual. Class Sponsor A. W. Woolsey was appointed general chairman of the arrangements for the carnival. It was voted that the class donate to a fund with which pictures for the classrooms will be purchased. About 80 seniors and class sponsors, A. W. Woolsey, and Virgil Payne, were present.

20-30 Clubs Erect Safety Sally Signs

SAN BENITO — Sixteen Safety Sallys have been put on "duty" in San Benito. These safety signs, presented to the local school system, by the 20-30 clubs of the Valley, are to protect school children from automobile accidents.

Cooperation on the part of the public in observing the new parking regulations at the San Benito high school has been requested by officials. A secton of Dick Dowling street, directly in front of the high school building, has been marked off as a "no parking zone." On either side of this zone are sections for 30-minute parking. Also on each corner of Adele street and Dick Dowling street is a 60 feet angle marked off for "no parking."

Return Of Directory Inquiries Is Urged

HARLINGEN — Manufacturers and wholesalers here who have not returned questionnaire blanks sent out by the Bureau of Business Research, University of Texas, Friday requested to return them immediately to the chamber of commerce here.

"We don't want 50 per cent of manufacturers and wholesalers listed," Worth Heffner, chamber manager, said Friday. "They are getting something for nothing, and that might mean a lot: listing in a state-wide directory."

San Benito Schools Recessed For Draft

SAN BENITO—The San Benito school board has announced that classes will not b held in the schools here on October 16. The buildings and teachers have been made available to C. C. Bowie, registration chairman, to help carry out efficiently and quickly the registration here of an expected 2,000 young men in the government draft program.

Scrap Iron Deadline Nears

Steel muscled cranes groan over piles of scrap iron and steel in Los Angeles harbor areas as the Japanese government eyes with discomfort the nearing date of October 16 when U. S. embargo on scrap iron goes into effect.

South Texas Fields Are Quiet; Well Makes Test

McALLEN—South Texas wildcats drilled deeper and deeper Saturday but only one of them was making a production test. Drilling was under way in Willacy, Hidalgo, Starr and Brooks Counties on important holes.

One of the most interesting wildcats but one on which information was very scarce was Pan-American Production Co. No. 1 Porfirio Garcia, Share 13, San Juan de Carricitos Grant, in eastern Willacy County. The operation was a "tight" well but was reported drilling below 8,550 feet. One or two minor oil shows were reported below 7,800 feet but no report of any nature on the well could be confirmed. Several major companies and two or three independents hold all of the acreage around the well, which is scheduled for 9,000 to 10,000 feet.

In northeastern Hidalgo County, Humble Oil & Refining Co. No. 1 American Life Insurance Co., Lot 1, Block 13, Mo-Tex Subd., Las Mestenas Grant, was reported coring shale at 6,035 feet on another 7,500-foot wildcat. Humble holds about 20,000 acres in its Hargill block, including the Hargill townsite. The well is about two miles north of the town.

In southwestern Hidalgo, Royal Oil & Gas Co. was moving 427 feet to the east to spud its No. 2 Yturria Town & Improvement Co., at the west edge of the Samfordyce townsite and a mile east of production in the Samfordyce field. The No. 1 Yturria blew out and ran wild from total depth of 3,138 feet, the first of several wildcats drilled in the area to report any kind of show. The well was brought under control after several days and was finally killed and abandoned.

About five miles north of the expanding Rincon field in eastern Starr, Sun Oil Co. No. 1 Mateo Saenz, Survey 80, was running production test. Through casing perforations (9 shots) at 5,478-81 feet, the well began flowing wash water Friday under its own pressure on 5-32-inch tubing choke with tubing working pressure of 825 pounds and closed-in casing pressure of 450 pounds. On drill stem test of the same sand, run while the well was drilling, operators recovered about 200 feet of oil and a little mud with 500 pounds pressure in 20 minutes. A lower sand showed salt water on two production tests around 5,495-5,505 feet.

Semi-wildcatting in the general vicinity of the Rincon field thus far has been a fairly lucrative proposition and was being continued steadily.

Three miles north and a little west of Rincon production, Harvey Oil Co. No. 1 Davenport-State, Survey 514, a south offset to the North Rincon discovery pumper, was bottomed at 5,210 feet. Casing (5 1-2-inch o. d.) was cemented at 5,163 feet and production test will be run on sand at 4,106-18 feet and possibly other shows reported in the hole.

An east offset to the North Rincon discovery, Texas Co. No. 1 Davenport-State, Survey 78, was abandoned dry at 5,423 feet.

W. R. Davis & Co., developers of the Rincon field, extended the field more than a mile southeast, practically into wildcat territory, with the No. A-17 Slick Estate, northeast corner of Survey 528.

Davis & Co. spudded another semi-wildcat, the No. 1 Harry Seyfriedt, in the northeast corner of Survey 928, about 1,600 feet east of the only producer in the Yzaguirre section of the Rincon field. The Yzaguirre producer is 8,800 feet east of northernmost production at Rincon.

In southern central Starr, about two miles southwest of production in the Barbacoas 2,700-foot field, Herman Brown et al's No. 1 Mrs. A. M. Kelsey-Bass, near the center of Sec. 5, Pors. 86-87, Camargo jurisdiction, was reported drilling around 4,550 feet on a 6,000-foot contract. Schlumberger electrical survey was run to 4,000 feet.

In southern Brooks County about 12 miles south of Falfurrias, Sun Oil Co. No. 1 Chas. Boedeker, Survey 16, was coring in shale at 8,358 feet. No shows have been reported thus far.

About two miles east of production in the Alta Mesa field in southwestern Brooks County, Standard Oil Co. of Texas No. 1 Braulia G. de Garcia, Share 1-A, Las Mestenas Grant, was reported drilling around 1,500 feet. It is scheduled for 4,000 feet.

In northeastern Brooks, J. M. West Production Co. No. 1 Wm. Ehlers, Sec. 12, Burton & Danforth Subd., Loma Blanca Grant, was another "tight" wildcat, but was reported drilling around 2,500 feet.

McALLEN—A total of nine new producers, including a southeast extension of more than a mile in the big Rincon field in eastern Starr county and of 1,100 feet to the northeast in the Kelsey field in southwestern Brooks county, brought Valley proven field activity to a new high for recent weeks Saturday.

Despite the completions, there was no slackening of development, which has been maintained through the entire year at practically a record-breaking pace. New producers were scattered through five proven fields in the area.

The Rincon field in eastern Starr county provided by far the most important development in recent weeks when W. R. Davis and Company No. A-17 Slick Estate, Survey 528, about 5,500 feet southeast of present production, opened up a large acreage to development. The well was drilled to total depth of 5,245 feet and cemented 7-inch o. d. casing at 4,430 feet. Production came from the only good sand cored in the hole, through casing perforations (104 shots) at 3,958-78 feet, and gauged 289 barrels daily on quarter-inch tubing choke with 650 pounds tubing working pressure and 1,175 pounds closed-in casing pressure.

Completion of this producer now proves several hundred acres of land in the southeast part of the Rincon field and indicates that oil production is steadily creeping around the edges of a huge oval-shaped producing area surrounding the gas-distillate discovery well of the field. Production has already been proven directly north, northwest, west, southwest and south of the discovery well, while a northeast outpost well, Complete Oil Well Service Company No. 1 Yzaguirre, was completed 8,800 feet east of northermost production in the field several weeks ago. The new southeast completion now helps in slowly closing the "ring of oil" surrounding the discovery well and additional tests may be expected in both directions, north and southwest of the No. A-17 Slick Estate.

In the southwest part of the field, Davis and Company No. B-34 Slick Estate, Survey 506, gauged 319 barrels daily on quarter-inch tubing choke with 20 pounds tubing working pressure and 830 pounds closed-in casing pressure through casing perforations at 4,112-42 feet. The hole was bottomed at 4,449 feet and casting (7-inch o. d.) was cemented at 4,200 feet.

Another southwest well in the field, W. R. Davis and Company No. B-29 Slick Estate, Survey 266, was drilling at 213 feet after spudding late in the week.

Davsi and Company No. B-35 Slick Estate, Survey 486, also in the southwest part of the field, cored an oil sand at 3,980-87 feet, from which drill stem test recovered some oil, and continued coring at 4,119 feet.

A new northeast outpost well extended production in the Kelsey field in southwestern Brooks county about 1,100 feet to the northeast. Humble Oil and Refining Company No. 72 J. C. McGill, about ttwo and a half miles northeast of the Kelsey discovery and in La Blanca Grant, cored the field sand at 4,706-19 feet, then cemented 5 1-2-inch o. d. oil string at 4,710 feet. On production test, the well gauged 116 barrels daily on 1-8-inch tubing choke with 950 pounds tubing working pressure and 700 pounds closed-in casing pressure.

Humble also completed a new north edge well, about two miles north of discovery, the No. J. C. McGill. This well cored the sand at 4,710-25 feet, bottomed the hole at 4,73 feet and cemented casing at 4,71 feet. It gauged 70 barrels daily on 9-64-inch tubing choke with 1,650 pounds tubing working pressure and 1,750 pounds closed-in casing pressure.

Humble's newest test at Kelsey is the No. 74 J. C. McGill, La Blanca Grant, 467 feet from the north and 3,5468 feet from the west lines of the McGill Ranch. It is drilling below 2,100 feet.

One new producer was completed in the Sun field in northeastern well had spudded.

Sun Oil No. B-4 Geo. H. Speer, Survey 236, an inside location, gauged 20 barrels daily on 9-64 inch tubing choke with 350 pounds tubing working pressure after tubing was set with packer at 4,602 feet. The hole was bottomed at 5,002 feet and casing was cemented at 4,685 feet. Production was through casing perforations (6 shots) at 4,648-50 feet.

Sun Oil's No. C-2 Geo. H. Speer, 466 feet from the north and 2,332 feet from the east lines of Survey 235, another inside location, spudden and was drilling past 850 feet.

At Sullivan City in southwestern Hidalgo county, H. J. Porter et al's No. 1 Donato Flores, Tract 237, Por. 39, Reynosa Jurisdiction, was making production test through casing perforations in san dat 3,460-66 feet, where the upper Sullivan sand was cored.

Phillips Petroleum Co. No. 1 Tomas Villareal, Tract 236, Por. 39, Reynosa Jurisdiction, was drilling around 1,500 feet.

Three new producers and three more wells under way kept activity busy in the Colorado field in western Jim Hogg county.

The field's new northwest outpost, V. F. Neuhaus' No. G-3 F. G. Trevino, Survey 37, was in the tanks. From sand cored at 2,908-15 feet, the well gauged 212 barrels daily on quarter-inch tubing choke with 370 pounds tubing working pressure and 980 pounds closed in casing pressure. The hole was bottomed at 2,918 feet and 5 1-2 inch o.d. casing was set at 2,906 feet.

C. Andrade III No. F-1 F. G. Trevino, Survey 37, also in the northwest part of the field, was making oil on production test of sand at 2,951-54 feet. The hole was bottomed at 2,982 feet and 5 1-2 inch o.d. casing was set at 2,980 feet.

Humble Oil and Refining Co. No. 21 King Ranch-Colorado, Survey 42, in the northeast part of the field, made 165 barrels daily on 3-16 inch tubing choke with 280 pounds tubing working pressure and 400 pounds closed-in casing pressure. The well cored the field sand at 2,975-88.5 feet and cemented casing atop the sand.

The field's new northeast outpost, Sun Oil No. 10 N. S. Thaxton, Survey 630, was coring for the field sand at 2,950 feet.

Location has been staked 810 feet from the east and 330 feet from the north lines of the south 80 acres of Survey 38 for the K. D. Harrison et al No. A-5 F. G. Trevino. V. F. Neuhaus will drill the well.

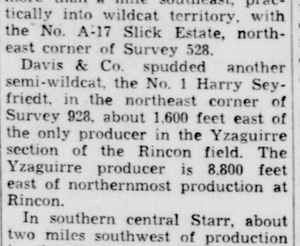

In the Boyle field in southern Starr, Borsodi Petroleum Co. No. 2 Juan de Dios Vela, Share 2-A, Por 92, Camargo Jurisdiction, was drilling around 2,000 feet.

Fidelity Oil and Gas Co. No. B-3 E. B. Carruth et al, Share 1-B, Por. 91, Camargo Jurisdiction, was coring for the field sand past 3,450 feet.

Northeast of the Boyle discovery well about 1,000 feet, Rutherford and Owen's No 4 E. B. Carruth et al, Share 1-B, Por. 92, Camargo Jurisdiction, was drilling around 1,200 feet.

The first of several new wells to be drilled shortly in the San Salvador gas-distillate field as a part of the field's new development pro is rigging up. It is Gulf States Oil Co. No. 1 Carmen Cardenas de Cavazos, located 2,840 feet from the south and 1,600 feet from the west lines of Share 115, a 1,334-acre tract in San Salvador del Tule Grant.

Construction of a recycling plant, capable of handling about 60,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily, has been started in the field by Gulf States. Gas run through the plant will be restored to the sand from which it was originally taken. Two sands will be recycled under the plant's first operations, one around 8,300 feet and the other around 7,800 feet.

ALIENS FACE TWO DRAFTS

Mexico Also Calling Men To Service

BROWNSVILLE — About 1,000 citizens of Mexico living in Cameron county Sunday faced the problem of being registered for conscription in two countries, Mexico and the U. S.

Recently enacted Mexican law contemplates calling 12,000 men to the Mexican army from eligible registrants January 1. All alien residents are required to register in Cameron county October 16 and be subject to call for service in the U. S. Army.

Under army regulations recently in effect in this country, aliens have not been accepted for military service until they have taken out their first citizenship papers. All aliens are required to register, however, regardless of citizenship papers.

The Mexican conscription act makes no provision either as to who will serve or how the eligible men are to be registered. Nor does it contain any provision covering its citizens in foreign countries. Regulations governing these points are to be formulated later.

Mexican citizens residing in Cameron county who have taken out their first citizenship papers, may renounce the action and avoid the U. S. draft, if they desire.

'Napper' Davis Is 20-30 Speaker

HARLINGEN—C. Warren "Napper" Davis, McAllen, one of the Valley's outstanding football officials, spoke here Thursday night at 20-30 Club dinner on new rules and signals of the game.

Mrs. J. H. Powell, president of the City Federation of Women's Clubs, spoke briefly on the plan to divert Rio Grande Valley Gas Company refunds to a library fund here. The club endorsed to move.

R. E. I. Mike Gilbert, president of the group, reported there are 100 Safety Sally signs in place in the upper Valley, and that next week 140 more would be installed at schools in the lower Valley. The work is sponsored by the Valley's 20-30 Clubs.

Five captains were named and five teams selected in connection with an attendance contest to run until December 31. Captains are James Thomas, Richard Larsen, James John, Francis Scheiner, W. A. Doyle.

Willacy Student At Texas Now Reserve

RAYMONDVILLE — Bill Rapp, University of Texas freshman, has enrolled in the Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps and is ready to start the four-year course which includes two summer cruises and courses in all branches of seamanship.

FIRST TEST FOR BOULDER DAM

Boulder dam engineers created one of the largest man-made waterfalls ever seen when they released more than 30,000,000 gallons of water from Lake Mead through the dam's outlet valves 183 feet above the Colorado River bed in an Inspection test. Here is an aerial view of the spectacle that resulted.

New Yorker Comes To Fish Off Valley After Pacific Try

SAN BENITO—Adolph Duchini of New York City, who is a guest at the Stonewall Jackson hotel here, fished last week in the Pacific—motored across the continent—and plans to continue his fishing this week in the Gulf of Mexico. He expects to go after tarpon at Port Isabel during this first vacation in the Valley. Duchini is head of a trucking company in New York. His 40 trucks carry general merchandise.

Knoxville was the first Tennessee capital.

Reporters Ejected From Mass Meeting

SEATTLE—(AP)—Seattle newspapers reported Friday that five of their reporters, members of the CIO-affiliated American Newspaper Guild, were forcibly ejected from a longshoremen's mass meeting Thursday night at the direction of Harry Bridges, west coast CIO leader, who later addressed the meeting.

The Times said the reporters surrendered their notes on the meeting at the demand of the 20 Bridges sympathizers who ejected them, although the CIO-affiliated International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union had invited them to attend.

MEXICO SHOWS TRAVEL GAINS

Fewer Americans Go To Other Nations

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Influenced by the war, travel to and from the United States declined about one-fourth during the first half of this year compared with the similar 1939 period, the commerce department reported.

American outlays for travel in foreign lands during the six months amounted to $148,500,000, a decline of $46,700,000 from 1939. Travel expenses of foreigners in America declined $18,700,000 to $59,000,000.

Despite official efforts to promote inter-American tourist trade, expenditures for travel in South America declined $1,500,000 to $3,100,000, while the outlay of South Americans in the United States dropped $2,000,000 to $1,800,000. There was a slight increase in travel to Mexico and Central American countries.

Teachers To Adjust Census Duplication

BROWNSVILLE — Representatives from all Cameron county school districts will meet in Superintendent John F. Barron's office Monday, October 14, to adjust duplications in recent scholastic census, Barron announced Friday.

Old Age Insurance

Men & Women—Ages 70 to 90
Costs Only One-Cent-a-Day

The National Protective Insurance Co., 557 Pickwick Bldg., Kansas City, Mo., has especially prepared a new Old Age accident policy with Hospital and General Coverage benefits to be issued exclusively to men and women—ages 70 to 90, who are prevented on account of their advanced age from getting insurance from other companies.

This new policy pays maximum benefits of $2,000, increasing to $3,000. Maximum monthly benefits of $150, including Hospital care. Large cash sums for fractures, dislocations, etc. Doctor bills. Liberal benefits paid for any and every accident.

The Company is the oldest and largest of its kind and has promptly paid Over One and Three-Quarter Million Dollars in cash benefits to its policyholders.

The entire cost is $3.65 for a whole year—365 days—Only One-Cent-a-Day.

Simply send name, age and address of person to be insured, and the name and relationship of the beneficiary—that is all you do—then the Company will send a policy for 10 days' FREE INSPECTION, without obligation. 30 days' insurance will be added free when $3.65 is sent with request for policy. Offer is limited, so write today.

Duncan Coffee Starts Great Contest

Shown above are Bob Finch of McAllen and Herbert Brack of San Benito, Valley Salesmen for the Duncan Coffee Company. Each man is getting a running start for the $3000 contest on Admiration Coffee in the Rio Grande Valley.

ONE of the most appealing and profitable contests ever planned starts in the Rio Grande Valley this week. The Duncan Coffee Company, roasters of Admiration and Bright and Early Coffees are offering $3,000 over a period of ten weeks for the best answers of not over 25 words on "Why I prefer Admiration Coffee".

This contest, unlike other contests, is limited to a small area in the Southwest, and gives residents of this area a better chance of winning more of the $300 weekly prizes. A plan has also been worked out where the grocer also shares in this contest.

A solid carload of coffee has been distributed in the Rio Grande Valley to start the contest. Bob Finch, covering Hidalgo County, and Herbert Brack in Cameron County are each running a race to establish their quotas and share in prizes.

The following grocers received parts of the opening carload.

CAMERON TAX VALUATIONS SHOW DROP

Final Figure Placed At $31,762,980

BROWNSVILLE—Total valuation of Cameron county lands and property was fixed at $31,762,980, a decrease of approximately $135,000 from last year, according to the annual tax roll, prepared by County Tax Assessor and Collector Ralph T. Agar, and approved by the county commissioner's court Saturday. These are assessed values for taxing purposes.

Acreage values took the sharpest drop, values being lowered $430,000 from the previous year. City properties were marked down $100,000 from 1939. Roadbed values were cut $42,000, rolling stock $11,000 and telephone and telegraph lines $16,000.

Only three items showed increased values. These were personal property, up $395,000, pipe lines, steamboats and sailing vessels, up $15,000 and bank values up $15,000.

The state's assessed valuation dropped $475,000 during the year with a total valuation fixed at $28,025,180. The state valuation is less than the county because of homestead exemption laws.

The tax roll will be taken to Austin Tuesday for approval by the state departments concerned. More than $50,000 in current taxes have been paid, Mr. Agar said, on which tax receipts cannot be issued until the roll is accepted by the state.

No Mexico Revolt

Clyde Low Minimizes Few Skirmishes

BROWNSVILLE — Clyde Low, Refugio, who has been living in Tampico, Mexico, for the past year doesn't think there is going to be any revolution in Mexico, outside of a few minor skirmishes and as far as he is concerned he wants no part of them.

Low has been running a hunting club out of Tampico, taking tourists out for Mexican game, but the revolution scare has cut the tourist business so much this year that "we have practically had to shut up shop," Low said.

He was formerly in San Luis Potosi before coming to Tampico. He will be in the United States about 30 days he said. "I want to vote in the presidential election, but I haven't made up my mind as yet who will get my tally," he reported.

Salvation Service To Be Concluded

BROWNSVILLE — Salvation and healing services being conducted by Evangelist Albert E. Davis of Denison at the Brownsville Assembly of God Church will be concluded Sunday night, according to Rev. H. B. Babbitt, pastor.

Friday night's service was closed with a wedding ceremony uniting in marriage Miss Cleo Hammack of Brownsville and David Loghry of Fort Sill, Okla.

Subjects for Sunday will be "God's Photograph of His Church" at morning services and "The Tragedy of the Rich Young Man" at evening services, beginning at 7:45 p. m.

NLR Board Member Said Labor Comrade

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A witness told the House committee investigating the National Labor Relations Board Thursday that Edwin S. Smith, board member, was designated a "comrade" by a Mexican labor group in 1938.

The witness, Hartley Barclay, editor of the trade publication Mill and Factory, was later described by Smith as one whose "testimony was full of evasions and prevarications."

Tells Of Training

Richard Werner, above, 36-year-old New York chef, told the Dies committee in Washington that the German-American Bund in New York City had been trained for "the day" when a government similar to Germany's would take over the United States. Werner, who said he joined the Bund in 1938, showed the committee a leather strap such as he said was used "in combat" in a New York City disturbance which he did not identify. Werner said he resigned from the Bund last February.

Old Sailor's Luck Beats The Sea: He Reaches New York With 2 Crews, One He Rescued From Mid-Atlantic

NEW YORK —(AP)— An old sailor's luck beat the sea — and the war—and gave the skipper of the Norwegian freighter Tricolor an amazing yarn to tell.

Capt. Ole Meyer arrived in New York harbor Saturday with a crew he had signed on at Hull, England, and another he picked up at sea when the Tricolor's sister ship Tancred was torpedoed, shelled and sunk.

"Funny part of it is," said Captain Meyer, "the boys from the Tancred were my boys—I had left that ship in Liverpool to bring the Tricolor here."

All hands were saved including the Tancred's master, Capt. Einar Hansen, an old friend of Captain Meyer. They took to lifeboats 500 miles west of Ireland after being attacked by a submarine.

The following night the Tancred's seamen sighted the lights of the Tricolor and signaled an SOS with flashlights.

"I thought it might be a submarine and pulled away," said Captain Meyer. "But when daylight came I put around and found the boys again. It was the best luck I ever had in my life."

'HOLY CITY' TO BE SUNG

Brownsville Scene Of Presentation

BROWNSVILLE — A. R. Gaul's "The Holy City" will be presented at 7:45 p.m. Sunday at the First Methodist church by the combined choirs of the Brownsville and Harlingen Methodist churches.

Directed by Prof. David L. Ormesher and his daughter, Miss Mildred Ormesher, the oratorio will feature the performances of four well-known Valley soloists.

They are Margaret McCandless of San Benito and Olean, N. Y., soprano; Ivy Catherine Boone of Harlingen, contralto; Grady Whittle of Lyford, tenor, and Frank Gilmore and Paul Lindhorn of Brownsville, baritones.

Accompanists will be Mrs. B. F. Hardin, organist at the First Methodist church of Brownsville; Doris Ann Biggs of Brownsville, pianist; Virginia Perry of Harlingen, organist, and Catherine Stotler Jackson of Harlingen, pianist.

The oratorio will be presented next Sunday at the First Methodist church of Harlingen.

Reed Is Elected

Brownsville Seniors Hold Run-Off

BROWNSVILLE — The Brownsville High School Senior class held its run-off election Friday afternoon and elected Howard Reed president giving him a vote of 104 to 50 for Harry Carson, who was his opponent.

Butch Barnard received a majority of votes in the Wednesday primary to qualify him for the office of vice-president. Lewis Stein was elected Secretary over Fulgencio Pena, by a vote of 97 to 27.

Ernest Fernandez won the primary election for reporter by defeating Carlos Villarreal by a majority of 96 to 55.

In the Treasurer's race Marian Smith was opposed by Frank Yturria in the run-off with Yturria winning, 83 to 71.

The Senior class followed their elders in holding their election as they first met in different conventions, named their candidates, held a primary and run-off election before getting the new officers. J. C. Tucker is sponsor.

Rule May Prove Way In Denying Defense Contracts To Firms

WASHINGTON— (AP) —An informal Justice Department ruling opened the way Thursday for possible denial of defense contracts to firms which the labor board holds are violating the Wagner Act.

In response to a question from Sidney Hillman, labor member of the defense commission, Attorney General Jackson declared:

"It seems too clear to admit of controversy that the findings of the National Labor Relations Board that an employer is in violation of the National Labor Relations Act, are binding and conclusive upon other agencies of the executive branch unless and until these findings are reversed by a court of competent jurisdiction."

COAST TANKER WILL ARRIVE

S. S. Tulsa Delayed Two Days

BROWNSVILLE — The S. S. Tulsa, coastwise tanker which was due to dock at Port of Brownsville Saturday forenoon, has been delayed and will not arrive here until Monday, according to word received by Port Director F. W. Hofmokel from Texas Company officials.

No reason for the delay was given in the message, Mr. Hofmokel said.

The Tulsa will bring a full cargo of gasoline and kerosene from Port Arthur for the Texas Company.

Another tanker, the S S. Henry M. Dawes, will dock here Thursday, October 10, to take on a full cargo of crude oil for New Arleans.

Two coastwise freighters are due here on October 15 and 16, bringing inbound cargoes.

The S. S. Ozark is scheduled to dock at Port of Brownsville Oct. 15 to unload inbound cargo and take on a general cargo for New York.

On October 16, the S. S. Jean will dock here to unload inbound cargo and will take on a general cargo for Newark, N. J.; Baltimore and Philadelphia.

Several foreign sailings are in sight and will be announced later, Mr. Hofmokel said.

PIERRE, S. D.—(AP)—The state treasurer just had reported a $3,000,000 general balance at the close of the fiscal year.

A grocer, collecting first of the month bills from statehouse employes, thought it would be a cinch to get a dime changed in that office.

Deputies advised him it was merely a "paper balance," but dug into private purses to accommodate the merchant.

Babson Says

IT'S OLDSTERS COMPLAINING OF BUSINESS

Maybe U. S. Needs A Few Funerals

By ROGER W. BABSON

DERRY, New Hampshire—During the past few weeks I have talked with many directors of manufacturing corporations and National Banks as well as with large investors. Most of them are very pessimistic. This probably is the real reason why securities and commodities are selling so low today with business as good as it now is in most lines. Yet, there are certain other groups who are both optimistic and are making money. Why this difference?

Old Age vs Youth

Most of these pessimistic directors of corporations are middle-aged men who made their money during the "good old days of the 20's." They worked without government restrictions and had a free hand to do about as they wished, except commit murder. They simply do not know how to work under present conditions. They are not interested in making "small profits". They sulk at the idea of paying "heavy taxes". It is still hard "to teach old dogs new tricks."

When, however, I have found a large factory, store, or bank controlled by intelligent young men, these young men are both optimistic and making money. Having never known the easy days, they assume present-day restrictions, taxes, etc. to be normal. They do not belly-ache about them; but cheerfully accept them. Does this mean that America is in need of some funerals? I don't know.

Old vs New Industries

I was greatly interested recently in comparing the directors of a Boston bank with those of a Los Angeles bank. As I sat at the board meeting of the Boston bank, I saw that all the members were engaged in declining industries. One was president of a large anthracite coal company; another owned outmoded hotels; another was high up in the railroad industry; while all were Republicans!

As, however, I sat at the board meeting of the Los Angeles bank, I found an entirely different situation. One of these directors was a very successful oil producer; another was the head of a well-known airplane factory; another was president of a movie company; while the youngest member owned a laboratory devoted to new plastic products. This board was equally divided between Democrats and Republicans.

How Localities Differ

Another thing: I found most of the pessimism in large cities where the taxes are very high and growth small. In fact, a study of the new census figures shows that the population of many of these large cities has actually decreased during the past ten years although the population of the country as a whole has increased about ten million. This has caused certain cities like San Francisco, which has lost thousands because of the C.I.O. labor strike, to demand recounts.

Yet, the smaller cities, from 10,000 to 25,000, have shown good gains. I also found that the business leaders and wage workers of the small communities are usually optimistic. Lead by their loyal local papers, they all are community-minded. Knowing one another, they naturally co-operate. A co-operative community must go ahead both materially and spiritually. And in the long run these two aims must go together:—one is the lock, the other the key; one is the hatchet, the other the hand.

Conclusion

What does all this mean? To me it means that while we are drafting young men for war, we also need them for industry and commerce; that we should sell out the old industries and invest in the new; that we should consider the advantages of the small community when being tempted by the bright lights of the big cities. The great drag upon business today is that the pessimists, who are old men engaged in declining industries and who are doing business in tax-burdened cities, hold the strings to the money bags!

Cardenas Permit To Stay In US Voided

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The State Department cancelled the registration of Francisco A. Cardenas of San Antonio, Tex., representing General Juan Andreu Almazan, defeated Mexican presidential candidate, because, it said his registration statement contained surplusage inimical to the foreign policy of the United States."

Officials did not explain what the "surplusage" was, but said that if his application were reworded he might be accepted for registration. Cancellation of the registration, they added, did not mean Cardenas must leave the country.

Enlist In Company M, Do Your Training In Valley

McALLEN—Valley men liable to the national draft act were urged Saturday to enlist in the National Guard, Company M, 141st Regiment, at San Benito and spend their training period with Valley friends.

The suggestion from company officers was relayed to Valley chambers of commerce by Bill Richard, San Benito secretary.

Richard pointed out that men selected in the draft registration, Oct. 16, will be sent throughout the country wherever room is available. If those who feel sure they will be drafted will volunteer and join the national guard unit before Oct. 16 they will be sent to Brownwood about Oct. 26, remaining with a contingent of other Valley residents, Richard explained.

All branches of the service will be open at Brownwood, he said. Interested men may obtain application blanks by writing Company M, 141st regiment, Texas National Guard, San Benito. At least 600 Valley men are needed, Richard said.

MANSFIELD IS DUE FOR MEET

Canal Parley Draws 500 In Southwest

HARLINGEN— Congressman Joseph J. Mansfield, chairman of the House committee on Rivers and Harbors, will come here October 25 for a hearing on extension of the intracoastal canal from Corpus Christi to Port Isabel, according to Mayor Hugh Ramsey, who returned Friday from conference in Washington.

Mayor Ramsey said Chairman Mansfield told him he would come here. More than 1000 invitations have been sent out to leaders over the southwest, and many big men in inland waterways afairs are expected.

Worth Heffner, manager of the local chamber of commerce, said Friday Col. C. S. E. Helland, Houston, president of the Intracoastal Canal Association of Texas and Louisiana, "expects 500 to be here."

Col. F. S. Besson, Galveston, U. S. Army district engineer, will conduct the October 25 hearing here, and Col. Holland the conference on October 26. Both meetings will be concerned with showing cause for extending the intracoastal canal from Corpus Christi to the Rio Grande.

VALLEY GUARD LEAVING SOON

Infantry Regiment Is Expecting Call

SAN BENITO — It was learned here Saturday that Company M, 141st Regiment, 36th Division, Texas National Guard, of San Benito is expected to be called to a year's active duty about November 25. It is also understood that the 36th Division will be concentrated at Brownwood. Prior to leaving, the local company is expected to be inducted at the armory here for a 10-day period.

Captain W. L. Williams, First Lieut. Van Dorn Wedegartner, Second Lieut. Fred A. Booth and Second Lieut. James Glenn, Jr., left San Benito Saturday to attend a meeting of officers of the Third Battalion of the 141st Regiment. They will return late Sunday.

May Enlist For Year

Lieut. Col. Harry M. Carroll, U. S. Army Reserves, urged Saturday, "any man desiring one year's instruction in the various branches of the service to enlist immediately in one of the many units of the 36th Division."

"Valley boys will be with their friends in this division," he said, "instead of being sent later to other divisions to be among strangers."

"Various units of the 36th Division would like to have at least 600 men representing the Valley," Carroll stated. "Valley men may enlist in any branch of the service they wish and will leave with Company M from San Benito by special train in November."

Training Varies

These units include training in signal corps, air service, finance, quartermaster, artillery, infantry, cavalry, ordnance, medical corps, chemical warfare and engineering.

Company M in San Benito has a total of 83 men at this time, headed by Captain Williams. The company may be enlarged to 114 men at the training service in Brownwood.

Valley chambers of commerce are cooperating with the 141st Regiment of the 36th Division in soliciting enlistments and urging the young Valley men, who are possible draftees, to enlist now so as to be in this regiment composed of their friends.

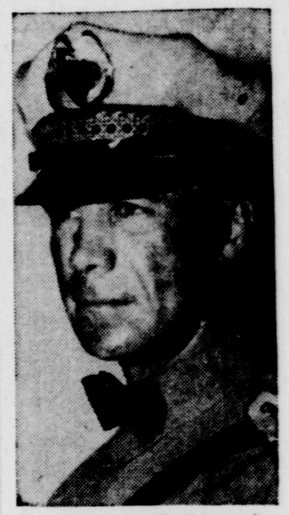

Approximately 9,200 men are now in the 36th Division of the Texas National Guard. It is expected that this number will be increased to 18,000 men.

CHICK SHOW DRAWS 6000

Valley Farm Boys, Girls Honored

McALLEN—Registrations at the Valley Poultry Congress which ended here Saturday night approached 6,000 persons, Manager Harry Hill announced in declaring the event the most successful in history.

Eleven hundred various varieties of chickens were entered, and there were also exhibits of ducks, geese, turkeys and other fowls which drew poultry fanciers from all over South Texas.

Saturday was designated 4-H Club, FFA Boys and Boy Scouts day, with more than 500 Valley farm club boys and girls attending, the manager said. A concert by the McAllen high school band featured the closing program Saturday night.

The McAllen high school domestic science class, taught by Miss Lucile Wiley, served 1,200 biscuits to the visitors. Free buttermilk was served by Sunland Dairy, McAllen.

The program Saturday included the following:

A. V. Peterson, Pharr-San Juan-Alamo high school vocational instructor, "Caponizing Demonstration;" exhibition of quality eggs by George P. McCarthy, Texas A. and M. College; William Dudley, Mercedes vocational agricultural teacher, "Culling and Blood Testing;" M. The event was held in the J. Edelstein Building on South Fifteenth street.

Mrs. Stuart Named At State Convention

HARLINGEN—Mrs. O. E. Stuart of Harlingen was elected third vice president of the Texas Federation of Garden Clubs this week at the convention in Tyler, according to an Associated Press dispatch.

The organization's constitution forbids re-election of officers but the executive committee broke all precident and set the clause aside for one year, re-electing Mrs. Will Lake of Fort Worth president.

The nominating committee cited uncertainty of world conditions as the reason.

IMPORTANT!

We Have Acquired The Entire Stock of Pianos

Willis' Bargain House

All Will Be Sold At

Greatly Reduced Prices!

We were able to buy this stock of pianos, both new and used, at a great reduction from factory prices, because Mr. Willis wished to accept a position in Beaumont and it was necessary that he dispose of his entire stock immediately. Because these pianos are not of the lines which we carry, we have no reason to keep them and retail them at regular prices. Consequently, we are able to offer some sensational prices on these pianos to those who are lucky enough to get here first. If you've been wanting a piano at a bargain price . . . HERE'S YOUR CHANCE ! !

Five MORE Reasons Why You Should Buy Your Piano From The SAN ANTONIO MUSIC CO.

1. DEPENDABILITY

We're proud of the fact that we've been in the piano business for 50 years. In that time we've seen a lot of companies come and go. We've seen their customers attempt to get piano service after the agent had gone out of business. Proudly we say that we've been here 50 years—and hope to be here many, many more to service our accounts.

2. SELECTION

The four piano companies we represent all manufacture "FIRST LINE" pianos. You can buy any of our pianos with safety—knowing that you're getting the maximum amount of tone and quality for your money.

3. PRICE

Our prices range from the lowest to the highest. Although we feature our quality pianos, if the customer demands a cheap piano—we have it.

4. GUARANTEE

The factory guarantee on the piano you buy from us is supplemented by our own guarantee. And you'll always find us ready to back up that guarantee!

5. UNDERSTANDING

Possibly the most important reason you should buy your piano from us is the fact that we're "home-folks." In case you should care to buy your piano on time—we handle our own papers and are in position to arrange payments that will be to your convenience. We assure you that we will attempt to sell you just what you want and need—and then we'll do our best to make you happy with your purchase.

FD Says America Answers Dictators By Teaching Truth In Schools

HE DEDICATES TWO SCHOOLS IN HOME AREA

Says U. S. To Reject Defeatism Theory

HYDE PARK, N. Y.—(AP)—An applauding throng of President Roosevelt's neighbors heard the chief executive declare Saturday that dictators had destroyed freedom of learning because "tyranny hates and fears nothing more than the free exchange of ideas, the free play of the mind that comes from education."

The President spoke at the new Franklin D. Roosevelt high school, dedicating it and two nearby grade schools, erected at a cost of $1,300,000 with the assistance of the PWA.

U. S. Uses Schools

In them, and in other schools of America, Mr. Roosevelt said, will be trained the nation's youth—"not for enforced labor camps or for regimentation as an enslaved citizenry, but for the intelligent exercise of the right of suffrage, and for participation as free human beings in the life of the nation."

Without censorship or restriction, he asserted, American children of today and the future will be taught the facts of current history and the whole context of current knowledge.

"Their textbooks will not be burned by a dictator who disagrees with them," the chief executive said: "Their teachers will not be banished by a ruler whom they have offended; their schools will not be closed if they teach unpalatable truths; and their daily instructions will not be governed by the decrees of any central bureau of propaganda."

Named For FDR

The dedicatory ceremonies were held on a crisp fall day in front of the two-story Fieldstone high school named for the president. Interspersed with numbers by a band from the United States Military Academy at West Point were addresses by local school officials, John W. Studebaker, federal education commissioner, and Ernest W. Cole, New York state educational commissioner.

The three new schools, the President said, are symbolic not only of the government's responsibility for providing free, universal education, but also of its duty to give work to those unable to find it. Each of these functions of government, he said, "is proving itself more and more vital to the continuance of our democracy."

"Eight years ago," he said, "at a time when our national economy had been prostrate for several years, when starvation and bankruptcy had almost become the order of the day," there were some who "chanted" that nature had to "run its course of misery, that deflation could not be stopped and that the depression was only the working of natural economic laws."

Defeatism Rejected

"The American government," he added, "decided to reject this philosophy of inaction and irresponsibility and indifference to the destitution of its citizens. In its place was substituted a new doctrine . . . that no one should starve who was willing to work but unable to find work."

"In building for the well being of America," he said, "we have built for the defense of America as well."

Fraternity Pledges Harlingen Student

HARLINGEN—Louis Robert Hollingsworth, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Hollingsworth, Harlingen, a student at Southern Methodist University, Dallas, has been pledged by Kappa Sigma, according to word here.

The Harlingen man is one of 159 pledged by 10 Greek letter fraternities at S. M. U.

VETERAN HAPPY WITH BRIDE

David B. Sisk, of Marshalltown, Ia., who says he is 97, and 55-year-old Mrs. Sisk, enjoy their modest apartment at Marshalltown, but Sisk plans to buy a car next spring and take his bride on a tour of the country. It is the third marriage for each.

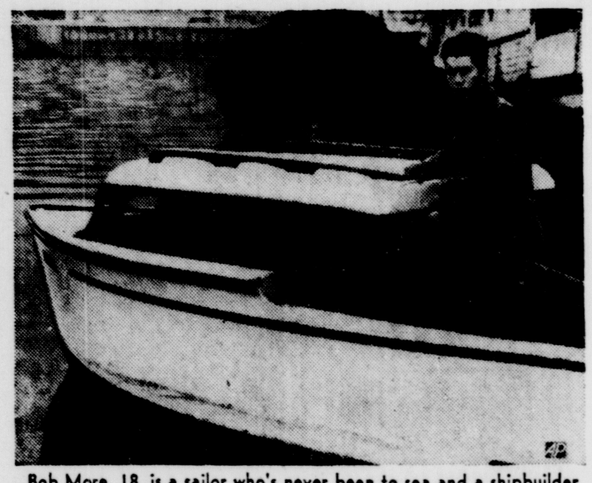

Youth In The News

It Took A Bit Of Doing—

These two youngsters did their work "in the dark."

Lois Nelson, 21-year-old University of Oregon junior, has never seen the campus. She was graduated from high school without seeing the building. She's been in bed with a heart disorder for 11 years. She has made perfect grades, wants to be a mathematics teacher.

Bob More, 18, is a sailor who's never been to sea and a shipbuilder who's never been in a shipyard. "Moke" built his 18-foot cruiser in the backyard of his Portland, Ore., home. He copied part of the hull design from a magazine and "sorta figured the rest out for myself." The boat cost $200.

FAIR EXHIBIT GETS CITRUS

Fresh Fruit Will Be Sent To Dallas

McALLEN — Fresh supplies of oranges, grapefruit and lemons will be sent to the Rio Grande Valley exhibit at the Dallas State Fair this week by the Valley chambers of commerce. The Red Arrow Freight lines will take about 15 boxes of fruit to Dallas next Thursday.

Last week's shipment included 20 boxes or packages of fruit, several cases of juice, and the decoration materials. To insure attention to the Valley exhibit, the booth manager bought an accordion, a combination radio and phonograph and some new music, which she will play and sing, then make speeches on the Valley.

The chambers of commerce will send a box each of oranges and grapefruit and will dispatch these next Thursday to Dallas, thereby insuring handsome fruit for the thousands of people visiting the fair. The Mission chamber of commerce sent two stalks of bananas to the exhibit Friday.

Billman Says It Was Not Growers Who Asked Ballot

MISSION—The growers were not the ones who asked for a referendum on the fruit stamping regulation, according to W. D. Billman, member of a committee opposed to marking low qualitty fruit with the grade.

Billman said the law provides that the commissioner of agriculture must call a hearing if only one grower protests a regulation and that he personally preferred a hearing ot a referendum which he said would cost the growers $3,000.

"The hearing is the only route to take," Billman said.

Results of a hearing may be appealed to the state courts.

Although a petition was said to have been presented to J. E. McDonald, agriculture commissioner, some time ago, he has not yet set a hearing on the regulations which require fruit below U. S. No. 2 grade to be stamped "Third Grade" or, "Cull" as the case may be.

Model Plane Activities

By GARVER MURRAY

The Academy of Model Aeronautics has called attention to the fact that they are having a safety campaign, and urge all academy members to fly safely, obey the rules, and urge all model flyers that are not members to join now . . . They also sent enough application blanks to cover the whole Valley, so if any of you need them drop me a card . . . Remember you can now buy insurance to cover your flying, for only a dollar a year, and I urge all gas model members to secure this coverage. In case your model gets out of hand, and does some damage to someone's car or person, it would pay you to have this damage covered. . . . Also in traveling to a sanctioned meet, if the conveyance that the model is in should have an accident and your model is damaged, the policy covers this up to $25 . . . Your model catching fire and burning at a sanctioned meet is also covered . . . Don't wait until it is too late, insure now . . .

Jim Bishop from La Feria was in telling about trading his Brown for an Ohlsson "60". We should equip our timers with binoculars so they will be able to keep Jim's "Clipper" in sight. . . . We are promised a thrill at Mercedes. Jim Thomas is bringing his "Buccaneer Special" and boy does it perform. . . . Scotty Bowlin is building up a "New Ruler" and this model has been taking quite a few meets in the east and should be a good performer anywhere. . . . Billy Younkin still in a fog as to what to build. Has a stunt event (in his head) for the meet at San Benito. . . . John Maltby is running into complications on his DC2, but if I know John, he will work them out. . . . Wayne Cole, proving the old adage, "You can't stop a model builder," by rebuilding his ship on the field, after it cracked up last Sunday. Nice going, Wayne . . . Billy Bryant of San Benito wins the broken bladed balsa knife for his performance last Sunday. Better "running" next week, Billy . . .

Jack Waldron of McAllen disproved the theory about 'low wing." Sure has a fine performer too . . . Heard a modeler mutter Sunday "No wonder I am having so much trouble. I didn't go to Sunday School this morning.' That's a good thought, fellows, and one of the reasons we decided to hold our contests in the afternoon, so you could attend services in the morning . . . W. T. Gooch has a new Ohlsson and promises us something new next Sunday . . . By the way, did you know that the Phil Atteberrys have a new model builder? And it's a boy this time. Phil almost missed out last Sunday, but promises that he will be on hand next time. Has a re-designed "Gull" to show us. . . .

Mrs. Temple of San Juan writes that the Tri-City boys had re-election of officers last Monday, with Buck Guion as the new president; Russell Linnard as vice president and Mrs. R. G. Temple as secretary-treasurer. Mr. R. G. Temple, Sr. stepped into keep peace by being elected sergeant-at-arms. . . . R. G., Jr. is working on a new Atom powered job. Hope it doesn't leave home . . . Melvin Alpers is working on a Lockheed, which was to be shown at the "Fair" . . . The question has come up about a Valley-wide meeting for the "Parents" of all model plane builders, so that they may learn more of the educational value of the science in building, and what value it has for their boys and their future. I'm for it. What so you say?

HUNTERS GET BANDED BIRDS

50 White-Wing Bands Sent In

BROWNSVILLE — At least 50 banded white-wings have been reported by Valley hunters during the present season, G. B. Saunders of the Federal Fish and Wildlife service said Saturday.

The birds, banded in nesting grounds in Cameron and Hidalgo counties, have been shot in a number of localities in Hidalgo, Cameron, Willacy, Starr and Zapata counties. Mr. Saunders said. Returns on birds killed in more distant counties are expected in the near future. Only two of the birds reported were killed in Mexico.

"This assistance by hunters," Mr. Saunders said, "has greatly increased the effectiveness of the banding program and will speed up the gathering of information on the post-season migration of white-wings."

Mr. Sanders asked persons knowing of any bands not yet reported to notify their local newspaper, game warden or hardware dealer, or to send a postcard to the state game commission at Austin or the biological survey at Washington, D. C.

Information on the card should include the band number, date and location where the bird was killed, and the name an address of the hunter.

Lot Cleaning Plan Launched At Alamo

ALAMO—The civic improvement campaign sponsored by Lions club, Garden club, chamber of commerce and the fire department, includes the cleaning up of vacant lots in the city. Brush is being cleared and burned on the third block this week. Private donations of money or labor are solicited, according to the chairman, Carl Thompson.

COLUMBUS DAY PROGRAM SET

Corpus Christi Man To Be Speaker

HARLINGEN—Rev. Father Albert Schreiber of Corpus Christi will speak on the Columbus Day program Saturday, October 12, planned by the Harlingen Council, Knights of Columbus. The talk will be broadcast over KRGV. An open house will be held at the local hall at 8 p. m. October 12.

The following morning, members of the council will attend field mass at Mission and Rio Grande City at 10 a. m., followed by luncheon at Rio Grande City. A district meeting at the Rio Grande Citty council hall will be held at 2:30 p. m. when State Advocate and Acting District Deputy Menton J. Murray of Harlingen will preside. The award for the most active council for the past year will be made to the Rio Grande City county.

Committee for the open house program is composed of Fred Keepers and Tom Yates of Harlingen and Bill Heller of Mercedes.

Ed Winkler, Jerome Levins, Lancy Rodgers, Jerry Muggli, Joe Garza, Manuel Cantu and Bill Merdian have been named to attend the Boy Scout training school with Keralum Council preparing to sponsor a scout troop.

The council decided to offer the use of its hall and services of eligible members on registration day, October 15, if needed.

Bridges Burn

Mexico Probe Into Fires Ordered

MEXICO CITY—(AP)—Two more bridges on Mexico's National Railways have been set afire by unknown persons, the railroad management reported.

Military authorities were ordered to investigate the fires, which were quenched before serious damage was done.

Both bridges were near Maravitio, about 100 miles west of Mexico City.

Railroad authorities reported all traffic in Northern Mexico was normal.

Head Of Pharr Firm Retires October 15

PHARR — Resignation of G. L. Callis as general manager of the Pharr Equity Exchange was announced by the board of directors this week following the annual stockholders meeting. Callis, who has been manager since 1930, as well as one of the principal stockholders, is retiring because of ill health and the need to look after his own citrus and farm lands. He will leave active management on October 15.

At the stockholders' meeting and election of officers, Archie Carlson was elected president; E. E. Watterston vice president and A. P. Wahlers secretary. Other members of the board are Dr. J. W. Conard and Ed Koch.

Mr. Carlson stated a new manager would be named soon.

GROUP IS TO PRESENT PLAY

'Night Must Fall' Is Season Opener

EDINBURG — When the Valley Little Theater presents "Night Must Fall," in the junior college auditorium here Monday night, October 14, it will mark the third straight season that Harry Pederson of McAllen has had a leading part in the opening play.

Pederson, a photographer and citrus grower, had a leading part in "Petrified Forest" with which the little theater opened its first season in February, 1939, and in "Petticoat Fever" which opened the 1939 season.

Pederson will have the part of Dan, a self-centered clever young fellow who has murdered one woman and has won the affections of another woman whom he plans to kill.

The mystery comedy is directed by Paul Moore.

Dictators 'Ready To Strike' In 'Vulnerable' Spots

BERLIN SAYS NEXT MOVE IS NOW READY

Mediterranean May Be Battleground

By The Associated Press

BERLIN—Germany and Italy are ready to strike new blows at Britain in some "vulnerable spot," Nazi informants indicated Saturday amid talk the eastern Mediterranean may now become a battleground.

Emphasized was the notion Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini reached momentous decisions in Brenner Pass Friday and soon would act.

It was a meeting, said one authorized person, whose subject was not peace but victory—a "war and diplomatic council."

It's A Secret

"England," he observed, "is vulnerable in many places. Naturally, we cannot tell you where."

Saying winter would bring no breathing spell to England, the Hamburger Fremdenblatt declared the new German-Italian-Japanese alliance had "created the political pre-conditions for pursuing the war against "England on all fronts."

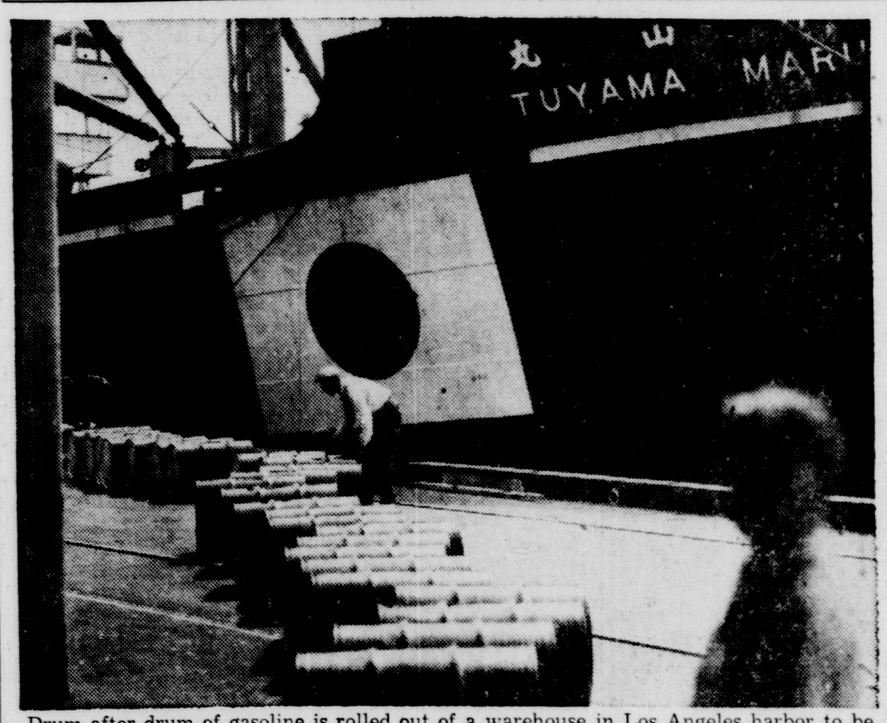

"Speed and surprise," the paper pursued, "have been the most valuable weapons of our martial art. England is again exposed to the painful necessity of groping in the dark and guessing what cannot be guessed . . . where new blows by Germany and Italy will fall, what methods will be employed in that connection and what moment has been chosen."

The National Zeitung of Essen, a publication close to Reichsmarshal Herman Wilhelm Goering, was preoccupied with the point the British fighting front now stretched from the Thames to the Suez; that the British Empire was under world-wide pressure from the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo pact.

On Two Continents

"Europe and Africa," the Zeitung remarked, "represent a whole and, corresponding to this conception, the Axis makes it political as well as its military decisions for both continents in one inclusive program of action."

Roll Out The Barrel

Drum after drum of gasoline is rolled out of a warehouse in Los Angeles harbor to be put aboard the Japanese freighter Tuyama Naru to be taken to Japan. The U. S. oil embargo which is in effect does not include a certain low grade of gasoline which can be used in Japanese war planes and fighting machines.

Backer Says Almazan Will Assume Presidency To Obey People's Will

McALLEN—"There can be no revolution in Mexico under the present circumstances," Francisco A. Cardenas, identified as "the authorized representative of General Juan Andreu Almazan, president-elect of Mexico," declared in a communication received here Saturday from San Antonio.

Cardenas, who has established offices at San Antonio, "registered with the State Department of the United States of America," asserted however, that "a state of rebellion, to which General Almazan is not a party, has existed since the July election."

The full statement, issued to "clarify the position of General Almazan in the current Mexican political situation," follows:

Will Almazan Revolt

"The question most frequently asked of us who have just come from Mexico is, 'Will Almazan revolt?' Many news headlines and radio comments mention a possible 'revolution' and suggest that General Almazan will 'cause trouble.'

"Such phrases are due to natural thought habits of those who have not examined a complex situation. They assumed that a legitimate government is in power in Mexico and that any step to depose that government would constitute rebellion. But I believe a simple review of the facts will lead any open minded person to two revised conclusions:

"First: A state of rebellion, to which General Almazan is not a party, has existed since the July election. Second: There can be no revolution in Mexico under the present circumstances.

U. S. Magazines Cited

"You will recall that American news correspondents in Mexico reported both before and after the election that the Almazan majority was preponderant. These estimates were supported by such leading magazines as Time, Collier's, Current History, Reader's Digest, Life and others.

"These writers explained the facts prior to the election: (a) that the people evidently were in open protest against the Cardenas administration that had undermined Mexico's economy regimented in totalitarian fashion its education, social and religious life, and given all power to a set of political and labor leaders who were exploiting the masses for personal gain; that these leaders, all members of the Cardenas created official party, the P.R.M. had complete control of the electoral machinery and were able to announce any election result they might wish.

"The expected happened — and was reported. The people went to the polls for Almazan. More than 300 were killed or wounded and hundreds of thousands were denied the ballot by P.R.M. gunmen who had seized the booths.

2,400,000 Votes For Almazan?

"But the people voted. Either at designated polls or at special booths set for those who had been illegally driven from the polls, they cast 2,492,567, ballots, bearing their signatures and fingerprints, for Almazan. These represented two-thirds of the country's voting strength.

"Later, the P.R.M. machine announced the 'official' results and the 'election' of its candidate, General Avila Camacho. Its findings were characterized by the magazine, Time, as 'unashamedly rigged.'

"Now, the Mexican constitution states that 'the national sovereignty resides essentially and originally in the people.' It follows that when the P.R.M. flouted the will of the people, it placed itself in rebellion against the will of the people, and against the Constitution which guarantees democratic elections. That is the only rebellion that exists in Mexico today.

"The constitution also designates congress as the repository of the rights of the people. The votes cast for Almazan also elected a congress of his supporters. This congress, when it convened Sept. 1, logically became the legitimate congress. The fact that it must meet secretly because the armed power is still in control of a few generals and politicians who have profited enormously under Lazaro Cardenas and are now willing to kill and destroy to hold their sinecures, has no bearing on the point. This body is in no sense a 'rump' congress, although the term 'rebel congress' can be applied to the illegal body in armed possession of the legislative chambers.

Mission Is Explained

"Can there be a revolution? The word, 'revolution,' used politically means a radical change in the form or administration of a government. General Almazan has no wish to change the form of government; his mission is simply to restore the democratic form guaranteed by the constitution, by establishing the rights of the legitimate congress. He cannot change the administration because the people, by electing him administrator-to-be, have taken that step in complete compliance with the constitution. His only plan is to assume the office to which he has been elected at the designated time, Dec. 1.

"I do not ask your interested readers to take at face value what has been said here. But I do ask them to go back to the newspaper files and the magazines mentioned and check the facts as reported objectively. Then, I believe, their sympathetic interest, at least, will rest with the democratic forces in the country next door."

GRID TICKET SALE TO END

McAllen Plans Trip To San Antonio

McALLEN—Sale of tickets on the chartered bus to San Antonio Friday will close Wednesday at 6 p.m. Burgess Stutzenbecker, head of the Kiwanis club committee sponsoring the bus, said Saturday. The bus is being chartered to assure a turnout of local residents for the McAllen-San Antonio football game Friday.

A round trip ticket costs $5.90 and may be obtained from the Missour-Pacific railroad ticket office here.

The 41-passenger bus will leave McAllen at 11 a.m. arriving at San Antonio about 5:30 p.m. for a sightseeing trip before the game. The return trip will get under way after the game is over.

To insure getting the bus 41 seats must be sold by Wednesday, Stutzenbecker said. Any persons in the Valley may reserve a seat on the bus.

13 Fire Alarms

Brownsville Has No Loss From Blazes

BROWNSVILLE — The Brownsville Fire Department answered 13 alarms during the month of September but did not mark up a red cent as loss during the period, records filed by Fire Chief W. S. Walker showed Wednesday.

The fire department answered 2 box alarms one of which was false, five belt alarms, five still alarms, and one emergency run with the inhalator. The booster tanks were used six times.

Value of property involved in fires during the month was $3,200. All dead-end fire hydrants were flushed once each week and all fire alarm boxes were tested and found in good working order. Ten piles of brush were burned.

The department finished a six-week training school for eligibles on the waiting list and graduated six men.

Chief Walker recommended that 10 blocks of fire alarm wire be replaced with new wire.

Alamo Speeds New Cleanup Campaign

ALAMO—The civic improvement campaign sponsored by Lions Club, Garden Club, chamber of commerce and the fire department includes the cleaning up of vacant lots in the city. Brush was cleared and burned on the third block this week. A Daring American Rescuer Whisks German-Jew Novelist From French Concentration Camp Near Border

NEW YORK—(AP)—Lion Feuchtwanger, famed German-Jewish novelist, reached the haven of America Saturday with a story of how a daring United States citizen snatched him from a French concentration camp and whisked him to safety.

The 56-year-old author arrived on the American export liner Excalibur, a fugitive from concentration camps in his homeland and those of France, his erstwhile place of refuge.

The writer, thick-haired and bespectacled, said his release came when French guards permitted him to leave camp for his weekly bath in a river about three miles distant.

A car sped up to him as he trudged down the road, he said, and the driver brusquely ordered: "Come, get in. Don't ask any questions." He then was taken across the Spanish border a few miles away.

Feuchtwanger cautiously guarded the name of his American liberator, who he said was remaining in France.

The Excalibur brought $3,000,000 in gold and 195 passengers, including 85 Americans.

NEW DECREES SAY OUSTING IS IMMEDIATE

British Investigate 2 Kidnapings

By The Associated Press

BUCHAREST—Rumania's month-old Iron Guard government put into force Saturday the most sweeping of its many anti-Semitic laws as its drive against foreign interests and the old regime flared up to new heat.

Under the new law all rural land and dwellings to which Jews held title automatically become state property Saturday.

Must Leave Immediately

Occupants must leave their land and homes immediately. The property is to be turned over to Rumanian refugees from Transylvania, Bessarabia, and the South Dobruja, areas Rumania recently has ceded to Hungary, Soviet Russia and Bulgaria.

The former Jewish owners will be paid three per cent annually of the value of the property as fixed by the government but will receive none of the principal.

British Investigate

As the government clamped new restrictions on foreign-owned and managed corporations, Reginald Hoare, the British minister, drove to Ploesti to investigate personally the case of 60-year-old Percy Clark, a Briton and president of a Ploesti oil engineering firm.

The British legation has charged that Clark was kidnaped, "seriously maltreated," turned over to secret police and later released and placed under house arrest.

Mrs. John E. Tracy, an English woman whose husband is employed by the American-owned Romano-Americano Oil Company, was released Saturday after 12 days detention by police but a military tribunal prepared to try five other Britons, all oil executives, on what informed sources called "very serious charges," presumably alleged attempts to sabotage oil shipments to Germany.

Commissars Named

Commissars to "investigate and supervise" the management of the 50 largest companies in Rumania with foreign connections, among them the American-owned and financed Rumanian Telephone Company, were named by the government.

America's First Parachute Battalion Jumps Saturday

Float Down As Farewell Gesture To Envoys From South America Making Tour

FORT BENNING, Ga.—(AP)—Eighteen soldiers pioneering in the United States Army's first parachute battalion floated down from two planes Saturday in a farewell gesture to a score of Latin American military leaders.

Captain W. T. Ryder and 17 men bailed out of planes at about 800 feet and completed their drops in about 50 seconds, an army truck following along and picking them up as they landed.

One of the men had to use his second, or emergency 'chute, when the first one failed to open properly but otherwise this first public demonstration by the newly formed 501st battalion of parachute troops followed practice routine closely.

Major W. M. Miley, battalion commander, directed the exhibition from the ground and received the congratulations of the visiting generals, who described the show as "perfect" and "impressive."

Immediately after the jumping, the official party took off by transport plane for Barksdale Field at Shreveport, La., the next stop in their national tour of inspection of U. S. defenses.

MEXICO SLAPS 18 OFFICERS

Almzan Supporters Get Remote Posts

JUAREZ, Chih., Mexico — (AP) — Eighteen Mexican customs officers, supporters of Juan Andreu Almazan for the presidency, said Saturday they had been ordered to remote posts in Quintanan Roo, Tabasco and Chiapas.

They said they had been given five days to leave Juarez. The officers said they had signed an Almazan petition before Gen. Manuel Avila Camacho became a presidential candidate, but later renounced Almazan and sided with Camacho, the government's choice.

M'ALLEN FIRE CHECK BEGINS

Mallau Will Survey Blaze Hazards

McALLEN—Inspection of all business houses and buildings within the fire zone will get under way Monday by City Fire Marshal Henry Mallau to determine if all residents are complying with city's ordinance for fire prevention.

Mallau explained that according to city regulations rigid gas connections to stoves, ranges and other appliances are required or flexible metal connections not over five feet long.

Rubber hose connections of all kinds are illegal, Mallau declared.

Flexible cords not over eight feet long used as drop connections to electrical appliances are legal, but must not be looped over nail or touch any metal. Conduits must be used on all except drop cords, the city fire marshall said.

He said all efforts are being made to enforce the law which results in McAllen's residents saving thousands of dollars annually in lower insurance rates.

Pickers Wanted

New Mexico Service Seeks Any Number

TUCUMCARI, N. M.—(AP)—Calls for cotton pickers rolled into the state unemployment office here Friday with virtually no takers.

With cotton picking time at hand in eastern New Mexico and west Texas, calls for 500 pickers were received from Carlsbad and Roswell, and for "any number" from Muleshoe, Texas.

"It's the first time in years the call has gone out from Texas for pickers," said H. H. Bode, manager of the sate unemployment office here.

Colombia Man Sees Greater Solidarity

MERCEDES — M. D. Caldeira, credit manager of the International Petroleum Company in Colombia, boarded an airliner at the Pan-American Airport at Brownsville Saturday to return to his South American home after spending a 7-week vacation at Mercedes and the Valley. He is the twin brother of Dr. A. D. Caldeira, well known Mercedes physician.

Caldeira foresees an increasing feeling of good will and a greater economic solidarity between the two Americas. He states that particularly the countries in the northern part of South America are constantly being drawn more closely into the pact of friendship with the United States.

Home-Town Boy Makes Good In Big Way In City, So San Benito Monday Has Day For Lew Valentine, 'Dr. I. Q.'

Lew Valentine, The Famous "Dr. I. Q."

* * * * * *

SAN BENITO—This is a brief story of a home-town boy who made good in a large way, the story of a Valley boy whose radio personality is now known to millions of radio listeners throughout the country and whose voice will come back to the Valley over Station KRGV, beginning Monday night, October 7, at 8 p. m.

The name of this Valley boy who made good is Lewis Valentine, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Valentine of San Benito, and the famous "Dr. I. Q." of radio fame. He was born and reared in San Benito and attended San Benito schools until the urge of radio struck him and he yielded to the urge.

Bring Him Home

The sponsors of "Dr. I. Q." have decided to present him to Valley radio audiences through station KRGV, Weslaco, and this nationally known feature will be presented each Monday night henceforth through the National Broadcasting Company.

When KRGV was advised that "Dr. I. Q.," which has become one of the most popular of all the radio quiz shows during the past two years, would be presented in the Valley, Ken Lowell Sibsen, station manager, immediately informed San Benito citizens. The response was immediate. Mayor Louis Witte proclaimed Monday, October 7, as "Dr. I. Q. Day" in San Benito, and he and other San Benitans decided to make the celebration city-wide. Joining in this program, KRGV will present a specially transcribed interview with former schoolmates of young Valentine, his former teachers, othert San Benito friends and his parents.

This broadcast will be heard Monday evening, October 7, at 6:30 to 6:45 p. m. To be heard on this program will be Mr. and Mrs. Valentine, Mayor Witte, Mrs. J. E. McAnally, one of his teachers, and Grady St. Clair, now superintendent of the San Benito public schools and a former classmate of "Dr. I. Q."

Born In San Benito

Lewis Valentine was born in San Benito on August 5, 1912, and attended San Benito schools. In 1929 he went to Houston and joined the entertainment staff of Station KTLC as a tenor soloist. Later he became an announcer on the station before returning to the Valley. But, as his mother explains it, "He had had a taste of radio and he just wouldn't finish school."

It was in November, 1930, when he joined Station KRGV, then located in Harlingen, as its first full-time announcer. Prior to that time, the station's employes had done everything required around the station, including the announcing. Young Valentine remained on KRGV's staff for nearly a year, then returned to Houston, where he joined the announcing staff of KPRC, the Houston Post station.

About two years later, he moved to San Antonio where he joined the staff of Station WOAI. In October, 1935, steadily moving upward, he joined the production department of Station WLW in Cincinnati, where he learned much about the technique of radio presentations, later to stand him in good stead as he developed his own famous program.

In April, 1936, Valentine came back to San Antonio, and worked out the details of his "Dr. I. Q." program. Finally developing the presentation, he first was presented as "Dr. I. Q." in January, 1939, in Atlanta, Georgia.

First In Theaters

The "Dr. I. Q." program is broadcast from the stages of the most prominent theatres in the various cities throughout the United States. At the present time, "Dr. I. Q." is heard from the stage of the Capitol Theatre on Broadway in New York City. Previously, "Dr. I. Q." has visited Hollywood, Philadelphia, Dallas, Pittsburgh, Louisville, Boston, Chicago, Billings, Mont., and Denver.

"Dr. I. Q." asks his questions from the stage of the theatre, and he has six announcer-assistants, each of whom carries a portable microphone throughout the theater so that a member of the theater audience wishing to answer one of his questions may remain seated while doing so.

Ticket Please!

Must Hold Card To Enter Shelters

LONDON—(AP)—Admiral Sir Edward R. G. R. Evans, newly appointed director for air raid shelter in the London area, indicated that a season ticket system would be established for refugees from German bombers to assure everyone a shelter for a night's rest.

Evans urged a system to "insure that the right people go into the right shelters."

"Tickets will be available for tubes and public shelters generally," he added.

London is providing sleeping accommodations for a million persons, he said, but the rest are fending for themselves.

Texan's Assignment Is Ordered Changed

TANKER CALLS AT PT. ISABEL

New Submarine Also Is Expected

SAN BENITO—James C. Bowie, Port Isabel port director, said Saturday the S.S. Thermo, tanker, brought in a cargo of 35,000 barrels of crude oil Saturday for the Coastal Refinery.

The new U.S.S. Tautog, submarine on her shakedown cruise, is expected to arrive in Port Isabel on October 18 accompanied by a destroyer, Bowie stated. On arrival there a reception and celebration has been planned honoring the five officers and 54 enlisted men of the crew by the American Legion post in the port city. Large crowds from all Valley towns are expected and invited to Port Isabel to see this 307 feet long submarine. Arrangements for the celebration are in charge of Paul Reynolds, post commander.

Also on October 18, the tanker R. P. Smith, is scheduled to arrive to lift 85,000 barrels of refined oil from the Coastal Refinery for eastern seaboard destinations.

'Ugly Building'

Navy Asks Congress For $3,200,000

WASHINGTON— (AP) —The navy wants to construct a purposely "ugly" building amidst the scores of marble and granite government structures.

Asking Congress for $3,200,000 to finance an emergency steel and wood navy building, W. E. Reynolds, commissioner of the public buildings administration, told a Senate committee:

"The idea would be to make it somewhat ugly, so that we could tear it down" when a permanent structure was built.

Wife Was Fat

No Longer Attractive Lost Husband's Love

The above headlines appeared in a New York newspaper in connection with a divorce trial that had attracted wide attention: "She was a beautiful woman" one witness testified, "but she got fat and is not attractive any more."

Thousands of women are getting fat and losing their appeal just because they do not know what to do. If you are fat, how would you like to lose it and at the same time gain in physical charm and attractiveness—more energy—greater activity?

Why not do what thousands of women have done to get rid of pounds of unwanted fat? Take 1-2 teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast and keep it up for thirty days. Cut out pastries and fatty meats and go light on potatoes, butter, cream and sugar. Then weigh yourself and see how many pounds you have lost.

A bottle of Kruschen Salts will last you for 4 weeks and costs but little. Ask Brownsville Agents—Den-Russ Pncy., McKay's Phcy.; Harlingen Agents—Day Drug Co., Central Drug Store; McAllen Agent—Palmer Drug Store or any druggist for a bottle of Kruschen, plain or new effervescent—sparkling—pleasant—and start today to lose fat. Satisfaction guaranteed or money back.—Adv.

Valley Football

Taking a glance over Rio Grande Valley football as displayed last week-end, we discover that nothing startling occurred in any game. There were no upsets and the scores ran about as expected, with on exception—Mission was not supposed to run over Raymondville by such a wide margain (38-0).

Three Class A conference games were played with Mercedes, Donna and Mission putting marks on the right side of the ledger while La Feria, Phar-San Juan-Alamo and Raymondville were charged with losses.

No Class AA games have been played to date but Friday night Brownsville and San Benito will start the ball rolling with the Greyhounds meeting the Eagles at Brownsville. The rest of this week's AA schedule calls for McAllen to pay a visit to Thomas Jefferson in San Antonio and Edinburg to entertain Donna. Harlingen has an off week.

Two Class A conference games are scheduled Friday night, Mission playing at Mercedes and Weslaco meeting the Bears at Pharr. Other games are inter-district affairs.

When Frank Witherspoon chalked up a couple of touchdowns against Weslaco last Friday night he ran his total six-pointers to seven and this figure puts him well out in front of the leading scorers. His teammate, Billy Joe Livingston, is in second place with 30 points and Walter Leverman of McAllen is holding the third spot with 27 tallies.

In The Mail

In answer to an article appearing in the Valley Morning Star a few days ago relative to a criminal fish (Hitlerites) being the cause of lack of fish; well, let's analyze the situation. The Gulf and the Bay have been there a long time. The weather has been about the same, and the fish in the Gulf and the Bay have been there a long time. So that puts it up to one thing—commercial seining and netting, with destruction of spawning beds.

Here is the situation around Port Isabel, jetties, boats, seining and netting:

First, the jetties keep the surf or shallow water fish from entering the bay and also the river water from entering the bay. Redfish and trout are shallow water fish. They are obstructed by jetties from the channel anl the bay. There should be an opening in the jetties near the surf, allowing fish to pass in and out of the bay, and up and down the surf.

Second, seining is the real destruction. A few years ago before seining was constant, we could catch fish anywhere, but as seins became numerous in the bay and on the coast we were compelled to hunt a new fishing place. We went to Mexico, and there we found a real fishing place, but in a year or so we went back and discovered a fishing camp there, and our catch was lighter. In about a month we went back and caught nothing; but we found seins a mile long there. So we went to the second pass and there we found a good catch. In a short time we went back and found fishing camps there, with no good fishing again. We continued on down, with the same results, and finally we found them seining the surf and likewise we had no luck there.

So now we have nowhere to go and have a catch. The Gulf, the passes, and the Bay in Mexico are the same as years ago, except for the seining.

So there is only one answer: STOP seining and netting. Let the fish spawn and re-establish in the bay. DREDGE the channel below and above the jetties, in order that fresh river and gulf water can enter the bay and open a gap in jetties near surf, that water and fish may enter the bay.

Now as far as criminal fish are concerned, they have always been there, and I suppose for a purpose.

So let us—you and I—discard all personal feelings and build a real sports heaven, not a commercial center. Let us make Port Isabel a real resort, one that we can recommend and one tourists will return to.

I intend to push this No-seining to a finish. We do not care for shark hides or the personal interest of a few.

Dr. H. A. Lile.

About Whitewings

Elsewhere on the sports page will be found an article setting out possible reasons for the coming decrease in whitewings in the Valley.

The article is written by G. B. Saunders of the Research Division of the Federal Fish and Wildlife Service and is an unbiased opinion from an expert in his line.

It would be well for every hunter to read this article and then decide for HIMSELF what HE should do to aid in the conservation of our whitewings.

We are not sure but we believe Hart Stilwell came up with the suggestion that each hunter register his day's kill with a game warden. We believe this would help cut in on the game hog as much as any other law could. Of course the cheater would still cheat but such a law would help. Then shooting only in the afternoons on certain days is an excellent idea.

So far as the writer is concerned this whole problem rests with the hunters themselves. Until the game hogs stop killing the whitewings by the hundreds and stop getting their limit of 12 birds several times each hunting day, it won't be long until there will be no shooting.

Perhaps when the game hogs lose their luck and get caught by the game wardens and are handed some stiff fines, it will help. At least it will be interesting to hear the loud cries let out by these cheaters.

Six Cadets Go Across Goal Line

20,000 Gridmaniacs See Contest

SAN ANTONIO —(AP)— Overwhelming power aground and superiority in the air gave the potent Texas A. and M. College grid machine an easy 41 to 6 victory over a stubborn Tulsa University Hurricane here Saturday.

The 1939 national champions managed for two markers in the first half and then wore down the embattled Tulsans who rallied but once to tally in the final period. The Hurricane fought valiently but failed to deliver in pay-off territory.

A crowd of more than 20,000 packed beautiful new Alamo Stadium in sunshiny weather. It was the first appearance of a Southwest Conference team here in many years.

The Aggie scoring was well balanced, no man crossing the Tulsa goal line more than once. The Texans got 108 yards on the ground to Tulsa's 88 but amassed 200 by the aerial route to the Oklahomans' 115. To this the Farmers added 124 yards by running back intercepted passes.

Shortly after the starting whistle Tulsa was forced to punt out on Texas A. and M.'s 48 after which the Aggies commenced their first scoring drive. Derace Moser raced around end for nine, then crashed over guard to the Tulsa 39. Marion Pugh sliced through tackle for nine and a nicely timed pass, Pugh to Jim Thomason, added another first down on the Tornado's 26. Pugh then cracked through tackle for 13 and Moser, swinging wide to the left, ran over standing up. A holding penalty nullified the placekick for point and Pugh passed to Elvis Simons for the point.

Late in the second quarter, John Kimbrough, all-American fullback last year, intercepted a pass and dashed 20-odd yards to the Tulsa three where he was run out of bounds. Pugh got a yard and Kimbrough plunged over. Pugh placekicked the point.

Field Goal Wins For Ohio State

COLUMBUS, O. —(AP)— Goldenhaired, golden-toed Charley Maag, six-foot-three-inch tackle, booted a field goal with 21 seconds to play Saturday as Ohio State, battered and bewildered by fast and fighting Purdue, beat the Boilermakers 17 to 14.

A crowd of 54,556 sat tense as the blonde giant plummeted the winning placement between the uprights from the 12-yard line and then tossed a terrific cheer as they realized the Bucks had captured the opener in defense of their Western Conference football championship.

Ohio, outweighing Purdue about 15 pounds per man, were prohibitive favorites but the Boilermakers refused to concede anything—even after Ohio led 14-0 at the half.

WAKE FOREST 19; FURMAN 0

WAKE FOREST, N. C.—(AP)—A blocking back who had been the work horse of the Wake Forest football team for two seasons got his chance for real glory Saturday and he made the most of it, trotting 70 yards for a touchdown as the Deacons won 19 to 0 over a stubborn Purple Hurricane from Furman.

The blocking back was Jimmy Ringgold, Deacon captain and fullback.

Don't Let 'Em Scare You

Longhorns Post 13-6 Win Over Hoosier Eleven

Jack Crain Leads Steer Attack

By HAROLD HARRISON

BLOOMINGTON—(AP)— Indiana's aerial attack clicked everywhere except deep in enemy territory Saturday and a more versatile University of Texas team, led by Jack "Rabbitt" Crain, handed the Hoosiers a 13-to-6 setback in their football opener. The crowd numbered 17,000.

For the Longhorns it was victory No. 2 of the current campaign. They beat Colorado last week.

After turning back two Indiana threats in the first period, Texas scored in the second quarter after Malcolm Kutner blocked Hal Hursh's attempted quick kick and the Longhorns recovered on the Indiana 16. R. L. Harkins went over from the two-yard line and Orban Sanders added the extra point by picking up his blocked placekick attempt and running across the goal.

Crain smashed over right tackle in the third period for the second Longhorn touchdown after he had intercepted one of Hursh's passes on the Indiana forty-four and twisted his way to the six.

A 42-yeard march brought Indiana its touchdown in the final quarter. Harold (Red) Zimmer reeled off a 20 yard run and passes from Mickey McGuire and Ray Dumke and Howdy Elloitt, plus a penalty on Texas for unnecessary roughness, gave Indiana a first down on the one-yard line. Dumke scored around right end but the try for point failed.

Indiana had the edge in first downs, 15 to 9, but only three of them came from rushing. The Hoosiers gained only 11 yards net by rushing, but they piled up 234 yards by completing 19 of 35 passes. Texas gained 106 yards by rushing; only 48 by passing.

Crain's dashes through the Indiana line and the booming Texas punts, which averaged 43.5 yards, kept the Hoosiers back on their heels much of the time.

Wildcats Wallop Syracuse 40-0

SYRACUSE, N. Y.—(AP)—Northwestern University's footballers came East to open their season Saturday, and found everything in readiness for them except a football team.

The girls were pretty, the sun was bright, and the turf in Syracuse's Archbold Stadium was springy and green. The Syracuse football team, however, was only green and soggy, so Northwestern had practically no trouble at all in winning by 40-0.

It must have been a shock to the 20,000 rooters to see how easily the lads from Evanston handled the men in the Orange and Blue of Syracuse.

For blond Bill Decorrevont it was a particular field day. The junior halfback finally showed himself to have developed into a full-fledged football player.

Decorrevont scored twice and shared touchdown and offensive honors with his classmate, 215-pound Don Clawson. Clawson threw his weight into the inept Syracuse line to good effect. That's the way he took over the first score. But on his second he leaped between Syracuse passer and receiver to pick an aerial out of the blue and sprint 42 yards over the goal.

Mustangs Kick Teachers 20-7 With Pitching

Ponies' Air Attack Pays Off

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

DALLAS—(AP)—Ray Mallouf and Johnny Clement pitched strikes in the pinches, Clint McClain turned in some dazzling runs and their Southern Methodist University mates cashed in on the breaks to beat a gallant North Texas State Teachers College eleven 20-7 Saturday before a crowd of 12,000.

Action was scarce in the first half as a blazing sun beat down but the crowd was in an uproar over the driving finish of the green-shirted boys from Denton.

The stubborn North Texas line halted everything SMU tried in the first period but early in the second the Mustangs took to the air and with Ray Mallouf on the firing line marched to a quick touchdown.

Mallouf flipped a 33 yard pass to Bill Thomas who dodged his way 17 yards for the score. Thomas added the point.

The next Methodist counter came in the third period, a 13 yard pass by Clement to Roland Goss settling up the score as the climax of a 43 yard march. From the North Texas 30, McClain rapped guard for four then sliced through tackle and cut back through a bevy of North Texas players for the touchdown. Thomas missed the goal.

The Methodists got another shortly afterward, this time on a break. Johnny Riola, the 147-pound backfield star of the North Texans who for the day was the defensive terror, tried to pass but Clarence Booth batted the ball into the air and Ted Ramsey gathered it in. Ramsey dived toward the goal but fell on the North Texas 21. Next interference was ruled on a pass from Dick Miller to Kelly Simpson, giving SMU the ball on the North Texas 9 yard line. Miller plunged twice to carry it over and Johnston kicked the goal.

Visions of last week's garrison finish when North Texas almost caught Baylor arose as the Teachers began drive of their own with only minutes to play. Bobby Dodd intercepted Miller's pass and ran to the SMU 24. Riola passed to Clayton who lateraled to Sheffield and the latter ran to the 14. Clayton then flipped one to Revo Stewart for a touchdown. Nace Formagus added the point.

As the game ended SMU was driving toward another touchdown. The final gun found Cliff Hagerman being forced outside on the North Texas 2 yard line after a 12 yard run.

Horned Frogs Chalk Up 20-0 Win Over Porkers

By FELIX R. McKNIGHT

FORT WORTH —(AP)— Wee Dean Bagley and Kyle Gillespie, the Texas Christian thumbleweeds, steered the rapidly reviving ghost of other great Christian teams to a 20-0 rout of the University of Arkansas in the Southwest Conference opener here Saturday.

Vastly underrated by the preseason guessers, the Christian team that last week humbled Centenary, 41-6 snubbed the odds Saturday and twice drove into a vicious, southerly wind to score on uninterrupted marches of 78 and 69 yards, winding up both with spectacular passing plays.

But the Christians weren't too dependent upon their famed aerial antics, tossing only nine. Six of those, however, were completed, and three of them went for touchdowns on heaves of 45, 18 and 17 yards.

To Bagley and Gillespie goes credit for most of the 269 yards TCU rolled up, but another hero — a tragic, forgotten boy—flashed back from obscurity for one brief moment to get the wildest cheer of the day.

Big Jack Odle, the lad they said only a season ago would carry on the great line of Sammy Baugh's and Davey O'Briens at Texas Christian, but who quietly folded in mid-season after an injury and dropped into the shadows, slipped into the game as a reserve fullback.

On a routine buck straight over guard the bronzed kid suddenly burst through the massive Porker line and hit the secondary at full speed. He veered to his left, spun off a tackler and streaked for the sidelines. Three Arkansas men dived at him and he kept going. Finally 40 yards downfield, two redclad Razorbacks dropped him.

On the next play he cracked center again and simply powered for eight more yards. But he didn't get up that time. Injured, they carried him off the field. The fans cleared his fogged head with screams.

Arkansas, stout on the defense at times but lacking the fiery offense that has featured its play for many seasons, muffed the only good scoring chance it got. The Christions, still the opportunitsts, made good on most of their's.

The lineups:

COLORADO 7; KANSAS STATE 6

BOULDER, Colo.—(AP)—Colorado University of the Big Seven defeated Kansas State of the Big Six 7 to 6 on a wet gridiron Saturday. Vern Miller ran 40 yards for Colorado's touchdown in the second period. Johnny Pudlik placekicked the extra point.

Kansas State battled its way out of a hole in the third period and Gene Fair staged a 58-yard touchdown run. Nichol's place kick for the extra point was short.

Irish Race Over Pacific Tigers In Easy Style

Veteran Stagg's 11 Is Stubborn

SOUTH BEND, Ind.—(AP)—Notre Dame, perennial contender for the national football championship, swept over the venerable A. A. Stagg's little College of the Pacific team Saturday, 25 to 7, opening the 1940 campaign with an impressive display of power and deception.

Stagg, beginning his 51st year as a coach, put a courageous and smart eleven on the field, but was overpowered by the abundant talent of the fighting Irish.

A crowd of 30,000 spectators thrilled to the first quarter scoring drive of Stagg's underdog machine.

Alternating a smooth passing attack directed by Dale Halbert with a tricky ground game, the Golden Tigers drove 60 yards against the Iris regulars in the opening period. Dwayne Mears scored the touchdown on a center plunge from the one and Emil Seifert placekicked the point.

This lead stood up for the stubborn visitors until midway of the second quarter. Bob Saggau tossed a pass to Steve Juzwik for a 40 yard gain to the Pacific 25. After an incomplete pass big Milt Piepul drove to the seven and then Juzwik faked a reverse and skirted left end for the tally. Piepul tied the score with a perfect placement.

Wearing down the undermanned Stagg men, Notre Dame moved into high gear in the third. Fred Evans and Bernie Crimmins leading the attack. Crimmins sent the Irish ahead with a 16 yard end jaunt, but Joe Laibers placement was blocked.

The Irish muffed several other scoring opportunities in the third but easily clinched the decision in the fourth, scoring two touchdowns in one minute.

Derringer Squares Series Count For Reds

Sets Tigers Down With Five Blows

3 Detroit Hurlers Take Mound

the bases and then making Derringer lay down an easy grounder.

The Reds kept right on making trouble, however, Werber again walking to open the fourth, going to third as Mike McCormick lined a double into right and scoring after Goodman had lifted a long fly to Hank Greenberg in left center.

Smith Holds Reds

Smith then managed to hold Cincinnati in check for two frames, but was removed for a pinchhitter in the sixth and the Reds went to work on Lefty Archie McKain for their final run in the eighth as well as singles in the seventh and ninth.

Two were out in the eighth when Werber needled a single through the box and went to second on a wild pitch. Mike McCormick came up with another single to bring Werber home.

The Tigers' runs came in the third and the other in the sixth but neither touched off an inspired rally such as Detroit produced to win the first and third games of the series.

Greenberg Gets Double

With one out in the second inning Barney McCosky waited out a walk, went to second on an infield out and came racing home as Greenberg hammered a double along the left field foul line.

Rudy York walked as Derringer took care to keep good balls away and then Bruce Campbell struck out.

The only other hits that Derringer gave up were a single by Higgins with one on and two out in the second a single by McCosky with none on and one out in the fifth.

Derringer Walks Six

The big right-handed star, who won 20 games and lost 12 during the regular season, and usually has fine control, caused some alarm in the early frames by allowing six walks, one of them intentional, but he kept as cool as an icebox and received fine support in every crisis.

In the first inning when he walked McCosky, second baseman Eddie Joost started a double play that immediately ended the inning and again in the fifth when McCosky had singled Derringer himself fashioned a double killing. The victim each time was Charley Gehringer.

He struck out four batters, each in a different inning, to keep matters under control.

Atones For Defeat

This triumph atoned well for Derringer's defeat in the opening game at Cincinnati and put the Reds in good shape for the remainder of the series, which now is certain to return to Cincinnati and will be the first one to go six games since the New York Giants and Yankees struggled that distance in 1936.

Manager Bill McKechnie said after the game he was undecided whether to start young Gene Thompson Sunday or come back with Bucky Walters, whose three-hit pitching piloted the Reds to their victory in the second game.

The best judgment here was that Thompson probably would get his chance at last. With the tide even McKechnie can afford to string along with the young fast-baller just as Del Baker did Saturday with Trout. If Thompson wins, Walters would be available to try for the clincher Monday. If he doesn't, the Reds still would have Walters and Derringer available for the emergency on their own field.

Baker expected to start Buck Newsom again and hoped that the big fellow would repeat his first game success.

FOOTBALL ROUNDUP

By HERB BARKER

NEW YORK— (AP) —Two of last year's football powers, Tennessee and Cornell, moved into the forefront of the 1940 national rankings Saturday along with the Mid-Western big four of Minnesota, Ohio State, Michigan and Northwestern, as the day's one real full-fledged upset was engineered by the Diplomats of little Franklin and Marshall College of Lancaster, Pa.

The Diplomats invaded Hanover, N. H., with an alert, speedy team and handed Dartmouth's ivy league Indians a stunning 23-21 setback with a brilliant sophomore back, Billy Manotti, leading the way.

Vols Win

Meanwhile Tennessee's Volunteers, beaten by Southern California in the last Rose Bowl game, hammered out a decisive 13-0 victory over Duke in a game in which the highly-touted Blue Devils from the Southern Conference reached Tennessee territory only once.

Cornell, unbeaten a year ago, dealt Colgate an unmerciful 34-0 beating in its first 1940 start with Hal McCullough's passing a major factor in the rout.

Ohio State, Michigan and Minnesota all won after bitter fights and discovered another Western Conference entry, Northwestern, evidently would have to be reckoned with. With Bill De Correvont and Don Clawson scoring two touchdowns apiece, Northwestern buried Syracuse under a 40-0 count.

Charley Maag's field goal from the 12-yard line in the last 21 seconds of play enabled Ohio State to trip Purdue, 17-14, after the Boilermakers had rallied sharply in the second half to tie the score at 14-14. All-America Tom Harmon scored all of Michigan's points as the Wolverines won over Michigan State's pass-minded Spartans, 21-14, before 65,000 fans.

Fine line play and the excellent running of George Franck and sophomore Bill Daley carried Minnesota to a 13-7 victory over Nebraska's Cornhuskers, Big Six power.

Wisconsin made it a great day for the Western Conference by trouncing Marquette, 33-19, but Indiana's Hoosiers found Texas more than it could handle and the Longhorns punched out a 13-7 decision. Notre Dame opened its season against A. A. Stagg's College of Pacific outfit and won a routine 25-7 victory, spotting the visitors an early touchdown.

Missouri Loses

Despite Syracuse's route and a 19-14 set-back clever Virginia administered to Yale, the East did pretty well in intersectional games. Pitt's power off-set Paul Christman's passes and the Panthers turned back Missouri, 19-13. Princeton, holding off Vanderbilt's strong closing thrust, won 7-6, while Penn romped at Maryland's expense, 51-0. Navy worked out a 14-0 verdict over University of Cincinnati.

Williams, of the little three, came close to duplicating Franklin and Marshall's upset feat but finally bowed to the Army, 20-19. Fordham looked none too strong in a 20-7 defeat of West Virginia, and New York University came a cropper against well-coached LaFayette, 9-7.

Tulane's disorganized forces dropped a Southeastern Conference decision to Auburn, 20-14, while Kentucky and Georgia rolled up big scores over Southern Conference foes. Kentucky whipped Washington and Lee, 47-12, and Georgia walloped South Carolina, 33-2.

In Southern Conference games, Clemson handed North Carolina State is first defeat, 26-7; North Carolina tripped Davidson, 27-7; Wake Forest rolled over Furman, 19-0, and Richmond defeated Virginia Tech, 13-7.

Texas Christian hung up a 20-0 count on Arkansas in a Southwest Conference duel, while Texas Aggies and Southern Methodist, picked to battle for the championship, won over non-conference rivals. The Aggies, No. 1 team in the nation a year ago, trounced Tulsa, 41-6, and Southern Methodist rolled over North Texas Teachers, 20-7.

The year's first Big Six contest saw Iowa State nose out Kansas, 7-0. Oklahoma barely survived Oklahoma A. and M.'s closing drive, 29-27. Kansas State bowed to Colorado of the Rock Mountain Big Seven, 7-6.

In the Far West, Oregon State and Southern California played to a scoreless draw although the Trojans almost pushed over a touchdown in the closing minutes of play. Stanford, continuing its fine showing under Clark Shaughnessy, defeated Oregon, 13-0. California, routed by Michigan a week, showed a surprising reversal of form in beating St. Mary's Gaels, 9-6.

In the Rocky Mountain Big Seven, Utah continued its spell over Brigham Young, 12-6, while Wyoming held Colorado State to a 0-0 deadlock.

How About It? Was He Safe?

Nope, you're wrong. He was out. Tiger third baseman Higgins sprawls on the ground after being tagged out by Catcher Baker of the Reds in the eighth inning of the third Series game which was played at Detroit and won by the Tigers, 7 to 4, after a big batting spree. Higgins tried to score from second when Tebbetts grounded to Myers who threw him out to F. McCormick. McCormick beat Higgins to the plate with his throw for a double play. (NEA Telephoto.)

Rice Owls Open Season By Beating Gents 25-0

HOUSTON—(AP)—The Rice Owls started their 1940 season with a 25-0 victory over the Centenary Gentlemen Saturday night as a band of sophomores ran the visitors ragged. Passing brought two of the four scores.

First Quarter

Rice muffed a chance to score early in the first period when big Ray Zimmerman, end, intercepted a pass on the Centenary 37. Weems smashed to the 28 but Brumley fumbled on a spinner and the Gents recovered on their 32 and kicked out. The Owls began another drive from their 39 and got to the 10-yard line on smashes by Brumley, Ellis and Weems. The surge ended when May, Centenary halfback, recovered Brumley's fumble as the Rice fullback attempted to hand the ball off on a spinner. The Louisianans avoided further immediate trouble by kicking out to the enemy 45.

The Owls had trouble with the Centenary line and the teams exchanged punts after fruitless struggle around midfield. Coach Neely sent substitutes streaming in, trying to find an effective combination.

A penalty because a substitute talked on entering the game put Rice on the 24 as the period ended scoreless.

Second Quarter

Keel slapped a pass to Verlan Prichard on the 12-yard line and after two strikes at the lines, shot another from the 10 to the same player. Pritchard had no competition as he snuggled the ball behind the line for the first score. Vestal kicked point. Score Rice 7, Centenary 0.

Rice kicked off to Centenary, held the Gents on downs and took over on its own 35. The Owls started an attack that seemed headed for a score, but Centenary tightened on its 15-yard line and kicked out of danger again. Little Keel was the spark of the Rice drive, rocking the Gents' line with off-tackle plunges, but his last-effort passes from the 15 failed.

Rice took the ball on the Centenary 46 after Faith's nice punt, managed to pick up but a handful of yards and Weems spiraled a 36-yard punt which went out of bounds on the Centenary 3. Faith booted it back to his 35, and Centenary took the ball again when Rice's Weems fumbled on the Centenary 23 and Allums, Gent guard, recovered. Faith faked a punt and shot a 25-yard pass to the Owl's 47, but Barnes' pass two plays later was intercepted by Weems on the Rice 27. Weems then tossed an aerial to Everett on the 46. A talking penalty against Centenary and a 12-yard dash by Weems put the ball on the Gents' 27. Weems shot a touchdown pass to Ellis and Rice led 13-0 at the half.

Third Quarter

Barnes gave Rice a break early in the third by fumbling an Owl punt on the Rice 37. Quillian recovered for Rice. The Owls drove to another score, with Keel doing the heavy work. He teamed with McDougle and Zander to push through to the Gents' 37, then passed to Prichard on the 22. Keel shot off tackle to the 10 and then blasted to the one-foot line. Zander failed to get it over but Keel made it over right tackle. Vestal failed to convert. Score, Rice 19, Centenary 0.

Rice tallied again after a kicking exchange, when Weems intercepted Barnes' pass and raced 55 yards for a score behind strong interference. Brumley failed to kick point. Score, Rice 25, Centenary 0.

Fourth Quarter

Dickson failed to get the ball across and Centenary kicked to its own 28. Dickson began passing, and hit Price on the 17-yard line, but thereafter he failed. On fourth down, Tresch, end, dropped Dickson's heave behind the line. Rice took over again on its 43 after a Centenary punt and Dickson and Glaassie drove to the Centenary 40, whence Dickson heaved an 18-yard pass to Ellis. Centenaary recovered a Rice fumble on its own 20, however, to end the threat.

Rice took the ball on its 35 after the Centenary punt but was forced to reciprocate after picking up ten yards in five plays. Keel put Rice back on the trail again by intercepting Hamby's pass and dashing 26 yards to the Centenary 29. After a line try, Centenary drew a 15-yard penalty to the 13 for roughness. As the game ended, Keel was trying to spot a receiver behind the Centenary goal line. Final score, Rice 25, Centenary 0.

The lineups:

Rice	Pos.	Centenary
Hartman	Left Tackle	Hearne
Bassett	Left Guard	Crawford
Whitlow	Center	Campbell
Goforth	Right Guard	Hardcastle
Heard	Right Tackle	McCrary

Girl Matador Will Be Seen

MATAMOROS — Juanita Cruz, Spanish girl matador, said to be the best woman bullfighter in the world, is carded to appear in the Matamoros Bienveida bullring Sunday, Oct. 13 at 4 p.m.

She will fight bulls of the famed Penuelas stock, known to be unusually ferocious.

Miss Cruz, famed also for her beauty, does all her bullfighting on foot. She is considered to be one of the most elegant cape artists among the women bullfighters of the current generation.

Alternating with Miss Cruz will be Carlos Vera, "Canitas" and Luis Briones, two up-and-coming bullfighters. Canitas and Briones gave a fine showing in their last appearance in the local ring several months ago.

The bulls are expected to arrive during the week and bullfight fans are invited by the impresario to visit the local ring and see the animals.

Pittsburgh Wins Over Missouri

PITTSBURGH—(AP)—Once mighty Pitt splurged some of its lost prestige Saturday by uncorking old time power to overcome passing Paul Christman and his Missouri Big Six champions 19-13 before 26,000 fans.

Ahead from the outset, Pitt doggedly fought off aerial maneuvers of the invaders while rolling up and down the gridiron for a net rushing gain of 215 yards to score in the first, third and fourth quarters.

Christman dazzled the crowd with a great passing show, hurling 29 of Missouri's 31 passes and completing 12 for gains of 210 yards. Pitt completed one of five passes for a gain of 18 yards

Bear Ace Badly Injured Friday In D. U. Game

Lost To Baylor For Rest Of Season

DENVER—(AP)—A 14 to 7 victory over Denver University apparently cost the Baylor University gridders the services of their chief backfield candidate for All America honors.

Wilson, injured in the second quarter of Friday night's game, must remain in the hospital for several weeks and he won't play football again this season, Dr. Lewis V. Sams, Denver team physician informed the Baylor squad.

Coach Morley Jennings of the Texans spent most of the night at the hospital, where a specialist worked over young Wilson. The back was carried from the field on a stretcher after being tackled by Cecil (Butch) Scheffel, Denver guard, while catching a pass.

Also taken to the same hospital were two Denver players—fullback Dan Clinger of San Antonio, Texas, and Lou Liley, substitute end. Dr. Sams said they would be released Saturday, as their injuries were not serious.

The Baylor victory might be subtitled "The Triumph Of The Man Wtih The Twisted Knee." Jim Witt, 180-pound veteran halfback, was supposed to have the damaged hinge, so all he did was go in at the pinch, replacing the injured Wilson and score both Bear touchdowns. He caught a short pass from sophomore Bill Coleman for one in the second quarter and scooted 27 yards through the entire D. U. team for the second.

Wolverines Trim Spartans 21-14

ANN ARBOR, Mich.—(AP)—All-America Tom Harmon roared down the touchdown trail again Saturday and scored three times as Michigan's Wolverines rolled to a 21 to 14 victory over an air-minded Michigan State football team. A crowd of 65,438 witnessed the performance, virtually a one-man show.

In contrast to his long gallops against California last week, Terrible Tommy this time dashed across the goal line on runs of 13, 9 and 2 yards. He place-kicked all three extra points and ran his scoring total to 49 points in two games this season.

The Spartans went through the air for their touchdowns, Sophomore Walter Pawlowski, speedy halfback, making catches for gains of 45 and 37 yards. Pawlowski and Quarterback Bob Sherman each booted an extra point.

WISCONSIN 33; MARQUETTE 19

MADISON, Wis.—(AP)—An underdog Wisconsin football team played inspired football here Saturday to come from behind and crush Marquette 33 to 19 before a crowd of 32,000.

PENN WINS

PHILADELPHIA—(AP)—Pennsylvania's powerful eleven opened its All-Major Bicentennial football schedule Saturday by crushing Maryland, 51 to 0.

Wasted Whitewings Cut Deep Into Future Supply

Comment has been made recently in Valley newspapers regarding the continued decrease in Whitewings. The conservation of the White-wing population means a great deal to the Valley both from the standpoint of recreation and financial returns.

One of the most effective means of increasing White-wings in the Valley would be to reduce the loss due to crippled and dead birds not retrieved by hunters who shoot them. Obviously there is no way of avoiding a considerable loss from these causes, but the present appalling mortality could and should be greatly reduced if hunters would take the situation to heart.

Many hunters are very conscientious about shooting from fairly open stands, shooting only at birds which they have a good chance of retrieving, and about retrieving them immediately to avoid losing them in the brush or weeds. There are hundreds of hunters however, who are still too thoughtless about this matter, and, as a result, thousands of White-wings are shot and wasted each season.

To determine this waste in one locality an investigation was made where many White-wings shot were falling in the brush. Twenty-one dead birds were found by one man in twenty-five minutes search near the edge of this brush, and it was estimated that there were at least 500 dead birds to the mile near each side of this road. Many others which were not killed outright had doubtless wandered farther back in the brush or had sought refuge in rat burrows or dense clumps of prickly pear. It was clearly evident that many hunters shooting there were retrieving only those birds which fell within easy reach. This practice causes a tremendous waste of game.

In one locality east of San Manuel several hunters who were shooting in a very small clearing in heavy chaparral were observed and a record kept of the birds they lost or crippled. For the forty-eight Whitewings retrieved there were twenty-seven killed and eight fatally injured which were not found in the dense brush. Sixteen other birds were wounded sufficiently that they separated from the flock and glided into the woods beyond reach of retrieving. Twelve other birds lost feathers and showed by their flight that they had been hit. For the forty-eight bagged there were thirty-five lost and twenty-eight wounded. Of those latter several were probably sufficiently wounded that they never took wing again. If these men had shot at birds within range of retrieving, this loss would have been greatly reduced.

The score of these hunters apparently compares with the average at stands surrounded by heavy brush and cactus. It has been reported by State investigators on the basis of many hunters' own statements that for every ten birds bagged in 1939 at all types of shooting stands four were lost, but field observations have indicated that many hunters greatly underestimate their losses. The wastage probably averages forty per cent in more open areas and much greater in brushy places, varying according to the type of area where the hunting is done and the skill of the shooter. Some hunters can rightfully claim that they lose very few birds, but for every such experienced, careful hunter there appears to be several who lose many birds. The pratices of shooting at high birds, at those already above brush where retrieving is very difficult, or into the flock rather than at an individual bird are three reasons for the continued decrease of the Valley's White-wings. It is the hunter who is little concerned about how many White-wings he kills or cripples and loses who deserves much of the blame for the continued decrease of this fine game bird in the Valley.

Hardin-Simmons Cowboys Defeat Arizona State

Ground Attack Is Big Factor

TYLER —(AP)— Hardin-Simmons Cowboys unleashed a powerful ground attack here Saturday to corral the Ariona State Bulldogs of Tempe 17-0 before 12,500 fans at the sixth annual Texas Rose Festival grid classic.

The defeat toppled the Bulldogs from the nation's unbeaten, untied clubs, and the victory was the third against no losses this season for the cowboys.

Paced by Owen Goodnight, Moon Mullins, and L. B. Russell, the Abilene, Tex., team piled up 12 first downs to four for the Arizona eleven, including one on a penalty. The Cowboys backs ran up yardage while a strong line held the Bulldogs in check.

Wayne Pitts, highly touted Bulldog back, was throttled most of the game, but managed to slip through for a few good gains. The best Bulldog showing came in the first quarter when the Arizona crew drove to Hardin-Simmons' 21 before the Cowboys braced.

The Tempe push started when Shamblee recovered a Hardin-Simmons kick, a line thrust by Hernandez gained three, and the attack failed when the Bulldog's aerials missed their marks.

Hardin - Simmons, evidencing power early, drove in the fading minutes of the first quarter 79 yards to the Bulldog one-yard line, but the Arizona line held. Murray Evans,, reserve Cowboy center, kicked a field goal from the 10 yard line to give Hardin-Simmons a 3-0 lead.

An attack which carried the Texans to the Arizona three midway in the second quarter bogged down, but a few minutes later the Cowboys drove 35 yards to score, on runs of Russell and passes from Russell to Parker and Burris. Russell passed to Goodnight on the Arizona State one and he drove over for the touchdown. Bryson added the extra point from placement.

The third quarter was scoreless, but early in the final period the Cowboys climaxed a 38-yard drive with Bryson going over for a touchdown through the line from the Arizona three. Bryson kicked another extra point to complete the scoring.

Olin Mason, star Bulldog tackle, went out of the game in the second quarter with a chipped ankle bone.

Arizona	Pos.	Cowboys
Green	Center	Lewis
Sanserino	Right Guard	Tucker
Mason	Right Tackle	Treadway
Andrews	Right End	Burrus
Relles	Quarterback	Russell
Ybarra	Right Half	Oatman
Pitts	Fullback	Mullins

Rio Rico Plans Hunting Club

RIO RICO, Tamps., Mexico—Nimrods desiring to hunt game in the Republic of Mexico are invited to attend a meeting to be held at Joe's place in Rio Rico, Sunday, October 13, at which time all rules and regulations pertaining to hunting in Mexico will be discussed.

A "Club Cinegetico" has been formed with General Lopez Tafaya, president, and Jose Ortega, vice-president and manager. Valley hunters may join this club at a nominal fee and receive all the benefits, chief of which is the obtaining of permits.

A game warden from Victoria will be on hand to explain the open seasons on various game and the regulations governing hunting in Mexico.

Tennessee Vols Beat Duke 13-0

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. —(AP)— The Tennessee Vols' grid prestige, punctured in the 1940 Rose Bowl game, was patched and pumped up skin tight Saturday with a sparkling 13 to 0 victory over "one of the best football teams in Duke history."

Forty-two thousand sun-saturated fans who overflowed Shield-Watkins Stadium sat thrilled and amazed as Coach Bob Neyland's team, forsaking for the first time the solid old army game, ran the leks from under the Blue Devils with a tricky new shift, some fancy ball juggling and more passing than Vol fans have seen in a long time.

The scoring was confined to the second quarter, a pass good for 33 yards accounting for the first points, and a plunge following a blocked punt netting the second touchdown.

Only once did Duke invade Tennessee territory.

The twelve-month calendar was arranged by Julius Caesar.

Conference 11s Play Six Games In Five States

Will Cover Ground Saturday

FORT WORTH —(Spl)— Six games in five states constitute the Southwest Conference schedule for next Saturday. It will be the third successive week-end in which six contests have been booked but it will be the last.

After next week, the conference elevens begin to battle among themselves more and more and four contests will soon be the maximum for any Saturday afternoon.

One conference tilt will be played next Saturday—Baylor vs. Arkansas at Fayetteville. It has been four years since the Razorbacks defeated the Bears. Arkansas at home is never easy, but Baylor will be favored in many quarters.

Most interest will center on the Texas A. and M.-U. C. L. A. clash in Los Angeles. The Aggies and S. M. U. are still listed by most handicappers as the best bets to cop the Southwest flag. Some indication as to comparative strength may come from Los Angeles affair, since the Mustangs already have a 9-to-6 victory over the Uclans. Fan philosophy in the Southwest seems to be, "if the Methodists can beat them, the Aggies can."

Texas Christian goes to Chapel Hill, N. C., to meet the University of North Carolina Tar Heels, coached by Ray ("Bear") Wolf, former T. C. U. line coach, and Johnny Vaught, captain of the 1932 championship Horned Frog eleven and all-American guard that year. You could flip a coin on this one and have only one chance of being wrong.

Incidentally, the Aggies return from their jaunt to the Pacific Coast and the Frogs from theirs to the Atlantic, to meet each other in College Station one week later, on October 19.

Texas and Oklahoma meet Saturday in the annual Battle of Dallas. Whatever may happen on the football field that afternoon, the day's activities as a whole will be summed up, "A good time was had by all."

Coach Matty Bell takes his Southern Methodist eleven to Pittsburgh. Pitt routed the Mustangs 34 to 7 when the two elevens met in Pittsburgh two years ago. The Panthers this year, though, aren't up to the class of '38, and the Methodists have improved. Looks like sweet revenge.

Rice plays Louisiana State in a game at Houston. The Owls have been playing the Tigers annually since 1932; have won two, tied one, lost five—the last Owl victory coming in 1935.

L.S.U. 25; HOLY CROSS 0

BATON ROUGE, La.—(AP)—The Louisiana State University Tigers, led by Adrian Dodson with three touchdowns and scoring in every period, swept over the Holy Cross Crusaders in an intersectional football title Saturday night, 25 to 0.

Latin American Army Chieftains In San Antonio To See Randolph

SHAM BATTLE PLANNED FOR PART OF SHOW

Hemisphere Defense Is Mapped

SAN ANTONIO—Latin American army chieftains on a flying tour of United States defense establishments reached this strategic southwestern military area late Saturday for a two-day inspection.

Ending their swing west and the first week of their trip the chiefs of staff and ranking officers of Colombia, Bolivia, Peru, Uruguay, Costa Rica, Panama, Honduras, Dominican Republic, and Guatemala, will quicken the tempo of their already fast pace to study Uncle Sam's major pilot training fields—Randolph and Kelly.

At Camp Bullis

They also will review the second division at Fort Sam Houston here and watch a sham battle at Camp Bullis.

The officers landed at Randolph Field at 4:30 p.m. (CST) after a two-hour flight in perfect weather from Barksdale Field, La., where they were entertained at luncheon by General Frederick Martin.

They received his reassurance that the United States "takes its responsibility for defense of the western hemisphere."

The general warned that singly "we can be overpowered" but united none can make the Americas submit to their will.

"In the United States we are doing our utmost to be strong that we can help you . . . keep this hemisphere inviolate . . .," General Martin said.

"Fight For Liberty"

Lt. Colonel Refugio Fabrega of Panama responded with the significant declaration that the Americas want peace but will fight together to protect their liberty.

Lt. Gen. H. J. Brees, corps area commander, Generals Collins and Krueger, and Brig. Gen. Donovan welcomed the visitors when they alighted from their plane, while the Randolph Field band played the Volivian national anthem, and a 17-gun salute boomed.

Channel Authorized At Texas Port For Destroyer Building

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A Senate-House conference committee agreed Saturday upon a rivers and harbors bill authorizing $34,500,000 for projects classified as national defense measures.

The conference groups approved three Senate increases including a $137,000 project at Orange, Tex., on the Sabine-Neches waterway to provide a channel for a yard constructing destroyers.

The bill merely authorized the projects. Funds must be appropriated later.

Student Is Honoree At Hockaday School

HARLINGEN—Miss Billie Faye Trammell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. L. Trammell, was one of the honorees at a Club Council reception at Hockaday Junior College in Dallas, where she is a freshman student, Wednesday evening, October 2. Skits were presented by the six college clubs: Book Review, Dramatic, Classical, Current History, French, and Scribblers. She will designate the club which she prefers to join within a week.

Miss Trammell will also take part in the Mobilization for Americanism activities scheduled on the campus for the week beginning Sunday, October 6.

Legion's Auxiliary Not To Meet Monday

HARLINGEN—Announcement of the meeting of the Harlingen American Legion Auxiliary for October 7, published in a recent issue of the Valley Morning Star, Saturday was declared erroneous by officers of the local auxiliary. The meeting will not be held October 7.

BACK FROM CONVENTION

PHARR—Mrs. Folsom Mittelstadt, instructor at the Pharr Val Rie School of Beauty Culture, returned this week from San Antonio where she attended the national convention of beauticians, which was held in the Gunter Hotel.

Interpreting The War News

Tendency Of German Public To Expect Miracles From Army Worries Leaders; Victory Rests With Infantry

Blitzkrieg Secret Is Explained By Army Officer

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON

Thirteen months of up-to-date war in Europe, with Nazi blitzkrieg trimmings, leaves the question of British sea versus German air power unsettled; but has not changed a fundamental concept of how land battles are fought and won.

It is still bayonets that win battles, not machines. That is the essence of German blitzkrieg technique, of all military experience. The function of all other arms, from Roman chariots to 80-ton Nazi tanks, from rock-hurling catapaults to bomb - dropping planes, is to help the foot-soldiery to do its grim job.

Germans Expect Miracles

The only miracle referred to by German experts in recounting the stunning victories by Hitler's armies from Poland to France is a miracle of training and staff precision to achieve coordinated application in battle. That is the lesson of the war, of the World War and of all previous wars.

Nazi militarists have noted a tendency in German public opinion—which they regard as dangerous—to expect miracles where mechanical robots do the fighting, not men. Before this writer is a translation of an article in a Berlin technical military journal, "Militar Ochenblatt," appearing in Berlin last August. Its title is "Die Infantrie Im Blitzkrieg" and it came from the pen of a German professional soldier of rank.

He analyzes Nazi army victories from Poland to the final cracking of the French line on the Somme-Aisne which brought France to her knees. This is his conclusion:

"They (the battles) have proved that the enemy's last resistance must be broken, as hitherto, by the infantry, and that in the last hundred meters of a charge the infantry must accomplish this result unaided (by tanks, aircraft or artillery) and solely by force of its own weapons. . . . it (the German infantry) bore the main burden of the struggle and proved to be queen of the battlefield."

The writer quotes from present German army regulations to govern training for "combined arms" as follows:

Up To Infantry

"The object of all arms is to allow the infantry to reach the enemy while still in possession of sufficient firing and attacking power to bring about a final decision."

If "in many places" in those battles the Nazi infantry came to grips with "an already crushed foe" due to effectiveness of Nazi aviation and tanks, the author adds, "this merely proves that our troops of all arms have been properly trained and not that the importance of the infantry's mission has diminished."

Because of that training, also, the writer adds, German infantry frequently reached its objective "with incredibly small losses" and was able to spring forward in hot pursuit to exploit a tactical success and turn it into a smashing strategic victory.

"This necessitates bold and decisive action on the part of subordinate commanders, who can usually count only on their own respective units and must wage the combat without relying on assistance of their neighbors," the article added. . . . "the commanders of even the smallest (German army) units were glad to assume responsibility. It was this fact that was new to our foes.

"They call it blitzkrieg and talk of our secrets. To us this quick success was due our training."

Police Find 'I Ain't No Rookie' Gal Tells It Straight In Dallas Arrest; Blotter Shows 751st Arrest For Her

DALLAS —(AP)— Though haggard, the woman was well-dressed—and sarcastic.

"Don't give me that line, coppers," she chided two policemen questioning her at the city jail Saturday concerning a recent robbery.

"You ain't got a thing on me and you know it. I ain't no rookie."

She was correct.

Police records showed it to be her 751st jail confinement here in 15 years.

5 INJURED IN THREE WRECKS

George Clayton Said Not Serious

McALLEN—George Clayton, 65, McAllen boiler worker, was receiving treatment in the City Hospital here Saturday for injuries sustained Friday night when he was struck by an automobile driven by Ross Currier of Raymondville on the highway inside the west city limits.

Currier told County Patrolman George Murray he did not see Clayton until he was too close to avoid hitting the elderly man. Currier was not going at a fast rate of speed, Murray said, and came to a stop within 25 or 30 feet after the impact.

Physicians said Clayton sustained multiple cuts on the right thigh and back of the head. His condition was not regarded as serious. Murray said the driver apparently was not to blame.

Antonio Riojoa, resident of San Luis Potosi, Mexico, was seriously injured when his car was in collision with a gravel truck driven by Charles F. Danner of Pharr on the U. S. 83 highway curve east of Mission Friday afternoon. Murray said Rioja's car failed to make the curve. The injured man received treatment at a Mission physician's office.

Slight cuts and bruises were sustained by three McAllen girls and two McAllen men in a collision at North Second street and East Hackberry Highway just outside the McAllen city limits late Friday. City Patrolman Earl Hersh, accompanied by Carl Skinner, was driving a new demonstrator car, which was in collision with a car occupied by Miss Woodra Bray, Miss Norma Lee Bray and Miss Clarine Nelson. Murray and State Patrolman Edd Hearn are investigating the crash.

ITALY SLAPS SERVILE TURK

Axis To Take Field Against Britain

ROME—(AP)—A denunciation of the Turks as "servile satellites" of the British and "the American columns which stand beside them was made Saturday by Virginio Gayda, one of the most authoritative of Fascist journalistic spokesmen.

Despite these bitter references to British-Allied Turkey, however, Gayda—had nothing specific to say as to the next military moves of Germany and Italy, beyond declaring roundly:

"The two Axis powers are resuming their war operations, never interrupted, with the greatest intensity. The effect will be seen soon."

An intensified attempt to drive the British out of Egypt and seize the Suez Canal was expected in foreign circles as Fascist observers forecast a strong fall offensive against Britain.

The conquest of Egypt is considered of such importance the possibility of the Germans aiding the Italians in a quick thrust there was seen by some. Hitler, these sources said, might help the Italians with planes, other equipment and supplies, if not troops.

France might be involved in Axis plans for the Near East, some onlookers thought, although both Italian and German circles discredited rumors of a possible peace settlement and alliance with France. France's conquerors, it was suggested, might be able to obtain the use of air bases in Syria by some arrangement short of an actual treaty.

More Safety Sallys

Safety Sallys are being distributed to schools throughout the valley. Pictured above is a portion of the remaining 100 being loaded into a truck at the Harlingen Fair grounds where they were constructed by the NYA under the sponsorship of the Valley's 20-30 clubs. Distribution has been made possible through the cooperation of the J. H. Robinson Truck Lines. 140 Safety Sallys have been delivered in Valley towns and Harlingen will receive theirs shortly.

SERVICE HELD FOR PIONEER

Mrs. Fernandez Is Buried Saturday

BROWNSVILLE—With members of many of Brownsville's oldest families in attendance, last rites were held here Saturday for Mrs. Francisca Champion Fernandez, 87, the mother of a promnient family here.

Mrs. Fernandez, who died Friday afternoon at her residence, Eighth and Elizabeth streets, had been a life-long resident of Port Isabel and Brownsville.

She, with other officers of the recently organized local portion of the nationally active society, will preside at the silver tea to be given at the Casa de Palmas Hotel from five until six o'clock today. The public is invited to attend. (Staff Photo)

Seated Tea Pleasant Hospitality Of Weekend; Garden Affords Setting

HARLINGEN—The pleasant garden at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Grimsell, 122 E. Lee Street, made a perfect setting Friday afternoon for the seated tea given by the Harlingen Past Matrons Club for Past Matrons clubs of San Benito, Rio Hondo, and La Feria. A note of informality was predominant as the group renewed friendships and made new acquaintances.

Mrs. Helen Smith, president of the hostess group, welcomed the guests in a brief, informal talk.

Winners in clever contests and games that added to the enjoyment of guests were Mrs. Alyse Ammerman and Mrs. R. H. Briggs, both of La Feria. A bouquet of roses was presented to Jo Nell Wittenbach who played a group of accordion selections and sang.

Pleasing emphasis was given to the autumn theme in the attractive refreshment plates holding candied apples and other dainties in rich autumn tints.

Guests were: Mesdames Pearl Boynton, Helen Milum, Velma Brown, Claudia McSpadden, Imogene Wagner, and Helen Smith, San Benito.

Mesdames Mary Belle Zeigler, Margie F. George, Mabel Jones, Ruth Mallernee, Gertrude Mize, Maude Tredway, Beulah Lewis, and Rachel Lewis, Rio Hondo.

Mesdames Isabel Hegge, Daisy H. Swope, Jane H. Hensley, Mildred Branch, Eddie McNail, Elberta Wiley, Alyse G. Ammerman, Alta M. Brower, Florence McKnight, John H. Mitchell, Lowell L. Clark, Edith Buck, Juanita Burchfield, R. H. Briggs, and Edna Coleman, La Feria.

Mesdames Clairrette Reece, Kingsville; Florrie Clark and Sadie Walker, Brownsville; Mamie L. Tom, Runge.

Mesdames Helen Smith, Lizzie Lee Sanders, Mattie Hamilton, Ophelia Chaudoin, Lovetta Nowlin, Mabel Lee Perry, Florence Fonville, Myrtle Letzerich, Norma Hand, Lucille Chatfield, Mildred Allison, Bess Atchison, Berta Paine, Jennie M. Bennet, Sylvia Weed, Madge Cherry, and Ella Grimsell, Harlingen.

Two Events Honor Alamo Bride-Elect

McALLEN—Two delightful parties were given this week to compliment Miss Jean Ellen Dockter of Alamo who will marry Wayne Wiley October 12 at a twilight service at the Community church in that city.

Thursday evening Mrs. Ernest Anderson of Edinburg gave a dinner and bingo party at her home at which the bride-to-be was presented with a gift from the hostess and each time a prize was won in the bingo game it was given to her.

Large bowls of red roses decorated the home and the dining table was centered with a bowl of the flowers resting on a large reflector.

Guests were Mrs. J. E. Dockter, Alamo; Misses Florence and Priscilla Dockter Alamo; Misses Eunice Faye and Kitty Earhart, San Juan; Mrs. Leonard Fox, Beaumont; Mrs. Earl Wallace, Edinburg; Mrs. Arthur Wiley and Miss Lucille Wiley, McAllen.

Friday noon a group of Mrs. Arthur Wiley's friends had a covered dish luncheon at the home of Mrs. Wiley. Red roses were also used for decorations and the guests gave the bride-elect a lovely gift.

Those attending were Mesdames L. M. Hubbard, Paul Snowden, F. Snowden, A. F. Myers, Lee Wilson, Sol Berridge, Henry Cramer, A. Barret, G. R. Carpenter, Jesse Lound, Misses Mae Hazel, Jean and Ann Myers, Lucille Wiley and Mrs. Wes Lynn of Pharr.

Girls Bridge Club Has Pretty Party

McALLEN—Miss Dorothy Lee Hawkins was hostess for a pretty appointed party having as guests members for her Bridge Club at her home here this week. Arrangements of flowers reflected the autumn theme.

In the series of games, high score trophy was awarded to Miss Irene McMahon.

Refreshments were served to the following guest: Misses Daisy Ellen and Mary Virginia Polk and Cathryne Melton of Pharr; Misses Margaret Brown, Irene McMahon, Lucille Wiley, Gloria Yzaguirre, Ruth Griffin, Berlyn Bonner, Grace Miller and Annabel Adams, of McAllen.

Bride-To-Be Honored with Color Shower

McALLEN—All the colors of the rainbow featured the decorative note of the shower Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Reck and Miss Ann Serviere gave this week at the Reck home for Miss Alice Withers of Edinburg, bride-to-be.

Miss Withers will marry Ray Kotila of Edinburg at the latter city Sunday.

About 40 Upper Valley guests registered in the guest book, given the young bride-elect.

Feature of the evening was the opening of the myriad colored pile of gifts, found in the "pot of gold" at the end of an arch, toned in rainbow colors.

The same motif was used on the refreshment table, covered with woven paper to simulate the rainbow hues. Quantities of roses, lilies, and corona vine were used to make effective decorations about the rooms.

"Advice to the bride" games provided the party's amusement.

Assisting with hostess duties were Miss Rosemary McNallie, Mrs. Lena McNallie, Mrs. George Schultz, Marjorie Johnson and Mable Baker, the latter of Weslaco.

A resident of Edinburg, Miss Withers is well known in McAllen where she is employed as secretary at the office of the Texas Soil Laboratory.

Miss Schmuck Honored With Gay Party Round As Wedding Date Nears

McALLEN—A gay round of parties have kept Miss Laura Schmuck, October 12 bride-elect of Rogers LaPralle of Dallas in a busy whirl this week.

Foremost among the parties was a luncheon given to honor Miss Schmuck and Mrs. Don Sherer, a recent bride, by Mrs. Charles Holland at the Casa de Palmas Hotel. A large bowl of talisman roses on a reflector mirror centered the table with dainty handmade placecards marking the services for Mrs. Wilfred St. Clair Fisher, Mission; Mrs. Harrison Riddle, San Juan; Mrs. H. O. Schleben, Edinburg; Mesdames R. M. Schmuck, Percy Herman, McKee Caton, C. A. Marshall, Miss Leta Schwingel, the honored guests and the hostess. Mrs. Holland presented the two young ladies with a gift.

Miss Schmuck was honored guest Wednesday when Mrs. J. C. Ziebell entertained her bridge club at her home, decorated with white and pink roses. Guests included: Mesdames Schmuck, Charles Swallow, Sr., L. E. Berry, Will Cook, Arthur Jury, H. O. Hempel.

Mrs. Lee Green of San Juan entertained at her home with a luncheon Wednesday for Miss Schmuck when the table was colorful in green and white. The centerpiece was an arrangement of white zinnias and corona with the placecards featuring orange blossoms sprays.

During the afternoon Miss Leta Schwingel gave two clever readings.

Present were Mesdames Schaleben, Schmuck, George McCullough, Annie Sheldon, Wilfred St. Clair Fisher, Harrison Riddle, Misses Schwingel, Helen Sheldon and the honored guest.

Recent Bride Honored By Garden Party

LA FERIA — Mrs. Max Carnicom, a recent bride, was named honoree Thursday evening when the White Collar Club entertained with a garden party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. V. V. Routon. A miscellaneous shower honoring Mrs. Carnicom, who is the former Miss Clara Wyland, was a feature of the evening.

Greeting guests on the spacios lawn were Miss Edith Strickland, president of the club, Misses Pauline Routon, Virginia Routon, and Pauline Ritter.

Mrs. Jack Craig, sister of the honoree, had charge of the attractive guest book.

In charge of the gifts were the following club members: Misses Josephine Harpst, Annette Doude, Douglas Carroll, Lois Erickson, and Evelyn Lamphier. Many lovely gifts were displayed on tables on the lawn. Mrs. C. V. Somer gave an appropriate reading during the evening.

Adding to the attactive scene were many arrangements of cut flowers arranged in baskets and on tables.

A pleasing frozen dessert course was served.

Miss Monroe Is Bride of R. F. Mason

BROWNSVILLE — Nuptial rites will be read this morning at 8:30 o'clock for Miss Georgine Monroe, daughter of Mrs. Laura Monroe, and Richard Ford Mason, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Mason, Jr. The ceremony will be read in the presence of members of both families in the rectory of Sacred Heart church with the pastor, the Rev. Father William J. Moore, officiating.

Potted palms and white roses and asters in pretty arrangement will furnish the setting for the rites.

Attendants to the couple will be Miss Jane Richard and Barry Putegnat.

The bride has chosen for her wedding a frock of midnight blue velvet to be worn with black accessories. Her flowers will be bride's roses and lilies of the valley, in an arm bouquet. Miss Richardson will wear a frock of black.

Immediately following the ceremony, there will be a reception for members of the families and the bridal party at the home of the bride's mother. Here pink roses will be used for decoration. The bride's cake is to be a heart-shaped confection, iced in white, and topped with a miniature bridal pair.

The couple will leave after the reception for Monterrey and nearby points by motor, and upon their return in a week or ten days will make their home in the May Day Apartments.

The marriage claims much interest here as both bride and groom are long-time residents of Brownsville and have many friends here. The bride attended Brownsville schools, was graduated from the Brownsville high school and junior collge. The groom, who attended St. Joseph's College is connected with Pan-American Airways.

Autumnal Colors Mark Courtesy Given Friday By McAllen Hostess

McALLEN — The muted color notes of the autumn season were stressed in the coffee given by Mrs. McKee Caton at the Casa de Palmas Hotel Friday morning.

The decorative scheme was further enlarged by the smart fall frocks worn by about 75 Upper Valley women who formed the guest list for the delightful affair, eminent among the season's parties.

The De Maxey room of the hotel provided a fitting background for the refreshment table at one end. It was centered with an elaborately simple arrangement of asters and daisies with yellow the predominant note. Among the arrangement, which cascaded in ferns from the rear of the table brilliant colored autumn leaves were highly effective. Other appointments of silver completed the motif on the table covered with a yellow hand woven cloth.

Small tables about the room were covered with yellow organdy and centered with dainty arrangements of pink roses.

Guests were received at the door by the hostess, smartly frocked in a simple rust wool gown, topped with a gay corsage of yellow asters. Her accessories were black.

Mrs. A. J. Campbell and Mrs. John Lomax presided at the coffee table, assisted by Mrs. Jeanette Pride and Mrs. Charles Holland.

Recent Rites Announced In Pharr

PHARR—Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Allen announce the marriage of their daughter, Dorothy Rae, to Wilbur H. McClelland of Edinburg, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. McClelland of Edinburg. The marriage rites were solemnized September 12 at eight o'clock in the parsonage of the First Methodist Church with the Rev. Lawrence K. Brown officiating.

The bride was attired in angel blue sheer chiffon, made shirtwaist style with full pleated skirt. Her accessories were black and she wore an old-fashioned corsage of pink roses, jasmine, and sprays of honeysuckle tied with pink tulle bands.

Attending the bride was Miss Roberta Kreidenweis who wore an ensemble of pink crepe relieved by a white organdy blouse. Her accessories were black and her corsage identical to that worn by the bride.

The bride, a member of a prominent Pharr family, is the granddaughter of Mrs. W. H. Brittan.

The couple will be at home after October 10 in Edinburg where Mr. McClelland is connected with the Sun Oil Company.

Couple Is Honored By Large Reception After Recent Marriage

HARLINGEN—Nearly a hundred guests were received in flower-filled rooms Thursday evening when Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Spangler entertained with a reception honoring Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lee Spangler after their return from a short wedding trip. The bride is the former Miss Mary Virginia Cloud, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Cloud of La Feria. The bridegroom is the son of the hosts.

Quantities of pink Briarcliffe roses and white chrysanthemums were artistically placed about the reception rooms. Guests were entertained on the spacious tiled porch and in the adjacent garden.

The bride wore a formal frock of light blue chiffon over blue satin with a corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Spangler's gown was a pale shade of old rose and her corsage was fashioned of white chrysanthemums and sweetheart roses. Mrs. Cloud, mother of the bride, wore a carsage of Briadcliffe roses with her navy blue costume.

Music was enjoyed during the evening, Mrs. Harry Eagleston playing the piano and Mrs. W. M. Driskell singing appropriate melodies Mrs. Driskell also gave a monologue in Negro dialect.

Guests inscribed their names in a book in charge of Mrs. R. F. Toepfer. Attractive refreshment plates noted the pink and white colors. Assisting in serving were the sisters of the bride, Misses Emma Jewel and Mabel Belle Cloud. Mrs. J. M. Lancaster, and Mrs. McWilliams.

Many lovely shower gifts were presented to the bride during the evening.

Valleyites Share Frolic At A. & I.

By CARL CHILTON JR.

Probably the outstanding event of the week at Texas A. and I., from the standpoint of raising student intest and enthusiasm, was the annual "Shirt Tail Parade," which has become a tradition here. On this occasion the freshmen boys and, boys who have transferred from other colleges are lined up on the campus, their pants are pulled off, and they are marched to the business district of Kingsville.

Last Monday night the annual event held, with the parade stopping in front of the Rialto Theatre here. When all the boys had reached the destination a program was given by them, consisting of singing the alma mater, "Hail A. and I.," the fight song, "Javelina Victory March" giving school yells and engaging in various contests. Many boys from the Rio Grande Valley were in this parade, with Richard Rowe of McAllen and Jack Disney of La Feria playing prominent parts by engaging in a bottle-sucking contest. After the program all the boys were allowed to put on their pants and entitled to attend the theatre free.

Jack Rucker of McAllen received more comment in the press dispatches than any other man in the Javelina backfield during the game with Texas A. and M. last week. Rucker, who was an All-Valley back while playing with the McAllen Bulldogs in 1936, was named by many as the outstanding back A. and I. had on the field during the game. He was recently moved from center to fullback because of his exceptional blocking ability.

Bill Holmes of McAllen, has recently been named as sports editor of the South Texan, weekly newspaper at Texas A. and I. Holmes is well known in Valley newspaper circles, having served on the sports staffs of both the McAllen Monitor and the McAllen Press. He was also sports editor of The Wheel, McAllen High School paper, and The Campus Beacon, publication of Edinburg Junior College.

For the third successive year Clinton Schmeling of Brownsville has been elected student council representative of his class, which this year is the junior class.

Mary Ellen Osborne of Harlingen has been elected as treasurer of the senior class.

Among the officers of the sophomore class are Rosemary Smith and Richard Rowe, both of McAllen. These two serve as secretary-treasurer and reporter, respectively.

Two Valley boys are on the pledge list of the Kappa Sigma Nu fraternity. These are Wendell Drefke of Alamo and Jimmy Morrow from Donna.

Richard Rowe of McAllen has been pledged to Delta Sigma Chi.

Among the officers of Kappa Sigma Nu are George Jean from Donna, vice-president, and Porter Pile of Harlingen, reporter.

Richard Rowe, graduate of McAllen High School and editor of The Wheel and El Espejo, the newspaper and yearbook of MHS, was elected Wednesday evening as president of the Press Club of Texas A. and I. Richard also went to Edinburg Junior College for a year.

Myrtle Wolfshohl, also from McAllen and former editor of The Wheel, was elected secretary-treasurer of the organization.

The Beta Gamma sorority pledges elected Stella Peeks of Raymondville as their secretary.

Betsy Lee Kidder of Mercedes was elected as secretary-treasurer of th Alpha Sigma pledges.

Distinctive Region Topic For Lectures

HARLINGEN — Fascinating glimpses into typically American sections to which thousands of visitors flock annually were furnished Harlingen Garden club members in talks given Thursday at the regular meeting at the Woman's Building. Mrs. L. R. DuBois presided.

Mrs. Vaughan Clarke wove into her informal discussion, "Why I Am a Garden Club Member," interesting sidelights on Claremore, Okla. which has been much in the limelight as the home of Will Rogers. In view of the renewed interest in the home town of Will Rogers because of the current series being published in a national periodical, Mrs. Clarke gave personal anecdotes regarding Claremore which is also her home town, and of the Rogers family.

She described in detail the landscaping of the Rogers memorial in Claremore which has been carried out in entirety with native growth.

Most club members changed preconceived ideas regarding Taos, famous western art colony, during an animated report given by Eleanore Roth, local artist, who with her husband, H. C. Roth, became personally acquainted with a number of the artists there during the summer. Natural rock gardens in the canyons, great trees growing on the mountains, and an abundance of flowers were presented in word pictures.

The Indians are a pastoral tribe, making little pottery and no blankets, Mrs. Roth said. They do exquisite leather work and exchange grains for pottery from more distant tribes for pottery which they sell to tourists. She described especially the garden and home of the painter, Joseph Imhof, and also the two centuries old adobe structures housing about 800 Indians.

Her visit to Taos and surrounding sections, much publicized due to the observance of the anniversary of Coronado's expedition, has convinced her that the Valley region and adjacent Mexico has equal if not greater possibilities for distinctive material for artists.

Mrs. O. E. Stuart, president-elect of the Valley Garden Council, was present for the first time after a recent illness.

Members were reminded that it is now time to plant annuals of all varieties.

Three State Officers Included In Roster For Mission D.A.R.

MISSION—Wide recognition was accorded the Colonel Henry Hill Chapter, D.A.R., with the announcement this week of state D.A.R. officers and committees. Published in the state directory are names of three members of the Mission chapter who have been named to state offices. They are Mrs. E. A. Dugat, state vice chairman of museum; Mrs. Leon H. Brown, state chairman of D.A.R. student loan funds; and Mrs. J. W. Ferguson, state chairman of transportation.

The chapter will observe Navy Day with a program at their next meeting Friday, October 11, at the home of Mrs. S. M. Duffie. Mrs. Emma Jones, McAllen, founder of the Navy Mothers Clubs of America, will be the guest speaker.

Coming To Valley

RAYMONDVILLE—Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Thompson, Jr. and children Betty and Bobby left for San Antonio on Saturday morning where they will meet Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Thompson, Sr. and bring them to the Valley.

After several week's visit with their son in Raymondville, Mr. and Mrs. Thompson will be at home at the Reese-Wil-Mond in Harlingen for the winter.

Home From Trip

BROWNSVILLE—R. A. Hightower returned to his home here Thursday morning from a several days stay in Houston and Angleton.

Club To Sponsor Series Plays For Children; Ticket Sale Opens Soon

Four Productions Set This Season

HARLINGEN—Wednesday, October 9, sale of season tickets will start for the Clare Tree Major Theatre for children which will present four performances during the season at the Fairpark auditorium. The Fine Arts Club of Harlingen is sponsoring the project for the second year after the shows last year won widespread acclaim of both children and parents and educators.

Cost of season tickets to the four shows will be one dollar. No reserved seats will be sold.

The plays to be presented are as follows: "Seven Wishes," October 30; "Alice in Wonderland," December 18; "Robin Hood," January 29; and "Hans Brinker or the Silver Skates," March 5.

Mrs. Stanley Crockett is general chairman of the project.

Children from all over the Valley are expected to attend the shows and the following women have been appointed to assist with ticket sales and publicity: Mrs. James D. Casey, San Benito; Mrs. Henry Lauderdale, Mercedes; Mrs. Wilbur Dorman, Weslaco; and Mrs. Wilfred St. Clair Fisher, Mission.

Not only are the plays chosen for their appeal to children but the stage sets are especially designed by artists who have made a study of child psychology. The actors, though adult and especially trained throughout the summer in their roles, are sufficiently juvenile for each child to identify himself with the principal hero or heroine. Throughout the performances are little quirks and details, carefully developed with a knowledge of the reaction of children.

The plays are interesting to all school-age groups and are especially appealing, according to reports, to junior high school students.

Mrs. Glenn Miller, president of the club, has called a meeting of the executive board of the Fine Arts Clubt for 9:30 a.m. at the Woman's Building.

MRS. GLENN MILLER

Navy Mothers Club To Meet Wednesday

MISSION—Mothers of Mission men and youths in the U. S. Navy are invited to attend the monthly meeting of the Mission unit of the Valley Navy Mothers Club which meets next Wednesday with Mrs. G. H. Bushey, club members announced this week.

Plans for a Navy Week display and a bazaar to be held during that week will be made at the Wednesday meeting, which opens at 2:30 o'clock.

Birthday Occasion For Jolly Affair

DONNA—Honoring her daughter, Eunice, on her 11th birthday, Mrs. Dick Terveen entertained 25 boys and girls with an outdoor party, Saturday afternoon at their attractive country home north of Donna.

A delicious supper of fruit juice, hot chicken sandwiches, mints, cookies and tea cakes decorated with rosebuds for the girls and birds for the boys formed the menu.

Events Set In Observance Of Week

BROWNSVILLE — Business and Professional Women's Club of Brownsville will observe "National Business Women's Week" beginning Sunday, according to Mrs. Erma Miller, president.

The observance will open with a breakfast at El Jardin Hotel at 8:30 a.m. Sunday, with an address by Ralph M. Cissne, Boy Scout field executive for the Lower Valley area. Mr. Cissne will speak on "Navy Day."

Monday night the club will hold a regular meeting at Chamber of Commerce building at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Miller, Miss Julia O'Brien, Mrs. Jackie Ridley and Mrs. Lillian Schmeling will take part in a round-table radio broadcast over station KGFI at 6:45 p.m. Monday to discuss "Making Democracy Work."

A banquet will be held by the club Wednesday at 8 p.m. at Landrum's with Mrs. Lena Gay More and Mrs. Fray Maclean as program chairman.

Practical Program Observed By Group Meeting In Alamo

ALAMO—"My Favorite Garden Tool" was the answer given to roll call at the Garden Club meeting on Tuesday. Mrs. George Chorpening was hostess. Six new members were added.

An interesting paper on "Novelty Annuals" was given by Mrs. W. A. Tanner, and a seed exchange engaged in by all members. Mrs. Frank Denzer, president, gave every one present a package of blue bonnet seed.

Pan American Round Table Hears Description Of Missions, Monasteries

Mrs. G. W. Johnson Gives Impromptu Talk At First Gathering Of Year

BROWNSVILLE—Members of the Pan American Round Table, meeting in the first luncheon program meeting since the summer vacation, at El Jardin hotel Friday, held a round table discussion on South America and heard an interesting impromtu address by Mrs. G. W. Johnson in the absence, because of illness, of the program leader, Mrs. Joseph C. Jordan.

Mrs. Ben M. Freudenstein, director, presided at the session, and welcomed the guests. She gave a particular greeting to those members who have been out of the city for an extended period.

Mrs. Ted C. Pelikan played the Paraguayan national anthem. There was a round table discussion of events in South America, with especial emphasis on friendly relations between the United States, and the South American countries, and the teaching of Spanish in Texas schools.

Mrs. Johnson's talk was mainly on the missions of California, many of which were built by the Franciscan friars, and which are being restored to their original form now by the same order of friars. Mrs. Johnson visited the missions from Sonora in the northern part of the state to San Diego. She described a fiesta at the Santa Barbara Mission in which there was a beautiful and colorful parade and pageant, with numbers of floats. Especially notable were the horses, she said, with their trappings of silver, which are different in form from those used in Mexico.

Another interesting feature of Mrs. Johnson's talk was her description of monasteries she visited while in Mexico. It was from these monasteries, she said, that the friars went on their journey to California. She described, too, a trip to Guadalajara, 400 miles from Mexico City, mentioning particularly the beautiful flowers and roads.

The session ended with the playing of the Star Spangled Banner by Mrs. Pelikan. Preceding this mate tea, a drink used in many South American countries, was served.

In front of the director's place at the U-shaped table which had its inner edge bordered with greens, was a large reproduction of the Paraguayan emblem. This was a gold star on a blue ground, surrounded with two wreath of greens, tied with red, white and blue ribbons, and with the whole encircled with two narrow bands of yellow blossoms. The attractive place-cards and programs were decorated with the emblem also.

There will be a business meeting of the Table at the home of Mrs. Ben M. Freudenstein Monday at 9:30 a. m.

Exhibit Presenting Work Of Widely Known Painter To Be Shown Oct. 24-31

HARLINGEN — From October 21-31 an exhibition of the work of Harold A. Roney, well-known artist and teacher, will be held at the Woman's Building under the sponsorship of the Rio Grande Valley Art League. Mrs. E. C. Deering, president of the league, has announced that the sponsoring group will hold an open house from 5:30 to 8 p.m October 24 when everyone interested will be invited to view the paintings on display.

Active artists from throughout the Valley are particularly invited.

The exhibit is being shown this fall in a number of Texas cities including San Angelo, Abilene, Austin, Temple, and Kingsville. The exhibit is now being shown at Texas A. and I. College.

Roney, who is listed in Who's Who in Art in America and Who's Who in Pennsylvania, conducts an art camp for landscape painting on the Guadalupe river near Kerrville and is assisted in the project by visiting artists.

He studied in the Art Institute of Chicago, Chicago Academy of Fine Arts, and the Glenwood School of Landscape Painting in Chicago. He studied privately under George Arne Aldrich, Dawson- Watson, John Folinsbee, and Harry Leigh-Ross. His work is included in exhibit in the Witte Museum and other public collections as well as many private collections.

During his stay in the Valley, Roney will give instruction to Valley artists who desire to be in his class. Interested artists should get in touch with Normah Knight, who is president of the Valley's organized active artists group.

Women Topic For Program In La Feria

Club To Assist Theatre Project

LA FERIA—The Twentieth Century Club met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. F. Harren with Mrs. Howell Graham as cohostess. Hallowe'en colors were predominant in flower arrangements placed throughout the reception rooms in containers of black and other shades.

Mrs. H. W. Voiers, president, was in charge of the business session.

The members voted to assist with the sale of tickets to the Clare Tree Major performances for children to be presented in Harlingen under the sponsorship of the Fine Arts Club. Mrs. J. B. Smith will have the tickets at the high school.

Mrs. Voiers named as delegates to the Valley Federation meeting at San Juan October 22, Mrs. C. H. Ritter, Mrs. H. F. Harren, and Mrs. Howell Graham. Alternates are Mrs. A. L. Todd, Mrs. V. L. Roland, and Mrs. Wemple Sanders.

The program was opened with group singing of "God Bless America."

"Career Women of Today" was the program topic with members answering roll call by naming some of the vocations women follow.

Mrs. J. B. Smith gave an instructive discussion of the most outstanding and unusual careers today's women are following. She stated that one of every four women is employed; and that one out of every five wage earners is a woman.

Mrs. Smith stated further that women are employed in 532 occupations, all but 35 of the total number of occupations listed by the census. Nearly one fourth of the women employed in 1920 were married, she stated.

The hostesses served a salad plate which emphasized the Hallowe'en theme. Nut cups were miniature jack-o'-lanterns.

Present were 18 members and Mrs. F. N. Hunt of Bad Axe, Mich., a visitor.

Mrs. Maurice D. Hance

Before her marriage Saturday evening, October 5, Mrs. Maurice D. Hance was Miss Dorothy La Mae Fry. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Fry of San Benito and Mr. Hance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Denver C. Hance. The couple will occupy their newly furnished home on Scott Brown Street in San Benito. (Holbrook Studio)

Miss Dorothy Fry Weds Maurice Hance In Rites Marked By Simplicity

SAN BENITO—Affectionate interest of a wide circle of friends surrounded the marriage Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock of Miss Dorothy LaMae Fry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Fry, and Maurice D. Hance, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Hance. The rites were read by Dr. Hugh Robertson at the Presbyterian manse with only a small group of relatives and friends as witnesess.

The bride wore an attractive street frock of soldier blue with veiled turban and black suede accessories. Her only ornament was a diamond set lavaliere which was worn by her mother at her wedding. White sweetheart rosebuds and baby's breath formed her corsage.

Attendants to the couple were Mr. and Mrs. Horace E. Hartsell of Harlingen. Mrs. Hartsell wore a black street frock with black hat and shoes with chartreuse bag and gloves. Her corsage was of pink Columbia roses.

The bride is well known, having spent all her life in the San Benito community. She was graduated from the La Feria high school with the class of 1935 and has been active in Rebekah lodge work and is noble grand for San Benito chapter 229.

Mr. Hance is also a member of a well-known family, having lived in the community since 1917. He is employed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. He graduated from San Benito high school with the class of '33. The young couple will be at home to their friends at 1083 Scott Brown Boulevard where their home has been completely furnished and is ready for occupancy.

Pioneer Reception Is Planned

Early Residents Will Be Honored

McALLEN—Scores of women who lived in McAllen when the city was young will gather at Mrs. Percy Herman's home at 8 p. m. Monday for the annual "Pioneer Women's Reception," sponsored by members of the McAllen Business and Professional Women's Club.

The reception will be the local club's outstanding observance of National Business Women's Week, opening today.

According to the club's definition of a "pioneer" those who attend the party must have been residents of the City of Palms prior to 25 years ago. If the women still have clothing similar to what was worn at that period they are asked by club members to wear it in to the reception.

Approximately 100 invitatons were posted by club leaders last week, Mrs. Mary Combs, B. P. W. vice president, said. Anyone whose name was overlooked is asked to notify her.

This year at the reception a a permanent "pioneer" register will be begun and added to annually.

Mrs. Edith Volz of Mission will be the speaker on a brief program which will also feature vocal selections by Mrs. W. E. Hart.

Favorite Characters Come Alive In Plays

Storybook personalities, beloved by children everywhere, will come alive for hundreds of Valley children this season attending plays given by Clare Tree Major players in the municipal auditorium in Harlingen. Alice in Wonderland, probably the best known character in storyland, is shown left, gasping with astonishment as she discovers that her queer feeling in her head is caused by the mysterious appearance of a crown when she reaches the eighth square. This role is played by Dorothy Burdette.

Hans and Gretel Brinker (Dennis Allen and Gertrude Ogsbury) dance gaily in their beautiful new clothes, in the center picture after their father is cured, their lost money has been found, and Gretel has won the coveted silver skates.

The scene at the right presents Robin Hood, played by Ralph Clanton, the bold adventurer of Sherwood Forest, whose merry men protected the poor and persecuted those who grew rich by taxation and fraud.

Four plays will be presented during the season under the sponsorship of the Fine Arts Club of Harlingen which is launching the second annual ticket sale Wednesday, October 9.

Group Studies Proposal For Paid Leader

HARLINGEN—Plans for employing a part-time assistant for Girl Reserve and Blue Triangle work were made when the Y. W. C. A. board of Harlingen met Thursday at the home of Mrs. D. W. Schuepbach. Participating in the meeting with the board members were advisors for Girl Reserve and Blue Triangle organizations and a group of mothers.

Plans were made to secure a part-time assistant to aid advisors and co-operate with the mothers in carrying out the activities of the three clubs.

Mrs. P. G. Maher was chosen to assist with the Blue Triangle club under the leadership of Miss Mary Lee Koniakowsky. Mrs. Norman Clark will assist Miss Reet Anderson with the junior girl reserves at the high school and Mrs. Hill Cocke will be assistant to Miss Gladys Sitz, who is senior club advisor.

Approximately 100 girls are enrolled in the two high school clubs and 90 in the Blue Triangle club at the junior high school. A group of ten mothers will be organized to form the mother-sponsor committee to assist with the activity of each club.

Miss Sitz announced dates for the Southwest Girl Reserve Seminar November 8-10 in Houston and plans were made to send a representative from Harlingen.

The Rio Grande Valley Girl Reserve fall conference will be held at the Y. W. C. A. camp at Rio Hondo October 12 and 13. Miss Marguerite Hyer, girl reserve representative from Houston, the Y. W. C. A. board, together with the Girl Reserve mothers and advisors, will meet next December 5.

DISMISSED FROM HOSPITAL

RANGERVILLE—Kenneth Kaigler, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Will Kaigler returned to his home here Tuesday evening after treatment at the hospital where it was necessary to take several stitches in his leg. While playing in the barn Kenneth fell upon a turning plow deeply cutting his leg. He was rushed to the hospital Monday evening.

Indoor Gardens Topic For Interesting Program

RAYMONDVILLE—"The Indoor Garden" was discussed when the Raymondville Garden Club met Thursday afternoon.

"Terrariums and Dish Gardens" was given by Mrs. D. B. Rapp, illustrated with lovely exhibits. Mrs. C. C. Knight gave practical suggestions and dimensions in diagram for window boxes.

"Ferns and Ivy," the varities suited to the Valley climate and the secrets of their successful raising, was presented by Mrs. J. B. Chambers who displayed pretty potted exhibits.

Mrs. W. L. Bradbury substituted for Mrs. Ed Raymond and Mrs. T. H. Harbin who were unavoidably detained, by presenting her paper on the "Cultivation of Mushrooms," offering knowledge for prospective growers, both amateur and commercial. Mrs. Bradbury also displayed the mushroom spawns, ordered specially for the program.

Open discussion followed the talk.

A seed shower for North Raymondville will be given at the next meeting of the Garden Club, Oct. 17. Members are asked to bring several packages of seed suitable for planting at this season of the year.

A continuous plant exchange is being promoted by the chairman of the plant exchange committee.

COME FROM WACO

RANGERVILLE —Sam Passmore who was seriously burned in a welding shop in Waco was brought to the home of his parents Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Passmore here. He was accompanied by his wife and son Jimmie. Jimmie registered in the second grade of the Rangerville schools Tuesday.

Autumn Setting Chosen For Bridge

PHARR—Mrs. E. C. White was hostess for a delightful meeting of the Tuesday Bridge club at her home Tuesday afternoon. Colorful zinnias, depicting the autumn theme, were used to decorate the rooms.

High score trophy was awarded to Mrs. Stanley T. Melton. Refreshments were served to Mesdames Dan McLendon, Sr., Stanley T. Melton, J. W. Pockett, Roy Barnes, A. A. Kelley, K. J. Scott, G. B. Fleming and Marvin Evans.

Ex-Valley Girl Wed In Texarkana

BROWNSVILLE — Of interest here, as the bride is a former Brownsville resident, is the marriage of Miss Ruth Hightower, of Austin, daughter of R. H. Hightower of Texarkana, and sister of R. A. Hightower of Brownsville, to Edwin H. Blaschke, of Austin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Blaschke of Sealy.

The rites were celebrated quietly September 8 at 8 o'clock in the evening in the home of the bride's father in Texarkana.

The bride was charming in a frock of grey crepe, made with a tucked waist, and semi-swing skirt. Rows of covered buttons ornamented the sleeves and neck of the frock, and were used to simulate pockets. Her corsage was of rose colored asters.

Following the ceremony, Mrs. Jerome Creekmore was hostess at a wedding breakfast. After a wedding trip to New Orleans and Baton Rouge, Louisiana, and Houston, Mr. and Mrs. Blaschke are making their home in apartment D, 1904 Colorado, Austin.

Mrs. Blaschke, who resided in Brownsville between 1929 and 1933, is a graduate of the University of Texas, and was secretary to Dana X. Bible at the University. Mr. Blaschke is with the U. S. engineers. Upon completion of the Marshall Ford dam, the couple will be transferred either to Cleveland, Ohio, or Tacoma, Washington.

Variety Of Events On Club's Calendar

WESLACO—Mrs. George Morgan and Mrs. Orville Hill were hostesses to the Southern Star Home Demonstration club at the home of the former Tuesday. The club voted to contribute five dollars to the fund for the inhalator for the fire department.

Plans were made for a cake walk Saturday night, October 5, at the Kiwanis Park; Thursday night, October 10, the membership will have a covered dish supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sid Rankin beginning at seven-thirty with the firemen and their wives as guests of the club; and on October 15 at the home of Mrs. Allen Holmes a kitchen achievement day will be held with Mrs. M. F. Shuford.

October 31 the Southern Star Home Demonstration club will entertain with a Hallowe'en party at the home of Mrs. E. I. Emmons.

A sweet and salad course was served by the hostesses to 30.

Mrs. J. F. Byrnes Hostess To Club

EDCOUCH — Lovely esperanza was used to decorate the reception rooms when Mrs. J. F. Byrnes entertained members of the Thursday bridge club. Mrs. E. W. Martin held high score at the close of the afternoon of bridge games.

The hostess served a salad plate to Mesdames W. C. Moore, Gordon Smith, M. P. Lackland, A. T. Moore, G. C. Norris, E. W. Martin and Jeff Stokes.

Sister From Havana Guest

Hobby Group Entertained

HARLINGEN—The Hobby Group met this week with Mrs. Tom Bowman for a one o'clock luncheon. The fall colors were carried out in decoration of the home. Beautiful vases of yellow and orange flowers were arranged about the living room and on the dining table.

Each member gave a short talk on her vacation during the summer.

The group voted to plant a bougainvillea on the grave of the late Mrs. W. H. Hall.

The afternoon was spent in handwork of all kinds, a number engaging in knitting for war victims.

The meeting days were changed to the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month.

Next meeting will be October 23 at the home of Mrs. Ivan Hamilton on the Parker Road, Santa Rosa.

TO BEGIN TRAINING

Business Women Stress Objective

HARLINGEN—Women in the role of voters is the theme of National Business Women's Week, which members of the Harlingen B.P.W. Club will observe October 6-12, in conjunction with approximately 73,000 members over the entire country.

Special emphasis will be given to objectives of Business Women's Week at the luncheon to be held at noon Monday at the Reese-Wilmond Hotel.

To turn attention of the general public to the role being performed by business women in this community, several Harlingen store windows during the coming week will feature window displays of costumes meeting the needs of business women.

Subject for study of clubs last year was "Economic Problems of the United States," and formed the basis for the analysis of the political scene which is the objective of national leaders in suggesting programs for the year now beginning.

November provides for an outline for a close study of local government. December program chairmen are advised to plan either a Goodwill Festival or a discussion of the findings of the Women's Centennial Congress in New York November 25-27.

The January program emphasizes "Helping Shape Legislation;" February, "The Price of Peace;" March, "Evaluating Government Services;" April, "The Cost of Government;" and May will be stock-taking month.

Browne Tract Club Re-Elects Officers; Plans For Guest Day

RIO HONDO—Present officers of the Browne Tract Club were returned to office at the meeting of the club Wednesday at the home of Mrs. W. C. Conklin. Mrs. J. W. Rhyner was assistant hostess.

Officers are Mrs. M. H. Wesley, president; Mrs. K. B. Williams, vice president; Miss Nellie Jones, secretary-treasurer.

A demonstration of canning chicken and preparing chickens for market was given by Miss LuElsie Nagel, home demonstration agent. Use of chicken in planning the menus helps reduce expenses and at the same time gives needed food value to the menu, Miss Nagel said.

She expressed the hope that farm families would take advantage of the cold storage facilities offered in the various Valley towns in order that marketing could be carried out evenly through the year.

Plans for guest day at the home of Mrs. Leslie Carpenter were made.

The hostesses served lunch to 17 members and the following guests, Miss Phyllis Luskowski of Chicago, Mesdames Jack Rhyner, John T. Rhyner, and Frnak Stenge.

Attractive Reception Honors Mrs. Sherer, McAllen Newlywed

Upper Valley Gathers For Event Feting Former Miss Honea; Music Is Featured

McALLEN—Upper Valley society gathered at the Schwingel Dramatic Studio here Friday afternoon when Chapter F., P.E.O., entertained for one of their newlywedded members, Mrs. Don Sherer, the former Miss Lois Honea who was married at her home in Brownwood in August.

The all-white note of bridal parties was used with effect to decorate the refreshment table, centered with a huge arrangement of white chrysanthemums.

During the afternoon as the scores of smartly gowned women gathered at the studio Mrs. Bill Doyle and Mrs. Dorothy O'Brien played a number of piano selections while Mrs. George Fox sang the bride's favorite vocal numbers; Miss Eleanor Smith presented a number of violin selections.

Guests were received by Miss Leta Schwingel, Mrs. O. R. Osborn, Mrs. F. E. Osborn at the door.

In the receiving line were the honored guest, her mother-in-law, Mrs. Sherer, Mrs. George Osborn, Mrs. H. J. Houser and Miss Laura Schmuck.

Mrs. S. J. Young, Mrs. G. Aubrey Thomas and Mrs. E. N. Catlett poured with Mrs. M. P. Wilson, Mrs. Forrest Moore, Mrs. Lee Green, Mrs. R. W. Fenwick and Mrs. J. Wesley Taylor assisting.

Others in the house party included: Mrs. Roy Telford, Mrs. K. W. Jones, Mrs. Floyd Glasscock, Miss Angie Stroud, Mrs. J. E. Leslie, Mrs. O. K. Gilvin.

Delightful, too, was the sentiment attached to the assistance of five members of the Sub-Deb Club, a high school girls organization, which Mrs. Sherer sponsored actively while employed here as music instructor in the local schools.

McAllen Unit To Give Tea

McALLEN — All McAllen residents are invited to attend the Bundles for Britain, Inc., tea to be given from five until six o'clock this afternoon at the Casa de Palmas Hotel.

Mrs. John T. Lomax is hostess for the affair, marking the first concerted drive the recently formed local unit will make to obtain a strong membership list, anxious to give aid to the war-ridden British.

The tea will be a silver tea—small donations of silver will be expected from each person who attends.

All will be asked to register in guest book and to endorse an entry blank showing their preference for the type work they wish to do in the organization.

Formed last week here, members have launched an intensive drive for warm clothing. They expect to forward a box to London direct from McAllen in the near future.

The local organization is headed by Mrs. J. W. Ferguson.

Annual Fall Style Show Scheduled

McALLEN — Fifteen attractive Upper Valley young matrons, misses and sub-debs will show the latest in Dame Fashion's fall edicts at the 16th semi-annual style show given by the Ladies Supply at the Casa de Palmas Hotel, Thursday.

This year the show will have two performances—a luncheon show at 12:30 p. m. and a dinner program at 7:30 p. m. For both occasions an orchestra will be provided.

The night revue was inaugurated last spring when it was learned there were scores of men and women unable to make the luncheon engagement.

One of the swankiest affairs of the season the show attracts, at its semi-annual reviews of the current fashions, hundreds of women from over the Valley.

Reservations may be made by calling the Casa. Accommodations for large and small parties may be made.

The names of the models were not disclosed. The styles will run the gamut of the woman's day, from when she gets up in the morning to her social engagements at night. Mrs. Charles Reagan, Ladies Supply proprietor, promised.

San Juan Luncheon Notes Anniversary

SAN JUAN—Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hetrick had as luncheon guests Tuesday, Mr. and Mrs. H. Krampff of Pharr, the lovely courtesy being the first wedding anniversary of the Krampffs.

Rev. and Mrs. J. Beaty Smith and children, John and Bonnie Lou, were seven o'clock dinner guests Monday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hetrick.

A pot-luck supper and "forty-two" was enjoyed Saturday evening at the pretty new home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hetrick, Stewart road, by Mr. and Mrs. John Tompkins, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kristek, and Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Van Zandt, and little daughter, and Miss Hazel Frerking.

Mrs. Weaver To Address DuBois-Hite

"American Asleep" Open Program Topic

BROWNSVILLE—America Asleep will be the interesting topic of the address to be given by Mrs. Walter Weaver of Donna at the Saturday luncheon meeting of the DuBois-Hite chapter of the N. S. D. A. R.

Since this discussion will include accounts of un-American activities, the chapter members are cordially inviting all who are interested to hear the address, and have arranged an open program meeting.

Members of other DAR chapters and others interested may make reservations for the luncheon at El Jardin Hotel at 12:30 by calling Mrs. E. E. Dickason, or may join the chapter members at 1:30 o'clock, which is the approximate hour of the address. No reservations for hearing the address alone are necessary. Tickets for the luncheon are 50 cents apiece. DuBois-Hite members should call Mrs. Dickason for cancellation of reservations, if they are unable to attend.

This is another in the monthly series of addresses and programs on Americanism, and should prove of particular interest at this time.

People Of South American Topic For Alpha Study Unit

BROWNSVILLE — Mrs. Fitz Schmidt was in charge of the program at the Thursday morning meeting of the Alpha Study club at the home of Mrs. R. A. Hightower.

Mrs. Schmidt continued the study of South America, topic for the year, with an able discussion of the People of South America. She traced the history of the people from the aborigines to the present time, noting the fusions of Spanish, Portuguese and negro blood with the Indians.

Fifteen members answered roll call with current events on South America.

Mrs. Peter Heinz was a visitor.

The next meeting will be held the first Thursday in November.

Visits Grahams

BROWNSVILLE — Miss Bernice Graham has arrived from Burnet for a visit with her brother, F. T. Graham and Mrs. Graham, and other relatives.

MRS. BUNGE HOSTESS

HARLINGEN — The attractive garden at the home of Mrs. Wm. L. Trammell will be the setting for the meeting of the Flower Lovers Garden Club Monday morning at nine o'clock. Mrs. W. A. Bunge will be hostess.

Mrs. Joe K. Wells Leads Topic For Magruder-Ford UDC; Delegate Is Named

BROWNSVILLE — Mrs. Joe K. Wells chapter historian, was in charge of the program for members of the Magruder-Ford chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy when the unit met Thursday morning at the home of Mrs. Fanny D. Putegnat.

Information for Mrs. Well's talk on Richmond, Virginia, was gleaned from the Century Magazine of 1885. The Century Magazine succeeded The Bivouac, official organ of the Confederacy. She gave the story of the founding of Richmond by William Byrd in 1773, and mentioned St. Johns church, where Patrick Henry made his noted speech.

Richmond, she reminded the members, was the scene of Aaron Burr's Congress, and the Secession Congress.

Mrs. G. W. Johnson, chairman, presided for the first time in a year, as she has been in California and Mexico for the past nine months.

Mrs. Johnson was chosen delegate to the National Convention meeting in Alabama, November 20.

Observing a custom of many years' standing, the members presented a book to the high school library.

The members answered roll call with topics on founders. For her roll call, Mrs. Harbert Davenport read a letter to General H. B. Bee from Colonel John S. Ford, written from Fort Brown, September 1864, acknowledging a flag presented to him by the ladies of Brownsville. This letter was copied by Mrs. Davenport from the original letter which is in the Austin museum.

Mrs. Jennie Mendenhall, a member of long-standing, who has recently moved to Dallas, was made an honorary life member by the chapter.

Iowa Guest Is Honored

MERCEDES — Honoring her cousin, Mrs. Peter La Toney of Council Bluffs, Iowa, Mrs. W. R. Hoover entertained the members of the Crystal Bridge club and a number of guests at a bride luncheon Tuesday noon.

The tables were beautifully decorated with cosmos and corona vine. High score among members of the Crystal Bridge club was won by Mrs. Rosier George while Mrs. Beverly Caldwell received high score among the guests. The honoree was presented with a lovely gift by the hostess.

Members of the Crystal Bridge club attending the luncheon were Mesdames Rosier George, Herman Schmalzried, A. W. Lewis, Charles Le Blanc, E. Q. Farris, Woody Tullis and Dewey Acker. Guests were Mesdames Floyd Langford, T. J. Rippert, Beverly Caldwell, A. G. Acker and the honoree, Mrs. Peter La Toney.

Salem Guest

BROWNSVILLE — Mr. and Mrs. Herbert L. Stokley have as their guest for the month of October their daughter, Mrs. J. D. MacInnis of Salem, Massachusetts. Mrs. MacInnis is the former Miss Dorothy Stokley.

Visit Mother

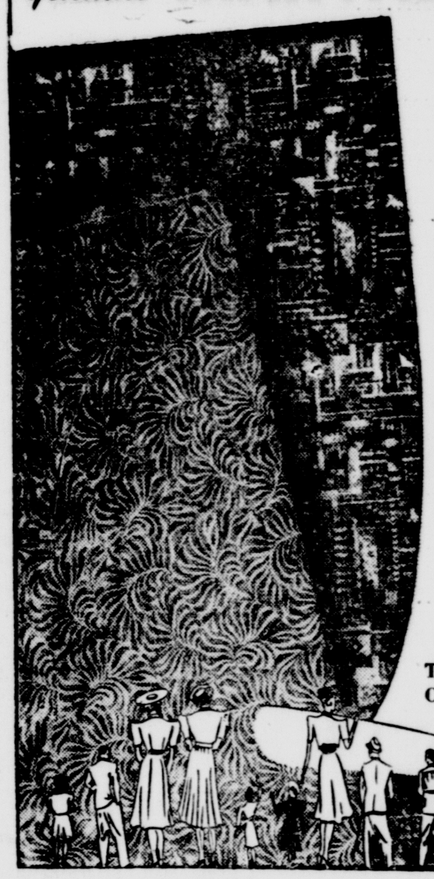

LOS FRESNOS—Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Scarlett of Laredo were weekend guests of Mr. Scarlett's mother, Mrs. S. S. Sappenfield.

RETURNS FROM LEGION

MISSION—A. C. McHenry has arrived home from Legion, where he spent the last month. He was operated on there and is recuperating at his home.

'False Step'

Old-Time Drammer Due At McAllen

McALLEN — Seniors in McAllen High school will stage an old-time comedy melodrama December 12, Play Director Don Irwin announced Saturday.

The farce is entitled "For Her Chee-ild's Sake" or "Her First False Step," written by Paul Loomis of "Pure as the Driven Snow" fame.

William Doyle, musical director, will arrange a barber shop quartet to furnish entertainment between acts.

Miss Biehn Heads McAllen Glee Club

McALLEN — Anna Mae Biehn was elected president of the McAllen Girls Glee club last week. Others named were Juana Parks, vice president; Nanell Posey, secretary-treasurer; Grace Delamater, reporter. Dorothy Stepp, Mary Claire Weir, Dauphine Mahoney and Joyce Marie Cole were named on a costume committee.

19. LEGAL NOTICES

STATEMENT OF THE OWNERSHIP, MANAGEMENT, CIRCULATION, ETC., REQUIRED BY THE ACTS OF CONGRESS OF AUGUST 24, 1912, AND MARCH 3, 1933.

Of Valley Sunday Star-Monitor-Herald published weekly at Harlingen, Texas for October 1, 1940. State of Texas, County of Cameron.

Before me, a notary public in and for the State and county aforesaid, personally appeared Van R. Wiggins, who, having been duly sworn according to law, deposes and says that he is the editor of the Valley Sunday Star-Monitor-Herald and that the following is, to the best of his knowledge and belief, a true statement of the ownership, management (and if daily paper, the circulation), etc., of the aforesaid publication for the date shown in the above caption, required by the Act of August 24, 1912, as amended by the Act of March 3, 1933, embodied in section 537, Postal Laws and Regulations, printed on the reverse of this form to wit:

1. That the names and addresses of the publisher, editor, managing editor, and business managers are:

Publisher, The Valley Publishing Company, Harlingen, Texas.

Editor, Van R. Wiggins, Harlingen, Texas.

Managing Editor, Jack Rutledge, Harlingen, Texas.

Business Manager, Van R. Wiggins, Harlingen, Texas.

2. That the owner is: (If owned by a corporation, its name and address must be stated and also immediately thereunder the names and addresses of stockholders owning or holding one per cent or more of total amount of stock. If now owned by a corporation, the names and addresses of the individual owners must be given. If owned by a firm, company, or other unincorporated concern, its name and address, as well as those of each individual member, must be given.)

The Valley Publishing Company, Harlingen, Texas.

Van R. Wiggins, Trustee, Harlingen, Texas.

Hubert R. Hudson, Brownsville, Texas.

3. That the known bondholders, mortgagees, and other security holders owning or holding 1 per cent or more of total amount of bonds, mortgages, or other securities are: (If there are none, so state.)

None.

That the two paragraphs next above, giving the names of the owners, stockholders, and security holders, if any, contain not only the list of stockholders and security holders as they appear upon the books of the company but also, in cases where the stockholder or security holder appears upon the books of the company as trustee or in any other fiduciary relation, the name of the person or corporation for whom such trustee is acting, is given; also that the said two paragraphs contain statements embracing affiant's full knowledge and belief as to the circumstances and conditions under which stockholders and security holders who do not appear upon the books of the company as trustees, hold stock and securities in a capacity other than that of a bona fide owner; and this affiant has no reason to believe that any other person, association, or corporation has any interest direct or indirect in the said stock, bonds, or other securities than as so stated by him.

5. That the average number of copies of each issue of this publication sold or distributed, through the mails or otherwise, to paid subscribers during the twelve months preceding the date shown above is 16965. (This information is required from daily publications only.)

VAN R. WIGGINS,
(Signature of editor, publisher, business manager or owner.)

Sworn to and subscribed before me this third day of October, 1940.

(Seal)

B. I. MARTIN,
Notary Public, Cameron Co., Tex.
(My commissioh expires 6-1-41).

Pistol Shot Wounds Matamoros Man

MATAMOROS—Hector Hurtado, 34, Aguascalientes vaudeville performer, was accidentally shot in the chest early Saturday.

Hurtado's wife was handling a pistol when it discharged, Special Investigator Jose Castro said.

Hurtado was not taken to a hospital.

POSTMASTER NAMED

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Senate Thursday confirmed the appointment of Macon Rice as postmaster of Venus, Texas.

Wheel Winner

McAllen Paper Given National Rating

McALLEN — Quill and Scroll, national journalism organization, has awarded The Wheel, McAllen High school newspaper, a national rating, Edward Nell, executive secretary of the society, has informed school officials.

The rating of "paper of achievement" was given The Wheel for the spring semester of the 1939-40 school year. "The Wheel is easily a leading Texas paper by reason of excellent make up, typography and copy reading," Nell wrote. "Altogether a well rounded publication of which the publishers and the advisor can well be proud," he said.

Requirements for admission to Quill and Scroll are honor roll grades and 4,000 words printed in the school paper.

McAllen Selects Contest Sponsors

McALLEN — Principal A. M. Weir of the McAllen High school has announced local sponsors for Interscholastic League contests as follows:

Miss Christine Crawford, declamation and extemporaneous speech; Miss Anne Burtless, ready writers; Miss Irene Lawhon, journalism; C. L. Garrison, debate; Don Irwin, one-act-play; David Barner, typing; W. W. Jones, shorthand; Maco Stewart, track; and J. Lyle Hill, tennis.

McAllen's School Enrollment Gains

McALLEN — Enrollment in the McAllen High school is the highest on record, with 478 to date, compared to 472 last year. The senior class is smaller this year, 107 compared to 130 last year, but the junior class gained from 150 last year to 169.

The sophomore class gained from 183 to 189 and the post graduates now number 13, compared to nine last year.

'Kit Carson' Thrilling Epic Of The Old West

Adventure Of Famed Indian Scout Shown In Action-Filled Drama Of Pioneers Booked At Rivoli And Capitol

TEARING A PAGE from the history of the making of the Old West when the course of courage thundered it's American way westward "Kit Carson" is the sweeping, action-filled story of the great American scout, Indian fighter and plainsman.

The action-filled story unfolds some of the spectacular episodes in the life of the great American adventurer whom the Indians thought could not be killed and who joined forces with Captain Fremont to survey and map the shortest overland route to California, in the days when travel meant fierce attacks from the Indians and the countless dangers of unexplored country.

Scheduled for showing Sunday and Monday at the Rivoli Theatre in San Benito and at the Capitol Theatre in Brownsville Thursday, Friday and Saturday "Kit Carson" presents a large cast of favorites headed by Jon Hall as Kit Carson, Lynn Bari as the lovely Dolores, Dana Andrews as Captain John C. Freemont, Raymond Hatton as Jim Bridger and C. Henry Gordon as General Castro.

DEANNA DURBIN STARRED IN 'SPRING PARADE'

SET AGAINST the monarchal grandeur of the old Vienna of Franz Josef and the waltz, the lilting and gay musical romance "Spring Parade" brings a grown-up and lovelier Deanna Durbin to the screen in a story that moves at a smart pace and presents songs and dance, gay humor and mild pathos but always as a part of the plot.

Supporting roles are filled by able and popular stars including Robert Cummings, Mischa Auer, Butch and Buddy, Anne Gwynne and Reginald Denny who fit in to the tailored story of a peasant girl who buys a printed forecast of her future and is guided by it to it's fulfillment. This takes her to Vienna where she is employed by a baker, meets a soldier who is also a composer, meets also the Emperor much to the delight of those who see the film.

Miss Durbin sings four songs in "Spring Parade" all in the lighter and pleasanter manner, she dances and portrays the role of a young lady in a manner that befits the training she has had in the past.

"Spring Parade" is currently showing Sunday and Monday at the Capitol Theatre in Brownsville.

'HIRED WIFE' IS GAY COMEDY ROMANCE

ROMANCE RUNS WILD in the merry-mad comedy romance "Hired Wife" which co-stars Rosalind Russell, Brian Aherne, Virginia Bruce, Robert Benchley and John Carroll and is currently featured Sunday and Monday at both the Palace Theatre in McAllen and the Arcadia Theatre in Harlingen.

The rollicking story tells of a business man who must be married hurriedly and through the trickery of his secretary cannot get in touch with his fiance and marries her instead thinking she will divorce him when he decires but she is in love with him and here is where the fun begins. As the intrigue grows more intense the comedy becomes funnier.

All three stars are perfectly cast and turn in superb performances, making their characters appear real rather than mere shadows prancing across the screen. And they are given some excellent support by Benchley and Carroll. Funny-man Benchley, believe it or not, is an attorney. And what an attorney! Carroll is a Latin Romeo who tries to help Rosalind by attempting to woo Virginia away from Brian.

George Beck's highly diverting original story has been adroitly adapted into the screenplay by Richard Connell and Gladys Lehman. The swift action never sags and each reel is punctuated with pungent dialogue lines which registered with hilarious emphasis.

JAMES CAGNEY AND ANN SHERIDAN CO-STARRED

CAPTURING THE EXCITING movement of life in a big city and what it does to the little people who live in it, "City For Conquest" combines Ann Sheridan and James Cagney with a powerful and human story which is currently showing Sunday and Monday at the Ritz Theatre in Weslaco and at both the Arcadia Theatre in Harlingen and Palace Theatre in McAllen Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Cagney plays the part of an East Side newsboy who discovers that one must be hard and tough to make a dent in the town. Ann Sheridan has the role of a girl who finds that the price of success can be very high. Together they plan to accomplish something—to beat their way through the cruel oppression of the town's seven and a half million struggling souls. Ann dances her way to fame while Cagney tries to earn enough money to marry her and send his brother through music school. They find that the city can be conquered, but only if one can face great tragedy and sacrifice. Their's is a story that will never be forgotten.

Unexcelled support are given the two stars by Frank Craven, Frank McHugh, Donald Crisp, Jerome Cowan, Blanche Yurka, Joyce Compton and two newcomers that you will take to your heart, Arthur Kennedy and Elia Kazan.

HISTORICAL DRAMA PROVES A HIT

A BLOOD-TINGLING epic of the American Revolution, of the birth of a nation, "The Howards Of Virginia" comes to the screen one of the finest films that has been produced this year with Cary Grant and Martha Scott in leading roles and Sir Cedric Hardwicke, Alan Marshall, Richard Carlson and Paul Kelly head the supporting cast.

Produced and directed by Frank Lloyd who has brought such excellent films as "Mutiny On The Bounty," "Cavalcade" and "Wells Fargo" to the screen "The Howards Of Virginia" was adapted from the popular and best selling novel "The Tree Of Liberty" by Elizabeth Page and tells of the compelling romance of two young people in love set against this great nation's struggle for freedom and democracy.

"The Howards Of Virginia" is scheduled for showing Tuesday and Wednesday at the Capitol Theatre in Brownsville.

Rosalind Russell, above, is co-starred with Brian Aherne, Virginia Bruce, Robert Benchley and John Carroll in the gay, romantic comedy "Hired Wife" which is currently showing Sunday and Monday at both the Arcadia Theatre in Harlingen and the Palace Theatre in McAllen.

'THE WESTERNER' AT STATE

THE DAYS OF THE OLD WEST, with all it's adventure and color, provides the stirring background of Samuel Goldwyn's "The Westerner," starring Gary Cooper, Walter Brennan and Doris Davenport and booked for current showing Sunday and Monday at the State Theatre in Mercedes.

Brennan is cast as the famous Judge Roy Bean, the only "Law West of the Pecos" who is so enamoured of the famous Lily Langtry he would do anything, even pardon his prisoners, to meet her. Cooper, a roving cowboy, is released from jail when he promises to introduce him to Miss Langtry.

Among the most unusual sets constructed for the film is the saloon —a replica of that infamous liquor dispensary in which Judge Roy Bean held his court and ruled as the sole law west of the Pecos.

Above is lovely Deanna Durbin who returns to the screen in the tuneful, humorous and heartwarming romance "Spring Parade" at the Capitol Theatre in Brownsville Sunday and Monday. Featured with Miss Durbin are Robert Cummings, Micha Auer, Butch and Buddy, Anne Gwynne and Reginald Denny.

James Cagney and Ann Sheridan share co-starring honors in the powerful drama of the big city "City For Conquest" which is currently showing Sunday and Monday at the Ritz Theatre in Weslaco and Thursday, Friday and Saturday at both the Arcadia Theatre in Harlingen and the Palace Theatre in McAllen.

BRITISH INVASION EXPECTED THIS WEEK

'U. S. Is Ready If Forced To Fight' Says Knox

NAVY, MARINE RESERVES TO REPORT NOW

'Alliance Directed At America'

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Secretary Knox ordered 27,591 navy and marine reservists into uniform Saturday after pointedly warning the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo Axis that "if a fight is forced upon us we shall be ready."

The order applied to the entire organized and fleet reserves of the navy and marine corps. It will swell to 239,281 the number of officers and men on active duty, giving the seagoing forces a strength in personnel they have not possessed since the post-World War period.

Warns Of Menace

Shortly before he issued his order, the naval secretary said unequivocally in an address to graduates of the National Police Academy that the Japanese-German-Italian alliance "is directed at us," and that the United States would not be "intimidated." His remarks were widely interpreted as an administration reply to Friday's assertion by Prince Konoye, the Japanese premier, that any challenge of the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo Axis would tumble the United States into a "fight to the finish."

"We are the largest obstacle in the path of the totalitarian powers," Knox said. "Should Great Britain fail to stem the wide of ever advancing tyranny we shall find ourselves surrounded by these international brigands, whose greatest victory would be the destruction of the United States.

"We Haven't Lost Yet?"

"Never understanding us they suppose our people can be brought under their iron rule. Both as an American and as an official of the navy I know differently. If a fight is forced upon us we shall be ready for them. We have never lost a war yet."

Just back from an inspection of the fleet, Hawaiian and west coast defenses, Knox asserted that the American sea force was the "most powerful, most efficient fleet in the world today, fully capable of upholding the American tradition of victory at sea, which has done so much to establish and continue us as a free people."

Asserting that "our mode of life has never been so challenged as it now is," Knox said that under the circumstances an adequate navy "demands that we be able to meet enemies far from our own shores and defeat them in both oceans—simultaneously if necessary.

DEMOS CLAIM WILLKIE 'SNOB'

Republicans Confer On Strategy

By The Associated Press

Wendell L. Willkie talked strategy with Republican Party leaders of New York Saturday while at the other end of the empire State Democratic Attorney General Robert H. Jackson was accusing the Republican nominee of "snobbery" in his campaigning.

State Republican leaders met Willkie as he stepped from his train at New York City and they hurried off for a day of conferences before the nominee headed out on a series of night speeches in Brooklyn. The conferences were a prelude to a scheduled chain of speeches and appearances in New Jersey and New England during the forthcoming week.

Willkie Criticized

Jackson criticized Willkie in an address at Buffalo in ceremonies formally notifying Senator James M. Mead of his renomination by the Democrats.

Willkie, Jackson asserted, is "talking down to his fellow Americans

Invasion Coast Is Ablaze After Raid

LONDON—(AP)—British bombers made a mighty attack upon the German-held ports across the Channel Saturday night, cliff watchers reported that the French "invasion" coast appeared aflame from Dunkerque to Boulogne.

British sources in the meantime responded to reports that the long-awaited Nazi attempt at invasion seemed close at hand: "If they come, we're ready for them!"

Draftees Get Relief

Guard House To Be Used 'Sparingly' And Discipline Won't Be So Tough

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Instructions went out to army posts Saturday to use the guard house as sparingly as possible when disciplining the men soon to be drafted for mass training.

Major General Leslie J. McNair, general headquarters chief of staff, said all means should be used to avoid absenting men from training designed to harden and season them.

"While the highest standards of discipline are essential, disciplinary action preferably and where practicable will be of forms which do not involve absence from training," General McNair said. "Confinement especially be reduced to the minimum."

Just Like War

Other instructions issued indicated an intention to steel the eardrums and nerves of recruits to the blasting sounds of war. They specified that when the stage of training in units is reached, blank ammunition should be used frequently to approximate actual battle sounds. Numerous firing tests with live ammunition also will be given.

Veteran officers suggested it was important that recruits become accustomed to battlefield tumult to minimize the peril of panic and confusion when troops are first under fire in wartime.

Rewards To Be Prompt

In his directive, General McNair advised that the army be prompt to reward with promotion and increased responsibility new soldiers who demonstrate qualities of leadership.

"Inadequate leadership must be uncovered equally promptly and replaced," he added.

He also said in effect the drafted men should be allowed to take it easy until they are hardened.

"Training," he said, "must insure proper and gradual conditioning of the trainees, avoiding undue physical demands initially but developing eventually ability to endure prolonged and severe physical exertion."

SERIES AGAIN EVEN AS REDS WIN GAME 5-2

Newsom, Thompson May Pitch Today

BRIGGS STADIUM, Detroit—(AP)—The courageous Cincinnati Reds coursed back onto even terms in the 1940 World Series Saturday by muzzling the Detroit Tigers, 5 to 2, on the five-hit pitching of big Paul Derringer.

The Reds raided three Detroit pitchers for 11 hits and were always on the attack, to the amazement of a crowd of 54,093 who turned out for the fourth fracas of the annual autumn classic.

Derringer Is Star

They kept up a more or less constant shower of hits, but the important contribution to the conquest was the strong-arm hurling of Derringer.

It was the fifth time the 33-year-old Kentuckian had started in a World Series, once when he was breaking in for the St. Louis Cardinals and four times with the Reds, and this was his first victory.

He went into Saturday's tussle as a bit of surprising strategy on the part of Manager Bill McKechnie and determined to stifle the Tiger sluggers. He did it with the same stout-hearted elbowing that he has used to pull the National League champions out of many another tight hole.

Wild At Start

He was wild at the start, but the longer he pitched the tougher he became, giving no hits and no walks after the sixth inning.

The Reds, in the meantime, had pounced on Paul (Dizzy) Trout for two runs in the first inning and shelled him off the mound before he got anybody out in the third.

As usual the bell cow of the Cincinnati club was Bill Werber, who went to the plate five times and got on base four—with two singles and two walks.

He waited out a pass to start the game and after he had been forced by Mike McCormick, little Ival Goodman slammed the first pitch into the left field corner for a double and a run. Goodman went to third on an infield out and scored himself when Pinky Higgins let a grounder by Jim Ripple get through him for an error.

Trout To Showers

Trout was touched for two more singles in the second without damage, but in the third Goodman led off with a sizzling single to right center and on the hit and run went to third as Frank (Buck) McCormick singled to right. Ripple doubled to score Goodman and send the bespectacled right-hander plodding to the showers.

Clay Smith, who went to the rescue, squeezed out of the jam by forcing two players to pop up, purposely passing Billy Myers to fill

Water Pumped From Panamanian

GALVESTON—(AP)—Tugs were at work all day Saturday pumping water out of the flooded engineroom of the Panamanian taker Panamanian, as she lay aground in the roads of Galveston harbor, but the work had not been completed early Saturday night, and completion of an underwriters' survey was awaiting the completion of the pumping.

The vessel, which loaded 65 drums of gasoline for Japan at the Galveston harbor port of Texas City had her engineroom flooded about 2 o'clock Friday morning as she lay at anchor in the roads. It is believed that the flooding resulted from faulty functioning of the steam condensing system. Tugs were called to the vessel, and she was moved to a shallow place and beached.

5 KILLED IN TEXAS CRASH

Barnstormers Collide Over Velasco

FREEPORT, Tex.—(AP)—Five persons crashed to death Saturday as plane piloted by a barnstorming father and son collided in the air near Velasco. The father was among those killed, the son escaped injury.

Jack Turner, Freeport undertaker, said that Tag Eure told him his small craft struck a larger ship in which his father, Claude Eure, was taking four persons on a pleasure flight. The collision fouled the controls of the elder Eure's plane.

The son glided down in a "dead stick" landing, the propeller of his ship broken.

The dead besides Eure:

Dave S. Crowley, about 60, of Velasco. His son, J. R. Crowley, about 21, employe of the Freeport Sulphur Company.

Tom J. Knowles, about 45, employe of the Freeport Sulphur Company.

One middle-aged unidentified man.

Persons who examined the instruments said that the plane apparently fell from an altitude of 1800 feet.

Eure had been in this vicinity, with his plane for several weeks. He had been taking passengers on brief flights over the area.

Texas' 36th Guard Outstanding In US

FORT WORTH—(AP)—Heritage of the old thirty-sixth division is reflected in the present Texas National Guard bearing its name, Col. Ernest O. Thompson, officer of the present day thirty-sixth and a member of the railroad commission of Texas, told the veterans at their reunion banquet here Saturday night.

"The thirty-sixth division today is the outstanding national guard division in the nation," Col. Thompson said, "and it has been made so because sons, nephews and other kinsmen of you men are only trying to live up to the enviable reputation you made overseas."

100,000 At Opening Of Texas State Fair

DALLAS—(AP)—Miss Jerry Jenkins, 16, of Greenville, was crowned queen of the State Fair of Texas in ceremonies at the Cotton Bowl Saturday night.

Fair president Harry L. Seay estimated the crowd at more than 100,000 which would exceed the record attendance of 93,000 at last year's opening day.

8700 ELIGIBLE TO REGISTER IN CAMERON

Draft Boards, Places Are Revealed

BROWNSVILLE — Estimated total registration of draft eligibles in Cameron county was revised downward Saturday by County Clerk H. D. Seago. The anticipated total is now 8,700 as compared with the first estimate of 10,000. Of this total 1,500 were expected from Harlingen, 3,050 from Brownsville and 950 from San Benito.

All 35 precinct registration places were announced Saturday, as were appointments of 32 of the 35 chief registrars. A conference of all chief registrars for instruction in duties and regulations will be called next week, Mr. Seago said.

Precinct 30 Largest

By far the largest precinct is expected to be No. 30 in Harlingen where 600 eligibles are anticipated. Next in size are the seventh, eighth and tenth in Brownsville, with 400 each. The two smallest are the 23rd at Rangerville and the 28th at Wilson with 75 each.

Registration blanks are expected in the county clerk's office Tuesday. Regulations governing the event have been received and copies will be given all chief registrars. More than 200 more volunteer workers are still needed, although several schools have not yet been heard from where considerable teacher aid is expected.

Three Draft Boards

Three local draft boards will be set up in Cameron county, according to information received Saturday by County Clerk Seago. One is located in Brownsville and definite information concerning the other two has not yet been announced, but these are expected for Harlingen and San Benito.

The local draft boards will start work October 17, the day following registration day. They will assemble all cards and classify registrants. President Roosevelt is expected to announce the appointment of the personnel of the Cameron county draft boards next week. It is understood the appointments have already been made, but need only the president's confirmation.

Small Towns Offer Poorest Diet, Says Nutrition Expert

AUSTIN—(AP)—Small towns offer the poorest diets in Texas, a vocational educator told nutrition experts and social science workers here Saturday.

Miss Ruth Huey, director of home economics in the vocational division of the state department of education, asserted the small community diet standards were worse than those of either rural or urban areas.

Draftees May Offer Registration Help

AUSTIN—(AP)—Modifying a previous interpretation, the adjutant general's department said Saturday men of draft age may volunteer their services as registration workers.

In a letter to Binford Arney of Amarillo, president of the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce, Adjutant General J. Watt Page said members of the chamber may offer their services to county clerks and judges.

San Antonio Tot Is Killed In Accident

SAN ANTONIO —(AP)— Six-year-old Leroy Gerla died Saturday a few hours after being hit by a car.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy L. Gerla.

Who Said Autumn

Temperature Climbs To 95 Saturday

HARLINGEN—The weather man was not paying much attention to the calendar Saturday, with a maximum temperature of 95 degrees recorded here. The minimum Friday night was 68, making a range of 27 degrees between the low and high.

At the Brownsville airport weather station, a maximum of 91 and a minimum of 70 were reported.

Coach Fired For Marring The Grass

Czar Of Orange Ired When Team Practices On His Pretty Field

ORANGE, Tex. —(AP)— H. J. Lutcher Stark, wealthy lumberman, is financial godfather to Orange high school youngsters.

The high school football team this fall is playing in a new $50,000 stadium donated by the financier.

Now, Dexter Shelley, former Texas University football star and Orange coach, said Saturday that Stark had provided the school with a new head coach.

"Mr. Stark was displeased over the fact that I took my team out on the new field instead of the practice field for a workout Thursday night," Shelley said, "so I am no longer coach.

"Apparently Mr. Stark was afraid that the cleats would mar the surface of the new field unnecessarily in practice."

Stark's only comment was: "We have a definite policy, a very definite policy, in our organization. We never explain, we never admit, we never deny.

"All I have to say is, I believe Shelley pulled a blade of grass."

TRACTOR AND AUTO COLLIDE

Three Men Hurt Near Raymondville

RAYMONDVILLE — Three men were seriously injured in an auto-tractor smash up a mile north of here early Saturday morning.

D. E. Lauderback, Jr., Hebbronville, was driver of a car in which Clause Moran, Raymondville, was passenger, when the machine crashed into a Farmall tractor. Both vehicles were badly damaged.

The tractor, which State Highway Patrolmen Ben Thomas and J. H. Hollyfield said was equipped with lights, was operated by Carmen Cantu, employe of J. R. Florence, Raymondville.

Cantu suffered a broken bone and deep gash in left ankle, ribs and chest injuries; Moran a severe wound about the mouth and nose, back, ribs and other hurts; and Lauderback suffered four broken ribs and cuts and bruises about the body. The three were taken for treatment to Raymondville Hospital in a Duddlesten ambulance, but were released.

County Attorney James Strawn said charges would be filed Monday in the case.

TELEGRAPHER DIES

SPRINGFIELD, Mo.—(AP)—Marion Tavner Fullington, 54, of Springfield, vice president of the International Order of Railroad Telegraphers, died on a train near Austin, Texas, Friday night. The funeral will be here Monday afternoon.

U. S. NAVY, MARINE RESERVISTS CALLED:

Secretary Knox orders 27,591 naval and marine reservists into uniform after warning triple alliance "if a fight is forced upon us we shall be ready."

WHERE NEXT?

Observers foresee as next Axis blow: Simultaneous German attempt to invade England and Italian drive in Egypt; Rome, Berlin still keep plans in dark, hint at imminent new move; British express confidence at outcome of any "surprise."

BATTLE OF BRITAIN

Nazi raiders return for 29th successive night of raids on London; met by most thunderous anti-aircraft fire so far; British claim 23 German planes downed in widespread day attacks, admit nine losses themselves; Germans give day's tally as 30 British planes and five Germans.

IRON GUARD

Siam Will Continue Quest For Territory

TOKYO —(AP)— Premier Luang Bipul-Songgram of Thailand (Siam) declared in an interview Saturday that his country is determined to pursue its quest of disputed regions in French Indo-China, but has no intention of resorting to arms, Domei (Japanese news agency) reported in a dispatch from Bangkok.

OPTIMISM SEEN OVER ENGLAND

British Are Ready For Axis Surprise

LONDON—(AP)—Whatever "surprises" the axis dictators arranged at their Brenner Pass meeting, military sources here look to the approaching winter with what they term "reasonable confidence" and a feeling that the worst of the air asault on England has been dealt in the last four weeks.

Certain high ranking experts still believe there is a possibility of a German invasion attempt in October or November, but the public does not. Most authoritative sources agree, however, that Hitler will not try it until he thinks he has mastery of the air over England.

Raids A Failure

The air warfare intended to knock out London was launched four weeks ago. The raiders have destroyed homes, bombed hospitals and schools, flattened whole blocks of East End tenements, ripped open dignified West End stores, blown up office buildings in the center of the city and fired the docks along the Thames.

London stands battered but unbowed.

There are staggering problems, however.

Britain must provide new homes for the people bombed out of their own and safer and more comfortable shelters for all.

TWIN ATTACK ON EMPIRE IS FORECAST

Italian Fliers Move To French Ports

BULLETIN

BERLIN (Sunday)—(AP)—The German shortwave radio broadcast early today that "maybe" waves of German bombers now flying toward England would be followed "soon" by hundreds of thousands of troops now standing ready.

By The Associated Press

An Axis drive soon to smash Britain and her empire—with the Germans attempting to storm England while Italy strikes at her Mediterranean lifelines—shaped up Saturday night as the reported next turn in Rome-Berlin strategy.

This was the belief of veteran observers in Switzerland, both neutral and belligerent, who previously had discounted such indications as camouflage.

Armies Are Ready

Their conclusion that the Germans may attempt the long-threatened invasion of England soon—perhaps in the coming week—was based on reports that all was ready for Adolph Hitler's command at the "invasion ports," with Italian planes and fliers in occupied France behind the Nazi forces.

Belief the Italians are ready to start a major offensive toward Alexandria and the Suez was based on reports from Italy of German troops, engineers and specialists passing through the Brenner Pass on the way to the Italian base in Libya.

It was believed possible also that Spain, despite assertions of her continuing non-belligerency, might try to grab Gibraltar with the help of Italy by sea and air and Germany by land.

Plans Are Secret

Berlin and Rome, although hinting at an impending knockout swing, still made a mystery of axis

VALLEY FRUIT MOVES FASTER

Harlingen, McAllen Have First Cars

HARLINGEN — Although only three cars of new season Valley citrus fruit were reported officially to have been shipped, the total for Saturday was expected to be around eight cars. Growers were said to be getting around $25 a ton for Marsh seedless grapefruit.

The South Texas Produce Company moved McAllen's first car Saturday while the Stuart Place Citrus Association and A. J. (French) LeFort moved Harlingen's first cars.

Plants at Edinburg, Alamo and other points were reported loading but the Texas-Federal Shipping Point Inspection service had no final word on whether the cars actually moved. Polis and Hagen of Edinburg had fruit almost ready to move Friday and other firms reported busy, especially at Alamo. Some of the fruit went out by truck in less than car lots.

The South Texas Produce Company car was a solid car of Foster pinks. W. S. Dougherty of the firm said the 372 boxes of fruit came from the V. C. Gillespie orchard, Mission. Another car was to be loaded Sunday.

There will be no Sunday loading after this week, according to Hart T. Longino, supervisor of the Texas-Federal Shipping Point Inspection Service.

The Stuart Place Association car consisted of Duncan grapefruit with almost two-thirds grading U. S.

Willkie Calls Down 'Cowards, Curs' Who Impugn Patriotism

NEW YORK —(AP)— Wendell L. Willkie told a cheering Brooklyn audience Saturday night that "any man, no matter how high his position, who impugns the completeness of my patriotism is a coward and a cur."

He said he had been informed that "there is a whispering campaign about Wendell Willkie."

Speaking in a Brooklyn high school auditorium, the Republican presidential nominee appealed for the protection of civil liberties and said they should be guarded "without prejudice from any source."

PLANS READY FOR M'ALLEN FIELD MASS

Rev. Fr. Sexton Will Deliver Sermon

McALLEN—Rev. Fr. George Sexton, O.M.I., prominent southwestern missionary preacher, will deliver the sermon Sunday, Oct. 13, at a 10 a.m. field mass for world peace here.

The solemn high mass will be sung at the east side of the McAllen High school athletic field, where sufficient seating accommodations will be installed to take care of thousands of Valley Catholics and Protestants expected to attend.

Sponsored by the McAllen-Mission council of the Knights of Columbus, the mass will mark their observance of Columbus Day, Oct. 12, and provide a "unified massed prayer for peace in a troubled world," Rev. Fr. George Laliberte, O.M.I., assistant pastor at Sacred Heart church here, said. Fr. Laliberte is also chaplain for the local K. of C. council.

Rev. Fr. Tymen, O.M.I., pastor of the Mission church and dean of Valley Catholic priests, will be celebrant of the mass. He will be assisted by Rev. Ft. Charles Buckley of McAllen as deacon and Rev. Fr. Phillip Hoag, assistant pastor of Weslaco, a subdeacon. Fr. Laliberte will be master of ceremonies.

A meeting of all men in the local parish has been called for Sunday, Oct. 6, immediately following the 10 a.m. mass.

In addition to the colorful and symbolic ritual of the Catholic mass, there will be a procession of all members of church societies from the local church to the field. The procession, to be headed by the McAllen High school band, will proceed from the church at 9:30 a.m. During the march the decades of the rosary will be chanted.

A mixed choir from the McAllen, Mission and Weslaco churches will sing responses to the mass. A public address system will be installed at the temporary altar and choir loft so that the words of the ceremony will be spread over the field.

Sponsors of the mass have invited all Valley residents to attend.

Who's Exempted?

Draft Won't Affect Armed Classes

AUSTIN—(AP)—Members of the organized reserve corps are not required to register for selective service purposes on October 16, the adjutant general's department announced Saturday.

Reviewing requirements of the law, the department listed these classes as the only ones exempt from registration:

Members of the armed forces of the United States, the active national guard, the reserve corps, coast guard, coast and geodetic survey, public health service, cadets and midshipmen at the U. S. Military and Naval academies and cadets of the advanced course, senior division, reserve officers training corps and naval reserve officers training corps.

Staffs of foreign diplomatic establishments in this country also are exempt.

Texas Deficit Hits High Of 26 Million

AUSTIN—(AP)—Climbing to an unprecedented record, the state's general fund deficit Saturday stood at $26,125,278.

In the Red $1,639,164 more than it was 15 days ago, the growing deficit was attributed to a loss of revenue to relief bond sinking funds which receive a large share of general revenue during the first three months of each fiscal year. The previous record deficit was $24,726,225 on November 28, 1939.

Narrow Escape From Guernsey Told In Letter To Woman At Port Isabel; 50 Killed In German Raid On Docks

PORT ISABEL — Miss Marion MacDonald of Port Isabel received a letter from her cousin, Mrs. H. H. Langton, who spoke of her sister in war-torn England.

She said "We had been, as you realize, very anxious about Amy and George living, till June 28th, in Guernsey. On that day they got away in the last mail boat to England, fortunately escaping with their lives when their boat was bombed after they had gone on board.

"For five hours, from 7 p. m. until 12, they had to stand up in the lounge (no cabins available) with life belts on, expecting at any moment to be killed. After 12 they were allowed to take off life belts and keep them beside them to be ready for another attack.

"The anti-aircraft guns on their steamer kept the German attackers so high up they could not aim directly at any time, but more than 50 people were killed or wounded on and near the Guernsey docks, so the bombs fell fairly near their ship. After 36 hours they got to England."

Mrs. Eleanor Roth's Painting Displayed At City News Stand

HARLINGEN — Mrs. Eleanor Roth's painting of St. Helena Canyon, in the proposed Big Bend national park sector, will be on display at City News Stand all this week, Mrs. Herman Bupp, proprietor of the stand, said Saturday.

The picture took first honors in a contest the past summer among art students at Alpine.

Jap Bombers Strike Again At Sino City

CHUNGKING —(AP)— Japanese bombers struck Chengtu, capital of Szechwan province, at noon Saturday in a second consecutive daily raid, and inflicted some damage in the southwestern section of the city, where there is foreign mission property. Three Japanese planes were reported shot down.

At least 500 casualties were caused by Friday's attack among Chinese bunched near the city's eastern gate.

Indians At War With US Are To Register

MIAMI, Fla. —(AP)— Braves of the Seminole Indian tribe, still technically at war with the United States, are going to register for conscription.

There are 65 members of the tribe in the Florida Everglades subject to the draft who will register on October 16.

Although the Seminole war has been ended a century, the tribe never has formally made peace with the United States.

Lady's Rheumatism Is Long Lost Needle

TERRE HAUTE, Ind.—(AP)—Mrs. Lela Jeffers told her husband, the Rev. A. R. Jeffers, she believed she had rheumatism in her right leg.

The minister examined her leg and pulled out a needle.

Mrs. Jeffers said she must have swallowed it when a girl but didn't remember doing so.

Entire Crew Saved As Vessel Is Sunk

LONDON —(AP)—The entire crew of the Donaldson Line Ship Corrientes, 6,863 tons, sunk by German action more than a week ago, is safe, the owners reported after receiving a radio message from Captain Stewart.

The mesasge said all 50 crewmen had been picked up by a westbound freighter and probably would be landed at an American or Canadian port.

and they resent it further," Jackson said, there is "deep resentment" at Willkie's "sneers at President fine command of the English Roosevelt's education, sneers at his language, and sneers because the president is a member of a distinguished American family."

Willkie's presence in the politically important state coincided with a visit by the president to New York. When Mr. Roosevelt left the capital for a week-end stay at his Hyde Park home he was accompanied by an old adviser on presidential addresses and campaigning, Justice Samuel I. Rosenman of the New York supreme court.

Roosevelt Speaks

In a speech dedicating three Dutchess county schools the president reviewed some of the record of his administration since its inception eight years ago. Among other things, he said.

"There were some in those days (eight years ago) who chanted that nature had to run its course of misery, that deflation could not be stopped, and that the depression was only the working of natural economic laws in a system of free enterprise.

"The American government decided to reject this philosophy of inaction and irresponsibility and indifference to the destitution of its citizens. In its place was substituted a new doctrine—that the government owned a continuing responsibility to see to it that no one should starve who was willing to work."

McNary Raps Treaties

Senator Charles McNary, Republican vice presidential nominee, in a talk prepared for a Ulen, Minn., meeting, said the reciprocal trade treaties promoted by the Roosevelt administration, had failed to promote peace or benefit agriculture.

"The New Deal already has made our economic borders defenseless," McNary said. "Because of the reciprocal trade treaties our trade frontiers are unprotected."

At Washington, an argument (through the medium of an exchange of public statements) arose over administration handling of unemployment statistics as related to the national census.

Representative Keefe (R-Wis) accused the commerce department of "deliberately holding up announcement of the total figures on unemployment from the 1940 census until after the presidential election." He said "reliable sources" reported the census would show 12,500,000 unemployed in the spring of 1940, which he said was an increase of almost 2,000,000 since 1937.

Jones Wants Figures

Secretary Jesse Jones, in reply, said it was a "physical impossibility to obtain total results respecting unemployment or any of the other 30-odd classificatons until an actual hand-count of the total population has been completed and punch cards made representing each of the 131,409,881 individual returns." The law allows until December 1, he added, to complete this count.

Ancient Roman Ruin Found As Air Raid Shelters Are Built

CARLISLE, Scotland—(AP)—Workmen constructing air raid shelters in the suburb of Stanwix have uncovered a nine-acre Roman fort dating back to about the second century.

The Fort, which formed part of Hadrian's Wall, is rectangular shaped, 580 feet by 700 feet and is 300 feet broader than any other fort on the wall.

Hadrian's Wall, 74 miles long, was built by Roman Emperor Hadrian in about 120 A. D, and stretched from Solway Firth to the mouth of the Tyne. It was designed to protect Roman Britain from the tribes of the north.

Powder Box Plant Is Razed By Fire

MEDIA, Pa. —(AP)— Fire early Saturday swept the Paper Canister Co., Fernwood, Delaware county, which has been making powder containers for the government.

Three New Jersey men were held for questioning, and Fire Chief Harry Straub of East Lansdowne said:

"It looks very much like sabotage because the fire spread so quickly."

plans. Nazi informants spoke of a blow at an especially "vulnerable spot"—unnamed—while talk in Berlin centered on the eastern Mediterranean as a potential decisive battleground.

Fascist editorial guns turned on Turkey as a satellite of Britain and the United States, but Virginia Gayda, Italy's most authoritative editorial voice, contented himself with the declaration that "the two Axis powers are resuming their war operations . . . the effect will be seen soon."

Britain "Confident"

Whatever "surprises" the Axis may plan, British military sources looked toward the winter, they said, with "reasonable confidence" as the Nazi air siege of London went into its fifth week.

Although Nazi raiders struck from the Channel to London and all over England Saturday, British informants said they believed the worst of Germany's aerial storm had passed.

Some German planes broke through the British defenses during the day, and the sky over London was red again last night with the most thunderous anti-aircraft barrage heard yet in the British capital.

But the British said the Germans had paid dearly for their attacks, losing 23 planes to nine British craft lost up to evening.

Invasion Ports Raided

Cliff watchers on the Channel coast said a mighty attack by British bombers had strung a line of flame from Dunkerque to Boulogne.

The Germans, listing railroad facilities, gas tanks, troop concentrations, docks, airports and munitions works as their bombers' targets, said 30 British planes had been bagged in the day's fighting and only five Nazi planes lost.

In Rumania, the month-old Iron Guard government decreed a law making state property of all rural land and dwellings to which Jews held title, and intensified its campaign on foreign interests in the country and on the regime of abdicated King Carol.

Toolmakers' Jobs

US Service Has 600 Appointments Now

HARLINGEN—The United States Civil Service Commission Saturday announced open positions for toolmakers, in connection with the national defense program.

Frank Lee, Harlingen secretary for the board of examiners, said immediate appointments are to be made at ordnance and naval establishments at Philadelphia, Boston, Springfield and Watertown, Watervliet, N. Y., and Washington, D. C. Approximately 600 appointments will be made at the Frankford Arsenal alone.

Pay scales vary according the the place of employment, Lee said, ranging from $6.24 a day to $1.17 an hour. Applicants must have completed a four-year apprenticeship as toolmaker or must have four years of practical experience in the trade. Information may be secured from Lee here, or from any first- or second-class postoffice.

Siamese Planes Are Raiding Indo-China

VICHY, France —(AP)— Thailand (Siamese) planes, the Petain government charges, are violating the French Indo-China frontier "systematically" in groups of 20 to 40 to back up territorial claims.

The flights range deep into Indo-China, the French declared, and began simultaneously with the appearance of Thailand borber reinforcements October 1, after Vichy refused demands for frontier revisions a second time.

KELLY RETURNS

BROWNSVILLE—John O. Kelly, Brownsville city engineer, returned to his office Friday after a month's vacation and leave of absence.

DETAINED

Dr. Frederick Ernest Auhagen, German citizen under subpoena before the Dies committee, is shown in custody at Los Angeles following his arrest by federal officers as he prepared to board a Japanese liner for Japan, Auhagen, former Columbia university language professor, was accused of express shipment of obscene literature from Chicago to Los Angeles. —

Combination. Some Marsh seedless was shipped by truck by the association.

LeFort said his car was straight Marsh seedless with 70 per cent grading U. S. Combination and the rest U. S. No. 2. He said he expected to load two cars Monday and three Tuesday.

L. E. Pratt, chief of the maturity division of the state department of agriculture, said that the percentage of fruit passing was still about the same as when inspections started Tuesday, with much grapefruit still faling to pass.

Six or seven truckloads of fruit, mostly oranges, were shipped out Saturday from the Polis and Hagan plant at Edinburg. The bulk of the oranges were of the Hamlin variety.

The Edinburg Citrus association was also loading a carlot of fruit Saturday afternoon, but it was not expected to leave before the weekend.

Truck shipments were being loaded out of Pharr in large lots from the W. E. Baden and Valley Fruit company sheds.

facilities. Winter epidemics could become a dangerous menace.

Authoritative persons, however, believe British morale is tough enough to prevail with the aid of three things:

1. Intensified removal of mothers and children, with the possibility this will be extended to the aged and infirm.

2. A new shelter policy, expected under dynamic Socialist Herbert Morrison, new minister of home security.

3. "Rest periods" from Nazi raids of two or three days at a time when the winter weather gets too bad for bombing.

Most experts are counting, too, upon the RAF growing ever stronger as a defensive and offensive force from steady acceleration of aircraft production here and machine reinenforcements from the United States.

U. S. Cancels Agent's Application Card

SAN ANTONIO—(AP)—Francisco Cardenas, representative of Gen. Juan Andrew Almazan, claimant to the presidency of Mexico, said here Saturday he was sent an air-mail letter, containing a new application for registration under the foreign agents act, to the Department of State, Washington, D. C.

Earlier in the day, the department of state announced that Cardenas' application had been cancelled because his registration statement contained "surplusage inimical to the foreign policy of the United States."

The former governor of Nueva Leon, Mex., said he had been instructed to eliminate any "descriptive or qualifying phrases."

In his first application, Cardenas had identified himself a representing the Revolutionary Party of National Unification of Mexico and Gen. Juan Andreu Almazan, "as legitimate president-elect of Mexico."

RAF Bombers Hit At Lowlands, Germany; Nazis Planes Reply

BERLIN (Sunday)—(AP)—British bombers Saturday night and early today raided points in Holland, Belgium and Western Germany, but authorized German sources said they were turned back without losses.

There was no raid in Berlin, which has been without alarm for the past few nights.

The Germans at the same time reported they bombed middle and southeast England during the night.

Crew Of Sunk Liner Is Rescued At Sea

NEW YORK —(AP)— British refugee children reported on arrival that their ship, the Empress of Australia, stopped enroute to Canada and rescued the entire crew of the Holand-America Liner Volendam which they said had either been torpedoed or had struck a magnetic mine.

The children said they did not know what had happened to the passengers, if any, aboard the Volendam.

The rescued crew, the children said, were left at Halifax where the Empress of Australia docked. The children went by train to Montreal and from there to New York.

25 Years Assessed In Medina Slaying

BANDERA—(AP)—A district court jury here Saturday convicted Jess M. Autry of murder in the slaying of Hal Smith near Medina last January 13, and gave Autry a term of 25 years in the penitentiary.

Neutral Observers Believe Now That Invasion Is Due

BERN, Switzerland—(AP)—Signs of an imminent Axis offensive against both England and the British empire, dismissed at first as a smoke screen, were regarded by neutral and belligerent military observers alike here Saturday as probably correct.

British sources have begun to credit what they first took as Axis inspired reports that German forces on the North Sea and English Channel now have completed preparations for a smash at England and are only waiting the word "go."

Similar reports from the Mediterranean indicate the Italians also are set for a land drive across Egypt toward Alexandria and the Suez Canal and down the Valley of the Nile from Ethiopia.

May Attack Gibraltar

Spain, which the Axis has pictured as sticking to her non-belligerent role, is believed in these quarters to be ready to try to seize Gibraltar with air and sea aid from Italy and land aid from Germany.

(Dispatches from Algeciras, Spain, said 2,000 British troops landed Saturday to strengthen the garrison of the "rock" sentinel of the western Mediterranean.)

Here are some of the reports many veteran foreign observes have added up to mean an Axis offensive—perhaps in the coming week:

From Italy, accounts of travelers that German army engineers and specialists, even some Nazi troops, have been moving through the Brenner Pass toward Italian Libya;

From similar channels in Italy, that 500 Italian warplanes and 3,000 Italian fliers, navigators and airgunners now are in Nazi-occupied France and the low countries ready to bolster an attempt to invade England.

Invasion Talked Up

The Axis press and radio, inclined in September to talk down an invasion attempt, has begun since the Brenner meeting between Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini to hint it is not so far off after all.

The Axis powers are believed here to have based plans for an attack on Britain on all fronts before the United States elections November 5, primarily with an eye to America.

One Axis source in this country said a triumph against Egypt, Gibraltar or England herself is needed to convince the United States that it "is too late to save Britain."

Defense May Force Texas To Retrench

AUSTIN—(AP)—Unpaid state social security obligations and expanding federal appropriations for defense purposes force the issue of curtailing "ordinary" state expenditures, several members of Texas' next house of representatives opined Saturday.

While withholding a prediction the lawmakers would wield the economy ax lustily at the general session beginning next January, the group declared a retrenchment program probably would find many active supporters.

FULLEM RITE SET SUNDAY

Funeral To Be Held From Mortuary

HARLINGEN—Funeral services will be held at 3 p.m. Sunday from the Stotler-Burdette Mortuary for Mrs. Bertha Theresa Fullem, 25, who died at 2 p.m. Friday in the Valley Baptist Hospital.

Rev. Paul Weiss of the Primera-Combes Methodist Church will conduct the services to be followed by interment in the Combes Cemetery.

Pallbearers will be Wade Smith, Murray Eddings, Other Fullem, Dave Fulton, Charles Craig and Glenn Hewitt.

She is survived by her husband, John P. Fullem, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Maschler of the Briggs-Coleman tract, two sisters, Mrs. W. H. Patty of Houston, and Miss Sophia Maschler of Harlingen; and two brothers, George and Victor of Harlingen, four nieces and one nephew.

Paul Vickers Talks At Baptist Service

HARLINGEN—Paul T. Vickers, manager of the McAllen Chamber of Commerce, will fill the pulpit Sunday at the First Baptist church here in the absence of Rev. E. Douglas Carver, pastor.

Reverend Carver is conducting a revival at Clarksville. Vickers will talk on "The Hands of Jesus," at the 11 a. m. service, and at 8 p. m. on "Breaking the Vicious Circle."

Defense Board Has Finished Sessions

YARMOUTH, N. S. —(AP)— United States members of the Canada-U. S. Permanent Joint Defense Board were on their way home by steamship Saturday after mapping definite North American defense measures, some of them possibly to be taken at once.

Headed by New York's Mayor F. H. La Guardia, the United States group boarded the boat Friday night for Boston after a meeting in Halifax which La Guardia said "completed the work we started earlier elsewhere."

MOVE TO NEW HOME

MISSION—Mr. and Mrs. George Brooks, Jr., and family have moved to the Brooks home southwest of Mission. Their home on Conway has been sold to R. N. Smith.

VALLEY GETS SOUTH TEXAS SPEECH MEET

December Program Set At McAllen

McALLEN—Sponsored by the state Interscholastic League, a South Texas speech conference will be held here Dec. 4, Don Irwin of the McAllen public schools announced Saturday.

The program will include debates, extemporaneous speeches, declamations and one-act plays.

The speakers who will attend, all from the University of Texas, are Dr. Thomas Rouses, director of debates; Roy Bedicheck, director of the bureau of public school extra-curricular activities and F. L. Winship, director of speech activities, all of the Interscholastic League.

Irwin said the conference is held annually to promote interest in all speech activities. It has been held at Texas A. and I., Kingsville for the past two years.

Mexican Chamber

Antonio Garcia New Mercedes Chief

MERCEDES — Antonio Garcia, Mercedes groceryman, was elected president of the newly organized Mexican Chamber of Commerce at Mercedes. Jose De La Santos was chosen secretary and Jose Leal treasurer, while Carlos Leal was selected as publicity agent of the new organization. Vocales, or directors, are Zeferino Rios, Juvention De Leon, Gustavo Saldana and Leonado Galvan.

The first meeting of the organization was held Tuesday night when the alien registration act, the national conscription program and a number of matters pertaining to local matters was discussed by a number of speakers to a crowd of several hundred Latin-Americans. Officials of the Mercedes Chamber of Commerce were among the speakers.

Families In Cameron To Eat Frozen Food

SAN BENITO—Cameron county farm families are going to have fun this winter eating their own home-grown, quick frozen foods because cold storage lockers have come their way, in the opinion of Miss Lu Elsie Nagel, county home demonstration agent.

"The deliciousness of fresh foods eaten out of season will be enjoyed because these families have taken advantage of the new service given them in cold storage plants where quick freeze units have been installed," she stated.

Auxiliary Meet To Stress Americanism

MERCEDES—A special program featuring Americanism has been arranged for the next regular meeting of the Mercedes Legion Auxiliary next Tuesday evening, October 8. Mrs. H. Schmalzried, immediate past president, will be in charge of the program.

The meeting, originally scheduled for Monday night, was postponed until Tuesday on account of another event scheduled for Monday. Mrs. Dewey Acker is president of the auxiliary.

Delphian Play Set For Mercedes High

MERCEDES—A one act play, entitled "The Man Who Stayed For Dinner" will be presented by Mrs. Marvin McAskill of Edinburg in the music room of the Mercedes high school next Monday evening under the sponsorship of the Delphian Chapter.

The proceeds of the play will be applied to the building fund for a new women's building at Mercedes.

C. D. Ritter Teaches Farm Youth Classes

RAYMONDVILLE — Natoinal Farm Youth Foundation classes will be taught by C. D. Ritter, vocational agriculture instructor in the Raymondville schools, according to an announcement by J. B. Phillips.

The first meeting will be on Monday night in the school at the vocational agriculture building.

They Need More Room

150 Changes In State Laws Will Be Voted In November

More Than Half Of States Will Study New Proposals Along With Election

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Approximately 150 state constitutional amendments, referenda, and initiative measures will be voted on in next month's elections.

More than half the states will have on their ballots proposals dealing with liquor, old age pensions, taxes, horse-racing, gambling, and bond issues.

One state—New Mexico—will vote on a constitutional amendment authorizing absentee balloting in future elections.

The fact that many states do not allow absentee voting has stirred agitation for change in view of the government's new military programs. Thousands of national guardsmen already called to active training will be unable to vote because of the absentee laws.

Old Age Pensions

Old age pension questions will come before the voters in only four states this year.

Colorado having provision now for one of the highest pensions for the aged in the country—$45 a month—has on its ballot a constitutional amendment to substitute a "guaranteed" $30 pension.

Arkansas will have a proppsal to create a new pension system for persons over 60, the payments to come from revenues from sales, liquor, racing, pool hall and slot machine taxes.

Washington State will ballot on a minimum pension of $5 a month for those over 65, and Louisiana voters will decide whether to give pensions to aged state officers.

5 On Liquor Questions

Five states will vote on liquor questions: Massachusetts, on a referendum to retain its present law; Oklahoma, a constitutional amendment to repeal its present bonedry law and to legalize liquor sales; Oregon, on a referendum to regulate mixing of drinks in hotels, clubs and restaurants, and an initiative to permit private sale of liquor in place of sale by state stores, as at present; Idaho, on initiatives providing machinery allowing counties local option in the sale of liquor and various other regulations; and Arkansas, on a referendum to relax requirements for calling local elections.

Four states are to settle racing and gambling questions: Arizona, to legalize gambling, with $4,000,000 of estimated annual revenues to go for social security and relief; Colorado, to legalize pari-mutuel betting on horse and dog racing; Oregon, to legalize pin ball games and bank nights; and Florida, to equalize distribution among counties of revenues derived from pari-mutuels.

Alabama, Louisiana, Montana and New Mexico will vote on an aggregate of $26,600,000 in bond issue proposals.

ALMAZAN SAYS THOUANDS DIE

Mexican Communism Said Responsible

SAN ANTONIO—(AP)—The Evening News said Saturday a manifesto charging that more than 23,000 persons have been killed in Mexico during the past six years in behalf of "totalitarian Communism," has been distributed by the congress supporting claims of Gen. Juan Andreu Almazan to the presidency.

The News said copies of the manifesto were released in San Antonio by Francisco A. Cardenas, authorized representative of Gen. Almazan.

The manifesto was quoted as saying the deaths occurred as a result of efforts of President Lazaro Cardenas to "give totalitarian Communism a strategic base on the American continent."

(In Mexico City, President Cardenas was quoted as saying Almazan "must be considered no less than a rebel" if he "continues to work against our country in the United States.")

MORRISON VISITS

At Freight Hearing

WOMEN FACE THEFT TRIAL

County Court Cases To Be Called

EDINBURG—Two Dallas women will go to trial again on theft charges in Hidalgo county court-at-law here Monday, Assistant District Attorney Hollis H. Rankin announced Saturday.

The defendants are Mrs. Nola Dollar and Mrs. Annabelle Williamson, both of whom were tried on other theft charges last week before Justice of the Peace T. W. Kelly of McAllen, where they were fined. Mrs. Dollar drew a $100 penalty and Mrs. Williamson $200.

Three separate cases are on file in county court against each of the women, Rankin said. Thus six cases must be tried, and in addition the court will hear the women's appeals from the McAllen justice court decisions.

Bert Barr of Dallas, attorney, is scheduled to arrive during the week-end to head the defense counsel, according to information received by the district attorney's office here.

Whether additional cases will be filed against the women in this county has not been determined, Rankin said. He added that warrants for them had been issued from Hondo.

The women were taken into custody last week in connection with a series of shoplifing cases ranging from stores in McAllen to Weslaco. A large quantity of merchandise has been recovered by officers and identified by grocers and department store owners over the Valley.

The women are expected to plead not guilty and ask for a trial by jury when the county court cases are called.

Rankin said he expected the six cases, plus the two appeals from justice court, to require at least two days for trial.

Fruit Man Is Fined For Check Purchase

SAN JUAN — B. F. Tullis of Progreso was fined $25 and costs by Justice of the Peace R. L. Savage on a complaint that he purchased fruit with a check when he was licensed to buy only with currency.

He is alleged to have purchased fruit from W. B. Caperton of San Juan and to have given a check for $116.90 which was not negotiable Tullis was said to have held a cash buyer's license but not to have had a $5,000 bond required of dealers giving checks. Tom Yates of Harlingen was present as an observer for the state bonding and licensing division. Tullis filed an appeal bond and the case will go to county court.

Brownsville Gains In Postal Receipts

BROWNSVILLE —Postal receipts for the Brownsville post office during the month of September totalled $5,265.48, Postmaster W. T. Burnett announced Friday.

This compared with $4,842.48 during the month of September, 1939, and $5,078.65 during August, 1940, making a gain over both periods.

BROWNSVILLE — The Cameron county commissioners' court will have a quorum meeting at the courthouse Saturday morning to discuss final plans for the draft act registration on October 16 and to receive county tax rolls to be presented by tax assessor-collector Ralph T. Agar.

Tourist Welcome Sign To Be Fixed

McALLEN—The large neon sign north of Edinburg welcoming visitors to the Valley will be rebuilt, Hidalgo county chambers of commerce have decided. The Neo Art Co. of McAllen has agreed to do the job for $20, which is less than one-third of the next lowest bid, $66.

The chambers agreed to allocation of the expense and the funds are now being collected by the McAllen chamber at the request of others.

West Brownsville's PTA Meets Thursday

BROWNSVILLE — The West Brownsville School Parent-Teacher Association will hold its first meeting of the year Thursday, October 10, at 3 p. m., at the school, according to Mrs. E. B. Russell, principal.

"A teacher alone is useless, a teacher of a child is better, but it takes a teacher, a child and an understanding parent to make a real school," Mrs. Russell said in urging a full attendance at an initial meeting.

STATE DEFICIT HIGHEST EVER

Increase Is Said To Be Seasonal

AUSTIN—(AP)—The state's general fund deficit soared Saturday to an all-time record of $26,125,278, an increase of $1,639,164 since September 20.

The increase, seasonally normal because relief bond sinking funds take a heavy toll on general revenue for the first three months of the fiscal year, compared with the previous high of $24,726,225 on November 28, 1939.

The deficit was announced in connection with a call for payment of $43,873 in warrants through November 27, 1939.

ATTEND GRID GAME

PLEDES PEACE

Arnulfo Arias, in a speech attending his inauguration as youngest president in the history of Panama, pledged his administration to a policy of "peace and friendship toward all nations." Arias is 39.

VALLEY LIKES SAME HOLIDAY

Nov. 28 Thanksgiving Is Urged Here

McALLEN—The majority of Valley business men contacted by chambers of commerce secretaries favor the "regular" Thanksgiving Day rather than the "Roosevelt turkey day," local chamber officials declared today, Saturday. The regular day falls on November 28.

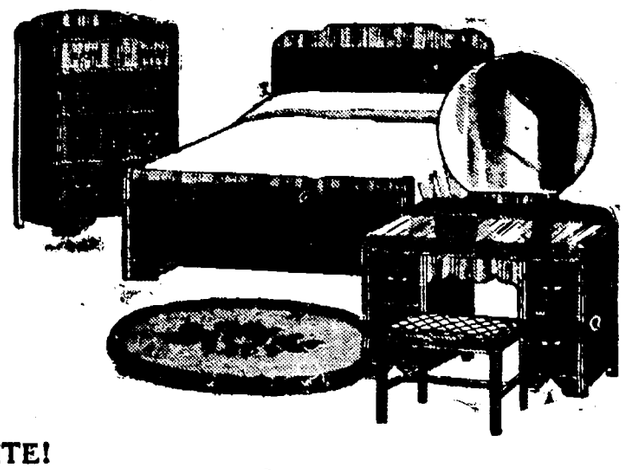

The biggest Texas college football games are scheduled for the "old" Thanksgiving Day and Valley schools are believed to be generally in favor of observing November 28.

The survey of sentiment is in anticipation of any possibility that a new day may be set, as no publicity has yet been given for any change.

COTTON WORK OVER VALLEY WINS PRAISE

Stalk Cleanup Near End On Border

McALLEN—The best cooperation in the history of the annual Valley cotton stalk clean-up program has marked the 1940 campaign, D. M. McEachern, chief of the pink bollworm control project, disclosed today. Some 220,000 acre swere planted to cotton this year in the Valley.

No complaints have been filed for violation of the Oct. 1 deadline on standing stalks. McEachern explained that in some instances stalks are still standing where conditions beyond the growers' control have intervened. Upon investigating, McEachern said, extensions were allowed in a few instances.

The same cooperation has marked the clean-up program on the Mexican side, he said. Other than in scattered areas the 150,000 acres planted in cotton in northern Mexico, bordering the Rio Grande, are clean.

The pink bollworm chief stressed extermination of scattered standing stalks in fields already ploughed. Unless these stalks are out before they begin bearing again, the program for the eradication of the pest will be defeated.

Pharr Building

Total Hits $11,975 In September

PHARR — Building permits for September totaled $11,975 to bring the new construction total for 1940 to $87,391, far more than it has been in many years and nearly three times the total at the same date in 1939, according to L. M. Flowers, city clerk.

Included in the 15 permits issued during September were three new residences. One is for Alfred Bartlett in the Ford subdivision, brick veneer construction and will cost $3,000. Another is for Almus Palmer in Wittbold Addition for $2,500. It is also brick veneer. The third is for Cecil Roberts, a 5-room tile and stucco for $2,000.

Permits for 1940 now exceed the total for all of 1939 by $25,706. Permits to October 1, 1939, totaled $29,975 and for the entire year $61,685.

Permits for September were as follows: Edd M. Boler, packing plant, $1,000; Burt Coate, remodeling house, $1,500; Zeferina Compas, $30; Cecil Roberts, residence, $2,000; Higinio Esparza, $30; Jack Williams, platform, $50; Salar Palacios, $65; Cecil Roberts, packing shed addition, $100; R. Oliver Carter, addition to shop, $250; Petra A. Chapa, $200; Franklin, $350; E. G. Chapa, store, $600; Almus Palmer, residence, $2,500; Alfred Bartlett, residence, $3,000; D. C. Hogan, garage, $300.

Senior Class Names Leonard Fraser As Editor Of 'Bobcat'

EDINBURG—Leonard Fraser was elected editor of the Edinburg high school annual, "The BobCat," at a meeting of the senior class Thursday, and Miss Arline Edwards, business manager.

The class voted to join the junior class in sponsoring a carnival on Hallowe'en to raise funds for the Junior-Senior banquet and the annual. Class Sponsor A. W. Woolsey was appointed general chairman of the arrangements for the carnival. It was voted that the class donate to a fund with which pictures for the classrooms will be purchased. About 80 seniors and class sponsors, A. W. Woolsey, and Virgil Payne, were present.

20-30 Clubs Erect Safety Sally Signs

SAN BENITO — Sixteen Safety Sallys have been put on "duty" in San Benito. These safety signs, presented to the local school system, by the 20-30 clubs of the Valley, are to protect school children from automobile accidents.

Cooperation on the part of the public in observing the new parking regulations at the San Benito high school has been requested by officials. A secton of Dick Dowling street, directly in front of the high school building, has been marked off as a "no parking zone." On either side of this zone are sections for 30-minute parking. Also on each corner of Adele street and Dick Dowling street is a 60 feet angle marked off for "no parking."

Return Of Directory Inquiries Is Urged

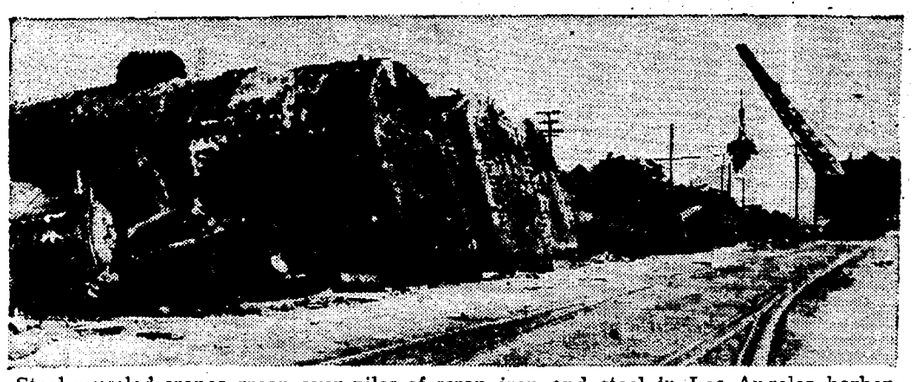

HARLINGEN — Manufacturers and wholesalers here who have not returned questionnaire blanks sent out by the Bureau of Business Research, University of Texas, Friday requested to return them immediately to the chamber of commerce here.

"We don't want 50 per cent of manufacturers and wholesalers listed," Worth Heffner, chamber manager, said Friday. "They are getting something for nothing, and that might mean a lot: listing in a state-wide directory."

San Benito Schools Recessed For Draft

SAN BENITO—The San Benito school board has announced that classes will not b held in the schools here on October 16. The buildings and teachers have been made available to C. C. Bowie, registration chairman, to help carry out efficiently and quickly the registration here of an expected 2,000 young men in the government draft program.

Scrap Iron Deadline Nears

Steel muscled cranes groan over piles of scrap iron and steel in Los Angeles harbor areas as the Japanese government eyes with discomfort the nearing date of October 16 when U. S. embargo on scrap iron goes into effect.

South Texas Fields Are Quiet; Well Makes Test

McALLEN—South Texas wildcats drilled deeper and deeper Saturday but only one of them was making a production test. Drilling was under way in Willacy, Hidalgo, Starr and Brooks Counties on important holes.

One of the most interesting wildcats but one on which information was very scarce was Pan-American Production Co. No. 1 Porfirio Garcia, Share 13, San Juan de Carricitos Grant, in eastern Willacy County. The operation was a "tight" well but was reported drilling below 8,550 feet. One or two minor oil shows were reported below 7,800 feet but no report of any nature on the well could be confirmed. Several major companies and two or three independents hold all of the acreage around the well, which is scheduled for 9,000 to 10,000 feet.

In northeastern Hidalgo County, Humble Oil & Refining Co. No. 1 American Life Insurance Co., Lot 1, Block 13, Mo-Tex Subd., Las Mestenas Grant, was reported coring shale at 6,035 feet on another 7,500-foot wildcat. Humble holds about 20,000 acres in its Hargill block, including the Hargill townsite. The well is about two miles north of the town.

In southwestern Hidalgo, Royal Oil & Gas Co. was moving 427 feet to the east to spud its No. 2 Yturria Town & Improvement Co., at the west edge of the Samfordyce townsite and a mile east of production in the Samfordyce field. The No. 1 Yturria blew out and ran wild from total depth of 3,138 feet, the first of several wildcats drilled in the area to report any kind of show. The well was brought under control after several days and was finally killed and abandoned.

About five miles north of the expanding Rincon field in eastern Starr, Sun Oil Co. No. 1 Mateo Saenz, Survey 80, was running production test. Through casing perforations (9 shots) at 5,478-81 feet, the well began flowing wash water Friday under its own pressure on 5-32-inch tubing choke with tubing working pressure of 825 pounds and closed-in casing pressure of 450 pounds. On drill stem test of the same sand, run while the well was drilling, operators recovered about 200 feet of oil and a little mud with 500 pounds pressure in 20 minutes. A lower sand showed salt water on two production tests around 5,495-5,505 feet.

Semi-wildcatting in the general vicinity of the Rincon field thus far has been a fairly lucrative proposition and was being continued steadily.

Three miles north and a little west of Rincon production, Harvey Oil Co. No. 1 Davenport-State, Survey 514, a south offset to the North Rincon discovery pumper, was bottomed at 5,210 feet. Casing (5 1-2-inch o. d.) was cemented at 5,163 feet and production test will be run on sand at 4,106-18 feet and possibly other shows reported in the hole.

An east offset to the North Rincon discovery, Texas Co. No. 1 Davenport-State, Survey 78, was abandoned dry at 5,423 feet.

W. R. Davis & Co., developers of the Rincon field, extended the field more than a mile southeast, practically into wildcat territory, with the No. A-17 Slick Estate, northeast corner of Survey 528.

Davis & Co. spudded another semi-wildcat, the No. 1 Harry Seyfriedt, in the northeast corner of Survey 928, about 1,600 feet east of the only producer in the Yzaguirre section of the Rincon field. The Yzaguirre producer is 8,800 feet east of northernmost production at Rincon.

In southern central Starr, about two miles southwest of production in the Barbacoas 2,700-foot field, Herman Brown et al's No. 1 Mrs. A. M. Kelsey-Bass, near the center of Sec. 5, Pors. 86-87, Camargo jurisdiction, was reported drilling around 4,550 feet on a 6,000-foot contract. Schlumberger electrical survey was run to 4,000 feet.

In southern Brooks County about 12 miles south of Falfurrias, Sun Oil Co. No. 1 Chas. Boedcker, Survey 16, was coring in shale at 8,358 feet. No shows have been reported thus far.

About two miles east of production in the Alta Mesa field in southwestern Brooks County, Standard Oil Co. of Texas No. 1 Braulia G. de Garcia, Share 1-A, Las Mestenas Grant, was reported drilling around 1,500 feet. It is scheduled for 4,000 feet.

In northeastern Brooks, J. M. West Production Co. No. 1 Wm. Ehlers, Sec. 12, Burton & Danforth Subd., Loma Blanca Grant, was another "tight" wildcat, but was reported drilling around 2,500 feet.

McALLEN—A total of nine new producers, including a southeast extension of more than a mile in the big Rincon field in eastern Starr county and of 1,100 feet to the northeast in the Kelsey field in southwestern Brooks county, brought Valley proven field activity to a new high for recent weeks Saturday.

Despite the completions, there was no slackening of development, which has been maintained through the entire year at practically a record-breaking pace. New producers were scattered through five proven fields in the area.

The Rincon field in eastern Starr county provided by far the most important development in recent weeks when W. R. Davis and Company No. A-17 Slick Estate, Survey 528, about 5,500 feet southeast of present production, opened up a large acreage to development. The well was drilled to total depth of 5,245 feet and cemented 7-inch o. d. casing at 4,430 feet. Production came from the only good sand cored in the hole, through casing perforations (104 shots) at 3,958-78 feet, and gauged 289 barrels daily on quarter-inch tubing choke with 650 pounds tubing working pressure and 1,175 pounds closed-in casing pressure.

Completion of this producer now proves several hundred acres of land in the southeast part of the Rincon field and indicates that oil production is steadily creeping around the edges of a huge oval-shaped producing area surrounding the gas-distillate discovery well of the field. Production has already been proven directly north, northwest, west, southwest and south of the discovery well, while a northeast outpost well, Complete Oil Well Service Company No. 1 Yzaguirre, was completed 8,800 feet east of northermost production in the field several weeks ago. The new southeast completion now helps in slowly closing the "ring of oil" surrounding the discovery well and additional tests may be expected in both directions, north and southwest of the No. A-17 Slick Estate.

In the southwest part of the field, Davis and Company No. B-34 Slick Estate, Survey 506, gauged 319 barrels daily on quarter-inch tubing choke with 20 pounds tubing working pressure and 830 pounds closed-in casing pressure through casing perforations at 4,112-42 feet. The hole was bottomed at 4,449 feet and casting (7-inch o. d.) was cemented at 4,200 feet.

Another southwest well in the field, W. R. Davis and Company No. B-29 Slick Estate, Survey 266, was drilling at 213 feet after spudding late in the week.

Davsi and Company No. B-35 Slick Estate, Survey 486, also in the southwest part of the field, cored an oil sand at 3,960-87 feet, from which drill stem test recovered some oil, and continued coring at 4,119 feet.

A new northeast outpost well extended production in the Kelsey field in southwestern Brooks county about 1,100 feet to the northeast. Humble Oil and Refining Company No. 72 J. C. McGill, about ttwo and a half miles northeast of the Kelsey discovery and in La Blanca Grant, cored the field sand at 4,706-19 feet, then cemented 5 1-2-inch o. d. oil string at 4,710 feet. On production test, the well gauged 116 barrels daily on 1-8-inch tubing choke with 950 pounds tubing working pressure and 700 pounds closed-in casing pressure.

Humble also completed a new north edge well, about two miles north of discovery, the No. J. C. McGill. This well cored the sand at 4,710-25 feet, bottomed the hole at 4,73 feet and cemented casing at 4,71 feet. It gauged 70 barrels daily on 9-64-inch tubing choke with 1,650 pounds tubing working pressure and 1,750 pounds closed-in casing pressure.

Humble's newest test at Kelsey is the No. 74 J. C. McGill, La Blanca Grant, 467 feet from the north and 3,5468 feet from the west lines of the McGill Ranch. It is drilling below 2,100 feet.

One new producer was completed in the Sun field in northeastern well had spudded.

Sun Oil No. B-4 Geo. H. Speer, Survey 236, an inside location, gauged 20 barrels daily on 9-64 inch tubing choke with 350 pounds tubing working pressure after tubing was set with packer at 4,602 feet. The hole was bottomed at 5,002 feet and casing was cemented at 4,685 feet. Production was through casing perforations (6 shots) at 4,648-50 feet.

Sun Oil's No. C-2 Geo. H. Speer, 466 feet from the north and 2,332 feet from the east lines of Survey 235, another inside location, spudden and was drilling past 850 feet.

At Sullivan City in southwestern Hidalgo county, H. J. Porter et al's No. 1 Donato Flores, Tract 237, Por. 39, Reynosa Jurisdiction, was making production test through casing perforations in san dat 3,460-66 feet, where the upper Sullivan sand was cored.

Phillips Petroleum Co. No. 1 Tomas Villareal, Tract 236, Por. 39, Reynosa Jurisdiction, was drilling around 1,500 feet.

Three new producers and three more wells under way kept activity busy in the Colorado field in western Jim Hogg county.

The field's new northwest outpost, V. F. Neuhaus' No. G-3 F. G. Trevino, Survey 37, was in the tanks. From sand cored at 2,908-15 feet, the well gauged 212 barrels daily on quarter-inch tubing choke with 370 pounds tubing working pressure and 980 pounds closed in casing pressure. The hole was bottomed at 2,918 feet and 5 1-2 inch o.d. casing was set at 2,906 feet.

C. Andrade III No. F-1 F. G. Trevino, Survey 37, also in the northwest part of the field, was making oil on production test of sand at 2,951-54 feet. The hole was bottomed at 2,932 feet and 5 1-2 inch o.d. casing was set at 2,980 feet.

Humble Oil and Refining Co. No. 21 King Ranch-Colorado, Survey 42, in the northeast part of the field, made 165 barrels daily on 3-16 inch tubing choke with 280 pounds tubing working pressure and 400 pounds closed-in casing pressure. The well cored the field sand at 2,975-88.5 feet and cemented casing atop the sand.

The field's new northeast outpost, Sun Oil No. 10 N. S. Thaxton, Survey 630, was coring for the field sand at 2,950 feet.

Location has been staked 810 feet from the east and 330 feet from the north lines of the south 80 acres of Survey 38 for the K. D. Harrison et al No. A-5 F. G. Trevino. V. F. Neuhaus will drill the well.

In the Boyle field in southern Starr, Borsodi Petroleum Co. No. 2 Juan de Dios Vela, Share 2-A, Por 92, Camargo Jurisdiction, was drilling around 2,000 feet.

Fidelity Oil and Gas Co. No. B-3 E. B. Carruth et al, Share 1-B, Por. 91, Camargo Jurisdiction, was coring for the field sand past 3,450 feet.

Northeast of the Boyle discovery well about 1,000 feet, Rutherford and Owen's No 4 E. B. Carruth et al, Share 1-B, Por. 92, Camargo Jurisdiction, was drilling around 1,200 feet.

The first of several new wells to be drilled shortly in the San Salvador gas-distillate field as a part of the field's new development proi is rigging up. It is Gulf States Oil Co. No. 1 Carmen Cardenas de Cavazos, located 2,840 feet from the south and 1,600 feet from the west lines of Share 115, a 1,334-acre tract in San Salvador del Tule Grant.

Construction of a recycling plant, capable of handling about 60,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily, has been started in the field by Gulf States. Gas run through the plant will be restored to the sand from which it was originally taken. Two sands will be recycled under the plant's first operations, one around 8,300 feet and the other around 7,800 feet.

ALIENS FACE TWO DRAFTS

Mexico Also Calling Men To Service

BROWNSVILLE — About 1,000 citizens of Mexico living in Cameron county Sunday faced the problem of being registered for conscription in two countries, Mexico and the U. S.

Recently enacted Mexican law contemplates calling 12,000 men to the Mexican army from eligible registrants January 1. All alien residents are required to register in Cameron county October 16 and be subject to call for service in the U. S. Army.

Under army regulations recently in effect in this country, aliens have not been accepted for military service until they have taken out their first citizenship papers. All aliens are required to register, however, regardless of citizenship papers.

The Mexican conscription act makes no provision either as to who will serve or how the eligible men are to be registered. Nor does it contain any provision covering its citizens in foreign countries. Regulations governing these points are to be formulated later.

Mexican citizens residing in Cameron county who have taken out their first citizenship papers, may renounce the action and avoid the U. S. draft, if they desire.

FIRST TEST FOR BOULDER DAM

Boulder dam engineers created one of the largest man-made waterfalls ever seen when they released more than 30,000,000 gallons of water from Lake Mead through the dam's outlet valves 183 feet above the Colorado River bed in an Inspection test. Here is an aerial view of the spectacle that resulted.

New Yorker Comes To Fish Off Valley After Pacific Try

SAN BENITO—Adolph Duchini of New York City, who is a guest at the Stonewall Jackson hotel here, fished last week in the Pacific—motored across the continent—and plans to continue his fishing this week in the Gulf of Mexico. He expects to go after tarpon at Port Isabel during this first vacation in the Valley. Duchini is head of a trucking company in New York. His 40 trucks carry general merchandise.

Knoxville was the first Tennessee capital.

Reporters Ejected From Mass Meeting

SEATTLE—(AP)—Seattle newspapers reported Friday that five of their reporters, members of the CIO-affiliated American Newspaper Guild, were forcibly ejected from a longshoremen's mass meeting Thursday night at the direction of Harry Bridges, west coast CIO leader, who later addressed the meeting.

The Times said the reporters surrendered their notes on the meeting at the demand of the 20 Bridges sympathizers who ejected them, although the CIO-affiliated International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union had invited them to attend.

MEXICO SHOWS TRAVEL GAINS

Fewer Americans Go To Other Nations

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Influenced by the war, travel to and from the United States declined about one-fourth during the first half of this year compared with the similar 1939 period, the commerce department reported.

American outlays for travel in foreign lands during the six months amounted to $148,500,000, a decline of $46,700,000 from 1939. Travel expenses of foreigners in America declined $18,700,000 to $59,000,000.

Despite official efforts to promote inter-American tourist trade, expenditures for travel in South America declined $1,500,000 to $3,100,000, while the outlay of South Americans in the United States dropped $2,000,000 to $1,800,000. There was a slight increase in travel to Mexico and Central American countries.

Teachers To Adjust Census Duplication

The Company is the oldest and largest of its kind and has promptly paid Over One and Three-Quarter Million Dollars in cash benefits to its policyholders.

The entire cost is $3.65 for a whole year—365 days—Only One-Cent-a-Day.

Simply send name, age and address of person to be insured, and the name and relationship of the beneficiary—that is all you do—then the Company will send a policy for 10 days' FREE INSPECTION, without obligation. 30 days' insurance will be added free when $3.65 is sent with request for policy. Offer is limited, so write today.

Duncan Coffee Starts Great Contest

Shown above are Bob Finch of McAllen and Herbert Brack of San Benito, Valley Salesmen for the Duncan Coffee Company. Each man is getting a running start for the $3000 contest on Admiration Coffee in the Rio Grande Valley.

ONE of the most appealing and profitable contests ever planned starts in the Rio Grande Valley this week. The Duncan Coffee Company, roasters of Admiration and Bright and Early Coffees are offering $3,000 over a period of ten weeks for the best answers of not over 25 words on "Why I prefer Admiration Coffee".

This contest, unlike other contests, is limited to a small area in the Southwest, and gives residents of this area a better chance of winning more of the $300 weekly prizes. A plan has also been worked out where the grocer also shares in this contest.

A solid carload of coffee has been distributed in the Rio Grande Valley to start the contest. Bob Finch, covering Hidalgo County, and Herbert Brack in Cameron County are each running a race to establish their quotas and share in prizes.

The following grocers received parts of the opening carload.

BROWNSVILLE—Total valuation of Cameron county lands and property was fixed at $31,762,980, a decrease of approximately $135,000 from last year, according to the annual tax roll, prepared by County Tax Assessor and Collector Ralph T. Agar, and approved by the county commissioner's court Saturday. These are assessed values for taxing purposes.

Acreage values took the sharpest drop, values being lowered $430,000 from the previous year. City properties were marked down $100,000 from 1939. Roadbed values were cut $42,000, rolling stock $11,000 and telephone and telegraph lines $16,000.

Only three items showed increased values. These were personal property, up $395,000, pipe lines, steamboats and sailing vessels, up $15,000 and bank values up $15,000.

The state's assessed valuation dropped $475,000 during the year with a total valuation fixed at $23,025,180. The state valuation is less than the county because of homestead exemption laws.

The tax roll will be taken to Austin Tuesday for approval by the state departments concerned. More than $50,000 in current taxes have been paid, Mr. Agar said, on which tax receipts cannot be issued until the roll is accepted by the state.

No Mexico Revolt

Clyde Low Minimizes Few Skirmishes

BROWNSVILLE — Clyde Low, Refugio, who has been living in Tampico, Mexico, for the past year doesn't think there is going to be any revolution in Mexico, outside of a few minor skirmishes and as far as he is concerned he wants no part of them.

Low has been running a hunting club out of Tampico, taking tourists out for Mexican game, but the revolution scare has cut the tourist business so much this year that "we have practically had to shut up shop," Low said.

He was formerly in San Luis Potosi before coming to Tampico. He will be in the United States about 30 days he said, "I want to vote in the presidential election, but I haven't made up my mind as yet who will get my tally," he reported.

Salvation Service To Be Concluded

BROWNSVILLE — Salvation and healing services being conducted by Evangelist Albert E. Davis of Denison at the Brownsville Assembly of God Church will be concluded Sunday night, according to Rev. H. B. Babbitt, pastor.

Friday night's service was closed with a wedding ceremony uniting in marriage Miss Cleo Hammack of Brownsville and David Loghry of Fort Sill, Okla.

Subjects for Sunday will be "God's Photograph of His Church" at morning services and "The Tragedy of the Rich Young Man" at evening services, beginning at 7:45 p. m.

NLR Board Member Said Labor Comrade

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A witness told the House committee investigating the National Labor Relations Board Thursday that Edwin S. Smith, board member, was designated a "comrade" by a Mexican labor group in 1938.

The witness, Hartley Barclay, editor of the trade publication Mill and Factory, was later described by Smith as one whose "testimony was full of evasions and prevarications."

Tells Of Training

Richard Werner, above, 36-year-old New York chef, told the Dies committee in Washington that the German-American Bund in New York City had been trained for "the day" when a government similar to Germany's would take over the United States. Werner, who said he joined the Bund in 1938, showed the committee a leather strap such as he said was used "in combat" in a New York City disturbance which he did not identify. Werner said he resigned from the Bund last February.

Old Sailor's Luck Beats The Sea: He Reaches New York With 2 Crews, One He Rescued From Mid-Atlantic

NEW YORK —(AP)— An old sailor's luck beat the sea — and the war—and gave the skipper of the Norwegian freighter Tricolor an amazing yarn to tell.

Capt. Ole Meyer arrived in New York harbor Saturday with a crew he had signed on at Hull, England, and another he picked up at sea when the Tricolor's sister ship Tancred was torpedoed, shelled and sunk.

"Funny part of it is," said Captain Meyer, "the boys from the Tancred were my boys—I had left that ship in Liverpool to bring the Tricolor here."

All hands were saved including the Tancred's master, Capt. Einar Hansen, an old friend of Captain Meyer. They took to lifeboats 500 miles west of Ireland after being attacked by a submarine.

The following night the Tancred's seamen sighted the lights of the Tricolor and signaled an SOS with flashlights.

"I thought it might be a submarine and pulled away," said Captain Meyer. "But when daylight came I put around and found the boys again. It was the best luck I ever had in my life."

'HOLY CITY' TO BE SUNG

Brownsville Scene Of Presentation

BROWNSVILLE — A. R. Gaul's "The Holy City" will be presented at 7:45 p.m. Sunday at the First Methodist church by the combined choirs of the Brownsville and Harlingen Methodist churches.

Directed by Prof. David L. Ormesher and his daughter, Miss Mildred Ormesher, the oratorio will feature the performances of four well-known Valley soloists.

They are Margaret McCandless of San Benito and Olean, N. Y., soprano; Ivy Catherine Boone of Harlingen, contralto; Grady Whittle of Lyford, tenor, and Frank Gilmore and Paul Lindhorn of Brownsville, baritones.

Accompanists will be Mrs. B. F. Hardin, organist at the First Methodist church of Brownsville; Doris Ann Biggs of Brownsville, pianist; Virginia Perry of Harlingen, organist, and Catherine Stotler Jackson of Harlingen, pianist.

The oratorio will be presented next Sunday at the First Methodist church of Harlingen.

Valley Postoffices Soon To Sell Stamp

BROWNSVILLE—A new series of stamps, under the famous Americans series, will be placed on sale here soon, Postmaster W. T. Burnett said Friday.

The stamps will be as follows:

One cent, picture of Eli Whitney, to go on sale first at Savannah, Ga., on October 7; two cent, picture of Samuel F. B. Morse, to go on sale first at New York City on October 7; three cent, picture of Cyrus H. McCormick, sold first at Lexington, Va., on October 14; five cent, picture of Elias Howe, to be sold at Spencer, Mass., on October 14; and ten cent, picture of Alexander Graham Bell, sales first in Boston, Mass., on October 28.

The stamps will not go on sale in Brownsville until one day after the first sales.

Volunteers Asked For Registration

McALLEN—Patriotic citizens of McAllen, outside the draft age, were appealed to for help Saturday by P. D. Moore, head of registration work in the city.

Moore asked all men and women who wish to assist with the registration work from 7 a.m. until 9:30 p.m. Oct. 16 to notify him or the McAllen Chamber of Commerce.

No pay is offered for the work.

69,183 Acres Bought For Game Preserves

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Migratory Bird Conservation Commission announced Thursday it had purchased 69,183 acres of land costing $279,880 and had approved leases on an additional 19,313 acres for wild life refuges.

Lands approved for lease included Bitter Lake refuge, Roswell, N. Mex., 1,960 acres.

COAST TANKER WILL ARRIVE

S. S. Tulsa Delayed Two Days

BROWNSVILLE — The S. S. Tulsa, coastwise tanker which was due to dock at Port of Brownsville Saturday forenoon, has been delayed and will not arrive here until Monday, according to word received by Port Director F. W. Hofmokel from Texas Company officials.

No reason for the delay was given in the message, Mr. Hofmokel said.

The Tulsa will bring a full cargo of gasoline and kerosene from Port Arthur for the Texas Company.

Another tanker, the S. S. Henry M. Dawes, will dock here Thursday, October 10, to take on a full cargo of crude oil for New Arleans.

Two coastwise freighters are due here on October 15 and 16, bringing inbound cargoes.

The S. S. Ozark is scheduled to dock at Port of Brownsville Oct. 15 to unload inbound cargo and take on a general cargo for New York.

On October 16, the S. S. Jean will dock here to unload inbound cargo and will take on a general cargo for Newark, N. J.; Baltimore and Philadelphia.

Several foreign sailings are in sight and will be announced later, Mr. Hofmokel said.

Reed Is Elected

Brownsville Seniors Hold Run-Off

BROWNSVILLE — The Brownsville High School Senior class held its run-off election Friday afternoon and elected Howard Reed president giving him a vote of 104 to 50 for Harry Carson, who was his opponent.

Butch Barnard received a majority of votes in the Wednesday primary to qualify him for the office of vice-president. Lewis Stein was elected Secretary over Fulgencio Pena, by a vote of 97 to 27.

Ernest Fernandez won the primary election for reporter by defeating Carlos Villarreal by a majority of 96 to 55.

In the Treasurer's race Marian Smith was opposed by Frank Yturria in the run-off with Yturria winning, 83 to 71.

The Senior class followed their elders in holding their election as they first met in different conventions, named their candidates, held a primary and run-off election before getting the new officers. J. C. Tucker is sponsor.

Rule May Prove Way In Denying Defense Contracts To Firms

WASHINGTON— (AP) —An informal Justice Department ruling opened the way Thursday for possible denial of defense contracts to firms which the labor board holds are violating the Wagner Act.

In response to a question from Sidney Hillman, labor member of the defense commission, Attorney General Jackson declared:

"It seems too clear to admit of controversy that the findings of the National Labor Relations Board that an employer is in violation of the National Labor Relations Act, are binding and conclusive upon other agencies of the executive branch unless and until these findings are reversed by a court of competent jurisdiction."

60 British Evacuees Housed In New York

HOLLYWOOD— (AP) —Dame May Whitty, chairman of the Actors' Children's Orphanage Fund, announced Thursday that 60 young British evacuees among a group landed at a Canadian port Thursday will remain in New York City for the present instead of being brought here.

It has been planned to find homes for them with British actors in Hollywood.

Did "Diamond Jim" Have Stomach or Ulcer Pains?

It is hardly likely that Diamond Jim Brady could have eaten so voraciously if he suffered after-eating pains. Sufferers who have to pay the penalty of stomach or ulcer pains, indigestion, gas pains, heartburn, burning sensation, bloat and other conditions caused by excess acid should try a 25c box of Udga Tablets. They must help or money refunded. (Adv.)

'Thank You' States Note Found At Spot Where Deer Killed

ALTURAS, Calif. —(AP)— Frank Vance had tramped all day without sighting a deer. As he started for home, he saw a large buck but quite a distance away. He fired and the deer fell.

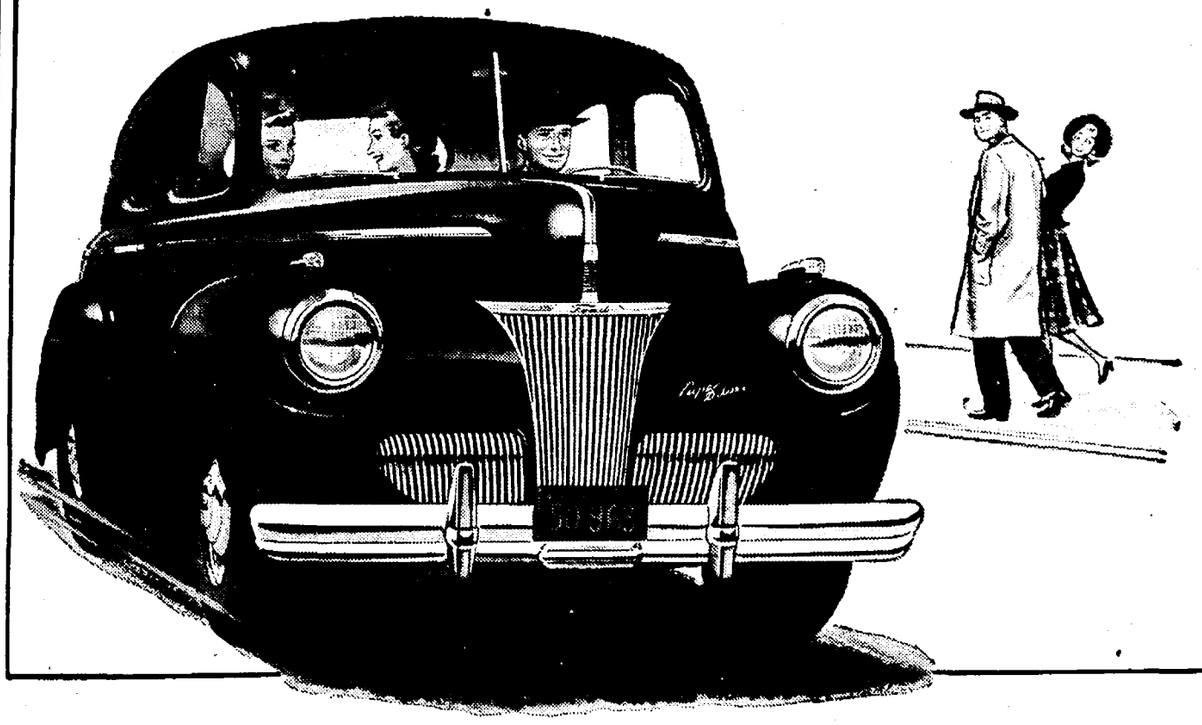

Vance was tired and he rested occasionally as he went to get the buck. But the animal was gone. Instead, there was a note:

"Thanks for the buck."

DISMISSED FROM HOSPITAL

ALAMO—Mrs. Nettie McGinley has been removed from the hospital to the home of her sister, Mrs. Melugin, north of Alamo.

Take a BIG look at the BIG new FORD!

THE 1941 Ford is the biggest car that ever rolled off the assembly line of the world-famous Rouge Plant!

Not just a new front end—but a completely new body! Built on a longer wheelbase. New wide doors. Semi-concealed running boards. As much as seven inches added seating width inside! Windshield and windows so broad and deep they give as much as 33% more glass area.

When you've seen its size and admired its beauty—take the new "boulevard" ride in this new Ford. Step away faster, with improved acceleration. A newly designed stabilizer eases steering . . . helps the ride . . . maintains balance on the curves. New soft springs work more slowly, gently. Improved shock absorbers smooth the going!

Only the Ford way of doing business could provide so much comfort, reliability and economy at low Ford prices. Any Ford dealer will be proud to show you this big car.

Then see how little it costs to trade your present car. No matter how you look at it—the 1941 Ford means a good deal!

Now You Tell One-

First You See It, Then You Don't

PIERRE, S. D.—(AP)—The state treasurer just had reported a $3,000,000 general balance at the close of the fiscal year.

A grocer, collecting first of the month bills from statehouse employes, thought it would be a cinch to get a dime changed in that office.

Deputies advised him it was merely a "paper balance," but dug into private purses to accommodate the merchant.

It Was A Good Trick, Even If It Didn't Work

BUTTE, Mont. — (AP) — A sword swallower who was performing with a Butte carnival substituted a hollow illuminated glass tube for his steel sword.

He swallowed the tube satisfactorily, but in drawing it out the glass cracked. The performer almost choked to death before hospital attendants stood him on his head. The tube then slid out.

Didn't Say 'Positively'

ANDERSON, S. C.—(AP)—During a renovation program at the Anderson county courthouse, a sign near the office of the probate judge read: "Danger Keep Out."

But Probate Judge Ralph F. King reported no decline in requests for marriage licenses. Folks in the marrying mood just glanced at the notice and pushed bravely into his office, King says.

Checks And Other Trivia

BALTIMORE—(AP)— Finding a signed check for $1,000 being used as a bookmark doesn't astonish Pratt library officials.

Bookmarks left in returned books have included pawn tickets, bank books, snapshots, bills, report cards, warrants, foot rules, tie clasps, nailfiles and fountain pens. The $1,000 check was found between the pages of a love story. The owner explained it was there for safekeeping.

Bookmark in a tedious travel tome was a tender note addressed to "the star of my heaven."

Modern Raleigh Gets Mud In His Eye

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla.—(AP)— An Oklahoma City reporter thought a woman newspaper reader was wrong when she complained that "women are losing their common courtesy."

He held open store doors for 60 women. He turned drinking fountain taps for 20. At store counters he stepped aside 10 times to permit women to be waited upon. Thirty times he permitted women to leave elevators ahead of him. Four times he gave women his seat in streetcars. In all, he performed 124 Sir Walter Raleigh gestures.

Two women said "Thank You." Many gave him that "Don't flirt with me" haughty eye. He's convinced.

Babson Says

IT'S OLDSTERS COMPLAINING OF BUSINESS

Maybe U. S. Needs A Few Funerals

By ROGER W. BABSON

DERRY, New Hampshire—During the past few weeks I have talked with many directors of manufacturing corporations and National Banks as well as with large investors. Most of them are very pessimistic. This probably is the real reason why securities and commodities are selling so low today with business as good as it now is in most lines. Yet, there are certain other groups who are both optimistic and are making money. Why this difference?

Old Age vs Youth

Most of these pessimistic directors of corporations are middle-aged men who made their money during the "good old days of the 20's." They worked without government restrictions and had a free hand to do about as they wished, except commit murder. They simply do not know how to work under present conditions. They are not interested in making "small profits". They sulk at the idea of paying "heavy taxes". It is still hard "to teach old dogs new tricks."

When, however, I have found a large factory, store, or bank controlled by intelligent young men, these young men are both optimistic and making money. Having never known the easy days, they assume present-day restrictions, taxes, etc. to be normal. They do not belly-ache about them; but cheerfully accept them. Does this mean that America is in need of some funerals? I don't know.

Old vs New Industries

I was greatly interested recently in comparing the directors of a Boston bank with those of a Los Angeles bank. As I sat at the board meeting of the Boston bank, I saw that all the members were engaged in declining industries. One was president of a large anthracite coal company; another owned outmoded hotels; another was high up in the railroad industry; while all were Republicans!

As, however, I sat at the board meeting of the Los Angeles bank, I found an entirely different situation. One of these directors was a very successful oil producer; another was the head of a well-known airplane factory; another was president of a movie company; while the youngest member owned a laboratory devoted to new plastic products. This board was equally divided between Democrats and Republicans.

How Localities Differ

Another thing: I found most of the pessimism in large cities where the taxes are very high and growth small. In fact, a study of the new census figures shows that the population of many of these large cities has actually decreased during the past ten years although the population of the country as a whole has increased about ten million. This has caused certain cities like San Francisco, which has lost thousands because of the C.I.O. labor strike, to demand recounts.

Yet, the smaller cities, from 10,000 to 25,000, have shown good gains. I also found that the business leaders and wage workers of the small communities are usually optimistic. Lead by their loyal local papers, they all are community-minded. Knowing one another, they naturally co-operate. A co-operative community must go ahead both materially and spiritually. And in the long run these two aims must go together:—one is the lock, the other the key; one is the hatchet, the other the hand.

Conclusion

What does all this mean? To me it means that while we are drafting young men for war, we also need them for industry and commerce; that we should sell out the old industries and invest in the new; that we should consider the advantages of the small community when being tempted by the bright lights of the big cities. The great drag upon business today is that the pessimists, who are old men engaged in declining industries and who are doing business in tax-burdened cities, hold the strings to the money bags!

Cardenas Permit To Stay In US Voided

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The State Department cancelled the registration of Francisco A. Cardenas of San Antonio, Tex., representing General Juan Andreu Almazan, defeated Mexican presidential candidate, because, it said his registration statement contained surplusage inimical to the foreign policy of the United States."

Officials did not explain what the "surplusage" was, but said that if his application were reworded he might be accepted for registration. Cancellation of the registration, they added, did not mean Cardenas must leave the country.

Enlist In Company M, Do Your Training In Valley

McALLEN—Valley men liable to the national draft act were urged Saturday to enlist in the National Guard, Company M, 141st Regiment, at San Benito and spend their training period with Valley friends.

The suggestion from company officers was relayed to Valley chambers of commerce by Bill Richard, San Benito secretary.

Richard pointed out that men selected in the draft registration, Oct. 16, will be sent throughout the country wherever room is available. If those who feel sure they will be drafted will volunteer and join the national guard unit before Oct. 16 they will be sent to Brownwood about Oct. 26, remaining with a contingent of other Valley residents, Richard explained.

All branches of the service will be open at Brownwood, he said. Interested men may obtain application blanks by writing Company M, 141st regiment, Texas National Guard, San Benito. At least 600 Valley men are needed, Richard said.

MANSFIELD IS DUE FOR MEET

Canal Parley Draws 500 In Southwest

HARLINGEN— Congressman Joseph J. Mansfield, chairman of the House committee on Rivers and Harbors, will come here October 25 for a hearing on extension of the intracoastal canal from Corpus Christi to Port Isabel, according to Mayor Hugh Ramsey, who returned Friday from conference in Washington.

Mayor Ramsey said Chairman Mansfield told him he would come here. More than 1000 invitations have been sent out to leaders over the southwest, and many big men in inland waterways afairs are expected.

Worth Heffner, manager of the local chamber of commerce, said Friday Col. C. S. E. Helland, Houston, president of the Intracoastal Canal Association of Texas and Louisiana, "expects 500 to be here."

Col. F. S. Besson, Galveston, U. S. Army district engineer, will conduct the October 25 hearing here, and Col. Holland the conference on October 26. Both meetings will be concerned with showing cause for extending the intracoastal canal from Corpus Christi to the Rio Grande.

VALLEY GUARD LEAVING SOON

Infantry Regiment Is Expecting Call

SAN BENITO — It was learned here Saturday that Company M, 141st Regiment, 36th Division, Texas National Guard, of San Benito is expected to be called to a year's active duty about November 25. It is also understood that the 36th Division will be concentrated at Brownwood. Prior to leaving, the local company is expected to be inducted at the armory here for a 10-day period.

Captain W. L. Williams, First Lieut. Van Dorn Wedegartner, Second Lieut. Fred A. Booth and Second Lieut. James Glenn, Jr., left San Benito Saturday to attend a meeting of officers of the Third Battalion of the 141st Regiment. They will return late Sunday.

May Enlist For Year

Lieut. Col. Harry M. Carroll, U. S. Army Reserves, urged Saturday, "any man desiring one year's instruction in the various branches of the service to enlist immediately in one of the many units of the 36th Division."

"Valley boys will be with their friends in this division," he said, "instead of being sent later to other divisions to be among strangers."

"Various units of the 36th Division would like to have at least 600 men representing the Valley," Carroll stated. "Valley men may enlist in any branch of the service they wish and will leave with Company M from San Benito by special train in November."

Training Varies

These units include training in signal corps, air service, finance, quartermaster, artillery, infantry, cavalry, ordnance, medical corps, chemical warfare and engineering.

Company M in San Benito has a total of 83 men at this time, headed by Captain Williams. The company may be enlarged to 114 men at the training service in Brownwood.

Valley chambers of commerce are cooperating with the 141st Regiment of the 36th Division in soliciting enlistments and urging the young Valley men, who are possible draftees, to enlist now so as to be in this regiment composed of their friends.

Approximately 9,200 men are now in the 36th Division of the Texas National Guard. It is expected that this number will be increased to 18,000 men.

Two Men Will Face Distubance Trial

McALLEN—E. J. Brown of McAllen and L. W. Randolph of Mission will stand trial Monday morning in Justice of the Peace T. W. Kelly's court on drunk and disturbing the peace in a private residence charges, filed by city police after an altercation Friday night.

The men pleaded not guilty in an examining trial before Judge Kelly Saturday morning.

Four More Die

Car Mishap Claims Additional Lives

LAFAYETTE, La.—(AP)—Three instructors at Southwestern Louisiana Institute were killed early Saturday and two other persons were seriously injured in an automobile accident.

Dead were:

R. H. Milan, 39, a native of Martin Ferry, Ohio.

John Cooley, 25.

Miss Elizabeth Howard, 26.

The automobile jumped a ditch, plowed through a fence and hit a small embankment, racing up the incline and striking a large limb of a tree 12 feet in the air.

CHICK SHOW DRAWS 6000

Valley Farm Boys, Girls Honored

McALLEN—Registrations at the Valley Poultry Congress which ended here Saturday night approached 6,000 persons, Manager Harry Hill announced in declaring the event the most successful in history.

Eleven hundred various varieties of chickens were entered, and there were also exhibits of ducks, geese, turkeys and other fowls which drew poultry fanciers from all over South Texas.

Saturday was designated 4-H Club, FFA Boys and Boy Scouts day, with more than 500 Valley farm club boys and girls attending, the manager said. A concert by the McAllen high school band featured the closing program Saturday night.

The McAllen high school domestic science class, taught by Miss Lucile Wiley, served 1,200 biscuits to the visitors. Free buttermilk was served by Sunland Dairy, McAllen.

The program Saturday included the following:

A. V. Peterson, Pharr-San Juan-Alamo high school vocational instructor, "Caponizing Demonstration;" exhibition of quality eggs by George P. McCarthy, Texas A. and M. College; William Dudley, Mercedes vocational agricultural teacher, "Culling and Blood Testing;" M. Ellison, Weslaco vocational agricultural instructor, "Growing Meat Birds for Market;" and McCarthy, "Post Mortem of Diseased Birds, Control of Diseases and Parasites."

The event was held in the J. Edelstein Building on South Fifteenth street.

Mrs. Stuart Named At State Convention

HARLINGEN—Mrs. O. E. Stuart of Harlingen was elected third vice president of the Texas Federation of Garden Clubs this week at the convention in Tyler, according to an Associated Press dispatch.

The organization's constitution forbids re-election of officers but the executive committee broke all precident and set the clause aside for one year, re-electing Mrs. Will Lake of Fort Worth president.

The nominating committee cited uncertainty of world conditions as the reason.

We Have Acquired The Entire Stock of Pianos

Willis' Bargain House

All Will Be Sold At

Greatly Reduced Prices!

We were able to buy this stock of pianos, both new and used, at a great reduction from factory prices, because Mr. Willis wished to accept a position in Beaumont and it was necessary that he dispose of his entire stock immediately. Because these pianos are not of the lines which we carry, we have no reason to keep them and retail them at regular prices. Consequently, we are able to offer some sensational prices on these pianos to those who are lucky enough to get here first. If you've been wanting a piano at a bargain price . . . HERE'S YOUR CHANCE ! !

Five MORE Reasons Why You Should Buy Your Piano From The SAN ANTONIO MUSIC CO.

1. DEPENDABILITY

We're proud of the fact that we've been in the piano business for 50 years. In that time we've seen a lot of companies come and go. We've seen their customers attempt to get piano service after the agent had gone out of business. Proudly we say that we've been here 50 years—and hope to be here many, many more to service our accounts.

2. SELECTION

The four piano companies we represent all manufacture "FIRST LINE" pianos. You can buy any of our pianos with safety—knowing that you're getting the maximum amount of tone and quality for your money.

3. PRICE

Our prices range from the lowest to the highest. Although we feature our quality pianos, if the customer demands a cheap piano—we have it.

4. GUARANTEE

The factory guarantee on the piano you buy from us is supplemented by our own guarantee. And you'll always find us ready to back up that guarantee!

5. UNDERSTANDING

Possibly the most important reason you should buy your piano from us is the fact that we're "home-folks." In case you should care to buy your piano on time—we handle our own papers and are in position to arrange payments that will be to your convenience. We assure you that we will attempt to sell you just what you want and need—and then we'll do our best to make you happy with your purchase.

FD Says America Answers Dictators By Teaching Truth In Schools

HE DEDICATES TWO SCHOOLS IN HOME AREA

Says U. S. To Reject Defeatism Theory

HYDE PARK, N. Y.—(AP)—An applauding throng of President Roosevelt's neighbors heard the chief executive declare Saturday that dictators had destroyed freedom of learning because "tyranny hates and fears nothing more than the free exchange of ideas, the free play of the mind that comes from education."

The President spoke at the new Franklin D. Roosevelt high school, dedicating it and two nearby grade schools, erected at a cost of $1,300,000 with the assistance of the PWA.

U. S. Uses Schools

In them, and in other schools of America, Mr. Roosevelt said, will be trained the nation's youth—"not for enforced labor camps or for regimentation as an enslaved citizenry, but for the intelligent exercise of the right of suffrage, and for participation as free human beings in the life of the nation."

Without censorship or restriction, he asserted, American children of today and the future will be taught the facts of current history and the whole context of current knowledge.

"Their textbooks will not be burned by a dictator who disagrees with them," the chief executive said: "Their teachers will not be banished by a ruler whom they have offended; their schools will not be closed if they teach unpalatable truths; and their daily instructions will not be governed by the decrees of any central bureau of propaganda."

Named For FDR

The dedicatory ceremonies were held on a crisp fall day in front of the two-story Fieldstone high school named for the president. Interspersed with numbers by a band from the United States Military Academy at West Point were addresses by local school officials, John W. Studebaker, federal education commissioner, and Ernest W. Cole, New York state educational commissioner.

The three new schools, the President said, are symbolic not only of the government's responsibility for providing free, universal education, but also of its duty to give work to those unable to find it. Each of these functions of government, he said, "is proving itself more and more vital to the continuance of our democracy."

"Eight years ago," he said, "at a time when our national economy had been prostrate for several years, when starvation and bankruptcy had almost become the order of the day," there were some who "chanted" that nature had to "run its course of misery, that deflation could not be stopped and that the depression was only the working of natural economic laws."

Defeatism Rejected

"The American government," he added, "decided to reject this philosophy of inaction and irresponsibility and indifference to the destitution of its citizens. In its place was substituted a new doctrine . . . that no one should starve who was willing to work but unable to find work."

"In building for the well being of America," he said, "we have built for the defense of America as well."

Youth In The News

It Took A Bit Of Doing—

These two youngsters did their work "in the dark."

Lois Nelson, 21-year-old University of Oregon junior, has never seen the campus. She was graduated from high school without seeing the building. She's been in bed with a heart disorder for 11 years. She has made perfect grades, wants to be a mathematics teacher.

Bob More, 18, is a sailor who's never been to sea and a shipbuilder who's never been in a shipyard. "Moke" built his 18-foot cruiser in the backyard of his Portland, Ore., home. He copied part of the hull design from a magazine and "sorta figured the rest out for myself." The boat cost $200.

FAIR EXHIBIT GETS CITRUS

Fresh Fruit Will Be Sent To Dallas

McALLEN — Fresh supplies of oranges, grapefruit and lemons will be sent to the Rio Grande Valley exhibit at the Dallas State Fair this week by the Valley chambers of commerce. The Red Arrow Freight lines will take about 15 boxes of fruit to Dallas next Thursday.

Last week's shipment included 20 boxes or packages of fruit, several cases of juice, and the decoration materials. To insure attention to the Valley exhibit, the booth manager bought an accordion, a combination radio and phonograph and some new music, which she will play and sing, then make speeches on the Valley.

The chambers of commerce will send a box each of oranges and grapefruit and will dispatch these next Thursday to Dallas, thereby insuring handsome fruit for the thousands of people visiting the fair. The Mission chamber of commerce sent two stalks of bananas to the exhibit Friday.

Billman Says It Was Not Growers Who Asked Ballot

MISSION—The growers were not the ones who asked for a referendum on the fruit stamping regulation, according to W. D. Billman, member of a committee opposed to marking low qualitty fruit with the grade.

Billman said the law provides that the commissioner of agriculture must call a hearing if only one grower protests a regulation and that he personally preferred a hearing ot a referendum which he said would cost the growers $3,000.

"The hearing is the only route to take," Billman said.

Results of a hearing may be appealed to the state courts.

Although a petition was said to have been presented to J. E. McDonald, agriculture commissioner, some time ago, he has not yet set a hearing on the regulations which require fruit below U. S. No. 2 grade to be stamped "Third Grade" or "Cull" as the case may be.

Remember you can now buy insurance to cover your flying, for only a dollar a year, and I urge all gas model members to secure this coverage. In case your model gets out of hand, and does some damage to someone's car or person, it would pay you to have this damage covered. . . . Also in traveling to a sanctioned meet, if the conveyance that the model is in should have an accident and your model is damaged, the policy covers this up to $25 . . . Your model catching fire and burning at a sanctioned meet is also covered . . . Don't wait until it is too late, insure now . . .

Jim Bishop from La Feria was in telling about trading his Brown for an Ohlsson "60". We should equip our timers with binoculars so they will be able to keep Jim's "Clipper" in sight. . . . We are promised a thrill at Mercedes. Jim Thomas is bringing his "Buccaneer Special" and boy does it perform. . . . Scotty Bowlin is building up a "New Ruler" and this model has been taking quite a few meets in the east and should be a good performer anywhere. . . . Billy Younkin still in a fog as to what to build. Has a stunt event (in his head) for the meet at San Benito. . . . John Maltby is running into complications on his DC2, but if I know John, he will work them out. . . . Wayne Cole, proving the old adage, "You can't stop a model builder," by rebuilding his ship on the field, after it cracked up last Sunday. Nice going, Wayne . . . Billy Bryant of San Benito wins the broken bladed balsa knife for his performance last Sunday. Better "running" next week, Billy . . .

Jack Waldron of McAllen disproved the theory about "low wing." Sure has a fine performer too . . . Heard a modeler mutter Sunday "No wonder I am having so much trouble. I didn't go to Sunday School this morning.' That's a good thought, fellows, and one of the reasons we decided to hold our contests in the afternoon, so you could attend services in the morning . . . W. T. Gooch has a new Ohlsson and promises us something new next Sunday . . . By the way, did you know that the Phil Atteberrys have a new model builder? And it's a boy this time. Phil almost missed out last Sunday, but promises that he will be on hand next time. Has a re-designed "Gull" to show us. . . .

Mrs. Temple of San Juan writes that the Tri-City boys had re-election of officers last Monday, with Buck Guion as the new president; Russell Linnard as vice president and Mrs. R. G. Temple as secretary-treasurer. Mr. R. G. Temple, Sr. stepped into keep peace by being elected sergeant-at-arms. . . . R. G., Jr. is working on a new Atom powered job. Hope it doesn't leave home . . . Melvin Alpers is working on a Lockheed, which was to be shown at the "Fair" . . . The question has come up about a Valley-wide meeting for the "Parents" of all model plane builders, so that they may learn more of the educational value of the science in building, and what value it has for their boys and their future. I'm for it. What so you say?

HUNTERS GET BANDED BIRDS

50 White-Wing Bands Sent In

BROWNSVILLE — At least 50 banded white-wings have been reported by Valley hunters during the present season, G. B. Saunders of the Federal Fish and Wildlife service said Saturday.

The birds, banded in nesting grounds in Cameron and Hidalgo counties, have been shot in a number of localities in Hidalgo, Cameron, Willacy, Starr and Zapata counties. Mr. Saunders said. Returns on birds killed in more distant counties are expected in the near future. Only two of the birds reported were killed in Mexico.

"This assistance by hunters," Mr. Saunders said, "has greatly increased the effectiveness of the banding program and will speed up the gathering of information on the post-season migration of white-wings."

Mr. Sanders asked persons knowing of any bands not yet reported to notify their local newspaper, game warden or hardware dealer, or to send a postcard to the state game commission at Austin or the biological survey at Washington, D. C.

Information on the card should include the band number, date and location where the bird was killed, and the name an address of the hunter.

The council decided to offer the use of its hall and services of eligible members on registration day, October 15, if needed.

Bridges Burn

Mexico Probe Into Fires Ordered

MEXICO CITY—(AP)—Two more bridges on Mexico's National Railways have been set afire by unknown persons, the railroad management reported.

Military authorities were ordered to investigate the fires, which were quenched before serious damage was done.

Both bridges were near Maravilio, about 100 miles west of Mexico City.

Railroad authorities reported all traffic in Northern Mexico was normal.

Head Of Pharr Firm Retires October 15

PHARR — Resignation of G. L. Callis as general manager of the Pharr Equity Exchange was announced by the board of directors this week following the annual stockholders meeting. Callis, who has been manager since 1930, as well as one of the principal stockholders, is retiring because of ill health and the need to look after his own citrus and farm lands. He will leave active management on October 15.

At the stockholders' meeting and election of officers, Archie Carlson was elected president; E. E. Watterston vice president and A. P. Wahlers secretary. Other members of the board are Dr. J. W. Conard and Ed Koch.

Mr. Carlson stated a new manager would be named soon.

Dictators 'Ready To Strike' In 'Vulnerable' Spots

BERLIN SAYS NEXT MOVE IS NOW READY

Mediterranean May Be Battleground

By The Associated Press

BERLIN—Germany and Italy are ready to strike new blows at Britain in some "vulnerable spot," Nazi informants indicated Saturday amid talk the eastern Mediterranean may now become a battleground.

Emphasized was the notion Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini reached momentous decisions in Brenner Pass Friday and soon would act.

It was a meeting, said one authorized person, whose subject was not peace but victory—a "war and diplomatic council."

It's A Secret

"England," he observed, "is vulnerable in many places. Naturally, we cannot tell you where."

Saying winter would bring no breathing spell to England, the Hamburger Fremdenblatt declared the new German-Italian-Japanese alliance had "created the political pre-conditions for pursuing the war against "England on all fronts."

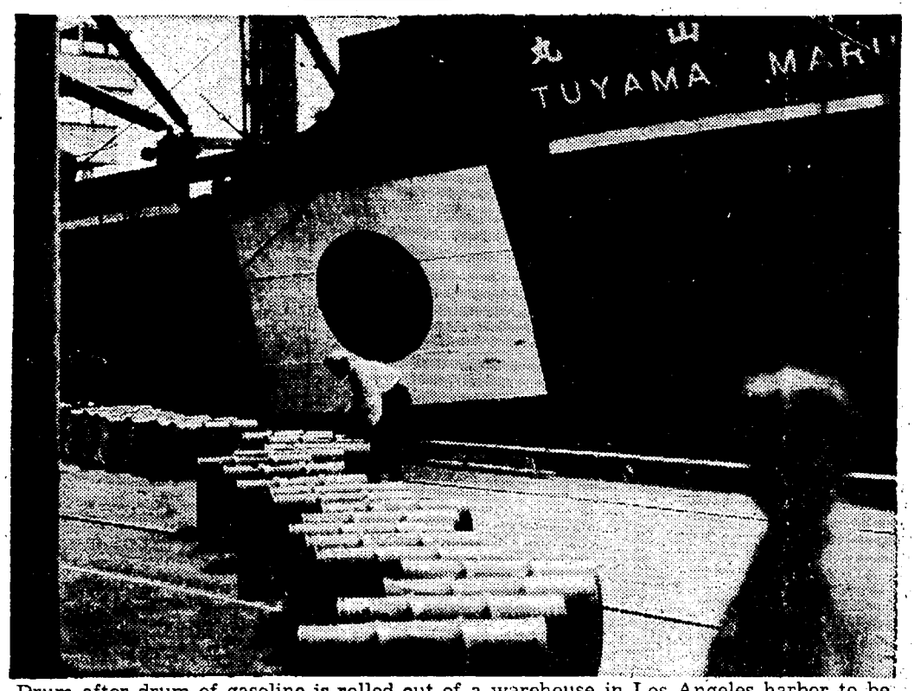

"Speed and surprise," the paper pursued, "have been the most valuable weapons of our martial art. England is again exposed to the painful necessity of groping in the dark and guessing what cannot be guessed . . . where new blows by Germany and Italy will fall, what methods will be employed in that connection and what moment has been chosen."

The National Zeitung of Essen, a publication close to Reichsmarshal Herman Wilhelm Goering, was preoccupied with the point the British fighting front now stretched from the Thames to the Suez; that the British Empire was under world-wide pressure from the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo pact.

On Two Continents

"Europe and Africa," the Zeitung remarked, "represent a whole and, corresponding to this conception, the Axis makes it political as well as its military decisions for both continents in one inclusive program of action."

Roll Out The Barrel

Drum after drum of gasoline is rolled out of a warehouse in Los Angeles harbor to be put aboard the Japanese freighter Tuyama Naru to be taken to Japan. The U. S. oil embargo which is in effect does not include a certain low grade of gasoline which can be used in Japanese war planes and fighting machines.

Backer Says Almazan Will Assume Presidency To Obey People's Will

McALLEN—"There can be no revolution in Mexico under the present circumstances," Francisco A. Cardenas, identified as "the authorized representative of General Juan Andreu Almazan, president-elect of Mexico," declared in a communication received here Saturday from San Antonio.

Cardenas, who has established offices at San Antonio, "registered with the State Department of the United States of America," asserted however, that "a state of rebellion, to which General Almazan is not a party, has existed since the July election."

The full statement, issued to "clarify the position of General Almazan in the current Mexican political situation," follows:

Will Almazan Revolt

"The question most frequently asked of us who have just come from Mexico is, 'Will Almazan revolt?' Many news headlines and radio comments mention a possible 'revolution' and suggest that General Almazan will 'cause trouble.'

"Such phrases are due to natural thought habits of those who have not examined a complex situation. They assumed that a legitimate government is in power in Mexico and that any step to depose that government would constitute rebellion. But I believe a simple review of the facts will lead any open minded person to two revised conclusions:

"First: A state of rebellion, to which General Almazan is not a party, has existed since the July election. Second: There can be no revolution in Mexico under the present circumstances.

U. S. Magazines Cited

"You will recall that American news correspondents in Mexico reported both before and after the election that the Almazan majority was preponderant. These estimates were supported by such leading magazines as Time, Collier's, Current History, Reader's Digest, Life and others.

"These writers explained the facts prior to the election: (a) that the people evidently were in open protest against the Cardenas administration that had undermined Mexico's economy regimented in totalitarian fashion its education, social and religious life, and given all power to a set of political and labor leaders who were exploiting the masses for personal gain; that these leaders, all members of the Cardenas created official party, the P.R.M. had complete control of the electoral machinery and were able to announce any election result they might wish.

"The expected happened — and was reported. The people went to the polls for Almazan. More than 300 were killed or wounded and hundreds of thousands were denied the ballot by P.R.M. gunmen who had seized the booths.

2,400,000 Votes For Almazan?

"But the people voted. Either at designated polls or at special booths set for those who had been illegally driven from the polls, they cast 2,492,567 ballots, bearing their signatures and fingerprints, for Almazan. These represented two-thirds of the country's voting strength.

"Later, the P.R.M. machine announced the 'official' results and the 'election' of its candidate, General Avila Camacho. Its findings were characterized by the magazine, Time, as 'unashamedly rigged.'

"Now, the Mexican constitution states that 'the national sovereignty resides essentially and originally in the people.' It follows that when the P.R.M. flouted the will of the people, it placed itself in rebellion against the will of the people, and against the Constitution which guarantees democratic elections. That is the only rebellion that exists in Mexico today.

"The constitution also designates congress as the repository of the rights of the people. The votes cast for Almazan also elected a congress of his supporters. This congress, when it convened Sept. 1, logically became the legitimate congress. The fact that it must meet secretly because the armed power is still in control of a few generals and politicians who have profited enormously under Lazaro Cardenas and are now willing to kill and destroy to hold their sinecures, has no bearing on the point. This body is in no sense a 'rump' congress, although the term 'rebel congress' can be applied to the illegal body in armed possession of the legislative chambers.

Mission Is Explained

"Can there be a revolution? The word, 'revolution,' used politically means a radical change in the form or administration of a government. General Almazan has no wish to change the form of government; his mission is simply to restore the democratic form guaranteed by the constitution, by establishing the rights of the legitimate congress. He cannot change the administration because the people, by electing him administrator-to-be, have taken that step in complete compliance with the constitution. His only plan is to assume the office to which he has been elected at the designated time, Dec. 1.

"I do not ask your interested readers to take at face value what has been said here. But I do ask them to go back to the newspaper files and the magazines mentioned and check the facts as reported objectively. Then, I believe, their sympathetic interest, at least, will rest with the democratic forces in the country next door."

GRID TICKET SALE TO END

McAllen Plans Trip To San Antonio

McALLEN—Sale of tickets on the chartered bus to San Antonio Friday will close Wednesday at 6 p.m. Burgess Stutzenbecker, head of the Kiwanis club committee sponsoring the bus, said Saturday. The bus is being chartered to assure a turnout of local residents for the McAllen-San Antonio football game Friday.

A round trip ticket costs $3.90 and may be obtained from the Missour-Pacific railroad ticket office here.

The 41-passenger bus will leave McAllen at 11 a.m. arriving at San Antonio about 5:30 p.m. for a sightseeing trip before the game. The return trip will get under way after the game is over.

To insure getting the bus 41 seats must be sold by Wednesday, Stutzenbecker said. Any persons in the Valley may reserve a seat on the bus.

13 Fire Alarms

Brownsville Has No Loss From Blazes

BROWNSVILLE — The Brownsville Fire Department answered 13 alarms during the month of September but did not mark up a red cent as loss during the period, records filed by Fire Chief W. S. Walker showed Wednesday.

The fire department answered 2 box alarms one of which was false, five belt alarms, five still alarms, and one emergency run with the inhalator. The booster tanks were used six times.

Value of property involved in fires during the month was $3,200. All dead-end fire hydrants were flushed once each week and all fire alarm boxes were tested and found in good working order. Ten piles of brush were burned.

The department finished a six-week training school for eligibles on the waiting list and graduated six men.

Chief Walker recommended that 10 blocks of fire alarm wire be replaced with new wire.

A Daring American Rescuer Whisks German-Jew Novelist From French Concentration Camp Near Border

NEW YORK—(AP)—Lion Feuctwanger, famed German-Jewish novelist, reached the haven of America Saturday with a story of how a daring United States citizen snatched him from a French concentration camp and whisked him to safety.

The 56-year-old author arrived on the American export liner Excalibur, a fugitive from concentration camps in his homeland and those of France, his erstwhile place of refuge.

The writer, thick-haired and bespectacled, said his release came when French guards permitted him to leave camp for his weekly bath in a river about three miles distant.

A car sped up to him as he trudged down the road, he said, and the driver brusquely ordered: "Come, get in. Don't ask any questions." He then was taken across the Spanish border a few miles away.

Feuchtwanger cautiously guarded the name of his American liberator, who he said was remaining in France.

The Excalibur brought $3,000,000 in gold and 195 passengers, including 85 Americans.

NEW DECREES SAY OUSTING IS IMMEDIATE

British Investigate 2 Kidnapings

By The Associated Press

BUCHAREST—Rumania's month-old Iron Guard government put into force Saturday the most sweeping of its many anti-Semitic laws as its drive against foreign interests and the old regime flared up to new heat.

Under the new law all rural land and dwellings to which Jews held title automatically become state property Saturday.

Must Leave Immediately

Occupants must leave their land and homes immediately. The property is to be turned over to Rumanian refugees from Transylvania, Bessarabia, and the South Dobruja, areas Rumania recently has ceded to Hungary, Soviet Russia and Bulgaria.

The former Jewish owners will be paid three per cent annually of the value of the property as fixed by the government but will receive none of the principal.

British Investigate

As the government clamped new restrictions on foreign-owned and managed corporations, Reginald Hoare, the British minister, drove to Ploesti to investigate personally the case of 60-year-old Percy Clark, a Briton and president of a Ploesti oil engineering firm.

The British legation has charged that Clark was kidnaped, "seriously maltreated," turned over to secret police and later released and placed under house arrest.

Mrs. John E. Tracy, an English woman whose husband is employed by the American-owned Romano-Americano Oil Company, was released Saturday after 12 days detention by police but a military tribunal prepared to try five other Britons, all oil executives, on what informed sources called "very serious charges," presumably alleged attempts to sabotage oil shipments to Germany.

Commissars Named

Commissars to "investigate and supervise" the management of the 50 largest companies in Rumania with foreign connections, among them the American-owned and financed Rumanian Telephone Company, were named by the government.

America's First Parachute Battalion Jumps Saturday

Float Down As Farewell Gesture To Envoys From South America Making Tour

FORT BENNING, Ga.—(AP)—Eighteen soldiers pioneering in the United States Army's first parachute battalion floated down from two planes Saturday in a farewell gesture to a score of Latin American military leaders.

Captain W. T. Ryder and 17 men bailed out of planes at about 800 feet and completed their drops in about 50 seconds, an army truck following along and picking them up as they landed.

One of the men had to use his second, or emergency 'chute, when the first one failed to open properly, but otherwise this first public demonstration by the newly formed 501st battalion of parachute troops followed practice routine closely.

Major W. M. Miley, battalion commander, directed the exhibition from the ground and received the congratulations of the visiting generals, who described the show as "perfect" and "impressive."

Immediately after the jumping, the official party took off by transport plane for Barksdale Field at Shreveport, La., the next stop in their national tour of inspection of U. S. defenses.

M'ALLEN FIRE CHECK BEGINS

Mallau Will Survey Blaze Hazards

McALLEN—Inspection of all business houses and buildings within the fire zone will get under way Monday by City Fire Marshal Henry Mallau to determine if all residents are complying with city's ordinance for fire prevention.

Mallau explained that according to city regulations rigid gas connections to stoves, ranges and other appliances are required or flexible metal connections not over five feet long.

Rubber hose connections of all kinds are illegal, Mallau declared.

Flexible cords not over eight feet long used as drop connections to electrical appliances are legal, but must not be looped over nail or touch any metal. Conduits must be used on all except drop cords, the city fire marshall said.

He said all efforts are being made to enforce the law which results in McAllen's residents saving thousands of dollars annually in lower insurance rates.

Pickers Wanted

New Mexico Service Seeks Any Number

TUCUMCARI, N. M.—(AP)—Calls for cotton pickers rolled into the state unemployment office here Friday with virtually no takers.

With cotton picking time at hand in eastern New Mexico and west Texas, calls for 500 pickers were received from Carlsbad and Roswell, and for "any number" from Muleshoe, Texas.

"It's the first time in years the call has gone out from Texas for pickers," said H. H. Bode, manager of the sate unemployment office here.

Colombia Man Sees Greater Solidarity

MERCEDES — M. D. Caldeira, credit manager of the International Petroleum Company in Colombia, boarded an airliner at the Pan-American Airport at Brownsville Saturday to return to his South American home after spending a 7-week vacation at Mercedes and the Valley. He is the twin brother of Dr. A. D. Caldeira, well known Mercedes physician.

Caldeira foresees an increasing feeling of good will and a greater economic solidarity between the two Americas. He states that particularly the countries in the northern part of South America are constantly being drawn more closely into the pact of friendship with the United States.

Gas Rate Reduction Is Set In Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK—(AP)—The Utilities Commission Tuesday directed the Arkansas Louisiana Gas Company to make effective rate reductions of $547,000 annually and to make cash refunds totaling $500,000 to about 36,000 natural gas consumers in Arkansas. The reduction and refund were accepted by the gas company.

Home-Town Boy Makes Good In Big Way In City, So San Benito Monday Has Day For Lew Valentine, 'Dr. I. Q.'

* * * * * *

SAN BENITO—This is a brief story of a home-town boy who made good in a large way, the story of a Valley boy whose radio personality is now known to millions of radio listeners throughout the country and whose voice will come back to the Valley over Station KRGV, beginning Monday night, October 7, at 8 p. m.

The name of this Valley boy who made good is Lewis Valentine, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Valentine of San Benito, and the famous "Dr. I. Q." of radio fame. He was born and reared in San Benito and attended San Benito schools until the urge of radio struck him and he yielded to the urge.

Bring Him Home

The sponsors of "Dr. I. Q." have decided to present him to Valley radio audiences through station KRGV, Weslaco, and this nationally known feature will be presented each Monday night henceforth through the National Broadcasting Company.

When KRGV was advised that "Dr. I. Q.," which has become one of the most popular of all the radio quiz shows during the past two years, would be presented in the Valley, Ken Lowell Sibsen, station manager, immediately informed San Benito citizens. The response was immediate. Mayor Louis Witte proclaimed Monday, October 7, as "Dr. I. Q. Day" in San Benito, and he and other San Benitans decided to make the celebration city-wide. Joining in this program, KRGV will present a specially transcribed interview with former schoolmates of young Valentine, his former teachers, othert San Benito friends and his parents.

This broadcast will be heard Monday evening, October 7, at 6:30 to 6:45 p. m. To be heard on this program will be Mr. and Mrs. Valentine, Mayor Witte, Mrs. J. E. McAnally, one of his teachers, and Grady St. Clair, now superintendent of the San Benito public schools and a former classmate of "Dr. I. Q."

Born In San Benito

Lewis Valentine was born in San Benito on August 5, 1912, and attended San Benito schools. In 1929 he went to Houston and joined the entertainment staff of Station KTLC as a tenor soloist. Later he became an announcer on the station before returning to the Valley. But, as his mother explains it, "He had had a taste of radio and he just wouldn't finish school."

It was in November, 1930, when he joined Station KRGV, then located in Harlingen, as its first full-time announcer. Prior to that time, the station's employes had done everything required around the station, including the announcing. Young Valentine remained on KRGV's staff for nearly a year, then returned to Houston, where he joined the announcing staff of KPRC, the Houston Post station.

About two years later, he moved to San Antonio where he joined the staff of Station WOAI. In October, 1935, steadily moving upward, he joined the production department of Station WLW in Cincinnati, where he learned much about the technique of radio presentations, later to stand him in good stead as he developed his own famous program.

In April, 1936, Valentine came back to San Antonio, and worked out the details of his "Dr. I. Q." program. Finally developing the presentation, he first was presented as "Dr. I. Q." in January, 1939, in Atlanta, Georgia.

First In Theaters

The "Dr. I. Q." program is broadcast from the stages of the most prominent theatres in the various cities throughout the United States. At the present time, "Dr. I. Q." is heard from the stage of the Capitol Theatre on Broadway in New York City. Previously, "Dr. I. Q." has visited Hollywood, Philadelphia, Dallas, Pittsburgh, Louisville, Boston, Chicago, Billings, Mont., and Denver.

"Dr. I. Q." asks his questions from the stage of the theatre, and he has six announcer-assistants, each of whom carries a portable microphone throughout the theater so that a member of the theater audience wishing to answer one of his questions may remain seated while doing so.

Ticket Please!

Must Hold Card To Enter Shelters

LONDON—(AP)—Admiral Sir Edward R. G. R. Evans, newly appointed director for air raid shelter in the London area, indicated that a season ticket system would be established for refugees from German bombers to assure everyone a shelter for a night's rest.

Evans urged a system to "insure that the right people go into the right shelters."

"Tickets will be available for tubes and public shelters generally," he added.

London is providing sleeping accommodations for a million persons, he said, but the rest are fending for themselves.

Texan's Assignment Is Ordered Changed

TANKER CALLS AT PT. ISABEL

New Submarine Also Is Expected

SAN BENITO—James C. Bowie, Port Isabel port director, said Saturday the S.S. Thermo, tanker, brought in a cargo of 35,000 barrels of crude oil Saturday for the Coastal Refinery.

The new U.S.S. Tautog, submarine on her shakedown cruise, is expected to arrive in Port Isabel on October 18 accompanied by a destroyer, Bowie stated. On arrival there a reception and celebration has been planned honoring the five officers and 54 enlisted men of the crew by the American Legion post in the port city. Large crowds from all Valley towns are expected and invited to Port Isabel to see this 307 feet long submarine. Arrangements for the celebration are in charge of Paul Reynolds, post commander.

Also on October 18, the tanker R. P. Smith, is scheduled to arrive to lift 85,000 barrels of refined oil from the Coastal Refinery for eastern seaboard destinations.

'Ugly Building'

Navy Asks Congress For $3,200,000

WASHINGTON— (AP) —The navy wants to construct a purposely "ugly" building amidst the scores of marble and granite government structures.

Asking Congress for $3,200,000 to finance an emergency steel and wood navy building, W. E. Reynolds, commissioner of the public buildings administration, told a Senate committee:

"The idea would be to make it somewhat ugly, so that we could tear it down" when a permanent structure was built.

Wife Was Fat

No Longer Attractive Lost Husband's Love

The above headlines appeared in a New York newspaper in connection with a divorce trial that had attracted wide attention: "She was a beautiful woman" one witness testified, "but she got fat and is not attractive any more."

Thousands of women are getting fat and losing their appeal just because they do not know what to do. If you are fat, how would you like to lose it and at the same time gain in physical charm and attractiveness—more energy—greater activity?

Why not do what thousands of women have done to get rid of pounds of unwanted fat? Take 1-2 teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast and keep it up for thirty days. Cut out pastries and fatty meats and go light on potatoes, butter, cream and sugar. Then weigh yourself and see how many pounds you have lost.

A bottle of Kruschen Salts will last you for 4 weeks and costs but little. Ask Brownsville Agents—Den-Russ Pcy., McKay's Phcy.; Harlingen Agents—Day Drug Co., Central Drug Store; McAllen Agent—Palmer Drug Store or any druggist for a bottle of Kruschen, plain or new effervescent—sparkling—pleasant—and start today to lose fat. Satisfaction guaranteed or money back.—Adv.

Valley Football

Taking a glance over Rio Grande Valley football as displayed last week-end, we discover that nothing startling occurred in any game. There were no upsets and the scores ran about as expected, with on exception—Mission was not supposed to run over Raymondville by such a wide margain (38-0).

Three Class A conference games were played with Mercedes, Donna and Mission putting marks on the right side of the ledger while La Feria, Phar-San Juan-Alamo and Raymondville were charged with losses.

No Class AA games have been played to date but Friday night Brownsville and San Benito will start the ball rolling with the Greyhounds meeting the Eagles at Brownsville. The rest of this week's AA schedule calls for McAllen to pay a visit to Thomas Jefferson in San Antonio and Edinburg to entertain Donna. Harlingen has an off week.

Two Class A conference games are scheduled Friday night, Mission playing at Mercedes and Weslaco meeting the Bears at Pharr. Other games are inter-district affairs.

When Frank Witherspoon chalked up a couple of touchdowns against Weslaco last Friday night he ran his total six-pointers to seven and this figure puts him well out in front of the leading scorers. His teammate, Billy Joe Livingston, is in second place with 30 points and Walter Leverman of McAllen is holding the third spot with 27 tallies.

In The Mail

In answer to an article appearing in the Valley Morning Star a few days ago relative to a criminal fish (Hitlerites) being the cause of lack of fish; well, let's analyze the situation. The Gulf and the Bay have been there a long time. The weather has been about the same, and the fish in the Gulf and the Bay have been there a long time. So that puts it up to one thing—commercial seining and netting, with destruction of spawning beds.

Here is the situation around Port Isabel, jetties, boats, seining and netting:

First, the jetties keep the surf or shallow water fish from entering the bay and also the river water from entering the bay. Redfish and trout are shallow water fish. They are obstructed by jetties from the channel and the bay. There should be an opening in the jetties near the surf, allowing fish to pass in and out of the bay, and up and down the surf.

Second, seining is the real destruction. A few years ago before seining was constant, we could catch fish anywhere, but as seins became numerous in the bay and on the coast we were compelled to hunt a new fishing place. We went to Mexico, and there we found a real fishing place, but in a year or so we went back and discovered a fishing camp there, and our catch was lighter. In about a month we went back and caught nothing; but we found seins a mile long there. So we went to the second pass and there we found a good catch. In a short time we went back and found fishing camps there, with no good fishing again. We continued on down, with the same results, and finally we found them seining the surf and likewise we had no luck there.

So now we have nowhere to go and have a catch. The Gulf, the passes, and the Bay in Mexico are the same as years ago, except for the seining.

So there is only one answer: STOP seining and netting. Let the fish spawn and re-establish in the bay. DREDGE the channel below and above the jetties, in order that fresh river and gulf water can enter the bay and open a gap in jetties near surf, that water and fish may enter the bay.

Now as far as criminal fish are concerned, they have always been there, and I suppose for a purpose.

So let us—you and I—discard all personal feelings and build a real sports heaven, not a commercial center. Let us make Port Isabel a real resort, one that we can recommend and one tourists will return to.

I intend to push this No-seining to a finish. We do not care for shark hides or the personal interest of a few.

Dr. H. A. Life.

About Whitewings

Elsewhere on the sports page will be found an article setting out possible reasons for the coming decrease in whitewings in the Valley.

The article is written by G. B. Saunders of the Research Division of the Federal Fish and Wildlife Service and is an unbiased opinion from an expert in his line.

It would be well for every hunter to read this article and then decide for HIMSELF what HE should do to aid in the conservation of our whitewings.

We are not sure but we believe Hart Stilwell came up with the suggestion that each hunter register his day's kill with a game warden. We believe this would help cut in on the game hog as much as any other law could. Of course the cheater would still cheat but such a law would help. Then shooting only in the afternoons on certain days is an excellent idea.

So far as the writer is concerned this whole problem rests with the hunters themselves. Until the game hogs stop killing the whitewings by the hundreds and stop getting near limit of 12 birds several times each hunting day, it won't be long until there will be no shooting.

Perhaps when the game hogs lose their luck and get caught by the game wardens and are handed some stiff fines, it will help. At least it will be interesting to hear the loud cries let out by these cheaters.

Six Cadets Go Across Goal Line

20,000 Gridmaniacs See Contest

SAN ANTONIO —(AP)— Overwhelming power aground and superiority in the air gave the potent Texas A. and M. College grid machine an easy 41 to 6 victory over a stubborn Tulsa University Hurricane here Saturday.

The 1939 national champions managed for two markers in the first half and then wore down the embattled Tulsans who rallied but once to tally in the final period. The Hurricane fought valiently but failed to deliver in pay-off territory.

A crowd of more than 20,000 packed beautiful new Alamo Stadium in sunshiny weather. It was the first appearance of a Southwest Conference team here in many years.

The Aggie scoring was well balanced, no man crossing the Tulsa goal line more than once. The Texans got 108 yards on the ground to Tulsa's 88 but amassed 200 by the aerial route to the Oklahomans' 115. To this the Farmers added 124 yards by running back intercepted passes.

Shortly after the starting whistle Tulsa was forced to punt out on Texas A. and M.'s 48 after which the Aggies commenced their first scoring drive. Derace Moser raced around end for nine, then crashed over guard to the Tulsa 39. Marion Pugh sliced through tackle for nine and a nicely timed pass. Pugh to Jim Thomason, added another first down on the Tornado's 26. Pugh then cracked through tackle for 13 and Moser, swinging wide to the left, ran over standing up. A holding penalty nullified the placekick for point and Pugh passed to Elvis Simons for the point.

Late in the second quarter, John Kimbrough, all-American fullback last year, intercepted a pass and dashed 20-odd yards to the Tulsa three where he was run out of bounds. Pugh got a yard and Kimbrough plunged over. Pugh placekicked the point.

Field Goal Wins For Ohio State

COLUMBUS, O. —(AP)— Goldenhaired, golden-toed Charley Maag, six-foot-three-inch tackle, booted a field goal with 21 seconds to play Saturday as Ohio State, battered and bewildered by fast and fighting Purdue, beat the Boilermakers 17 to 14.

A crowd of 54,556 sat tense as the blonde giant plummeted the winning placement between the uprights from the 12-yard line and then tossed a terrific cheer as they realized the Bucks had captured the opener in defense of their Western Conference football championship.

Ohio, outweighing Purdue about 15 pounds per man, were prohibitive favorites but the Boilermakers refused to concede anything—even after Ohio led 14-0 at the half.

WAKE FOREST 19; FURMAN 0

WAKE FOREST, N. C.—(AP)—A blocking back who had been the work horse of the Wake Forest football team for two seasons got his chance for real glory Saturday and he made the most of it, trotting 70 yards for a touchdown as the Deacons won 19 to 0 over a stubborn Purple Hurricane from Furman.

The blocking back was Jimmy Ringgold, Deacon captain and fullback.

Don't Let 'Em Scare You

Not goon-like men from Mars, but three stalwarts of the University of South Carolina's 1940 grid team are shown above wearing mattress-like blocking pads to protect them from injuries in dummy scrimmage. Coach Rex Enright has a small squad, and is wary about the injury jinx. Wearing the pads, left to right, are: Joe Hatkevich, senior guard of Erie, Pa.; Gus Hempley, junior end of Spartanburg, S. C., and Steve Nowak, sophomore tackle of Erie Pa. The Gamecocks opened their season against Georgia Saturday at Columbia, S. C., and were defeated 33 to 2.

Longhorns Post 13-6 Win Over Hoosier Eleven

Jack Crain Leads Steer Attack

By HAROLD HARRISON

BLOOMINGTON—(AP)— Indiana's aerial attack clicked everywhere except deep in enemy territory Saturday and a more versatile University of Texas team, led by Jack "Rabbitt' Crain, handed the Hoosiers a 13-to-6 setback in their football opener. The crowd numbered 17,000.

For the Longhorns it was victory No. 2 of the current campaign. They beat Colorado last week.

After turning back two Indiana threats in the first period, Texas scored in the second quarter after Malcolm Kutner blocked Hal Hursh's attempted quick kick and the Longhorns recovered on the Indiana 16. R. L. Harkins went over from the two-yard line and Orban Sanders added the extra point by picking up his blocked placekick attempt and running across the goal.

Crain smashed over right tackle in the third period for the second Longhorn touchdown after he had intercepted one of Hursh's passes on the Indiana forty-four and twisted his way to the six.

A 42-yeard march brought Indiana its touchdown in the final quarter. Harold (Red) Zimmer reeled off a 20 yard run and passes from Mickey McGuire and Ray Dumke and Howdy Elloitt, plus a penalty on Texas for unnecessary roughness, gave Indiana a first down on the one-yard line. Dumke scored around right end but the try for point failed.

Indiana had the edge in first downs, 15 to 9, but only three of them came from rushing. The Hoosiers gained only 11 yards net by rushing, but they piled up 234 yards by completing 19 of 35 passes. Texas gained 106 yards by rushing; only 48 by passing.

Crain's dashes through the Indiana line and the booming Texas punts, which averaged 43.5 yards, kept the Hoosiers back on their heels much of the time.

Wildcats Wallop Syracuse 40-0

SYRACUSE, N. Y.—(AP)—Northwestern University's footballers came East to open their season Saturday, and found everything in readiness for them except a football team.

The girls were pretty, the sun was bright, and the turf in Syracuse's Archbold Stadium was springy and green. The Syracuse football team, however, was only green and soggy, so Northwestern had practically no trouble at all in winning by 40-0.

It must have been a shock to the 20,000 rooters to see how easily the lads from Evanston handled the men in the Orange and Blue of Syracuse.

For blond Bill Decorrevont it was a particular field day. The junior halfback finally showed himself to have developed into a full-fledged football player.

Decorrevont scored twice and shared touchdown and offensive honors with his classmate, 215-pound Don Clawson. Clawson threw his weight into the inept Syracuse line to good effect. That's the way he took over the first score. But on his second he leaped between Syracuse passer and receiver to pick an aerial out of the blue and sprint 42 yards over the goal.

CYCLONES 7; JAYHAWKS 0

AMES, Ia.—(AP)—Iowa State's Cyclones scored in the second quarter here Saturday and then staved off Kansas rallies in the second half to defeat the Jayhawks, 7 to 0, in a Big Six Conference football opener.

Royal Lohry, sub quarterback, hit the line for the touchdown after Kansas had been penalized to its one-yard line for offside. Paul Darling kicked the point.

Mustangs Kick Teachers 20-7 With Pitching

Ponies' Air Attack Pays Off

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

DALLAS—(AP)—Ray Mallouf and Johnny Clement pitched strikes in the pinches, Clint McClain turned in some dazzling runs and their Southern Methodist University mates cashed in on the breaks to beat a gallant North Texas State Teachers College eleven 20-7 Saturday before a crowd of 12,000.

Action was scarce in the first half as a blazing sun beat down but the crowd was in an uproar over the driving finish of the green-shirted boys from Denton.

The stubborn North Texas line halted everything SMU tried in the first period but early in the second the Mustangs took to the air and with Ray Mallouf on the firing line marched to a quick touchdown.

Mallouf flipped a 33 yard pass to Bill Thomas who dodged his way 17 yards for the score. Thomas added the point.

The next Methodist counter came in the third period, a 13 yard pass by Clement to Roland Goss settling up the score as the climax of a 43 yard march. From the North Texas 30, McClain rapped guard for four then sliced through tackle and cut back through a bevy of North Texas players for the touchdown. Thomas missed the goal.

The Methodists got another shortly afterward, this time on a break. Johnny Riola, the 147-pound backfield star of the North Texans who for the day was the defensive terror, tried to pass but Clarence Booth batted the ball into the air and Ted Ramsey gathered it in. Ramsey dived toward the goal but fell on the North Texas 21. Next interference was ruled on a pass from Dick Miller to Kelly Simpson, giving SMU the ball on the North Texas 9 yard line. Miller plunged twice to carry it over and Johnston kicked the goal.

Visions of last week's garrison finish when North Texas almost caught Baylor arose as the Teachers began drive of their own with only minutes to play. Bobby Dodd intercepted Miller's pass and ran to the SMU 24. Riola passed to Clayton who lateraled to Sheffield and the latter ran to the 14. Clayton then flipped one to Revo Stewart for a touchdown. Nace Formagus added the point.

As the game ended SMU was driving toward another touchdown. The final gun found Cliff Hagerman being forced outside on the North Texas 2 yard line after a 12 yard run.

Horned Frogs Chalk Up 20-0 Win Over Porkers

By FELIX R. McKNIGHT

FORT WORTH —(AP)— Wee Dean Bagley and Kyle Gillespie, the Texas Christian thumbleweeds, steered the rapidly reviving ghost of other great Christian teams to a 20-0 rout of the University of Arkansas in the Southwest Conference opener here Saturday.

Vastly underrated by the preseason guessers, the Christian team that last week humbled Centenary, 41-6 snubbed the odds Saturday and twice drove into a vicious, southerly wind to score on uninterrupted marches of 78, and 69 yards, winding up both with spectacular passing plays.

But the Christians weren't too dependent upon their famed aerial antics, tossing only nine. Six of those, however, were completed, and three of them went for touchdowns on heaves of 45, 18 and 17 yards.

To Bagley and Gillespie goes credit for most of the 269 yards TCU rolled up, but another hero — a tragic, forgotten boy—flashed back from obscurity for one brief moment to get the wildest cheer of the day.

Big Jack Odle, the lad they said only a season ago would carry on the great line of Sammy Baugh's and Davey O'Briens at Texas Christian, but who quietly folded in mid-season after an injury and dropped into the shadows, slipped into the game as a reserve fullback.

On a routine buck straight over guard the bronzed kid suddenly burst through the massive Porker line and hit the secondary at full speed. He veered to his left, spun off a tackler and streaked for the sidelines. Three Arkansas men dived at him and he kept going. Finally 40 yards downfield, two red-clad Razorbacks dropped him.

On the next play he cracked center again and simply powered for eight more yards. But he didn't get up that time. Injured, they carried him off the field. The fans cleared his fogged head with screams.

Arkansas, stout on the defense at times but lacking the fiery offense that has featured its play for many seasons, muffed the only good scoring chance it got. The Christions, still the opportunitsts, made good on most of their's.

Irish Race Over Pacific Tigers In Easy Style

Veteran Stagg's 11 Is Stubborn

SOUTH BEND, Ind.—(AP)—Notre Dame, perennial contender for the national football championship, swept over the venerable A. A. Stagg's little College of the Pacific team Saturday, 25 to 7, opening the 1940 campaign with an impressive display of power and deception.

Stagg, beginning his 51st year as a coach, put a courageous and smart eleven on the field, but was overpowered by the abundant talent of the fighting Irish.

A crowd of 30,000 spectators thrilled to the first quarter scoring drive of Stagg's underdog machine.

Alternating a smooth passing attack directed by Dale Halbert with a tricky ground game, the Golden Tigers drove 60 yards against the Iris regulars in the opening period. Dwayne Mears scored the touchdown on a center plunge from the one and Emil Seifert placekicked the point.

This lead stood up for the stubborn visitors until midway of the second quarter. Bob Saggau tossed a pass to Steve Juzwik for a 40 yard gain to the Pacific 25. After an incomplete pass big Milt Piepul drove to the seven and then Juzwik faked a reverse and skirted left end for the tally. Piepul tied the score with a perfect placement.

Wearing down the undermanned Stagg men, Notre Dame moved into high gear in the third, Fred Evans and Bernie Crimmins leading the attack. Crimmins sent the Irish ahead with a 16 yard end jaunt, but Joe Laibers placement was blocked.

The Irish muffed several other scoring opportunities in the third but easily clinched the decision in the fourth, scoring two touchdowns in one minute.

Mexico Grid Team To Receive Honors

PALMER STADIUM, Princeton, N. J. —(AP)— Princeton's girdmen fought off a desperate last period Vanderbilt rally Saturday to defeat the rugged Commodores from Nashville 7 to 6 before about 16,000 persons in Palmer Stadium.

COLORADO 7; KANSAS STATE 6

BOULDER, Colo.—(AP)—Colorado University of the Big Seven defeated Kansas State of the Big Six 7 to 6 on a wet gridiron Saturday. Vern Miller ran 40 yards for Colorado's touchdown in the second period. Johnny Pudlik placekicked the extra point.

Kansas State battled its way out of a hole in the third period and Gene Fair staged a 58-yard touchdown run. Nichol's place kick for the extra point was short.

Derringer Squares Series Count For Reds

Sets Tigers Down With Five Blows

3 Detroit Hurlers Take Mound

the bases and then making Derringer lay down an easy grounder.

The Reds kept right on making trouble, however, Werber again walking to open the fourth, going to third as Mike McCormick lined a double into right and scoring after Goodman had lifted a long fly to Hank Greenberg in left center.

Smith Holds Reds

Smith then managed to hold Cincinnati in check for two frames, but was removed for a pinchhitter in the sixth and the Reds went to work on Lefty Archie McKain for their final run in the eighth as well as singles in the seventh and ninth.

Two were out in the eighth when Werber needled a single through the box and went to second on a wild pitch. Mike McCormick came up with another single to bring Werber home.

The Tigers' runs came in the third and the other in the sixth but neither touched off an inspired rally such as Detroit produced to win the first and third games of the series.

Greenberg Gets Double

With one out in the second inning Barney McCosky waited out a walk, went to second on an infield out and came racing home as Greenberg hammered a double along the left field foul line.

Rudy York walked as Derringer took care to keep good balls away and then Bruce Campbell struck out.

The only other hits that Derringer gave up were a single by Higgins with one on and two out in the second a single by McCosky with none on and one out in the fifth.

Derringer Walks Six

The big right-handed star, who won 20 games and lost 12 during the regular season, and usually has fine control, caused some alarm in the early frames by allowing six walks, one of them intentional, but he kept as cool as an icebox and received fine support in every crisis.

In the first inning when he walked McCosky, second baseman Eddie Joost started a double play that immediately ended the inning and again in the fifth when McCosky had singled Derringer himself fashioned a double killing. The victim each time was Charley Gehringer.

He struck out four batters, each in a different inning, to keep matters under control.

Atones For Defeat

This triumph atoned well for Derringer's defeat in the opening game at Cincinnati and put the Reds in good shape for the remainder of the series, which now is certain to return to Cincinnati and will be the first one to go six games since the New York Giants and Yankees struggled that distance in 1936.

Manager Bill McKechnie said after the game he was undecided whether to start young Gene Thompson Sunday or come back with Bucky Walters, whose three-hit pitching piloted the Reds to their victory in the second game.

The best judgment here was that Thompson probably would get his chance at last. With the tide even McKechnie can afford to string along with the young fast-baller just as Del Baker did Saturday with Trout. If Thompson wins, Walters would be available to try for the clincher Monday. If he doesn't, the Reds still would have Walters and Derringer available for the emergency on their own field.

Baker expected to start Buck Newsom again and hoped that the big fellow would repeat his first game success.

FOOTBALL ROUNDUP

By HERB BARKER

NEW YORK—(AP)—Two of last year's football powers, Tennessee and Cornell, moved into the forefront of the 1940 national rankings Saturday along with the Mid-Western big four of Minnesota, Ohio State, Michigan and Northwestern, as the day's one real full-fledged upset was engineered by the Diplomats of little Franklin and Marshall College of Lancaster, Pa.

The Diplomats invaded Hanover, N. H., with an alert, speedy team and handed Dartmouth's ivy league Indians a stunning 23-21 setback with a brilliant sophomore back, Billy Manotti, leading the way.

Vols Win

Meanwhile Tennessee's Volunteers, beaten by Southern California in the last Rose Bowl game, hammered out a decisive 13-0 victory over Duke in a game in which the highly-touted Blue Devils from the Southern Conference reached Tennessee territory only once.

Cornell, unbeaten a year ago, dealt Colgate an unmerciful 34-0 beating in its first 1940 start with Hal McCullough's passing a major factor in the rout.

Ohio State, Michigan and Minnesota all won after bitter fights and discovered another Western Conference entry, Northwestern, evidently would have to be reckoned with. With Bill De Correvont and Don Clawson scoring two touchdowns apiece, Northwestern buried Syracuse under a 40-0 count.

Charley Maag's field goal from the 12-yard line in the last 21 seconds of play enabled Ohio State to trip Purdue, 17-14, after the Boilermakers had rallied sharply in the second half to tie the score at 14-14. All-America Tom Harmon scored all of Michigan's points as the Wolverines won over Michigan State's pass-minded Spartans, 21-14, before 65,000 fans.

Fine line play and the excellent running of George Franck and sophomore Bill Daley carried Minnesota to a 13-7 victory over Nebraska's Cornhuskers, Big Six power.

Wisconsin made it a great day for the Western Conference by trouncing Marquette, 33-19, but Indiana's Hoosiers found Texas more than it could handle and the Longhorns punched out a 13-7 decision. Notre Dame opened its season against A. A. Stagg's College of Pacific outfit and won a routine 25-7 victory, spotting the visitors an early touchdown.

Missouri Loses

Despite Syracuse's route and a 19-14 set-back clever Virginia administered to Yale, the East did pretty well in intersectional games. Pitt's power off-set Paul Christman's passes and the Panthers turned back Missouri, 19-13. Princeton, holding off Vanderbilt's strong closing thrust, won 7-6, while Penn romped at Maryland's expense, 51-0. Navy worked out a 14-0 verdict over University of Cincinnati.

Williams, of the little three, came close to duplicating Franklin and Marshall's upset feat but finally bowed to the Army, 20-19. Fordham looked none too strong in a 20-7 defeat of West Virginia, and New York University came a cropper against well-coached LaFayette, 9-7.

Tulane's disorganized forces dropped a Southeastern Conference decision to Auburn, 20-14, while Kentucky and Georgia rolled up big scores over Southern Conference foes. Kentucky whipped Washington and Lee, 47-12, and Georgia walloped South Carolina, 33-2.

In Southern Conference games, Clemson handed North Carolina State is first defeat, 26-7; North Carolina tripped Davidson, 27-7; Wake Forest rolled over Furman, 19-0, and Richmond defeated Virginia Tech, 13-7.

Texas Christian hung up a 20-0 count on Arkansas in a Southwest Conference duel, while Texas Aggies and Southern Methodist, picked to battle for the championship, won over non-conference rivals. The Aggies, No. 1 team in the nation a year ago, trounced Tulsa, 41-6, and Southern Methodist rolled over North Texas Teachers, 20-7.

The year's first Big Six contest saw Iowa State nose out Kansas, 7-0. Oklahoma barely survived Oklahoma A. and M.'s closing drive, 29-27. Kansas State bowed to Colorado of the Rock Mountain Big Seven, 7-6.

In the Far West, Oregon State and Southern California played to a scoreless draw although the Trojans almost pushed over a touchdown in the closing minutes of play. Stanford, continuing its fine showing under Clark Shaughnessy, defeated Oregon, 13-0. California, routed by Michigan a week, showed a surprising reversal of form in beating St. Mary's Gaels, 9-6.

In the Rocky Mountain Big Seven, Utah continued its spell over Brigham Young, 12-6, while Wyoming held Colorado State to a 0-0 deadlock.

How About It? Was He Safe?

Nope, you're wrong. He was out. Tiger third baseman Higgins sprawls on the ground after being tagged out by Catcher Baker of the Reds in the eighth inning of the third Series game which was played at Detroit and won by the Tigers, 7 to 4, after a big batting spree. Higgins tried to score from second when Tebbetts grounded to Myers who threw him out to F. McCormick. McCormick beat Higgins to the plate with his throw for a double play. (NEA Telephoto.)

Rice Owls Open Season By Beating Gents 25-0

HOUSTON—(AP)—The Rice Owls started their 1940 season with a 25-0 victory over the Centenary Gentlemen Saturday night as a band of sophomores ran the visitors ragged. Passing brought two of the four scores.

First Quarter

Rice muffed a chance to score early in the first period when big Ray Zimmerman, end, intercepted a pass on the Centenary 37. Weems smashed to the 28 but Brumley fumbled on a spinner and the Gents recovered on their 32 and kicked out. The Owls began another drive from their 39 and got to the 10-yard line on smashes by Brumley, Ellis and Weems. The surge ended when May, Centenary halfback, recovered Brumley's fumble as the Rice fullback attempted to hand the ball off on a spinner. The Louisianans avoided further immediate trouble by kicking out to the enemy 45.

The Owls had trouble with the Centenary line and the teams exchanged punts after fruitless struggle around midfield. Coach Neely sent substitutes streaming in, trying to find an effective combination.

A penalty because a substitute talked on entering the game put Rice on the 24 as the period ended scoreless.

Second Quarter

Keel slapped a pass to Verlan Prichard on the 12-yard line and after two strikes at the lines, shot another from the 10 to the same player. Pritchard had no competition as he snuggled the ball behind the line for the first score. Vestal kicked point. Score Rice 7, Centenary 0.

Rice kicked off to Centenary, held the Gents on downs and took over on its own 35. The Owls started an attack that seemed headed for a score, but Centenary tightened on its 15-yard line and kicked out of danger again. Little Keel was the spark of the Rice drive, rocking the Gents' line with off-tackle plunges, but his last-effort passes from the 15 failed.

Rice took the ball on the Centenary 46 after Faith's nice punt, managed to pick up but a handful of yards and Weems spiraled a 36-yard punt which went out of bounds on the Centenary 3. Faith booted it back to his 35, and Centenary took the ball again when Rice's Weems fumbled on the Centenary 28 and Allums, Gent guard, recovered. Faith faked a punt and shot a 25-yard pass to the Owl's 47, but Barnes' pass two plays later was intercepted by Weems on the Rice 27. Weems then tossed an aerial to Everett on the 46. A talking penalty against Centenary and a 12-yard dash by Weems put the ball on the Gents' 27. Weems shot a touchdown pass to Ellis and Rice led 13-0 at the half.

Third Quarter

Barnes gave Rice a break early in the third by fumbling an Owl punt on the Rice 37. Quillian recovered for Rice. The Owls drove to another score, with Keel doing the heavy work. He teamed with McDougle and Zander to push through to the Gents' 37, then passed to Prichard on the 22. Keel shot off tackle to the 10 and then blasted to the one-foot line. Zander failed to get it over but Keel made it over right tackle. Vestal failed to convert. Score, Rice 19, Centenary 0.

Rice tallied again after a kicking exchange, when Weems intercepted Barnes' pass and raced 55 yards for a score behind strong interference. Brumley failed to kick point. Score, Rice 25, Centenary 0.

Fourth Quarter

Dickson failed to get the ball across and Centenary kicked to its own 28. Dickson began passing, and hit Price on the 17-yard line, but thereafter he failed. On fourth down, Tresch, end, dropped Dickson's heave behind the line. Rice took over again on its 43 after a Centenary punt and Dickson and Glaassie drove to the Centenary 40, whence Dickson heaved an 18-yard pass to Ellis. Centenaary recovered a Rice fumble on its own 20, however, to end the threat.

Rice took the ball on its 35 after the Centenary punt but was forced to reciprocate after picking up ten yards in five plays. Keel put Rice back on the trail again by intercepting Hamby's pass and dashing 26 yards to the Centenary 29. After a line try, Centenary drew a 15-yard penalty to the 13 for roughness. As the game ended, Keel was trying to spot a receiver behind the Centenary goal line. Final score, Rice 25, Centenary 0.

The lineups:

Rice	Pos.	Centenary
Hartman	Left Tackle	Hearne
Bassett	Left Guard	Crawford
Whitlow	Center	Campbell
Goforth	Right Guard	Hardcastle
Heard	Right Tackle	McCrary
Tipton	Right End	Murphy

Girl Matador Will Be Seen

MATAMOROS — Juanita Cruz, Spanish girl matador, said to be the best woman bullfighter in the world, is carded to appear in the Matamoros Bienveida bullring Sunday, Oct. 13 at 4 p.m.

She will fight bulls of the famed Penuelas stock, known to be unusually ferocious.

Miss Cruz, famed also for her beauty, does all her bullfighting on foot. She is considered to be one of the most elegant cape artists among the women bullfighters of the current generation.

Alternating with Miss Cruz will be Carlos Vera, "Canitas" and Luis Briones, two up-and-coming bullfighters. Canitas and Briones gave a fine showing in their last appearance in the local ring several months ago.

The bulls are expected to arrive during the week and bullfight fans are invited by the impresario to visit the local ring and see the animals.

Pittsburgh Wins Over Missouri

PITTSBURGH—(AP)—Once mighty Pitt splurged some of its lost prestige Saturday by uncorking old time power to overcome passing Paul Christman and his Missouri Big Six champions 19-13 before 26,000 fans.

Ahead from the outset, Pitt doggedly fought off aerial maneuvers of the invaders while rolling up and down the gridiron for a net rushing gain of 215 yards to score in the first, third and fourth quarters.

Christman dazzled the crowd with a great passing show, hurling 29 of Missouri's 31 passes and completing 12 for gains of 210 yards. Pitt completed one of five passes for a gain of 18 yards

Bear Ace Badly Injured Friday In D. U. Game

Lost To Baylor For Rest Of Season

DENVER—(AP)—A 14 to 7 victory over Denver University apparently cost the Baylor University gridders the services of their chief backfield candidate for All America honors.

Wilson, injured in the second quarter of Friday night's game, must remain in the hospital for several weeks and he won't play football again this season, Dr. Lewis V. Sams, Denver team physician informed the Baylor squad.

Coach Morley Jennings of the Texans spent most of the night at the hospital, where a specialist worked over young Wilson. The back was carried from the field on a stretcher after being tackled by Cecil (Butch) Scheffel, Denver guard, while catching a pass.

Also taken to the same hospital were two Denver players—fullback Dan Clinger of San Antonio, Texas, and Lou Liley, substitute end. Dr. Sams said they would be released Saturday, as their injuries were not serious.

The Baylor victory might be subtitled "The Triumph Of The Man Wtih The Twisted Knee." Jim Witt, 180-pound veteran halfback, was supposed to have the damaged hinge, so all he did was go in at the pinch, replacing the injured Wilson and score both Bear touchdowns. He caught a short pass from sophomore Bill Coleman for one in the second quarter and scooted 27 yards through the entire D. U. team for the second.

Wolverines Trim Spartans 21-14

ANN ARBOR, Mich.—(AP)—All-America Tom Harmon roared down the touchdown trail again Saturday and scored three times as Michigan's Wolverines rolled to a 21 to 14 victory over an air-minded Michigan State football team. A crowd of 65,438 witnessed the performance, virtually a one-man show.

In contrast to his long gallops against California last week, Terrible Tommy this time dashed across the goal line on runs of 13, 9 and 2 yards. He place-kicked all three extra points and ran his scoring total to 49 points in two games this season.

The Spartans went through the air for their touchdowns, Sophomore Walter Pawlowski, speedy halfback, making catches for gains of 45 and 37 yards. Pawlowski and Quarterback Bob Sherman each booted an extra point.

WISCONSIN 33; MARQUETTE 19

MADISON, Wis.—(AP)—An underdog Wisconsin football team played inspired football here Saturday to come from behind and crush Marquette 33 to 19 before a crowd of 32,000.

PENN WINS

PHILADELPHIA—(AP)—Pennsylvania's powerful eleven opened its All-Major Bicentennial football schedule Saturday by crushing Maryland, 51 to 0.

Wasted Whitewings Cut Deep Into Future Supply

Comment has been made recently in Valley newspapers regarding the continued decrease in Whitewings. The conservation of the White-wing population means a great deal to the Valley both from the standpoint of recreation and financial returns.

One of the most effective means of increasing White-wings in the Valley would be to reduce the loss due to crippled and dead birds not retrieved by hunters who shoot them. Obviously there is no way of avoiding a considerable loss from these causes, but the present appalling mortality could and should be greatly reduced if hunters would take the situation to heart.

Many hunters are very conscientious about shooting from fairly open stands, shooting only at birds which they have a good chance of retrieving, and about retrieving them immediately to avoid losing them in the brush or weeds. There are hundreds of hunters however, who are still too thoughtless about this matter, and, as a result, thousands of White-wings are shot and wasted each season.

To determine this waste in one locality an investigation was made where many White-wings shot were falling in the brush. Twenty-one dead birds were found by one man in twenty-five minutes search near the edge of this brush, and it was estimated that there were at least 500 dead birds to the mile near each side of this road. Many others which were not killed outright had doubtless wandered farther back in the brush or had sought refuge in rat burrows or dense clumps of prickly pear. It was clearly evident that many hunters shooting there were retrieving only those birds which fell within easy reach. This practice causes a tremendous waste of game.

In one locality east of San Manuel several hunters who were shooting in a very small clearing in heavy chaparral were observed and a record kept of the birds they lost or crippled. For the forty-eight Whitewings retrieved there were twenty-seven killed and eight fatally injured which were not found in the dense brush. Sixteen other birds were wounded sufficiently that they separated from the flock and glided into the woods beyond reach of retrieving. Twelve other birds lost feathers and showed by their flight that they had been hit. For the forty-eight bagged there were thirty-five lost and twenty-eight wounded. Of those latter several were probably sufficiently wounded that they never took wing again. If these men had shot at birds within range of retrieving, this loss would have been greatly reduced.

The score of these hunters apparently compares with the average at stands surrounded by heavy brush and cactus. It has been reported by State investigators on the basis of many hunters' own statements that for every ten birds bagged in 1939 at all types of shooting stands four were lost, but field observations have indicated that many hunters greatly underestimate their losses. The wastage probably averages forty per cent in more open areas and much greater in brushy places, varying according to the type of area where the hunting is done and the skill of the shooter. Some hunters can rightfully claim that they lose very few birds, but for every such experienced, careful hunter there appears to be several who lose many birds. The pratices of shooting at high birds, at those already above brush where retrieving is very difficult, or into the flock rather than at an individual bird are three reasons for the continued decrease of the Valley's White-wings. It is the hunter who is little concerned about how many White-wings he kills or cripples and loses who deserves much of the blame for the continued decrease of this fine game bird in the Valley.

Hardin-Simmons Cowboys Defeat Arizona State

Ground Attack Is Big Factor

TYLER —(AP)— Hardin-Simmons Cowboys unleashed a powerful ground attack here Saturday to corral the Ariona State Bulldogs of Tempe 17-0 before 12,500 fans at the sixth annual Texas Rose Festival grid classic.

The defeat toppled the Bulldogs from the nation's unbeaten, untied clubs, and the victory was the third against no losses this season for the cowboys.

Paced by Owen Goodnight, Moon Mullins, and L. B. Russell, the Abilene, Tex., team piled up 12 first downs to four for the Arizona eleven, including one on a penalty. The Cowboys backs ran up yardage while a strong line held the Bulldogs in check.

Wayne Pitts, highly touted Bulldog back, was throttled most of the game, but managed to slip through for a few good gains. The best Bulldog showing came in the first quarter when the Arizona crew drove to Hardin-Simmons' 21 before the Cowboys braced.

The Tempe push started when Shamblee recovered a Hardin-Simmons kick, a line thrust by Hernandez gained three, and the attack failed when the Bulldog's aerials missed their marks.

Hardin - Simmons, evidencing power early, drove in the fading minutes of the first quarter 79 yards to the Bulldog one-yard line, but the Arizona line held. Murray Evans, reserve Cowboy center, kicked a field goal from the 10 yard line to give Hardin-Simmons a 3-0 lead.

An attack which carried the Texans to the Arizona three midway in the second quarter bogged down, but a few minutes later the Cowboys drove 35 yards to score, on runs of Russell and passes from Russell to Parker and Burris. Russell passed to Goodnight on the Arizona State one and he drove over for the touchdown. Bryson added the extra point from placement.

The third quarter was scoreless, but early in the final period the Cowboys climaxed a 38-yard drive with Bryson going over for a touchdown through the line from the Arizona three. Bryson kicked another extra point to complete the scoring.

Olin Mason, star Bulldog tackle, went out of the game in the second quarter with a chipped ankle bone.

Arizona	Pos.	Cowboys
Green	Center	Lewis
Sanserino	Right Guard	Tucker
Mason	Right Tackle	Treadway
Andrews	Right End	Burrus
Relles	Quarterback	Russell
Ybarra	Right Half	Oatman
Pitts	Fullback	Mullins

Rio Rico Plans Hunting Club

RIO RICO, Tamps., Mexico—Nimrods desiring to hunt game in the Republic of Mexico are invited to attend a meeting to be held at Joe's place in Rio Rico, Sunday, October 13, at which time all rules and regulations pertaining to hunting in Mexico will be discussed.

A "Club Cinegetico" has been formed with General Lopez Tafaya, president, and Jose Ortega, vice-president and manager. Valley hunters may join this club at a nominal fee and receive all the benefits, chief of which is the obtaining of permits.

A game warden from Victoria will be on hand to explain the open seasons on various game and the regulations governing hunting in Mexico.

Tennessee Vols Beat Duke 13-0

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. —(AP)— The Tennessee Vols' grid prestige, punctured in the 1940 Rose Bowl game, was patched and pumped up skin tight Saturday with a sparkling 13 to 0 victory over "one of the best football teams in Duke history."

Forty-two thousand sun-saturated fans who overflowed Shield-Watkins Stadium sat thrilled and amazed as Coach Bob Neyland's team, forsaking for the first time the solid old army game, ran the leks from under the Blue Devils with a tricky new shift, some fancy ball juggling and more passing than Vol fans have seen in a long time.

The scoring was confined to the second quarter, a pass good for 33 yards accounting for the first points, and a plunge following a blocked punt netting the second touchdown.

Only once did Duke invade Tennessee territory.

The twelve-month calendar was arranged by Julius Caesar.

Conference 11s Play Six Games In Five States

Will Cover Ground Saturday

FORT WORTH —(Spl)— Six games in five states constitute the Southwest Conference schedule for next Saturday. It will be the third successive week-end in which six contests have been booked, but it will be the last.

After next week, the conference elevens begin to battle among themselves more and more, and four contests will soon be the maximum for any Saturday afternoon.

One conference tilt will be played next Saturday—Baylor vs. Arkansas at Fayetteville. It has been four years since the Razorbacks defeated the Bears. Arkansas at home is never easy, but Baylor will be favored in many quarters.

Most interest will center on the Texas A. and M.-U. C. L. A. clash in Los Angeles. The Aggies and S. M. U. are still listed by most handicappers as the best bets to cop the Southwest flag. Some indication as to comparative strength may come from Los Angeles affair, since the Mustangs already have a 9-to-6 victory over the Uclans. Fan philosophy in the Southwest seems to be, "if the Methodists can beat them, the Aggies can."

Texas Christian goes to Chapel Hill, N. C., to meet the University of North Carolina Tar Heels, coached by Ray ("Bear") Wolf, former T. C. U. line coach, and Johnny Vaught, captain of the 1932 championship Horned Frog eleven and all-American guard that year. You could flip a coin on this one and have only one chance of being wrong.

Incidentally, the Aggies return from their jaunt to the Pacific Coast and the Frogs from theirs to the Atlantic, to meet each other in College Station one week later, on October 19.

Texas and Oklahoma meet Saturday in the annual Battle of Dallas. Whatever may happen on the football field that afternoon, the day's activities as a whole will be summed up, "A good time was had by all."

Coach Matty Bell takes his Southern Methodist eleven to Pittsburgh. Pitt routed the Mustangs 34 to 7 when the two elevens met in Pittsburgh two years ago. The Panthers this year, though, aren't up to the class of '38, and the Methodists have improved. Looks like sweet revenge.

Rice plays Louisiana State in a game at Houston. The Owls have been playing the Tigers annually since 1932; have won two, tied one, lost five—the last Owl victory coming in 1935.

L.S.U. 25; HOLY CROSS 0

BATON ROUGE, La.—(AP)— The Louisiana State University Tigers, led by Adrian Dodson with three touchdowns and scoring in every period, swept over the Holy Cross Crusaders in an intersectional football title Saturday night, 25 to 0.

Latin American Army Chieftains In San Antonio To See Randolph

SHAM BATTLE PLANNED FOR PART OF SHOW

Hemisphere Defense Is Mapped

SAN ANTONIO—Latin American army chieftains on a flying tour of United States defense establishments reached this strategic southwestern military area late Saturday for a two-day inspection.

Ending their swing west and the first week of their trip the chiefs of staff and ranking officers of Colombia, Bolivia, Peru, Uruguay, Costa Rica, Panama, Honduras, Dominican Republic, and Guatemala, will quicken the tempo of their already fast pace to study Uncle Sam's major pilot training fields—Randolph and Kelly.

At Camp Bullis

They also will review the second division at Fort Sam Houston here and watch a sham battle at Camp Bullis.

The officers landed at Randolph Field at 4:30 p.m. (CST) after a two-hour flight in perfect weather from Barksdale Field, La., where they were entertained at luncheon by General Frederick Martin.

They received his reassurance that the United States "takes its responsibility for defense of the western hemisphere."

The general warned that singly "we can be overpowered" but united none can make the Americas submit to their will.

"In the United States we are doing our utmost to be strong that we can help you . . . keep this hemisphere inviolate . . .," General Martin said.

"Fight For Liberty"

Lt. Colonel Refugio Fabrega of Panama responded with the significant declaration that the Americas want peace but will fight together to protect their liberty.

Lt. Gen. H. J. Brees, corps area commander, Generals Collins and Krueger, and Brig. Gen. Donovan welcomed the visitors when they alighted from their plane, while the Randolph Field band played the Volivian national anthem, and a 17-gun salute boomed.

Channel Authorized At Texas Port For Destroyer Building

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A Senate-House conference committee agreed Saturday upon a rivers and harbors bill authorizing $34,500,000 for projects classified as national defense measures.

The conference groups approved three Senate increases including a $137,000 project at Orange, Tex., on the Sabine-Neches waterway to provide a channel for a yard constructing destroyers.

The bill merely authorized the projects. Funds must be appropriated later.

Student Is Honoree At Hockaday School

HARLINGEN—Miss Billie Faye Trammell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. L. Trammell, was one of the honorees at a Club Council reception at Hockaday Junior College in Dallas, where she is a freshman student, Wednesday evening, October 2. Skits were presented by the six college clubs: Book Review, Dramatic, Classical, Current History, French, and Scribblers. She will designate the club which she prefers to join within a week.

Miss Trammell will also take part in the Mobilization for Americanism activities scheduled on the campus for the week beginning Sunday, October 6.

Legion's Auxiliary Not To Meet Monday

HARLINGEN—Announcement of the meeting of the Harlingen American Legion Auxiliary for October 7, published in a recent issue of the Valley Morning Star, Saturday was declared erroneous by officers of the local auxiliary. The meeting will not be held October 7.

BACK FROM CONVENTION

PHARR—Mrs. Folsom Mittelstadt, instructor at the Pharr Val Rie School of Beauty Culture, returned this week from San Antonio where she attended the national convention of beauticians, which was held in the Gunter Hotel.

Interpreting The War News

Tendency Of German Public To Expect Miracles From Army Worries Leaders; Victory Rests With Infantry

Blitzkrieg Secret Is Explained By Army Officer

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON

Thirteen months of up-to-date war in Europe, with Nazi blitzkrieg trimmings, leaves the question of British sea versus German air power unsettled; but has not changed a fundamental concept of how land battles are fought and won.

It is still bayonets that win battles, not machines. That is the essence of German blitzkrieg technique, of all military experience. The function of all other arms, from Roman chariots to 80-ton Nazi tanks, from rock-hurling catapaults to bomb - dropping planes, is to help the foot-soldiery to do its grim job.

Germans Expect Miracles

The only miracle referred to by German experts in recounting the stunning victories by Hitler's armies from Poland to France is a miracle of training and staff precision to achieve coordinated application in battle. That is the lesson of the war, of the World War and of all previous wars.

Nazi militarists have noted a tendency in German public opinion—which they regard as dangerous—to expect miracles where mechanical robots do the fighting, not men. Before this writer is a translation of an article in a Berlin technical military journal, "Militar Ochenblatt," appearing in Berlin last August. Its title is "Die Infantrie Im Blitzkrieg" and it came from the pen of a German professional soldier of rank.

He analyzes Nazi army victories from Poland to the final cracking of the French line on the Somme-Aisne which brought France to her knees. This is his conclusion:

"They (the battles) have proved that the enemy's last resistance must be broken, as hitherto, by the infantry, and that in the last hundred meters of a charge the infantry must accomplish this result unaided (by tanks, aircraft or artillery) and solely by force of its own weapons. . . . it (the German infantry) bore the main burden of the struggle and proved to be queen of the battlefield."

The writer quotes from present German army regulations to govern training for "combined arms" as follows:

Up To Infantry

"The object of all arms is to allow the infantry to reach the enemy while still in possession of sufficient firing and attacking power to bring about a final decision."

If "in many places" in those battles the Nazi infantry came to grips with "an already crushed foe" due to effectiveness of Nazi aviation and tanks, the author adds, "this merely proves that our troops of all arms have been properly trained and not that the importance of the infantry's mission has diminished."

Because of that training, also, the writer adds, German infantry frequently reached its objective "with incredibly small losses" and was able to spring forward in hot pursuit to exploit a tactical success and turn it into a smashing strategic victory.

"This necessitates bold and decisive action on the part of subordinate commanders, who can usually count only on their own respective units and must wage the combat without relying on assistance of their neighbors," the article added. . . . "the commanders of even the smallest (German army) units were glad to assume responsibility. It was this fact that was new to our foes.

"They call it blitzkrieg and talk of our secrets. To us this quick success was due our training."

Police Find 'I Ain't No Rookie' Gal Tells It Straight In Dallas Arrest; Blotter Shows 751st Arrest For Her

DALLAS —(AP)— Though haggard, the woman was well-dressed —and sarcastic.

"Don't give me that line, coppers," she chided two policemen questioning her at the city jail Saturday concerning a recent robbery.

"You ain't got a thing on me and you know it. I ain't no rookie."

She was correct.

Police records showed it to be her 751st jail confinement here in 15 years.

5 INJURED IN THREE WRECKS

George Clayton Said Not Serious

McALLEN—George Clayton, 65, McAllen boiler worker, was receiving treatment in the City Hospital here Saturday for injuries sustained Friday night when he was struck by an automobile driven by Ross Currier of Raymondville on the highway inside the west city limits.

Currier told County Patrolman George Murray he did not see Clayton until he was too close to avoid hitting the elderly man. Currier was not going at a fast rate of speed, Murray said, and came to a stop within 25 or 30 feet after the impact.

Physicians said Clayton sustained multiple cuts on the right thigh and back of the head. His condition was not regarded as serious. Murray said the driver apparently was not to blame.

Antonio Riojoa, resident of San Luis Potosi, Mexico, was seriously injured when his car was in collision with a gravel truck driven by Charles F. Danner of Pharr on the U. S. 83 highway curve east of Mission Friday afternoon. Murray said Rioja's car failed to make the curve. The injured man received treatment at a Mission physician's office.

Slight cuts and bruises were sustained by three McAllen girls and two McAllen men in a collision at North Second street and East Hackberry Highway just outside the McAllen city limits late Friday. City Patrolman Earl Hersh, accompanied by Carl Skinner, was driving a new demonstrator car, which was in collision with a car occupied by Miss Woodra Bray, Miss Norma Lee Bray and Miss Clarine Nelson. Murray and State Patrolman Edd Hearn are investigating the crash.

El Jardin To Hear Townsend Lecturer

BROWNSVILLE — Miss Roberta Schmale, Garden City, Kan., nationally known Townsend lecturer, will speak Sunday at the El Jardin Townsend club's regular monthly picnic at Ebony Grove.

Other talks will be made by Mrs. Wanda Hatchew and Mrs. Ethel Saygidie. Judge and Mrs. W. W. Stevens, Texas Townsend representatives, will atttend the picnic.

Miss Schmale also will speak at 8 p. m. Monday at Market Square.

Harlingen Townsend Club Meets Monday

HARLINGEN — Meeting of the Harlingen Townsend Club will be held Monday at the city hall auditorium at 8 p.m., with Dan Martin of Mission as principal speaker. Club President I. A. Baker said Saturday.

Kolb Rites Set

Raymondville Mass Is Sunday At 8 A. M.

RAYMONDVILLE—White mass will be said here at the Catholic Church Sunday at 8 a.m. for Mrs. Margaret Kolb, 83, wife of Jacob Klob, Raymondville, who died Friday at 6 a.m. at the home of her son-in-law, C. W. Gist, after a short illness. Rosary will be said at 3:30 p.m. by Father Patrick F. Ward, Raymondville.

Pallbearers will be Anton Trophy, Ben Eckelkamp, John Morris, John Wetegrove, Doyle Bush and Agnes Young. Arrangements are in charge of Duddlesten Mortuary.

Survivors are the husband; a son Frank J. Kolb, Denver, who is to come here for the service; a daughter, Mrs. C. W. Gist, Raymondville; three grandchildren; one great-grandchild. Deceased was born March 9, 1857, at Burlington, Iowa, married Jacob Kolb June 14, 1877, at Danville, Iowa. She had been a resident of the Valley since 1936. She came here from Wichita, Kan.

ITALY SLAPS SERVILE TURK

Axis To Take Field Against Britain

ROME—(AP)—A denunciation of the Turks as "servile satellites" of the British and "the American columns which stand beside them was made Saturday by Virginio Gayda, one of the most authoritative of Fascist journalistic spokesmen.

Despite these bitter references to British-Allied Turkey, however, Gayda—had nothing specific to say as to the next military moves of Germany and Italy, beyond declaring roundly:

"The two Axis powers are resuming their war operations, never interrupted, with the greatest intensity. The effect will be seen soon."

An intensified attempt to drive the British out of Egypt and seize the Suez Canal was expected in foreign circles as Fascist observers forecast a strong fall offensive against Britain.

The conquest of Egypt is considered of such importance the possibility of the Germans aiding the Italians in a quick thrust there was seen by some. Hitler, these sources said, might help the Italians with planes, other equipment and supplies, if not troops.

France might be involved in Axis plans for the Near East, some onlookers thought, although both Italian and German circles discredited rumors of a possible peace settlement and alliance with France. France's conquerors, it was suggested, might be able to obtain the use of air bases in Syria by some arrangement short of an actual treaty.

More Safety Sallys

Safety Sallys are being distributed to schools throughout the valley. Pictured above is a portion of the remaining 100 being loaded into a truck at the Harlingen Fair grounds where they were constructed by the NYA under the sponsorship of the Valley's 20-30 clubs. Distribution has been made possible through the cooperation of the J. H. Robinson Truck Lines. 140 Safety Sallys have been delivered in Valley towns and Harlingen will receive theirs shortly.

SERVICE HELD FOR PIONEER

Mrs. Fernandez Is Buried Saturday

BROWNSVILLE—With members of many of Brownsville's oldest families in attendance, last rites were held here Saturday for Mrs. Francisca Champion Fernandez, 87, the mother of a promnient family here.

Mrs. Fernandez, who died Friday afternoon at her residence, Eighth and Elizabeth streets, had been a life-long resident of Port Isabel and Brownsville.

High mass was sung at the Immaculate Conception church by Father E. de Anta. Father E. Fuentes was deacon and Father Theofele was sub-deacon. Rites also were held at graveside in the family's plot in the Old City cemetery.

The decedent was the widow of the late Miguel Fernandez, who came to the Valley from Spain, first settling in Port Isabel and later moving to Brownsville. He became one of the foremost merchants in South Texas and northern Mexico.

Surviving are: Three sons, Miguel and Albert, both of Brownsville, and Gonzalo Fernandez of Florida; four daughters, Mrs. J. Gomez, Mrs. Lee Butler and Miss Francisca Fernandez, all of Brownsville; and Mrs. Anita Ortiz of Spain; 30 grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

First Aid Is Taught

A demonstration of artificial respiration is given by James Callaway to victim James Hanna before a number of students taking a course in first aid at Harlingen's Junior High School. The course was begun here Friday with State Highway Patrolmen J. O. Musick and W. B. Dixon instructing.

BRITISH INVASION EXPECTED THIS WEEK

'U. S. Is Ready If Forced To Fight' Says Knox

NAVY, MARINE RESERVES TO REPORT NOW

'Alliance Directed At America'

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Secretary Knox ordered 27,591 navy and marine reservists into uniform Saturday after pointedly warning the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo Axis that "if a fight is forced upon us we shall be ready."

The order applied to the entire organized and fleet reserves of the navy and marine corps. It will swell to 239,281 the number of officers and men on active duty, giving the seagoing forces a strength in personnel they have not possessed since the post-World War period.

Warns Of Menace

Shortly before he issued his order, the naval secretary said unequivocally in an address to graduates of the National Police Academy that the Japanese-German-Italian alliance "is directed at us," and that the United States would not be "intimidated." His remarks were widely interpreted as an administration reply to Friday's assertion by Prince Konoye, the Japanese premier, that any challenge of the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo Axis would tumble the United States into a "fight to the finish."

"We are the largest obstacle in the path of the totalitarian powers," Knox said. "Should Great Britain fail to stem the wide of ever advancing tyranny we shall find ourselves surrounded by these international brigands, whose greatest victory would be the destruction of the United States.

"We Haven't Lost Yet?"

"Never understanding us they suppose our people can be brought under their iron rule. Both as an American and as an official of the navy I know differently. If a fight is forced upon us we shall be ready for them. We have never lost a war yet."

Just back from an inspection of the fleet, Hawaiian and west coast defenses, Knox asserted that the American sea force was the "most powerful, most efficient fleet in the world today, fully capable of upholding the American tradition of victory at sea, which has done so much to establish and continue us as a free people."

Asserting that "our mode of life has never been so challenged as it now is," Knox said that under the circumstances an adequate navy "demands that we be able to meet enemies far from our own shores and defeat them in both oceans—simultaneously if necessary.

DEMOS CLAIM WILLKIE 'SNOB'

Republicans Confer On Strategy

By The Associated Press

Wendell L. Willkie talked strategy with Republican Party leaders of New York Saturday while at the other end of the empire State Democratic Attorney General Robert H. Jackson was accusing the Republican nominee of "snobbery" in his campaigning.

State Republican leaders met Willkie as he stepped from his train at New York City and they hurried off for a day of conferences before the nominee headed out on a series of night speeches in Brooklyn. The conferences were a prelude to a scheduled chain of speeches and appearances in New Jersey and New England during the forthcoming week.

Willkie Criticized

Jackson criticized Willkie in an address at Buffalo in ceremonies formally notifying Senator James M. Mead of his renomination by the Democrats.

Willkie, Jackson asserted, is "talking down to his fellow Americans

Invasion Coast Is Ablaze After Raid

LONDON—(AP)—British bombers made a mighty attack upon the German-held ports across the Channel Saturday night, cliff watchers reported that the French "invasion" coast appeared aflame from Dunkerque to Boulogne.

British sources in the meantime responded to reports that the long-awaited Nazi attempt at invasion seemed close at hand: "If they come, we're ready for them!"

Draftees Get Relief

Guard House To Be Used 'Sparingly' And Discipline Won't Be So Tough

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Instructions went out to army posts Saturday to use the guard house as sparingly as possible when disciplining the men soon to be drafted for mass training.

Major General Leslie J. McNair, general headquarters chief of staff, said all means should be used to avoid absenting men from training designed to harden and season them.

"While the highest standards of discipline are essential, disciplinary action preferably and where practicable will be of forms which do not involve absence from training," General McNair said. "Confinement especially be reduced to the minimum."

Just Like War

Other instructions issued indicated an intention to steel the eardrums and nerves of recruits to the blasting sounds of war. They specified that when the stage of training in units is reached, blank ammunition should be used frequently to approximate actual battle sounds. Numerous firing tests with live ammunition also will be given.

Veteran officers suggested it was important that recruits become accustomed to battlefield tumult to minimize the peril of panic and confusion when troops are first under fire in wartime.

Rewards To Be Prompt

In his directive, General McNair advised that the army be prompt to reward with promotion and increased responsibility new soldiers who demonstrate qualities of leadership.

"Inadequate leadership must be uncovered equally promptly and replaced," he added.

He also said in effect the drafted men should be allowed to take it easy until they are hardened.

"Training," he said, "must insure proper and gradual conditioning of the trainees, avoiding undue physical demands initially but developing eventually ability to endure prolonged and severe physical exertion."

SERIES AGAIN EVEN AS REDS WIN GAME 5-2

Newsom, Thompson May Pitch Today

BRIGGS STADIUM, Detroit—(AP)—The courageous Cincinnati Reds coursed back onto even terms in the 1940 World Series Saturday by muzzling the Detroit Tigers, 5 to 2, on the five-hit pitching of big Paul Derringer.

The Reds raided three Detroit pitchers for 11 hits and were always on the attack, to the amazement of a crowd of 54,093 who turned out for the fourth fracas of the annual autumn classic.

Derringer Is Star

They kept up a more or less constant shower of hits, but the important contribution to the conquest was the strong-arm hurling of Derringer.

It was the fifth time the 33-year-old Kentuckian had started in a World Series, once when he was breaking in for the St. Louis Cardinals and four times with the Reds, and this was his first victory.

He went into Saturday's tussle as a bit of surprising strategy on the part of Manager Bill McKechnie and determined to stifle the Tiger sluggers. He did it with the same stout-hearted elbowing that he has used to pull the National League champions out of many another tight hole.

Wild At Start

He was wild at the start, but the longer he pitched the tougher he became, giving no hits and no walks after the sixth inning.

The Reds, in the meantime, had pounced on Paul (Dizzy) Trout for two runs in the first inning and shelled him off the mound before he got anybody out in the third.

As usual the bell cow of the Cincinnati club was Bill Werber, who went to the plate five times and got on base four—with two singles and two walks.

He waited out a pass to start the game and after he had been forced by Mike McCormick, little Ival Goodman slammed the first pitch into the left field corner for a double and a run. Goodman went to third on an infield out and scored himself when Pinky Higgins let a grounder by Jim Ripple get through him for an error.

Trout To Showers

Trout was touched for two more singles in the second without damage, but in the third Goodman led off with a sizzling single to right center and on the hit and run went to third as Frank (Buck) McCormick singled to right. Rippie doubled to score Goodman and send the bespectacled right-hander plodding to the showers.

Clay Smith, who went to the rescue, squeezed out of the jam by forcing two players to pop up, purposely passing Billy Myers to fill

Water Pumped From Panamanian

GALVESTON—(AP)—Tugs were at work all day Saturday pumping water out of the flooded engineroom of the Panamanian taker Panamanian, as she lay aground in the roads of Galveston harbor, but the work had not been completed early Saturday night, and completion of an underwriters' survey was awaiting the completion of the pumping.

The vessel, which loaded 65 drums of gasoline for Japan at the Galveston harbor port of Texas City had her engineroom flooded about 2 o'clock Friday morning as she lay at anchor in the roads. It is believed that the flooding resulted from faulty functioning of the steam condensing system. Tugs were called to the vessel, and she was moved to a shallow place and beached.

5 KILLED IN TEXAS CRASH

Barnstormers Collide Over Velasco

FREEPORT, Tex.—(AP)—Five persons crashed to death Saturday as plane piloted by a barnstorming father and son collided in the air near Velasco. The father was among those killed, the son escaped injury.

Jack Turner, Freeport undertaker, said that Tag Eure told him his small craft struck a larger ship in which his father, Claude Eure, was taking four persons on a pleasure flight. The collision fouled the controls of the elder Eure's plane.

The son glided down in a "dead stick" landing, the propeller of his ship broken.

The dead besides Eure:

Dave S. Crowley, about 60, of Velasco. His son, J. R. Crowley, about 21, employe of the Freeport Sulphur Company.

Tom J. Knowles, about 45, employe of the Freeport Sulphur Company.

One middle-aged unidentified man.

Persons who examined the instruments said that the plane apparently fell from an altitude of 1800 feet.

Eure had been in this vicinity, with his plane for several weeks. He had been taking passengers on brief flights over the area.

Texas' 36th Guard Outstanding In US

FORT WORTH—(AP)—Heritage of the old thirty-sixth division is reflected in the present Texas National Guard bearing its name, Col. Ernest O. Thompson, officer of the present day thirty-sixth and a member of the railroad commission of Texas, told the veterans at their reunion banquet here Saturday night.

"The thirty-sixth division today is the outstanding national guard division in the nation," Col. Thompson said, "and it has been made so because sons, nephews and other kinsmen of you men are only trying to live up to the enviable reputation you made overseas."

100,000 At Opening Of Texas State Fair

DALLAS—(AP)—Miss Jerry Jenkins, 16, of Greenville, was crowned queen of the State Fair of Texas in ceremonies at the Cotton Bowl Saturday night.

Fair president Harry L. Seay estimated the crowd at more than 100,000 which would exceed the record attendance of 93,000 at last year's opening day.

8700 ELIGIBLE TO REGISTER IN CAMERON

Draft Boards, Places Are Revealed

BROWNSVILLE — Estimated total registration of draft eligibles in Cameron county was revised downward Saturday by County Clerk H. D. Seago. The anticipated total is now 8,700 as compared with the first estimate of 10,000. Of this total 1,500 were expected from Harlingen, 3,050 from Brownsville and 950 from San Benito.

All 35 precinct registration places were announced Saturday, as were appointments of 32 of the 35 chief registrars. A conference of all chief registrars for instruction in duties and regulations will be called next week, Mr. Seago said.

Precinct 30 Largest

By far the largest precinct is expected to be No. 30 in Harlingen where 600 eligibles are anticipated. Next in size are the seventh, eighth and tenth in Brownsville, with 400 each. The two smallest are the 23rd at Rangerville and the 28th at Wilson with 75 each.

Registration blanks are expected in the county clerk's office Tuesday. Regulations governing the event have been received and copies will be given all chief registrars. More than 200 more volunteer workers are still needed, although several schools have not yet been heard from where considerable teacher aid is expected.

Three Draft Boards

Three local draft boards will be set up in Cameron county, according to information received Saturday by County Clerk Seago. One is located in Brownsville and definite information concerning the other two has not yet been announced, but these are expected for Harlingen and San Benito.

The local draft boards will start work October 17, the day following registration day. They will assemble all cards and classify registrants. President Roosevelt is expected to announce the appointment of the personnel of the Cameron county draft boards next week. It is understood the appointments have already been made, but need only the president's confirmation.

Small Towns Offer Poorest Diet, Says Nutrition Expert

AUSTIN—(AP)—Small towns offer the poorest diets in Texas, a vocational educator told mutrition experts and social science workers here Saturday.

Miss Ruth Huey, director of home economics in the vocational division of the state department of education, asserted the small community diet standards were worse than those of either rural or urban areas.

Draftees May Offer Registration Help

AUSTIN—(AP)—Modifying a previous interpretation, the adjutant general's department said Saturday men of draft age may volunteer their services as registration workers.

In a letter to Binford Arney of Amarillo, president of the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce, Adjutant General J. Watt Page said members of the chamber may offer their services to county clerks and judges.

San Antonio Tot Is Killed In Accident

SAN ANTONIO —(AP)— Six-year-old Leroy Gerla died Saturday a few hours after being hit by a car.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy L. Gerla.

Temperature Climbs To 95 Saturday

HARLINGEN—The weather man was not paying much attention to the calendar Saturday, with a maximum temperature of 95 degrees recorded here. The minimum Friday night was 68, making a range of 27 degrees between the low and high.

At the Brownsville airport weather station, a maximum of 91 and a minimum of 70 were reported.

Coach Fired For Marring The Grass

Czar Of Orange Ired When Team Practices On His Pretty Field

ORANGE, Tex. —(AP)— H. J. Lutcher Stark, wealthy lumberman, is financial godfather to Orange high school youngsters.

During the summer, he put some 100 members of the Bengal Guards, girls drill squad, into new uniforms and sent them on a $20,000 special train trip to a Chicago music festival.

The high school football team this fall is playing in a new $50,000 stadium donated by the financier.

Now, Dexter Shelley, former Texas University football star and Orange coach, said Saturday that Stark had provided the school with a new head coach.

"Mr. Stark was displeased over the fact that I took my team out on the new field instead of the practice field for a workout Thursday night," Shelley said, "so I am no longer coach.

"Apparently Mr. Stark was afraid that the cleats would mar the surface of the new field unnecessarily in practice."

Stark's only comment was: "We have a definite policy, a very definite policy, in our organization. We never explain, we never admit, we never deny.

"All I have to say is, I believe Shelley pulled a blade of grass."

TRACTOR AND AUTO COLLIDE

Three Men Hurt Near Raymondville

RAYMONDVILLE — Three men were seriously injured in an auto-tractor smash up a mile north of here early Saturday morning.

D. E. Lauderback, Jr., Hebbronville, was driver of a car in which Clause Moran, Raymondville, was passenger, when the machine crashed into a Farmall tractor. Both vehicles were badly damaged.

The tractor, which State Highway Patrolmen Ben Thomas and J. H. Hollyfield said was equipped with lights, was operated by Carmen Cantu, employe of J. R. Florence, Raymondville.

Cantu suffered a broken bone and deep gash in left ankle, ribs and chest injuries; Moran a severe wound about the mouth and nose, back, ribs and other hurts; and Lauderback suffered four broken ribs and cuts and bruises about the body. The three were taken for treatment to Raymondville Hospital in a Duddlesten ambulance, but were released.

County Attorney James Strawn said charges would be filed Monday in the case.

TELEGRAPHER DIES

Siam Will Continue Quest For Territory

TOKYO —(AP)— Premier Luang Bipul Songgram of Thailand (Siam) declared in an interview Saturday that his country is determined to pursue its quest of disputed regions in French Indo-China, but has no intention of resorting to arms. Domei (Japanese news agency) reported in a dispatch from Bangkok.

OPTIMISM SEEN OVER ENGLAND

British Are Ready For Axis Surprise

LONDON—(AP)—Whatever "surprises" the axis dictators arranged at their Brenner Pass meeting, military sources here look to the approaching winter with what they term "reasonable confidence" and a feeling that the worst of the air asault on England has been dealt in the last four weeks.

Certain high ranking experts still believe there is a possibility of a German invasion attempt in October or November, but the public does not. Most authoritative sources agree, however, that Hitler will not try it until he thinks he has mastery of the air over England.

Raids A Failure

The air warfare intended to knock out London was launched four weeks ago. The raiders have destroyed homes, bombed hospitals and schools, flattened whole blocks of East End tenements, ripped open dignified West End stores, blown up office buildings in the center of the city and fired the docks along the Thames.

London stands battered but unbowed.

There are staggering problems, however.

Britain must provide new homes for the people bombed out of their own and safer and more comfortable shelters for all.

Many are without gas or sanitary

TWIN ATTACK ON EMPIRE IS FORECAST

Italian Fliers Move To French Ports

BULLETIN
BERLIN (Sunday)—(AP)—The German shortwave radio broadcast early today that "maybe" waves of German bombers now flying toward England would be followed "soon" by hundreds of thousands of troops now standing ready.

By The Associated Press

An Axis drive soon to smash Britain and her empire—with the Germans attempting to storm England while Italy strikes at her Mediterranean lifelines—shaped up Saturday night as the reported next turn in Rome-Berlin strategy.

This was the belief of veteran observers in Switzerland, both neutral and belligerent, who previously had discounted such indications as camouflage.

Armies Are Ready

Their conclusion that the Germans may attempt the long-threatened invasion of England soon—perhaps in the coming week—was based on reports that all was ready for Adolph Hitler's command at the "invasion ports," with Italian planes and fliers in occupied France behind the Nazi forces.

Belief the Italians are ready to start a major offensive toward Alexandria and the Suez was based on reports from Italy of German troops, engineers and specialists passing through the Brenner Pass on the way to the Italian base in Libya.

It was believed possible also that Spain, despite assertions of her continuing non-belligerency, might try to grab Gibraltar with the help of Italy by sea and air and Germany by land.

Plans Are Secret

Berlin and Rome, although hinting at an impending knockout swing, still made a mystery of axis

VALLEY FRUIT MOVES FASTER

Harlingen, McAllen Have First Cars

HARLINGEN — Although only three cars of new season Valley citrus fruit were reported officially to have been shipped, the total for Saturday was expected to be around eight cars. Growers were said to be getting around $25 a ton for Marsh seedless grapefruit.

The South Texas Produce Company moved McAllen's first car Saturday while the Stuart Place Citrus Association and A. J. (French) LeFort moved Harlingen's first cars.

Plants at Edinburg, Alamo and other points were reported loading but the Texas-Federal Shipping Point Inspection service had no final word on whether the cars actually moved. Polis and Hagen of Edinburg had fruit almost ready to move Friday and other firms reported busy, especially at Alamo. Some of the fruit went out by truck in less than car lots.

The South Texas Produce Company car was a solid car of Foster pinks. W. S. Dougherty of the firm said the 372 boxes of fruit came from the V. C. Gillespie orchard, Mission. Another car was to be loaded Sunday.

There will be no Sunday loading after this week, according to Hart T. Longino, supervisor of the Texas-Federal Shipping Point Inspection Service.

The Stuart Place Association car consisted of Duncan grapefruit with almost two-thirds grading U. S.

Willkie Calls Down 'Cowards, Curs' Who Impugn Patriotism

NEW YORK —(AP)— Wendell L. Willkie told a cheering Brooklyn audience Saturday night that "any man, no matter how high his position, who impugns the completeness of my patriotism is a coward and a cur."

He said he had been informed that "there is a whispering campaign about Wendell Willkie."

Speaking in a Brooklyn high school auditorium, the Republican presidential nominee appealed for the protection of civil liberties and said they should be guarded "without prejudice from any source."

PLANS READY FOR M'ALLEN FIELD MASS

Rev. Fr. Sexton Will Deliver Sermon

McALLEN—Rev. Fr. George Sexton, O.M.I., prominent southwestern missionary preacher, will deliver the sermon Sunday, Oct. 13, at a 10 a.m. field mass for world peace here.

The solemn high mass will be sung at the east side of the McAllen High school athletic field, where sufficient seating accommodations will be installed to take care of thousands of Valley Catholics and Protestants expected to attend.

Sponsored by the McAllen-Mission council of the Knights of Columbus, the mass will mark their observance of Columbus Day, Oct. 12, and provide a "unified massed prayer for peace in a troubled world," Rev. Fr. George Laliberte, O.M.I., assistant pastor at Sacred Heart church here, said. Fr. Laliberte is also chaplain for the local K. of C. council.

Rev. Fr. Tymen, O.M.I., pastor of the Mission church and dean of Valley Catholic priests, will be celebrant of the mass. He will be assisted by Rev. Fr. Charles Buckley of McAllen as deacon and Rev. Fr. Phillip Hoag, assistant pastor of Weslaco, a subdeacon. Fr. Laliberte will be master of ceremonies.

A meeting of all men in the local parish has been called for Sunday, Oct. 6, immediately following the 10 a.m. mass.

In addition to the colorful and symbolic ritual of the Catholic mass, there will be a procession of all members of church societies from the local church to the field. The procession, to be headed by the McAllen High school band, will proceed from the church at 9:30 a.m. During the march the decades of the rosary will be chanted.

A mixed choir from the McAllen, Mission and Weslaco churches will sing responses to the mass. A public address system will be installed at the temporary altar and choir loft so that the words of the ceremony will be spread over the field.

Sponsors of the mass have invited all Valley residents to attend.

Who's Exempted?

Draft Won't Affect Armed Classes

AUSTIN—(AP)—Members of the organized reserve corps are not required to register for selective service purposes on October 16, the adjutant general's department announced Saturday.

Reviewing requirements of the law, the department listed these classes as the only ones exempt from registration:

Members of the armed forces of the United States, the active national guard, the reserve corps, coast guard, coast and geodetic survey, public health service, cadets and midshipmen at the U. S. Military and Naval academies and cadets of the advanced course, senior division, reserve officers training corps and naval reserve officers training corps.

Staffs of foreign diplomatic establishments in this country also are exempt.

Texas Deficit Hits High Of 26 Million

AUSTIN—(AP)—Climbing to an unprecedented record, the state's general fund deficit Saturday stood at $26,125,278.

In the Red $1,639,184 more than it was 13 days ago, the growing deficit was attributed to a loss of revenue to relief bond sinking funds which receive a large share of general revenue during the first three months of each fiscal year. The previous record deficit was $24,726,225 on November 28, 1939.

Narrow Escape From Guernsey Told In Letter To Woman At Fort Isabel; 50 Killed In German Raid On Docks

PORT ISABEL — Miss Marion MacDonald of Port Isabel received a letter from her cousin, Mrs. H. H. Langton, who spoke of her sister in war-torn England.

She said "We had been, as you realize, very anxious about Amy and George living, till June 28th, in Guernsey. On that day they got away in the last mail boat to England, fortunately escaping with their lives when their boat was bombed after they had gone on board.

"For five hours, from 7 p. m. until 12, they had to stand up in the lounge (no cabins available) with life belts on, expecting at any moment to be killed. After 12 they were allowed to take off life belts and keep them beside them to be ready for another attack.

"The anti-aircraft guns on their steamer kept the German attackers so high up they could not aim directly at any time, but more than 50 people were killed or wounded on and near the Guernsey docks, so the bombs fell fairly near their ship. After 36 hours they got to England."

Mrs. Eleanor Roth's Painting Displayed At City News Stand

HARLINGEN — Mrs. Eleanor Roth's painting of St. Helena Canyon, in the proposed Big Bend national park sector, will be on display at City News Stand all this week, Mrs. Herman Bupp, proprietor of the stand, said Saturday.

The picture took first honors in a contest the past summer among art students at Alpine.

Jap Bombers Strike Again At Sino City

CHUNGKING —(AP)— Japanese bombers struck Chengtu, capital of Szechwan province, at noon Saturday in a second consecutive daily raid, and inflicted some damage in the southwestern section of the city, where there is foreign mission property. Three Japanese planes were reported shot down.

At least 500 casualties were caused by Friday's attack among Chinese bunched near the city's eastern gate.

Indians At War With US Are To Register

MIAMI, Fla. —(AP)— Braves of the Seminole Indian tribe, still technically at war with the United States, are going to register for conscription.

There are 65 members of the tribe in the Florida Everglades subject to the draft who will register on October 16.

Although the Seminole war has been ended a century, the tribe never has formally made peace with the United States.

Lady's Rheumatism Is Long Lost Needle

TERRE HAUTE, Ind.—(AP)—Mrs. Lela Jeffers told her husband, the Rev. A. R. Jeffers, she believed she had rheumatism in her right leg.

The minister examined her leg and pulled out a needle.

Mrs. Jeffers said she must have swallowed it when a girl but didn't remember doing so.

Entire Crew Saved As Vessel Is Sunk

LONDON —(AP)—The entire crew of the Donaldson Line Ship Corrientes, 6,863 tons, sunk by German action more than a week ago, is safe, the owners reported after receiving a radio message from Captain Stewart.

The message said all 50 crewmen had been picked up by a westbound freighter and probably would be landed at an American or Canadian port.

Houston Man Heads Officer Association

FORT WORTH —(AP)— John T. Scott, Jr., Houston, was elected president of the first Officers Training Camp Association, and Houston was chosen for the 1941 reunion city at the annual meeting here.

DEMOS CLAIM WILLKIE 'SNOB'

Republicans Confer On Strategy

and they resent it further," Jackson said, there is "deep resentment" at Willkie's "sneers at President fine command of the English Roosevelt's education, sneers at his language, and sneers because the president is a member of a distinguished American family."

Willkie's presence in the politically important state coincided with a visit by the president to New York. When Mr. Roosevelt left the capital for a week-end stay at his Hyde Park home he was accompanied by an old adviser on presidential addresses and campaigning, Justice Samuel I. Rosenman of the New York supreme court.

Roosevelt Speaks

In a speech dedicating three Dutchess county schools the president reviewed some of the record of his administration since its inception eight years ago. Among other things, he said.

"There were some in those days (eight years ago) who chanted that nature had to run its course of misery, that deflation could not be stopped, and that the depression was only the working of natural economic laws in a system of free enterprise.

"The American government decided to reject this philosophy of inaction and irresponsibility and indifference to the destitution of its citizens. In its place was substituted a new doctrine—that the government owned a continuing responsibility to see to it that no one should starve who was willing to work."

McNary Raps Treaties

Senator Charles McNary, Republican vice presidential nominee, in a talk prepared for a Ulen, Minn., meeting, said the reciprocal trade treaties promoted by the Roosevelt administration, had failed to promote peace or benefit agriculture.

"The New Deal already has made our economic borders defenseless," McNary said. "Because of the reciprocal trade treaties our trade frontiers are unprotected."

At Washington, an argument (through the medium of an exchange of public statements) arose over administration handling of unemployment statistics as related to the national census.

Representative Keefe (R-Wis) accused the commerce department of "deliberately holding up announcement of the total figures on unemployment from the 1940 census until after the presidential election." He said "reliable sources" reported the census would show 12,500,000 unemployed in the spring of 1940, which he said was an increase of almost 2,000,000 since 1937.

Jones Wants Figures

Secretary Jesse Jones, in reply, said it was a "physical impossibility to obtain total results respecting unemployment or any of the other 30-odd classificatons until an actual hand-count of the total population has been completed and punch cards made representing each of the 131,409,881 individual returns." The law allows until December 1, he added, to complete this count.

Ancient Roman Ruin Found As Air Raid Shelters Are Built

CARLISLE, Scotland—(AP)—Workmen constructing air raid shelters in the suburb of Stanwix have uncovered a nine-acre Roman fort dating back to about the second century.

The Fort, which formed part of Hadrian's Wall, is rectangular shaped, 580 feet by 700 feet and is 300 feet broader than any other fort on the wall.

Hadrian's Wall, 74 miles long, was built by Roman Emperor Hadrian in about 120 A. D. and stretched from Solway Firth to the mouth of the Tyne. It was designed to protect Roman Britain from the tribes of the north.

Powder Box Plant Is Razed By Fire

MEDIA, Pa. —(AP)— Fire early Saturday swept the Paper Canister Co., Fernwood, Delaware county, which has been making powder containers for the government.

Three New Jersey men were held for questioning, and Fire Chief Harry Straub of East Lansdowne said:

"It looks very much like sabotage because the fire spread so quickly."

TO GALVESTON

PHARR—Miss Eugenia Tobleman left Friday for Galveston where she will enroll at John Sealy Hospital to complete her laboratory technician course.

NAZI INVASION SET THIS WEEK

plans. Nazi informants spoke of a blow at an especially "vulnerable spot"—unnamed—while talk in Berlin centered on the eastern Mediterranean as a potential decisive battleground.

Fascist editorial guns turned on Turkey as a satellite of Britain and the United States, but Virginia Gayda, Italy's most authoritative editorial voice, contented himself with the declaration that "the two Axis powers are resuming their war operations . . . the effect will be seen soon."

Britain "Confident"

Whatever "surprises" the Axis may plan, British military sources looked toward the winter, they said, with "reasonable confidence" as the Nazi air siege of London went into its fifth week.

Although Nazi raiders struck from the Channel to London and all over England Saturday, British informants said they believed the worst of Germany's aerial storm had passed.

Some German planes broke through the British defenses during the day, and the sky over London was red again last night with the most thunderous anti-aircraft barrage heard yet in the British capital.

But the British said the Germans had paid dearly for their attacks, losing 23 planes to nine British craft lost up to evening.

Invasion Ports Raided

Cliff watchers on the Channel coast said a mighty attack by British bombers had strung a line of flame from Dunkerque to Boulogne.

The Germans, listing railroad facilities, gas tanks, troop concentrations, docks, airports and munitions works as their bombers' targets, said 30 British planes had been bagged in the day's fighting and only five Nazi planes lost.

In Rumania, the month-old Iron Guard government decreed a law making state property of all rural land and dwellings to which Jews held title, and intensified its campaign on foreign interests in the country and on the regime of abdicated King Carol.

Toolmakers' Jobs

US Service Has 600 Appointments Now

HARLINGEN—The United States Civil Service Commission Saturday announced open positions for toolmakers, in connection with the national defense program.

Frank Lee, Harlingen secretary for the board of examiners, said immediate appointments are to be made at ordnance and naval establishments at Philadelphia, Boston, Springfield and Watertown, Watervliet, N. Y., and Washington, D. C. Approximately 600 appointments will be made at the Frankford Arsenal alone.

Pay scales vary according the the place of employment, Lee said, ranging from $6.24 a day to $1.17 an hour. Applicants must have completed a four-year apprenticeship as toolmaker or must have four years of practical experience in the trade. Information may be secured from Lee here, or from any first- or second-class postoffice.

Siamese Planes Are Raiding Indo-China

VICHY, France —(AP)— Thailand (Siamese) planes, the Petain government charges, are violating the French Indo-China frontier "systematically" in groups of 20 to 40 to back up territorial claims.

The flights range deep into Indo-China, the French declared, and began simultaneously with the appearance of Thailand borber reinforcements October 1, after Vichy refused demands for frontier revisions a second time.

KELLY RETURNS

BROWNSVILLE—John O. Kelly, Brownsville city engineer, returned to his office Friday after a month's vacation and leave of absence.

DETAINED

Dr. Frederick Ernest Auhagen, German citizen under subpoena before the Dies committee, is shown in custody at Los Angeles following his arrest by federal officers as he prepared to board a Japanese liner for Japan, Auhagen, former Columbia university language professor, was accused of express shipment of obscene literature from Chicago to Los Angeles.

Combination. Some Marsh seedless was shipped by truck by the association.

LeFort said his car was straight Marsh seedless with 70 per cent grading U. S. Combination and the rest U. S. No. 2. He said he expected to load two cars Monday and three Tuesday.

L. E. Pratt, chief of the maturity division of the state department of agriculture, said that the percentage of fruit passing was still about the same as when inspections started Tuesday, with much grapefruit still faling to pass.

Six or seven truckloads of fruit, mostly oranges, were shipped out Saturday from the Polis and Hagan plant at Edinburg. The bulk of the oranges were of the Hamlin variety.

The Edinburg Citrus association was also loading a carlot of fruit Saturday afternoon, but it was not expected to leave before the weekend.

Truck shipments were being loaded out of Pharr in large lots from the W. E. Baden and Valley Fruit company sheds.

facilities. Winter epidemics could become a dangerous menace.

Authoritative persons, however, believe British morale is tough enough to prevail with the aid of three things:

1. Intensified removal of mothers and children, with the possibility this will be extended to the aged and infirm.

2. A new shelter policy, expected under dynamic Socialist Herbert Morrison, new minister of home security.

3. "Rest periods" from Nazi raids of two or three days at a time when the winter weather gets too bad for bombing.

Most experts are counting, too, upon the RAF growing ever stronger as a defensive and offensive force from steady acceleration of aircraft production here and machine reinenforcements from the United States.

ALMAZAN AIDE APPLIES ANEW

U. S. Cancels Agent's Application Card

SAN ANTONIO—(AP)—Francisco Cardenas, representative of Gen. Juan Andrew Almazan, claimant to the presidency of Mexico, said here Saturday he was sent an airmail letter, containing a new application for registration under the foreign agents act, to the Department of State, Washington, D. C.

Earlier in the day, the department of state announced that Cardenas' application had been cancelled because his registration statement contained "surplusage inimical to the foreign policy of the United States."

The former governor of Nueva Leon, Mex., said he had been instructed to eliminate any "descriptive or qualifying phrases."

In his first application, Cardenas had identified himself a representing the Revolutionary Party of National Unification of Mexico and Gen. Juan Andreu Almazan, "as legitimate president-elect of Mexico."

RAF Bombers Hit At Lowlands, Germany; Nazis Planes Reply

BERLIN (Sunday)—(AP)—British bombers Saturday night and early today raided points in Holland, Belgium and Western Germany, but authorized German sources said they were turned back without losses.

There was no raid in Berlin, which has been without alarm for the past few nights.

The Germans at the same time reported they bombed middle and southeast England during the night.

Crew Of Sunk Liner Is Rescued At Sea

NEW YORK —(AP)— British refugee children reported on arrival that their ship, the Empress of Australia, stopped enroute to Canada and rescued the entire crew of the Holand-America Liner Volendam which they said had either been torpedoed or had struck a magnetic mine.

The children said they did not know what had happened to the passengers, if any, aboard the Volendam.

The rescued crew, the children said, were left at Halifax where the Empress of Australia docked. The children went by train to Montreal and from there to New York.

25 Years Assessed In Medina Slaying

BANDERA—(AP)—A district court jury here Saturday convicted Jess M. Autry of murder in the slaying of Hal Smith near Medina last January 13, and gave Autry a term of 25 years in the penitentiary.

Neutral Observers Believe Now That Invasion Is Due

BERN, Switzerland—(AP)—Signs of an imminent Axis offensive against both England and the British empire, dismissed at first as a smoke screen, were regarded by neutral and belligerent military observers alike here Saturday as probably correct.

British sources have begun to credit what they first took as Axis inspired reports that German forces on the North Sea and English Channel now have completed preparations for a smash at England and are only waiting the word "go."

Similar reports from the Mediterranean indicate the Italians also are set for a land drive across Egypt toward Alexandria and the Suez Canal and down the Valley of the Nile from Ethiopia.

May Attack Gibraltar

Spain, which the Axis has pictured as sticking to her non-belligerent role, is believed in these quarters to be ready to try to seize Gibraltar with air and sea aid from Italy and land aid from Germany.

(Dispatches from Algeciras, Spain, said 2,000 British troops landed Saturday to strengthen the garrison of the "rock" sentinel of the western Mediterranean.)

Here are some of the reports many veteran foreign observes have added up to mean an Axis offensive—perhaps in the coming week:

From Italy, accounts of travelers that German army engineers and specialists, even some Nazi troops, have been moving through the Brenner Pass toward Italian Libya;

From similar channels in Italy, that 500 Italian warplanes and 3,000 Italian fliers, navigators and airgunners now are in Nazi-occupied France and the low countries ready to bolster an attempt to invade England.

Invasion Talked Up

The Axis press and radio, inclined in September to talk down an invasion attempt, has begun since the Brenner meeting between Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini to hint it is not so far off after all.

The Axis powers are believed here to have based plans for an attack on Britain on all fronts before the United States elections November 5, primarily with an eye to America.

One Axis source in this country said a triumph against Egypt, Gibraltar or England herself is needed to convince the United States that it "is too late to save Britain."

Defense May Force Texas To Retrench

AUSTIN—(AP)—Unpaid state social security obligations and expanding federal appropriations for defense purposes force the issue of curtailing "ordinary" state expenditures, several members of Texas' next house of representatives opined Saturday.

While withholding a prediction the lawmakers would wield the economy ax lustily at the general session beginning next January, the group declared a retrenchment program probably would find many active supporters.

FULLEM RITE SET SUNDAY

Funeral To Be Held From Mortuary

HARLINGEN—Funeral services will be held at 3 p.m. Sunday from the Stotler-Burdette Mortuary for Mrs. Bertha Theresa Fullem, 25, who died at 2 p.m. Friday in the Valley Baptist Hospital.

Rev. Paul Weiss of the Primera-Combes Methodist Church will conduct the services to be followed by interment in the Combes Cemetery.

Pallbearers will be Wade Smith, Murray Eddings, Other Fullem, Dave Fulton, Charles Craig and Glenn Hewitt.

She is survived by her husband, John P. Fullem, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Maschler of the Briggs-Coleman tract, two sisters, Mrs. W. H. Patty of Houston, and Miss Sophia Maschler of Harlingen; and two brothers, George and Victor of Harlingen, four nieces and one nephew.

Paul Vickers Talks At Baptist Service

HARLINGEN—Paul T. Vickers, manager of the McAllen Chamber of Commerce, will fill the pulpit Sunday at the First Baptist church here in the absence of Rev. E. Douglas Carver, pastor.

Reverend Carver is conducting a revival at Clarksville. Vickers will talk on "The Hands of Jesus." at the 11 a. m. service, and at 8 p. m. on "Breaking the Vicious Circle."

Defense Board Has Finished Sessions

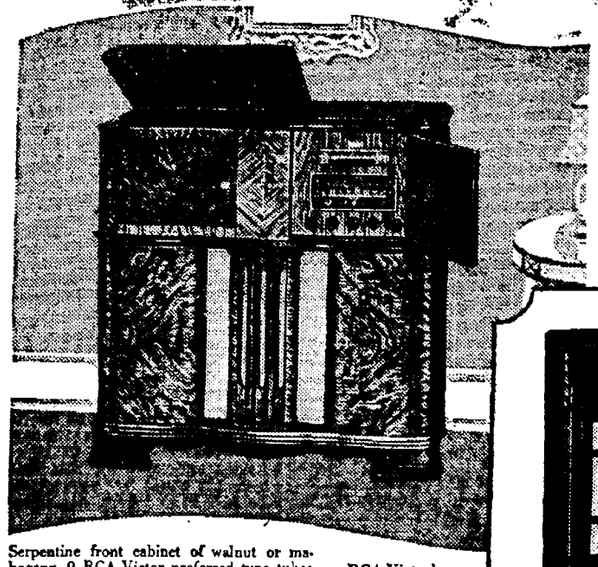

YARMOUTH, N. S. —(AP)— United States members of the Canada-U. S. Permanent Joint Defense Board were on their way home by steamship Saturday after mapping definite North American defense measures, some of them possibly to be taken at once.

Headed by New York's Mayor F. H. La Guardia, the United States group boarded the boat Friday night for Boston after a meeting in Halifax which La Guardia said "completed the work we started earlier elsewhere."

VALLEY GETS SOUTH TEXAS SPEECH MEET

December Program Set At McAllen

McALLEN—Sponsored by the state Interscholastic League, a South Texas speech conference will be held here Dec. 4, Don Irwin of the McAllen public schools announced Saturday.

The program will include debates, extemporaneous speeches, declamations and one-act plays.

The speakers who will attend, all from the University of Texas, are Dr. Thomas Rouses, director of debates; Roy Bedicheck, director of the bureau of public school extracurricular activities and F. L. Winship, director of speech activities, all of the Interscholastic League.

Irwin said the conference is held annually to promote interest in all speech activities. It has been held at Texas A. and I., Kingsville for the past two years.

Mexican Chamber

Antonio Garcia New Mercedes Chief

MERCEDES — Antonio Garcia, Mercedes groceryman, was elected president of the newly organized Mexican Chamber of Commerce at Mercedes. Jose De La Santos was chosen secretary and Jose Leal treasurer, while Carlos Leal was selected as publicity agent of the new organization. Vocales, or directors, are Zeferino Rios, Juvention De Leon, Gustavo Saldana and Leonado Galvan.

The first meeting of the organization was held Tuesday night when the alien registration act, the national conscription program and a number of matters pertaining to local matters was discussed by a number of speakers to a crowd of several hundred Latin-Americans. Officials of the Mercedes Chamber of Commerce were among the speakers.

Families In Cameron To Eat Frozen Food

SAN BENITO—Cameron county farm families are going to have fun this winter eating their own homegrown, quick frozen foods because cold storage lockers have come their way, in the opinion of Miss Lu Elsie Nagel, county home demonstration agent.

"The deliciousness of fresh foods eaten out of season will be enjoyed because these families have taken advantage of the new service given them in cold storage plants where quick freeze units have been installed," she stated.

Auxiliary Meet To Stress Americanism

MERCEDES—A special program featuring Americanism has been arranged for the next regular meeting of the Mercedes Legion Auxiliary next Tuesday evening, October 8. Mrs. H. Schmalzried, immediate past president, will be in charge of the program.

The meeting, originally scheduled for Monday night, was postponed until Tuesday on account of another event scheduled for Monday. Mrs. Dewey Acker is president of the auxiliary.

Delphian Play Set For Mercedes High

MERCEDES—A one act play, entitled "The Man Who Stayed For Dinner" will be presented by Mrs. Marvin McAskill of Edinburg in the music room of the Mercedes high school next Monday evening under the sponsorship of the Delphian Chapter.

The proceeds of the play will be applied to the building fund for a new women's building at Mercedes.

C. D. Ritter Teaches Farm Youth Classes

RAYMONDVILLE — Natoinal Farm Youth Foundation classes will be taught by C. D. Ritter, vocational agriculture instructor in the Raymondville schools, according to an announcement by J. B. Phillips.

The first meeting will be on Monday night in the school at the vocational agriculture building.

They Need More Room

150 Changes In State Laws Will Be Voted In November

More Than Half Of States Will Study New Proposals Along With Election

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Approximately 150 state constitutional amendments, referenda, and initiative measures will be voted on in next month's elections.

More than half the states will have on their ballots proposals dealing with liquor, old age pensions, taxes, horse-racing, gambling, and bond issues.

One state—New Mexico—will vote on a constitutional amendment authorizing absentee balloting in future elections.

The fact that many states do not allow absentee voting has stirred agitation for change in view of the government's new military programs. Thousands of national guardsmen already called to active training will be unable to vote because of the absentee laws.

Old Age Pensions

Old age pension questions will come before the voters in only four states this year.

Colorado having provision now for one of the highest pensions for the aged in the country—$45 a month—has on its ballot a constitutional amendment to substitute a "guaranteed" $30 pension.

Arkansas will have a proposal to create a new pension system for persons over 60, the payments to come from revenues from sales, liquor, racing, pool hall and slot machine taxes.

Washington State will ballot on a minimum pension of $5 a month for those over 65, and Louisiana voters will decide whether to give pensions to aged state officers.

5 On Liquor Questions

Five states will vote on liquor questions: Massachusetts, on a referendum to retain its present law; Oklahoma, a constitutional amendment to repeal its present bone-dry law and to legalize liquor sales; Oregon, on a referendum to regulate mixing of drinks in hotels, clubs and restaurants, and an initiative to permit private sale of liquor in place of sale by state stores, as at present; Idaho, on initiatives providing machinery allowing counties local option in the sale of liquor and various other regulations; and Arkansas, on a referendum to relax requirements for calling local elections.

Four states are to settle racing and gambling questions: Arizona, to legalize gambling, with $4,000,000 of estimated annual revenues to go for social security and relief; Colorado, to legalize pari-mutuel betting on horse and dog racing; Oregon, to legalize pin ball games and bank nights; and Florida, to equalize distribution among counties of revenues derived from pari-mutuels.

Alabama, Louisiana, Montana and New Mexico will vote on an aggregate of $26,600,000 in bond issue proposals.

ALMAZAN SAYS THOUANDS DIE

Mexican Communism Said Responsible

SAN ANTONIO—(AP)—The Evening News said Saturday a manifesto charging that more than 23,000 persons have been killed in Mexico during the past six years in behalf of "totalitarian Communism," has been distributed by the congress supporting claims of Gen. Juan Andreu Almazan to the presidency.

The News said copies of the manifesto were released in San Antonio by Francisco A. Cardenas, authorized representative of Gen. Almazan.

The manifesto was quoted as saying the deaths occurred as a result of efforts of President Lazaro Cardenas to "give totalitarian Communism a strategic base on the American continent."

(In Mexico City, President Cardenas was quoted as saying Almazan "must be considered no less than a rebel" if he "continues to work against our country in the United States.")

Mr. Kivlin presided. The hearing is one of a series on 64 proposals including changes in containers and loading rules, new containers and cancellations.

WOMEN FACE THEFT TRIAL

County Court Cases To Be Called

EDINBURG—Two Dallas women will go to trial again on theft charges in Hidalgo county court-at-law here Monday, Assistant District Attorney Hollis H. Rankin announced Saturday.

The defendants are Mrs. Nola Dollar and Mrs. Annabelle Williamson, both of whom were tried on other theft charges last week before Justice of the Peace T. W. Kelly of McAllen, where they were fined. Mrs. Dollar drew a $100 penalty and Mrs. Williamson $200.

Three separate cases are on file in county court against each of the women, Rankin said. Thus six cases must be tried, and in addition the court will hear the women's appeals from the McAllen justice court decisions.

Bert Barr of Dallas, attorney, is scheduled to arrive during the week-end to head the defense counsel, according to information received by the district attorney's office here.

Whether additional cases will be filed against the women in this county has not been determined, Rankin said. He added that warrants for them had been issued from Hondo.

The women were taken into custody last week in connection with a series of shoplifing cases ranging from stores in McAllen to Weslaco. A large quantity of merchandise has been recovered by officers and identified by grocers and department store owners over the Valley.

The women are expected to plead not guilty and ask for a trial by jury when the county court cases are called.

Rankin said he expected the six cases, plus the two appeals from justice court, to require at least two days for trial.

Fruit Man Is Fined For Check Purchase

SAN JUAN — B. F. Tullis of Progreso was fined $25 and costs by Justice of the Peace R. L. Savage on a complaint that he purchased fruit with a check when he was licensed to buy only with currency.

He is alleged to have purchased fruit from W. B. Caperton of San Juan and to have given a check for $116.90 which was not negotiable Tullis was said to have held a cash buyer's license but not to have had a $5,000 bond required of dealers giving checks. Tom Yates of Harlingen was present as an observer for the state bonding and licensing division. Tullis filed an appeal bond and the case will go to county court.

Brownsville Gains In Postal Receipts

BROWNSVILLE —Postal receipts for the Brownsvill post office during the month of September totalled $5,265.48, Postmaster W. T. Burnett announced Friday.

This compared with $4,842.48 during the month of September, 1939, and $5,078.65 during August, 1940, making a gain over both periods.

Barron Calls Meet On Bond Refunding

BROWNSVILLE — County school superintendent John F. Barron Friday called a meeting of county school board members for Monday at 9:30 a.m. in his office in the courthouse.

Refunding of various bonds will be discussed, Barron said.

Commission To Fix Draft Registration

BROWNSVILLE — The Cameron county commissioners' court will have a quorum meeting at the courthouse Saturday morning to discuss final plans for the draft act registration on October 16 and to receive county tax rolls to be presented by tax assessor-collector Ralph T. Agar.

McALLEN—The large neon sign north of Edinburg welcoming visitors to the Valley will be rebuilt, Hidalgo county chambers of commerce have decided. The Neo Art Co. of McAllen has agreed to do the job for $20, which is less than one-third of the next lowest bid, $66.

The chambers agreed to allocation of the expense and the funds are now being collected by the McAllen chamber at the request of others.

West Brownsville's PTA Meets Thursday

BROWNSVILLE — The West Brownsville School Parent-Teacher Association will hold its first meeting of the year Thursday, October 10, at 3 p. m., at the school, according to Mrs. E. B. Russell, principal.

"A teacher alone is useless, a teacher of a child is better, but it takes a teacher, a child and an understanding parent to make a real school," Mrs. Russell said in urging a full attendance at an initial meeting.

STATE DEFICIT HIGHEST EVER

Increase Is Said To Be Seasonal

AUSTIN—(AP)—The state's general fund deficit soared Saturday to an all-time record of $26,125,278, an increase of $1,639,164 since September 20.

The increase, seasonally normal because relief bond sinking funds take a heavy toll on general revenue for the first three months of the fiscal year, compared with the previous high of $24,726,225 on November 28, 1939.

The deficit was announced in connection with a call for payment of $43,873 in warrants through November 27, 1939.

VALLEY LIKES SAME HOLIDAY

Nov. 28 Thanksgiving Is Urged Here

McALLEN—The majority of Valley business men contacted by chambers of commerce secretaries favor the "regular" Thanksgiving Day rather than the "Roosevelt turkey day," local chamber officials declared today. Saturday. The regular day falls on November 28.

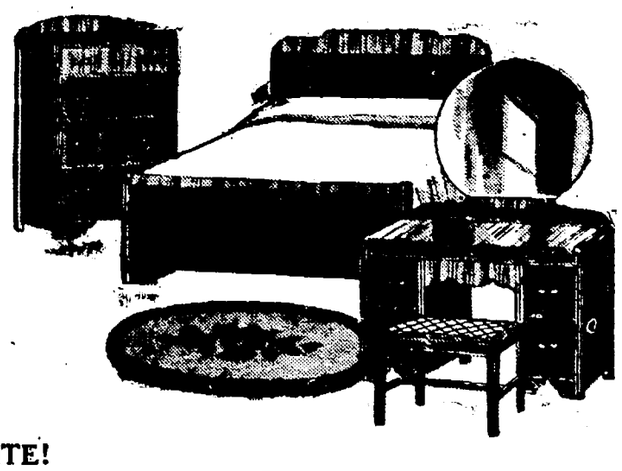

The biggest Texas college football games are scheduled for the "old" Thanksgiving Day and Valley schools are believed to be generally in favor of observing November 28.

The survey of sentiment is in anticipation of any possibility that a new day may be set, as no publicity has yet been given for any change.

COTTON WORK OVER VALLEY WINS PRAISE

Stalk Cleanup Near End On Border

McALLEN—The best cooperation in the history of the annual Valley cotton stalk clean-up program has marked the 1940 campaign, D. M. McEachern, chief of the pink bollworm control project, disclosed today. Some 220,000 acre swere planted to cotton this year in the Valley.

No complaints have been filed for violation of the Oct. 1 deadline on standing stalks. McEachern explained that in some instances stalks are still standing where conditions beyond the growers' control have intervened. Upon investigating, McEachern said, extensions were allowed in a few instances.

The same cooperation has marked the clean-up program on the Mexican side, he said. Other than in scattered areas the 150,000 acres planted in cotton in northern Mexico, bordering the Rio Grande, are clean.

The pink bollworm chief stressed extermination of scattered standing stalks in fields already ploughed. Unless these stalks are out before they begin bearing again, the program for the eradication of the pest will be defeated.

Pharr Building

Total Hits $11,975 In September

PHARR — Building permits for September totaled $11,975 to bring the new construction total for 1940 to $87,391, far more than it has been in many years and nearly three times the total at the same date in 1939, according to L. M. Flowers, city clerk.

Included in the 15 permits issued during September were three new residences. One is for Alfred Bartlett in the Ford subdivision, brick veneer construction and will cost $3,000. Another is for Almus Palmer in Wittbold Addition for $2,500. It is also brick veneer. The third is for Cecil Roberts, a 5-room tile and stucco for $2,000.

Permits for 1940 now exceed the total for all of 1939 by $25,706. Permits to October 1, 1939, totaled $29,975 and for the entire year $61,685.

Permits for September were as follows: Edd M. Boler, packing plant, $1,000; Burt Coate, remodeling house, $1,500; Zeferina Compas, $30; Cecil Roberts, residence, $2,000; Higinio Esparza, $30; Jack Williams, platform, $50; Salar Palacios, $65; Cecil Roberts, packing shed addition, $100; R. Oliver Carter, addition to shop, $250; Petra A. Chapa, $200; Franklin, $350; E. G. Chapa, store, $600; Almus Palmer, residence, $2,500; Alfred Bartlett, residence, $3,000; D. C. Hogan, garage, $300.

Senior Class Names Leonard Fraser As Editor Of 'Bobcat'

EDINBURG—Leonard Fraser was elected editor of the Edinburg high school annual, "The BobCat," at a meeting of the senior class Thursday, and Miss Arline Edwards, business manager.

The class voted to join the junior class in sponsoring a carnival on Hallowe'en to raise funds for the *Junior-Senior banquet and the an*nual. Class Sponsor A. W. Woolsey was appointed general chairman of the arrangements for the carnival. It was voted that the class donate to a fund with which pictures for the classrooms will be purchased. About 80 seniors and class sponsors, A. W. Woolsey, and Virgil Payne, were present.

20-30 Clubs Erect Safety Sally Signs

SAN BENITO — Sixteen Safety Sallys have been put on "duty" in San Benito. These safety signs, presented to the local school system, by the 20-30 clubs of the Valley, are to protect school children from automobile accidents.

Cooperation on the part of the public in observing the new parking regulations at the San Benito high school has been requested by officials. A secton of Dick Dowling street, directly in front of the high school building, has been marked off as a "no parking zone." On either side of this zone are sections for 30-minute parking. Also on each corner of Adele street and Dick Dowling street is a 60 feet angle marked off for "no parking."

Return Of Directory Inquiries Is Urged

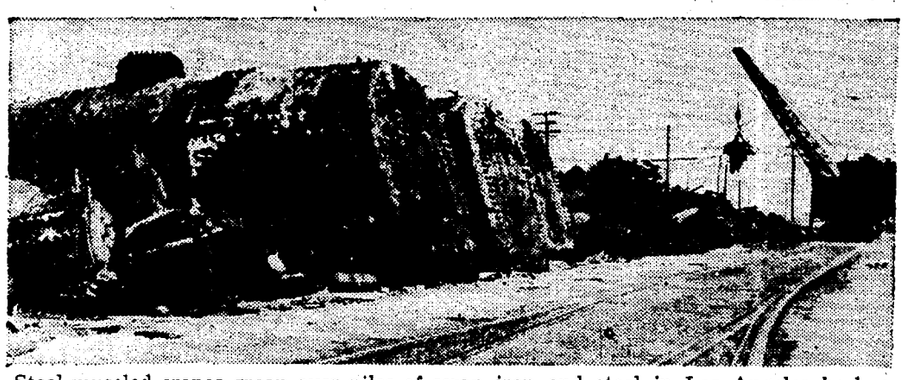

HARLINGEN — Manufacturers and wholesalers here who have not returned questionnaire blanks sent out by the Bureau of Business Research, University of Texas, Friday requested to return them immediately to the chamber of commerce here.

"We don't want 50 per cent of manufacturers and wholesalers listed," Worth Heffner, chamber manager, said Friday. "They are getting something for nothing, and that might mean a lot: listing in a state-wide directory."

San Benito Schools Recessed For Draft

SAN BENITO—The San Benito school board has announced that classes will not b. held in the schools here on October 16. The buildings and teachers have been made available to C. C. Bowie, registration chairman, to help carry out efficiently and quickly the registration here of an expected 2,000 young men in the government draft program.

Scrap Iron Deadline Nears

Steel muscled cranes groan over piles of scrap iron and steel in Los Angeles harbor areas as the Japanese government eyes with discomfort the nearing date of October 16 when U. S. embargo on scrap iron goes into effect.

South Texas Fields Are Quiet; Well Makes Test

McALLEN—South Texas wildcats drilled deeper and deeper Saturday but only one of them was making a production test. Drilling was under way in Willacy, Hidalgo, Starr and Brooks Counties on important holes.

One of the most interesting wildcats but one on which information was very scarce was Pan-American Production Co. No. 1 Porfirio Garcia, Share 13, San Juan de Carricitos Grant, in eastern Willacy County. The operation was a "tight" well but was reported drilling below 8,550 feet. One or two minor oil shows were reported below 7,800 feet but no report of any nature on the well could be confirmed. Several major companies and two or three independents hold all of the acreage around the well, which is scheduled for 9,000 to 10,000 feet.

In northeastern Hidalgo County, Humble Oil & Refining Co. No. 1 American Life Insurance Co., Lot 1, Block 13, Mo-Tex Subd., Las Mestenas Grant, was reported coring shale at 6,035 feet on another 7,500-foot wildcat. Humble holds about 20,000 acres in its Hargill block, including the Hargill townsite. The well is about two miles north of the town.

In southwestern Hidalgo, Royal Oil & Gas Co. was moving 427 feet to the east to spud its No. 2 Yturria Town & Improvement Co., at the west edge of the Samfordyce townsite and a mile east of production in the Samfordyce field. The No. 1 Yturria blew out and ran wild from total depth of 3,138 feet, the first of several wildcats drilled in the area to report any kind of show. The well was brought under control after several days and was finally killed and abandoned.

About five miles north of the expanding Rincon field in eastern Starr, Sun Oil Co. No. 1 Mateo Saenz, Survey 80, was running production test. Through casing perforations (9 shots) at 5,478-81 feet, the well began flowing wash water Friday under its own pressure on 5-32-inch tubing choke with tubing working pressure of 825 pounds and closed-in casing pressure of 450 pounds. On drill stem test of the same sand, run while the well was drilling, operators recovered about 200 feet of oil and a little mud with 500 pounds pressure in 20 minutes. A lower sand showed salt water on two production tests around 5,495-5,505 feet.

Semi-wildcatting in the general vicinity of the Rincon field thus far has been a fairly lucrative proposition and was being continued steadily.

Three miles north and a little west of Rincon production, Harvey Oil Co. No. 1 Davenport-State, Survey 514, a south offset to the North *Rincon discovery pumper, was bot*tomed at 5,210 feet. Casing (5 1-2-inch o. d.) was cemented at 5,163 feet and production test will be run on sand at 4,106-18 feet and possibly other shows reported in the hole.

An east offset to the North Rincon discovery, Texas Co. No. 1 Davenport-State, Survey 78, was abandoned dry at 5,423 feet.

W. R. Davis & Co., developers of the Rincon field, extended the field more than a mile southeast, practically into wildcat territory, with the No. A-17 Slick Estate, northeast corner of Survey 528.

Davis & Co. spudded another semi-wildcat, the No. 1 Harry Seyfriedt, in the northeast corner of Survey 928, about 1,600 feet east of the only producer in the Yzaguirre section of the Rincon field. The Yzaguirre producer is 8,800 feet east of northernmost production at Rincon.

In southern central Starr, about two miles southwest of production in the Barbacoas 2,700-foot field, Herman Brown et al's No. 1 Mrs. A. M. Kelsey-Bass, near the center of Sec. 5, Pors. 86-87, Camargo jurisdiction, was reported drilling around 4,550 feet on a 6,000-foot contract. Schlumberger electrical survey was run to 4,000 feet.

In southern Brooks County about 12 miles south of Falfurrias, Sun Oil Co. No. 1 Chas. Boedeker, Survey 16, was coring in shale at 8,358 feet. No shows have been reported thus far.

About two miles east of production in the Alta Mesa field in southwestern Brooks County, Standard Oil Co. of Texas No. 1 Braulia G. de Garcia, Share 1-A, Las Mestenas Grant, was reported drilling around 1,500 feet. It is scheduled for 4,000 feet.

In northeastern Brooks, J. M. West Production Co. No. 1 Wm. Ehlers, Sec. 12, Burton & Danforth Subd., Loma Blanca Grant, was another "tight" wildcat, but was reported drilling around 2,500 feet.

McALLEN—A total of nine new producers, including a southeast extension of more than a mile in the big Rincon field in eastern Starr county and of 1,100 feet to the northeast in the Kelsey field in southwestern Brooks county, brought Valley proven field activity to a *new high for recent weeks Satur*day.

Despite the completions, there was no slackening of development, which has been maintained through the entire year at practically a record-breaking pace. New producers were scattered through five proven fields in the area.

The Rincon field in eastern Starr county provided by far the most important development in recent weeks when W. R. Davis and Com*pany No. A-17 Slick Estate, Sur*vey 528, about 5,500 feet southeast of present production, opened up a large acreage to development. The well was drilled to total depth of 5,245 feet and cemented 7-inch o. d. casing at 4,430 feet. Production came from the only good sand cored in the hole, through casing perforations (104 shots) at 3,958-78 feet, and gauged 289 barrels daily on quarter-inch tubing choke with 650 pounds tubing working pressure and 1,175 pounds closed-in casing pressure.

Completion of this producer now proves several hundred acres of land in the southeast part of the Rincon field and indicates that oil production is steadily creeping around the edges of a huge oval-shaped producing area surrounding the gas-distillate discovery well of the field. Production has already been proven directly north, northwest, west, southwest and south of the discovery well, while a northeast outpost well, Complete Oil Well Service Company No. 1 Yzaguirre, was completed 8,800 feet east of northermost production in the field several weeks ago. The new southeast completion now helps in slowly closing the "ring of oil" surrounding the discovery well and additional tests may be expected in both directions, north and southwest of the No. A-17 Slick Estate.

In the southwest part of the field, Davis and Company No. B-34 Slick Estate, Survey 506, gauged 319 barrels daily on quarter-inch tubing choke with 20 pounds tubing working pressure and 830 pounds closed-in casing pressure through casing perforations at 4,112-42 feet. The hole was bottomed at 4,449 feet and casting (7-inch o. d.) was cemented at 4,200 feet.

Another southwest well in the field, W. R. Davis and Company No. B-29 Slick Estate, Survey 266, was drilling at 213 feet after spud*ding late in the week.*

Davsi and Company No. B-35 Slick Estate, Survey 486, also in the southwest part of the field, cored an oil sand at 3,960-87 feet, from which drill stem test recovered some oil, and continued coring at 4,119 feet.

A new northeast outpost well extended production in the Kelsey field in southwestern Brooks county about 1,100 feet to the northeast. Humble Oil and Refining Company No. 72 J. C. McGill, about ttwo and a half miles northeast of the Kelsey discovery and in La Blanca Grant, cored the field sand at 4,706-19 feet, then cemented 5 1-2-inch o. d. oil string at 4,710 feet. On production test, the well gauged 116 barrels daily on 1-8-inch tubing choke with 950 pounds tubing working pressure and 700 pounds closed-in casing pressure.

Humble also completed a new north edge well, about two miles north of discovery, the No. J. C McGill. This well cored the sand at 4,710-25 feet, bottomed the hole at 4,73 feet and cemented casing at 4,71 feet. It gauged 70 barrels daily on 9-64-inch tubing choke with 1,650 pounds tubing working pressure and 1,750 pounds closed-in casing pressure.

Humble's newest test at Kelsey is the No. 74 J. C. McGill, La Blanca Grant, 467 feet from the north and 3,5468 feet from the west lines of the McGill Ranch. It is drilling below 2,100 feet.

One new producer was completed in the Sun field in northeastern well had spudded.

Sun Oil No. B-4 Geo. H. Speer, Survey 236, an inside location, gauged 20 barrels daily on 9-64 inch tubing choke with 350 pounds tubing working pressure after tubing was set with packer at 4,602 feet. The hole was bottomed at 5,002 feet and casing was cemented at 4,685 feet. Production was through casing perforations (6 shots) at 4,648-50 feet.

Sun Oil's No. C-2 Geo. H. Speer, 466 feet from the north and 2,332 feet from the east lines of Survey 235, another inside location, spudden and was drilling past 850 feet.

At Sullivan City in southwestern Hidalgo county, H. J. Porter et al's No. 1 Donato Flores, Tract 237, Por. 39, Reynosa Jurisdiction, was making production test through casing perforations in san dat 3,460-66 feet, where the upper Sullivan sand was cored.

Phillips Petroleum Co. No. 1 Tomas Villareal, Tract 236, Por. 39, Reynosa Jurisdiction, was drilling around 1,500 feet.

Three new producers and three more wells under way kept activity busy in the Colorado field in western Jim Hogg county.

The field's new northwest outpost, V. F. Neuhaus' No. G-3 F. G. Trevino, Survey 37, was in the tanks. From sand cored at 2,908-15 feet, the well gauged 212 barrels daily on quarter-inch tubing choke with 370 pounds tubing working pressure and 980 pounds closed in casing pressure. The hole was bottomed at 2,918 feet and 5 1-2 inch o.d. casing was set at 2,906 feet.

C. Andrade III No. F-1 F. G. Trevino, Survey 37, also in the northwest part of the field, was making oil on production test of sand at 2,951-54 feet. The hole was bottomed at 2,982 feet and 5 1-2 inch o.d. casing was set at 2,980 feet.

Humble Oil and Refining Co. No. 21 King Ranch-Colorado, Survey 42, in the northeast part of the field, made 165 barrels daily on 3-16 inch tubing choke with 280 pounds tubing working pressure and 400 pounds closed-in casing pressure. The well cored the field sand at 2,975-88.5 feet and cemented casing atop the sand.

The field's new northeast outpost, Sun Oil No. 10 N. S. Thaxton, Survey 630, was coring for the field sand at 2,950 feet.

Location has been staked 810 feet from the east and 330 feet from the north lines of the south 80 acres of Survey 38 for the K. D. Harrison et al No. A-5 F. G. Trevino, V. F. Neuhaus will drill the well.

In the Boyle field in southern Starr, Borsodi Petroleum Co. No. 2 Juan de Dios Vela, Share 2-A, Por 92, Camargo Jurisdiction, was drilling around 2,000 feet.

Fidelity Oil and Gas Co. No. B-3 E. B. Carruth et al, Share 1-B, Por. 91, Camargo Jurisdiction, was coring for the field sand past 3,450 feet.

Northeast of the Boyle discovery well about 1,000 feet, Rutherford and Owen's No 4 E. B. Carruth et al, Share 1-B, Por. 92, Camargo Jurisdiction, was drilling around 1,200 feet.

The first of several new wells to be drilled shortly in the San Salvador gas-distillate field as a part of the field's new development pro- is rigging up. It is Gulf States Oil Co. No. 1 Carmen Cardenas de Cavazos, located 2,840 feet from the south and 1,600 feet from the west lines of Share 115, a 1,334-acre tract in San Salvador del Tule Grant.

Construction of a recycling plant, capable of handling about 60,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily, has been started in the field by Gulf States. Gas run through the plant will be restored to the sand from which it was originally taken. Two sands will be recycled under the plant's first operations, one around 8,300 feet and the other around 7,800 feet.

ALIENS FACE TWO DRAFTS

Mexico Also Calling Men To Service

BROWNSVILLE — About 1,000 citizens of Mexico living in Cameron county Sunday faced the problem of being registered for conscription in two countries, Mexico and the U. S.

Recently enacted Mexican law contemplates calling 12,000 men to the Mexican army from eligible registrants January 1. All alien residents are required to register in Cameron county October 16 and be subject to call for service in the U. S. Army.

Under army regulations recently in effect in this country, aliens have not been accepted for military service until they have taken out their first citizenship papers. All aliens are required to register, however, regardless of citizenship papers.

The Mexican conscription act makes no provision either as to who will serve or how the eligible men are to be registered. Nor does it contain any provision covering its citizens in foreign countries. Regulations governing these points are to be formulated later.

Mexican citizens residing in Cameron county who have taken out their first citizenship papers, may renounce the action and avoid the U. S. draft, if they desire.

'Napper' Davis Is 20-30 Speaker

HARLINGEN—C. Warren "Napper" Davis, McAllen, one of the Valley's outstanding football officials, spoke here Thursday night at 20-30 Club dinner on new rules and signals of the game.

Mrs. J. H. Powell, president of the City Federation of Women's Clubs, spoke briefly on the plan to *divert Rio Grande Valley Gas Com*pany refunds to a library fund here. The club endorsed to move.

R. E. I. Mike Gilbert, president of the group, reported there are 100 Safety Sally signs in place in the upper Valley, and that next week 140 more would be installed at schools in the lower Valley. The work is sponsored by the Valley's 20-30 Clubs.

Five captains were named and five teams selected in connection with an attendance contest to run until December 31. Captains are James Thomas, Richard Larsen, James John, Francis Scheiner, W. A. Doyle.

FIRST TEST FOR BOULDER DAM

Boulder dam engineers created one of the largest man-made waterfalls ever seen when they released more than 30,000,000 gallons of water from Lake Mead through the dam's outlet valves 183 feet above the Colorado River bed in an Inspection test. Here is an aerial view of the spectacle that resulted.

New Yorker Comes To Fish Off Valley After Pacific Try

SAN BENITO—Adolph Duchini of New York City, who is a guest at the Stonewall Jackson hotel here, fished last week in the Pacific—motored across the continent—and plans to continue his fishing this week in the Gulf of Mexico. He expects to go after tarpon at Port Isabel during this first vacation in the Valley. Duchini is head of a trucking company in New York. His 40 trucks carry general merchandise.

Knoxville was the first Tennessee capital.

Reporters Ejected From Mass Meeting

SEATTLE—(AP)—Seattle newspapers reported Friday that five of their reporters, members of the CIO-affiliated American Newspaper Guild, were forcibly ejected from a longshoremen's mass meeting Thursday night at the direction of Harry Bridges, west coast CIO leader, who later addressed the meeting.

The Times said the reporters surrendered their notes on the meeting at the demand of the 20 Bridges sympathizers who ejected them, although the CIO-affiliated International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union had invited them to attend.

MEXICO SHOWS TRAVEL GAINS

Fewer Americans Go To Other Nations

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Influenced by the war, travel to and from the United States declined about one-fourth during the first half of this year compared with the similar 1939 period, the commerce department reported.

American outlays for travel in foreign lands during the six months amounted to $148,500,000, a decline of $46,700,000 from 1939. Travel expenses of foreigners in America declined $18,700,000 to $59,000,000.

Despite official efforts to promote inter-American tourist trade, expenditures for travel in South America declined $1,500,000 to $3,100,000, while the outlay of South Americans in the United States dropped $2,000,000 to $1,800,000. There was a slight increase in travel to Mexico and Central American countries.

Duncan Coffee Starts Great Contest

Shown above are Bob Finch of McAllen and Herbert Brack of San Benito, Valley Salesmen for the Duncan Coffee Company. Each man is getting a running start for the $3000 contest on Admiration Coffee in the Rio Grande Valley.

ONE of the most appealing and profitable contests ever planned starts in the Rio Grande Valley this week. The Duncan Coffee Company, roasters of Admiration and Bright and Early Coffees are offering $3,000 over a period of ten weeks for the best answers of not over 25 words on "Why I prefer Admiration Coffee".

This contest, unlike other contests, is limited to a small area in the Southwest, and gives residents of this area a better chance of winning more of the $300 weekly prizes. A plan has also been worked out where the grocer also shares in this contest.

A solid carload of coffee has been distributed in the Rio Grande Valley to start the contest. Bob Finch, covering Hidalgo County, and Herbert Brack in Cameron County are each running a race to establish their quotas and share in prizes.

The following grocers received parts of the opening carload.

BROWNSVILLE—Total valuation of Cameron county lands and property was fixed at $31,762,980, a decrease of approximately $135,000 from last year, according to the annual tax roll, prepared by County Tax Assessor and Collector Ralph T. Agar, and approved by the county commissioner's court Saturday. These are assessed values for taxing purposes.

Acreage values took the sharpest drop, values being lowered $430,000 from the previous year. City properties were marked down $100,000 from 1939. Roadbed values were cut $42,000, rolling stock $11,000 and telephone and telegraph lines $16,000.

Only three items showed increased values. These were personal property, up $395,000, pipe lines, steamboats and sailing vessels, up $15,000 and bank values up $15,000.

The state's assessed valuation dropped $475,000 during the year with a total valuation fixed at $28,025,180. The state valuation is less than the county because of homestead exemption laws.

The tax roll will be taken to Austin Tuesday for approval by the state departments concerned. More than $50,000 in current taxes have been paid, Mr. Agar said, on which tax receipts cannot be issued until the roll is accepted by the state.

No Mexico Revolt

Clyde Low Minimizes Few Skirmishes

BROWNSVILLE — Clyde Low, Refugio, who has been living in Tampico, Mexico, for the past year doesn't think there is going to be any revolution in Mexico, outside of a few minor skirmishes and as far as he is concerned he wants no part of them.

Low has been running a hunting club out of Tampico, taking tourists out for Mexican game, but the revolution scare has cut the tourist business so much this year that "we have practically had to shut up shop," Low said.

He was formerly in San Luis Potosi before coming to Tampico. He will be in the United States about 30 days he said. "I want to vote in the presidential election, but I haven't made up my mind as yet who will get my tally," he reported.

Salvation Service To Be Concluded

BROWNSVILLE — Salvation and healing services being conducted by Evangelist Albert E. Davis of Denison at the Brownsville Assembly of God Church will be concluded Sunday night, according to Rev. F. B. Babbitt, pastor.

Friday night's service was closed with a wedding ceremony uniting in marriage Miss Cleo Hammack of Brownsville and David Loghry of Fort Sill, Okla.

Subjects for Sunday will be "God's Photograph of His Church" at morning services and "The Tragedy of the Rich Young Man" at evening services, beginning at 7:45 p. m.

NLR Board Member Said Labor Comrade

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A witness told the House committee investigating the National Labor Relations Board Thursday that Edwin S. Smith, board member, was designated a "comrade" by a Mexican labor group in 1938.

The witness, Hartley Barclay, editor of the trade publication Mill and Factory, was later described by Smith as one whose "testimony was full of evasions and prevarications."

Tells Of Training

Richard Werner, above, 36-year-old New York chef, told the Dies committee in Washington that the German-American Bund in New York City had been trained for "the day" when a government similar to Germany's would take over the United States. Werner, who said he joined the Bund in 1938, showed the committee a leather strap such as he said was used "in combat" in a New York City disturbance which he did not identify. Werner said he resigned from the Bund last February.

Old Sailor's Luck Beats The Sea: He Reaches New York With 2 Crews, One He Rescued From Mid-Atlantic

NEW YORK —(AP)— An old sailor's luck beat the sea — and the war—and gave the skipper of the Norwegian freighter Tricolor an amazing yarn to tell.

Capt. Ole Meyer arrived in New York harbor Saturday with a crew he had signed on at Hull, England, and another he picked up at sea when the Tricolor's sister ship Tancred was torpedoed, shelled and sunk.

"Funny part of it is," said Captain Meyer, "the boys from the Tancred were my boys—I had left that ship in Liverpool to bring the Tricolor here."

All hands were saved including the Tancred's master, Capt. Einar Hansen, an old friend of Captain Meyer. They took to lifeboats 500 miles west of Ireland after being attacked by a submarine.

The following night the Tancred's seamen sighted the lights of the Tricolor and signaled an SOS with flashlights.

"I thought it might be a submarine and pulled away," said Captain Meyer. "But when daylight came I put around and found the boys again. It was the best luck I ever had in my life."

'HOLY CITY' TO BE SUNG

Brownsville Scene Of Presentation

BROWNSVILLE — A. R. Gaul's "The Holy City" will be presented at 7:45 p.m. Sunday at the First Methodist church by the combined choirs of the Brownsville and Harlingen Methodist churches.

Directed by Prof. David L. Ormesher and his daughter, Miss Mildred Ormesher, the oratorio will feature the performances of four well-known Valley soloists.

They are Margaret McCandless of San Benito and Olean, N. Y., soprano; Ivy Catherine Boone of Harlingen, contralto; Grady Whittle of Lyford, tenor, and Frank Gilmore and Paul Lindhorn of Brownsville, baritones.

Accompanists will be Mrs. B. F. Hardin, organist at the First Methodist church of Brownsville; Doris Ann Biggs of Brownsville, pianist; Virginia Perry of Harlingen, organist, and Catherine Stotler Jackson of Harlingen, pianist.

The oratorio will be presented next Sunday at the First Methodist church of Harlingen.

Valley Postoffices Soon To Sell Stamp

BROWNSVILLE—A new series of stamps, under the famous Americans series, will be placed on sale here soon, Postmaster W. T. Burnett said Friday.

The stamps will be as follows:

One cent, picture of Eli Whitney, to go on sale first at Savannah, Ga., on October 7; two cent, picture of Samuel F. B. Morse, to go on sale first at New York City on October 7; three cent, picture of Cyrus H. McCormick, sold first at Lexington, Va., on October 14; five cent, picture of Elias Howe, to be sold at Spencer, Mass., on October 14; and ten cent, picture of Alexander Graham Bell, sales first in Boston, Mass., on October 28.

The stamps will not go on sale in Brownsville until one day after the first sales.

Volunteers Asked For Registration

McALLEN—Patriotic citizens of McAllen, outside the draft age, were appealed to for help Saturday by P. D. Moore, head of registration work in the city.

Moore asked all men and women who wish to assist with the registration work from 7 a.m. until 9:30 p.m. Oct. 16 to notify him or the McAllen Chamber of Commerce.

No pay is offered for the work.

69,183 Acres Bought For Game Preserves

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Migratory Bird Conservation Commission announced Thursday it had purchased 69,183 acres of land costing $279,880 and had approved leases on an additional 19,313 acres for wild life refuges.

Lands approved for lease included Bitter Lake refuge, Roswell, N. Mex., 1,960 acres.

COAST TANKER WILL ARRIVE

S. S. Tulsa Delayed Two Days

BROWNSVILLE — The S. S. Tulsa, coastwise tanker which was due to dock at Port of Brownsville Saturday forenoon, has been delayed and will not arrive here until Monday, according to word received by Port Director F. W. Hofmokel from Texas Company officials.

No reason for the delay was given in the message, Mr. Hofmokel said.

The Tulsa will bring a full cargo of gasoline and kerosene from Port Arthur for the Texas Company.

Another tanker, the S. S. Henry M. Dawes, will dock here Thursday, October 10, to take on a full cargo of crude oil for New Arleans.

Two coastwise freighters are due here on October 15 and 16, bringing inbound cargoes.

The S. S. Ozark is scheduled to dock at Port of Brownsville Oct. 15 to unload inbound cargo and take on a general cargo for New York.

On October 16, the S. S. Jean will dock here to unload inbound cargo and will take on a general cargo for Newark, N. J.; Baltimore and Philadelphia.

Several foreign sailings are in sight and will be announced later, Mr. Hofmokel said.

Reed Is Elected

Brownsville Seniors Hold Run-Off

BROWNSVILLE — The Brownsville High School Senior class held its run-off election Friday afternoon and elected Howard Reed president giving him a vote of 104 to 50 for Harry Carson, who was his opponent.

Butch Barnard, received a majority of votes in the Wednesday primary to qualify him for the office of vice-president, Lewis Stein was elected Secretary over Fulgencio Pena, by a vote of 97 to 27.

Ernest Fernandez won the primary election for reporter by defeating Carlos Villarreal by a majority of 96 to 55.

In the Treasurer's race Marian Smith was opposed by Frank Yturria in the run-off with Yturria winning, 83 to 71.

The Senior class followed their elders in holding their election as they first met in different conventions, named their candidates, held a primary and run-off election before getting the new officers. J. C. Tucker is sponsor.

Rule May Prove Way In Denying Defense Contracts To Firms

WASHINGTON— (AP) —An informal Justice Department ruling opened the way Thursday for possible denial of defense contracts to firms which the labor board holds are violating the Wagner Act.

In response to a question from Sidney Hillman, labor member of the defense commission, Attorney General Jackson declared:

"It seems too clear to admit of controversy that the findings of the National Labor Relations Board that an employer is in violation of the National Labor Relations Act, are binding and conclusive upon other agencies of the executive branch unless and until these findings are reversed by a court of competent jurisdiction."

PIERRE, S. D.—(AP)—The state treasurer just had reported a $3,000,000 general balance at the close of the fiscal year.

A grocer, collecting first of the month bills from statehouse employes, thought it would be a cinch to get a dime changed in that office.

Deputies advised him it was merely a "paper balance," but dug into private purses to accommodate the merchant.

Babson Says

IT'S OLDSTERS COMPLAINING OF BUSINESS

Maybe U. S. Needs A Few Funerals

By ROGER W. BABSON

DERRY, New Hampshire—During the past few weeks I have talked with many directors of manufacturing corporations and National Banks as well as with large investors. Most of them are very pessimistic. This probably is the real reason why securities and commodities are selling so low today with business as good as it now is in most lines. Yet, there are certain other groups who are both optimistic and are making money. Why this difference?

Old Age vs Youth

Most of these pessimistic directors of corporations are middle-aged men who made their money during the "good old days of the 20's." They worked without government restrictions and had a free hand to do about as they wished, except commit murder. They simply do not know how to work under present conditions. They are not interested in making "small profits". They sulk at the idea of paying "heavy taxes". It is still hard "to teach old dogs new tricks."

When, however, I have found a large factory, store, or bank controlled by intelligent young men, these young men are both optimistic and making money. Having never known the easy days, they assume present-day restrictions, taxes, etc. to be normal. They do not belly-ache about them; but cheerfully accept them. Does this mean that America is in need of some funerals? I don't know.

Old vs New Industries

I was greatly interested recently in comparing the directors of a Boston bank with those of a Los Angeles bank. As I sat at the board meeting of the Boston bank, I saw that all the members were engaged in declining industries. One was president of a large anthracite coal company; another owned outmoded hotels; another was high up in the railroad industry; while all were Republicans!

As, however, I sat at the board meeting of the Los Angeles bank, I found an entirely different situation. One of these directors was a very successful oil producer; another was the head of a well-known airplane factory; another was president of a movie company; while the youngest member owned a laboratory devoted to new plastic products. This board was equally divided between Democrats and Republicans.

How Localities Differ

Another thing: I found most of the pessimism in large cities where the taxes are very high and growth small. In fact, a study of the new census figures shows that the population of many of these large cities has actually decreased during the past ten years although the population of the country as a whole has increased about ten million. This has caused certain cities like San Francisco, which has lost thousands because of the C.I.O. labor strike, to demand recounts.

Yet, the smaller cities, from 10,000 to 25,000, have shown good gains. I also found that the business leaders and wage workers of the small communities are usually optimistic. Lead by their loyal local papers, they all are community-minded. Knowing one another, they naturally co-operate. A co-operative community must go ahead both materially and spiritually. And in the long run these two aims must go together:—one is the lock, the other the key; one is the hatchet, the other the hand.

Conclusion

What does all this mean? To me it means that while we are drafting young men for war, we also need them for industry and commerce; that we should sell out the old industries and invest in the new; that we should consider the advantages of the small community when being tempted by the bright lights of the big cities. The great drag upon business today is that the pessimists, who are old men engaged in declining industries and who are doing business in tax-burdened cities, hold the strings to the money bags!

Cardenas Permit To Stay In US Voided

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The State Department cancelled the registration of Francisco A. Cardenas of San Antonio, Tex., representing General Juan Andreu Almazan, defeated Mexican presidential candidate, because, it said his registration statement contained surplusage inimical to the foreign policy of the United States."

Officials did not explain what the "surplusage" was, but said that if his application were reworded he might be accepted for registration. Cancellation of the registration, they added, did not mean Cardenas must leave the country.

Enlist In Company M, Do Your Training In Valley

McALLEN—Valley men liable to the national draft act were urged Saturday to enlist in the National Guard, Company M, 141st Regiment, at San Benito and spend their training period with Valley friends.

The suggestion from company officers was relayed to Valley chambers of commerce by Bill Richard, San Benito secretary.

Richard pointed out that men selected in the draft registration, Oct. 16, will be sent throughout the country wherever room is available. If those who feel sure they will be drafted will volunteer and join the national guard unit before Oct. 16 they will be sent to Brownwood about Oct. 26, remaining with a contingent of other Valley residents, Richard explained.

All branches of the service will be open at Brownwood, he said. Interested men may obtain application blanks by writing Company M, 141st regiment, Texas National Guard, San Benito. At least 600 Valley men are needed, Richard said.

DRAFT CHIEF

Lt. Col. Lewis B. Hershey (above) became the temporary boss of the nation's first peace-time conscription program. An executive order of President Roosevelt has conferred upon Hershey all the powers of the direction of selective service, pending appointment of a permanent chief.

Legion Post Plans Session At McAllen

McALLEN—The first meeting of the McAllen American Legion post under its new commander, C. D. Martin, will be held at 8 p.m. Thursday.

Martin said he has asked every Legion member to attend to hear his outline of tentative plans for the year's program.

Four Ships Hit

Subs Go To Work As Destroyers Leave

BOSTON—(AP)—The British steamer Nova Scotia docked here Saturday from Liverpool with 47 refugees and accounts of the torpedoing of four other vessels in their convoy after the ships were four days out.

Fourteen-year-old Leslie Womack of Kent, Eng., who will stay with friends in Fairchild, Conn., said German submarines attacked the ships after British destroyers had left them.

A fast craft for her type, the Nova Scotia increased her speed to 18 knots and escaped after flashing news of the torpedoing to the destroyers.

Parliament Windows Are Broken By Bomb

LONDON—(AP)—The British let it be announced Saturday night that a bomb fell at the entrance of the House of Lords recently and blasted a crater 20 feet wide, shattering the windows.

The bomb fell between the entrance and the huge bronze statue of Richard the Lion Hearted, on the west side of the houses of Parliament, between the House of Lords and the House of Commons.

MANSFIELD IS DUE FOR MEET

Canal Parley Draws 500 In Southwest

HARLINGEN—Congressman Joseph J. Mansfield, chairman of the House committee on Rivers and Harbors, will come here October 25 for a hearing on extension of the intracoastal canal from Corpus Christi to Port Isabel, according to Mayor Hugh Ramsey, who returned Friday from conference in Washington.

Mayor Ramsey said Chairman Mansfield told him he would come here. More than 1000 invitations have been sent out to leaders over the southwest, and many big men in inland waterways afairs are expected.

Worth Heffner, manager of the local chamber of commerce, said Friday Col. C. S. E. Helland, Houston, president of the Intracoastal Canal Association of Texas and Louisiana, "expects 500 to be here." Col. F. S. Besson, Galveston, U. S. Army district engineer, will conduct the October 25 hearing here, and Col. Holland the conference on October 26. Both meetings will be concerned with showing cause for extending the intracoastal canal from Corpus Christi to the Rio Grande.

BUY LUMBER FIRM

PHARR—Purchase of the Hub City Lumber Company by J. Lee Gore from R. W. Briggs of San Antonio and Pharr and R. H. Klossner, was announced this week. Gore has been manager of the company since January, 1932.

VALLEY GUARD LEAVING SOON

Infantry Regiment Is Expecting Call

SAN BENITO — It was learned here Saturday that Company M, 141st Regiment, 36th Division, Texas National Guard, of San Benito is expected to be called to a year's active duty about November 25. It is also understood that the 36th Division will be concentrated at Brownwood. Prior to leaving, the local company is expected to be inducted at the armory here for a 10-day period.

Captain W. L. Williams, First Lieut. Van Dorn Wedegartner, Second Lieut. Fred A. Booth and Second Lieut. James Glenn, Jr., left San Benito Saturday to attend a meeting of officers of the Third Battalion of the 141st Regiment. They will return late Sunday.

May Enlist For Year

Lieut. Col. Harry M. Carroll, U. S. Army Reserves, urged Saturday, "any man desiring one year's instruction in the various branches of the service to enlist immediately in one of the many units of the 36th Division."

"Valley boys will be with their friends in this division," he said, "instead of being sent later to other divisions to be among strangers."

"Various units of the 36th Division would like to have at least 600 men representing the Valley," Carroll stated. "Valley men may enlist in any branch of the service they wish and will leave with Company M from San Benito by special train in November."

Training Varies

These units include training in signal corps, air service, finance, quartermaster, artillery, infantry, cavalry, ordnance, medical corps, chemical warfare and engineering.

Company M in San Benito has a total of 83 men at this time, headed by Captain Williams. The company may be enlarged to 114 men at the training service in Brownwood.

Valley chambers of commerce are cooperating with the 141st Regiment of the 36th Division in soliciting enlistments and urging the young Valley men, who are possible draftees, to enlist now so as to be in this regiment composed of their friends.

Approximately 9,200 men are now in the 36th Division of the Texas National Guard. It is expected that this number will be increased to 18,000 men.

Two Men Will Face Distubance Trial

McALLEN—E. J. Brown of McAllen and L. W. Randolph of Mission will stand trial Monday morning in Justice of the Peace T. W. Kelly's court on drunk and disturbing the peace in a private residence charges, filed by city police after an altercation Friday night.

The men pleaded not guilty in an examining trial before Judge Kelly Saturday morning.

New Cop

Patrolman W. B. Dixon formerly with the Dallas district of the State Highway Patrol arrived at Harlingen this week to take over his newly assigned post in this district under Captain W. S. Bouldin.

Four More Die

Car Mishap Claims Additional Lives

LAFAYETTE, La—(AP)—Three instructors at Southwestern Louisiana Institute were killed early Saturday and two other persons were seriously injured in an automobile accident.

Dead were:

R. H. Milan, 39, a native of Martin Ferry, Ohio.

John Cooley, 25.

Miss Elizabeth Howard, 26.

The automobile jumped a ditch, plowed through a fence and hit a small embankment, racing up the incline and striking a large limb of a tree 12 feet in the air.

Lace-making of the "spider-web" variety is a thriving industry in Paraguay.

CHICK SHOW DRAWS 6000

Valley Farm Boys, Girls Honored

McALLEN—Registrations at the Valley Poultry Congress which ended here Saturday night approached 6,000 persons, Manager Harry Hill announced in declaring the event the most successful in history.

Eleven hundred various varieties of chickens were entered, and there were also exhibits of ducks, geese, turkeys and other fowls which drew poultry fanciers from all over South Texas.

Saturday was designated 4-H Club, FFA Boys and Boy Scouts day, with more than 500 Valley farm club boys and girls attending, the manager said. A concert by the McAllen high school band featured the closing program Saturday night.

The McAllen high school domestic science class, taught by Miss Lucile Wiley, served 1,200 biscuits to the visitors. Free buttermilk was served by Sunland Dairy, McAllen.

The program Saturday included the following:

A. V. Peterson, Pharr-San Juan-Alamo high school vocational instructor, "Caponizing Demonstration;" exhibition of quality eggs by George P. McCarthy, Texas A. and M. College; William Dudley, Mercedes vocational agricultural teacher, "Culling and Blood Testing;" M. Ellison, Weslaco vocational agricultural instructor, "Growing Meat Birds for Market;" and McCarthy, "Post Mortem of Diseased Birds, Control of Diseases and Parasites."

The event was held in the J. Edelstein Building on South Fifteenth street.

Mrs. Stuart Named At State Convention

HARLINGEN—Mrs. O. E. Stuart of Harlingen was elected third vice president of the Texas Federation of Garden Clubs this week at the convention in Tyler, according to an Associated Press dispatch.

The organization's constitution forbids re-election of officers but the executive committee broke all precident and set the clause aside for one year, re-electing Mrs. Will Lake of Fort Worth president.

The nominating committee cited uncertainty of world conditions as the reason.

IMPORTANT!

We Have Acquired The Entire Stock of Pianos

Willis' Bargain House

All Will Be Sold At

Greatly Reduced Prices!

We were able to buy this stock of pianos, both new and used, at a great reduction from factory prices, because Mr. Willis wished to accept a position in Beaumont and it was necessary that he dispose of his entire stock immediately. Because these pianos are not of the lines which we carry, we have no reason to keep them and retail them at regular prices. Consequently, we are able to offer some sensational prices on these pianos to those who are lucky enough to get here first. If you've been wanting a piano at a bargain price . . . HERE'S YOUR CHANCE ! !

Five MORE Reasons Why You Should Buy Your Piano From The SAN ANTONIO MUSIC CO.

1. DEPENDABILITY

We're proud of the fact that we've been in the piano business for 50 years. In that time we've seen a lot of companies come and go. We've seen their customers attempt to get piano service after the agent had gone out of business. Proudly we say that we've been here 50 years—and hope to be here many, many more to service our accounts.

2. SELECTION

The four piano companies we represent all manufacture "FIRST LINE" pianos. You can buy any of our pianos with safety—knowing that you're getting the maximum amount of tone and quality for your money.

3. PRICE

Our prices range from the lowest to the highest. Although we feature our quality pianos, if the customer demands a cheap piano—we have it.

4. GUARANTEE

The factory guarantee on the piano you buy from us is supplemented by our own guarantee. And you'll always find us ready to back up that guarantee!

5. UNDERSTANDING

Possibly the most important reason you should buy your piano from us is the fact that we're "home-folks." In case you should care to buy your piano on time—we handle our own papers and are in position to arrange payments that will be to your convenience. We assure you that we will attempt to sell you just what you want and need—and then we'll do our best to make you happy with your purchase.

FD Says America Answers Dictators By Teaching Truth In Schools

HE DEDICATES TWO SCHOOLS IN HOME AREA

Says U. S. To Reject Defeatism Theory

HYDE PARK, N. Y.—(AP)—An applauding throng of President Roosevelt's neighbors heard the chief executive declare Saturday that dictators had destroyed freedom of learning because "tyranny hates and fears nothing more than the free exchange of ideas, the free play of the mind that comes from education."

The President spoke at the new Franklin D. Roosevelt high school, dedicating it and two nearby grade schools, erected at a cost of $1,300,000 with the assistance of the PWA.

U. S. Uses Schools

In them, and in other schools of America, Mr. Roosevelt said, will be trained the nation's youth—"not for enforced labor camps or for regimentation as an enslaved citizenry, but for the intelligent exercise of the right of suffrage, and for participation as free human beings in the life of the nation."

Without censorship or restriction, he asserted, American children of today and the future will be taught the facts of current history and the whole context of current knowledge.

"Their textbooks will not be burned by a dictator who disagrees with them," the chief executive said: "Their teachers will not be banished by a ruler whom they have offended; their schools will not be closed if they teach unpalatable truths; and their daily instructions will not be governed by the decrees of any central bureau of propaganda."

Named For FDR

The dedicatory ceremonies were held on a crisp fall day in front of the two-story Fieldstone high school named for the president. Interspersed with numbers by a band from the United States Military Academy at West Point were addresses by local school officials, John W. Studebaker, federal education commissioner, and Ernest W. Cole, New York state educational commissioner.

The three new schools, the President said, are symbolic not only of the government's responsibility for providing free, universal education, but also of its duty to give work to those unable to find it. Each of these functions of government, he said, "is proving itself more and more vital to the continuance of our democracy."

"Eight years ago," he said, "at a time when our national economy had been prostrate for several years, when starvation and bankruptcy had almost become the order of the day," there were some who "chanted" that nature had to "run its course of misery, that deflation could not be stopped and that the depression was only the working of natural economic laws."

Defeatism Rejected

"The American government," he added, "decided to reject this philosophy of inaction and irresponsibility and indifference to the destitution of its citizens. In its place was substituted a new doctrine . . . that no one should starve who was willing to work but unable to find work."

"In building for the well being of America," he said, "we have built for the defense of America as well."

Fraternity Pledges Harlingen Student

HARLINGEN—Louis Robert Hollingsworth, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Hollingsworth, Harlingen, a student at Southern Methodist University, Dallas, has been pledged by Kappa Sigma, according to word here.

The Harlingen man is one of 159 pledged by 10 Greek letter fraternities at S. M. U.

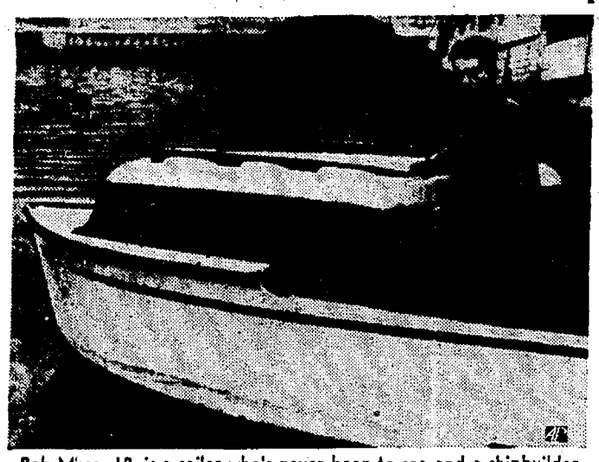

Youth In The News

It Took A Bit Of Doing—

These two youngsters did their work "in the dark."

Lois Nelson, 21-year-old University of Oregon junior, has never seen the campus. She was graduated from high school without seeing the building. She's been in bed with a heart disorder for 11 years. She has made perfect grades, wants to be a mathematics teacher.

Bob More, 18, is a sailor who's never been to sea and a shipbuilder who's never been in a shipyard. "Moke" built his 18-foot cruiser in the backyard of his Portland, Ore., home. He copied part of the hull design from a magazine and "sorta figured the rest out for myself." The boat cost $200.

FAIR EXHIBIT GETS CITRUS

Fresh Fruit Will Be Sent To Dallas

McALLEN — Fresh supplies of oranges, grapefruit and lemons will be sent to the Rio Grande Valley exhibit at the Dallas State Fair this week by the Valley chambers of commerce. The Red Arrow Freight lines will take about 15 boxes of fruit to Dallas next Thursday.

Last week's shipment included 20 boxes or packages of fruit, several cases of juice, and the decoration materials. To insure attention to the Valley exhibit, the booth manager bought an accordion, a combination radio and phonograph and some new music, which she will play and sing, then make speeches on the Valley.

The chambers of commerce will send a box each of oranges and grapefruit and will dispatch these next Thursday to Dallas, thereby insuring handsome fruit for the thousands of people visiting the fair. The Mission chamber of commerce sent two stalks of bananas to the exhibit Friday.

Billman Says It Was Not Growers Who Asked Ballot

MISSION—The growers were not the ones who asked for a referendum on the fruit stamping regulation, according to W. D. Billman, member of a committee opposed to marking low qualitty fruit with the grade.

Billman said the law provides that the commissioner of agriculture must call a hearing if only one grower protests a regulation and that he personally preferred a hearing at a referendum which he said would cost the growers $3,000.

"The hearing is the only route to take," Billman said.

Results of a hearing may be appealed to the state courts.

Although a petition was said to have been presented to J. E. McDonald, agriculture commissioner, some time ago, he has not yet set a hearing on the regulations which require fruit below U. S. No. 2 grade to be stamped "Third Grade" or "Cull" as the case may be.

Model Plane Activities

By GARVER MURRAY

The Academy of Model Aeronautics has called attention to the fact that they are having a safety campaign, and urge all academy members to fly safely, obey the rules, and urge all model flyers that are not members to join now . . . They also sent enough application blanks to cover the whole Valley, so if any of you need them drop me a card . . . Remember you can now buy insurance to cover your flying, for only a dollar a year, and I urge all gas model members to secure this coverage. In case your model gets out of hand, and does some damage to someone's car or person, it would pay you to have this damage covered. . . . Also in traveling to a sanctioned meet, if the conveyance that the model is in should have an accident and your model is damaged, the policy covers this up to $25 . . . Your model catching fire and burning at a sanctioned meet is also covered . . . Don't wait until it is too late, insure now . . .

Jim Bishop from La Feria was in telling about trading his Brown for an Ohlsson "60". We should equip our timers with binoculars so they will be able to keep Jim's "Clipper" in sight. . . . We are promised a thrill at Mercedes. Jim Thomas is bringing his "Buccaneer Special" and boy does it perform. . . . Scotty Bowlin is building up a "New Ruler" and this model has been taking quite a few meets in the east and should be a good performer anywhere. . . . Billy Younkin still in a fog as to what to build. Has a stunt event (in his head) for the meet at San Benito. . . . John Maltby is running into complications on his DC2, but if I know John, he will work them out. . . . Wayne Cole, proving the old adage, "You can't stop a model builder," by rebuilding his ship on the field, after it cracked up last Sunday. Nice going, Wayne . . . Billy Bryant of San Benito wins the broken bladed balsa knife for his performance last Sunday. Better "running" next week, Billy . . .

Jack Waldron of McAllen disproved the theory about "low wing." Sure has a fine performer too . . . Heard a modeler mutter Sunday "No wonder I am having so much trouble. I didn't go to Sunday School this morning.' That's a good thought, fellows, and one of the reasons we decided to hold our contests in the afternoon, so you could attend services in the morning . . . W. T. Gooch has a new Ohlsson and promises us something new next Sunday . . . By the way, did you know that the Phil Atteberrys have a new model builder? And it's a boy this time. Phil almost missed out last Sunday, but promises that he will be on hand next time. Has a re-designed "Gull" to show us. . . .

Mrs. Temple of San Juan writes that the Tri-City boys had re-election of officers last Monday, with Buck Guion as the new president; Russell Linnard as vice president and Mrs. R. G. Temple as secretary-treasurer. Mr. R. G. Temple, Sr. stepped into keep peace by being elected sergeant-at-arms. . . . R. G., Jr. is working on a new Atom powered job. Hope it doesn't leave home . . . Melvin Alpers is working on a Lockheed, which was to be shown at the "Fair" . . . The question has come up about a Valley-wide meeting for the "Parents" of all model plane builders, so that they may learn more of the educational value of the science in building, and what value it has for their boys and their future. I'm for it. What so you say?

HUNTERS GET BANDED BIRDS

50 White-Wing Bands Sent In

BROWNSVILLE — At least 50 banded white-wings have been reported by Valley hunters during the present season, G. B. Saunders of the Federal Fish and Wildlife service said Saturday.

The birds, banded in nesting grounds in Cameron and Hidalgo counties, have been shot in a number of localities in Hidalgo, Cameron, Willacy, Starr and Zapata counties. Mr. Saunders said. Returns on birds killed in more distant counties are expected in the near future. Only two of the birds reported were killed in Mexico.

"This assistance by hunters," Mr. Saunders said, "has greatly increased the effectiveness of the banding program and will speed up the gathering of information on the post-season migration of white-wings."

Mr. Sanders asked persons knowing of any bands not yet reported to notify their local newspaper, game warden or hardware dealer, or to send a postcard to the state game commission at Austin or the biological survey at Washington, D. C.

Information on the card should include the band number, date and location where the bird was killed, and the name an address of the hunter.

Lot Cleaning Plan Launched At Alamo

ALAMO—The civic improvement campaign sponsored by Lions club, Garden club, chamber of commerce and the fire department, includes the cleaning up of vacant lots in the city. Brush is being cleared and burned on the third block this week. Private donations of money or labor are solicited, according to the chairman, Carl Thompson.

COLUMBUS DAY PROGRAM SET

Corpus Christi Man To Be Speaker

HARLINGEN—Rev. Father Albert Schreiber of Corpus Christi will speak on the Columbus Day program Saturday, October 12, planned by the Harlingen Council, Knights of Columbus. The talk will be broadcast over KRGV. An open house will be held at the local hall at 8 p. m. October 12.

The following morning, members of the council will attend field mass at Mission and Rio Grande City at 10 a. m., followed by luncheon at Rio Grande City. A district meeting at the Rio Grande Citty council hall will be held at 2:30 p. m. when State Advocate and Acting District Deputy Menton J. Murray of Harlingen will preside. The award for the most active council for the past year will be made to the Rio Grande City county.

Committee for the open house program is composed of Fred Keepers and Tom Yates of Harlingen and Bill Heller of Mercedes.

Ed Winkler, Jerome Levins, Lancy Rodgers, Jerry Muggli, Joe Garza, Manuel Cantu and Bill Merdian have been named to attend the Boy Scout training school with Keralum Council preparing to sponsor a scout troop.

The council decided to offer the use of its hall and services of eligible members on registration day, October 15, if needed.

Bridges Burn

Mexico Probe Into Fires Ordered

MEXICO CITY—(AP)—Two more bridges on Mexico's National Railways have been set afire by unknown persons, the railroad management reported.

Military authorities were ordered to investigate the fires, which were quenched before serious damage was done.

Both bridges were near Maravitio, about 100 miles west of Mexico City.

Railroad authorities reported all traffic in Northern Mexico was normal.

Head Of Pharr Firm Retires October 15

PHARR — Resignation of G. L. Callis as general manager of the Pharr Equity Exchange was announced by the board of directors this week following the annual stockholders meeting. Callis, who has been manager since 1930, as well as one of the principal stockholders, is retiring because of ill health and the need to look after his own citrus and farm lands. He will leave active management on October 15.

At the stockholders' meeting and election of officers, Archie Carlson was elected president; E. E. Watterston vice president and A. P. Wahlers secretary. Other members of the board are Dr. J. W. Conard and Ed Koch.

Mr. Carlson stated a new manager would be named soon.

Torricelli conceived the first barometer in 1643.

Changes announced in Prime Minister Winston Churchill's government included naming of Labor Minister Ernest Bevin (above) to the important inner cabinet. He is one of Britain's leading laborites.

GROUP IS TO PRESENT PLAY

'Night Must Fall' Is Season Opener

EDINBURG — When the Valley Little Theater presents "Night Must Fall," in the junior college auditorium here Monday night, October 14, it will mark the third straight season that Harry Pederson of McAllen has had a leading part in the opening play.

Pederson, a photographer and citrus grower, had a leading part in "Petrified Forest" with which the little theater opened its first season in February, 1939, and in "Petticoat Fever" which opened the 1939 season.

Pederson will have the part of Dan, a self-centered clever young fellow who has murdered one woman and has won the affections of another woman whom he plans to kill.

The mystery comedy is directed by Paul Moore.

Dictators 'Ready To Strike' In 'Vulnerable' Spots

BERLIN SAYS NEXT MOVE IS NOW READY

Mediterranean May Be Battleground

By The Associated Press

BERLIN—Germany and Italy are ready to strike new blows at Britain in some "vulnerable spot," Nazi informants indicated Saturday amid talk the eastern Mediterranean may now become a battleground.

Emphasized was the notion Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini reached momentous decisions in Brenner Pass Friday and soon would act.

It was a meeting, said one authorized person, whose subject was not peace but victory—a "war and diplomatic council."

It's A Secret

"England," he observed, "is vulnerable in many places. Naturally, we cannot tell you where."

Saying winter would bring no breathing spell to England, the Hamburger Fremdenblatt declared the new German-Italian-Japanese alliance had "created the political pre-conditions for pursuing the war against "England on all fronts."

"Speed and surprise," the paper pursued, "have been the most valuable weapons of our martial art. England is again exposed to the painful necessity of groping in the dark and guessing what cannot be guessed . . . where new blows by Germany and Italy will fall, what methods will be employed in that connection and what moment has been chosen."

The National Zeitung of Essen, a publication close to Reichsmarshal Herman Wilhelm Goering, was preoccupied with the point the British fighting front now stretched from the Thames to the Suez; that the British Empire was under world-wide pressure from the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo pact.

On Two Continents

"Europe and Africa," the Zeitung remarked, "represent a whole and, corresponding to this conception, the Axis makes it political as well as its military decisions for both continents in one inclusive program of action."

Class Officers

Santa Rosa Elects 5 Grades Heads

SANTA ROSA — Five classes of the Santa Rosa school have recently elected officers for the new school year, with George Schulgen being named president of the senior class. Bobby Todd is vice president; Angeline Sesso, secretary; Amelia Kuzniar, treasurer; Alene Keyes, social chairman; Muron Castleberry and James Eubanks, program chairmen. Room mothers are Mrs. Todd, Mrs. Castleberry and Mrs. Kleopping.

Mission Editor Is Speaker At Pharr's Kiwanis Club Lunch

PHARR—Joe T. Cook of Mission reviewed the history of printing and cited some of its contributions to civilization on the Kiwanis club program Thursday noon, commemorating "National Newspaper Week." Because of the printed word we are able to enjoy all the great classics of the past, the speaker declared. This is also the 500th anniversary year of the printing industry, being founded by Gutenberg in 1440.

Lloyd Glover was program chairman and introduced the speaker. Mrs. George Leach was introduced as the new club pianist. Visitors were H. H. Johnson, Harlingen; H. H. Hensley, John Boeye, Kenneth Alley, Al Ray, John McPherson, all of McAllen.

Backer Says Almazan Will Assume Presidency To Obey People's Will

McALLEN—"There can be no revolution in Mexico under the present circumstances," Francisco A. Cardenas, identified as "the authorized representative of General Juan Andreu Almazan, president-elect of Mexico," declared in a communication received here Saturday from San Antonio.

Cardenas, who has established offices at San Antonio, "registered with the State Department of the United States of America," asserted however, that "a state of rebellion, to which General Almazan is not a party, has existed since the July election."

The full statement, issued to "clarify the position of General Almazan in the current Mexican political situation," follows:

Will Almazan Revolt

"The question most frequently asked of us who have just come from Mexico is, 'Will Almazan revolt?' Many news headlines and radio comments mention a possible 'revolution' and suggest that General Almazan will 'cause trouble.'

"Such phrases are due to natural thought habits of those who have not examined a complex situation. They assumed that a legitimate government is in power in Mexico and that any step to depose that government would constitute rebellion. But I believe a simple review of the facts will lead any open minded person to two revised conclusions:

"First: A state of rebellion, to which General Almazan is not a party, has existed since the July election. Second: There can be no revolution in Mexico under the present circumstances.

U. S. Magazines Cited

"You will recall that American news correspondents in Mexico reported both before and after the election that the Almazan majority was preponderant. These estimates were supported by such leading magazines as Time, Collier's, Current History, Reader's Digest, Life and others.

"These writers explained the facts prior to the election: (a) that the people evidently were in open protest against the Cardenas administration that had undermined Mexico's economy regimented in totalitarian fashion its education, social and religious life, and given all power to a set of political and labor leaders who were exploiting the masses for personal gain; that these leaders, all members of the Cardenas created official party, the P.R.M. had complete control of the electoral machinery and were able to announce any election result they might wish.

"The expected happened — and was reported. The people went to the polls for Almazan. More than 300 were killed or wounded and hundreds of thousands were denied the ballot by P.R.M. gunmen who had seized the booths.

2,400,000 Votes For Almazan?

"But the people voted. Either at designated polls or at special booths set for those who had been illegally driven from the polls, they cast 2,492,567, ballots, bearing their signatures and fingerprints, for Almazan. These represented two-thirds of the country's voting strength.

"Later, the P.R.M. machine announced the 'official' results and the 'election' of its candidate, General Avila Camacho. Its findings were characterized by the magazine, Time, as 'unashamedly rigged.'

"Now, the Mexican constitution states that 'the national sovereignty resides essentially and originally in the people.' It follows that when the P.R.M. flouted the will of the people, it placed itself in rebellion against the will of the people, and against the Constitution which guarantees democratic elections. That is the only rebellion that exists in Mexico today.

"The constitution also designates congress as the repository of the rights of the people. The votes cast for Almazan also elected a congress of his supporters. This congress, when it convened Sept. 1, logically became the legitimate congress. The fact that it must meet secretly because the armed power is still in control of a few generals and politicians who have profited enormously under Lazaro Cardenas and are now willing to kill and destroy to hold their sinecures, has no bearing on the point. This body is in no sense a 'rump' congress, although the term 'rebel congress' can be applied to the illegal body in armed possession of the legislative chambers.

Mission Is Explained

"Can there be a revolution? The word, 'revolution,' used politically means a radical change in the form or administration of a government. General Almazan has no wish to change the form of government; his mission is simply to restore the democratic form guaranteed by the constitution, by establishing the rights of the legitimate congress. He cannot change the administration because the people, by electing him administrator-to-be, have taken that step in complete compliance with the constitution. His only plan is to assume the office to which he has been elected at the designated time, Dec. 1.

"I do not ask your interested readers to take at face value what has been said here. But I do ask them to go back to the newspaper files and the magazines mentioned and check the facts as reported objectively. Then, I believe, their sympathetic interest, at least, will rest with the democratic forces in the country next door."

GRID TICKET SALE TO END

McAllen Plans Trip To San Antonio

McALLEN—Sale of tickets on the chartered bus to San Antonio Friday will close Wednesday at 6 p.m. Burgess Stutzenbecker, head of the Kiwanis club committee sponsoring the bus, said Saturday. The bus is being chartered to assure a turnout of local residents for the McAllen-San Antonio football game Friday.

A round trip ticket costs $5.90 and may be obtained from the Missour-Pacific railroad ticket office here.

The 41-passenger bus will leave McAllen at 11 a.m. arriving at San Antonio about 5:30 p.m. for a sightseeing trip before the game. The return trip will get under way after the game is over.

To insure getting the bus 41 seats must be sold by Wednesday, Stutzenbecker said. Any persons in the Valley may reserve a seat on the bus.

13 Fire Alarms

Brownsville Has No Loss From Blazes

BROWNSVILLE — The Brownsville Fire Department answered 13 alarms during the month of September but did not mark up a red cent as loss during the period, records filed by Fire Chief W. S. Walker showed Wednesday.

The fire department answered 2 box alarms one of which was false, five belt alarms, five still alarms, and one emergency run with the inhalator. The booster tanks were used six times.

Value of property involved in fires during the month was $3,200. All dead-end fire hydrants were flushed once each week and all fire alarm boxes were tested and found in good working order. Ten piles of brush were burned.

The department finished a six-week training school for eligibles on the waiting list and graduated six men.

Chief Walker recommended that 10 blocks of fire alarm wire be replaced with new wire.

Alamo Speeds New Cleanup Campaign

A Daring American Rescuer Whisks German-Jew Novelist From French Concentration Camp Near Border

NEW YORK—(AP)—Lion Feuchtwanger, famed German-Jewish novelist, reached the haven of America Saturday with a story of how a daring United States citizen snatched him from a French concentration camp and whisked him to safety.

The 56-year-old author arrived on the American export liner Excalibur, a fugitive from concentration camps in his homeland and those of France, his erstwhile place of refuge.

The writer, thick-haired and bespectacled, said his release came when French guards permitted him to leave camp for his weekly bath in a river about three miles distant.

A car sped up to him as he trudged down the road, he said, and the driver brusquely ordered: "Come, get in. Don't ask any questions." He then was taken across the Spanish border a few miles away.

Feuchtwanger cautiously guarded the name of his American liberator, who he said was remaining in France.

The Excalibur brought $3,000,000 in gold and 195 passengers, including 85 Americans.

NEW DECREES SAY OUSTING IS IMMEDIATE

British Investigate 2 Kidnapings

By The Associated Press

BUCHAREST—Rumania's month-old Iron Guard government put into force Saturday the most sweeping of its many anti-Semitic laws as its drive against foreign interests and the old regime flared up to new heat.

Under the new law all rural land and dwellings to which Jews held title automatically become state property Saturday.

Must Leave Immediately

Occupants must leave their land and homes immediately. The property is to be turned over to Rumanian refugees from Transylvania, Bessarabia, and the South Dobruja, areas Rumania recently has ceded to Hungary, Soviet Russia and Bulgaria.

The former Jewish owners will be paid three per cent annually of the value of the property as fixed by the government but will receive none of the principal.

British Investigate

As the government clamped new restrictions on foreign-owned and managed corporations, Reginald Hoare, the British minister, drove to Ploesti to investigate personally the case of 60-year-old Percy Clark, a Briton and president of a Ploesti oil engineering firm.

The British legation has charged that Clark was kidnaped, "seriously maltreated," turned over to secret police and later released and placed under house arrest.

Mrs. John E. Tracy, an English woman whose husband is employed by the American-owned Romano-Americano Oil Company, was released Saturday after 12 days detention by police but a military tribunal prepared to try five other Britons, all oil executives, on what informed sources called "very serious charges," presumably alleged attempts to sabotage oil shipments to Germany.

Commissars Named

Commissars to "investigate and supervise" the management of the 50 largest companies in Rumania with foreign connections, among them the American-owned and financed Rumanian Telephone Company, were named by the government.

America's First Parachute Battalion Jumps Saturday

Float Down As Farewell Gesture To Envoys From South America Making Tour

FORT BENNING, Ga.—(AP)—Eighteen soldiers pioneering in the United States Army's first parachute battalion floated down from two planes Saturday in a farewell gesture to a score of Latin American military leaders.

Captain W. T. Ryder and 17 men bailed out of planes at about 800 feet and completed their drops in about 50 seconds, an army truck following along and picking them up as they landed.

One of the men had to use his second, or emergency 'chute, when the first one failed to open properly but otherwise this first public demonstration by the newly formed 501st battalion of parachute troops followed practice routine closely.

Major W. M. Miley, battalion commander, directed the exhibition from the ground and received the congratulations of the visiting generals, who described the show as "perfect" and "impressive."

Immediately after the jumping, the official party took off by transport plane for Barksdale Field at Shreveport, La., the next stop in their national tour of inspection of U. S. defenses.

M'ALLEN FIRE CHECK BEGINS

Mallau Will Survey Blaze Hazards

McALLEN—Inspection of all business houses and buildings within the fire zone will get under way Monday by City Fire Marshal Henry Mallau to determine if all residents are complying with city's ordinance for fire prevention.

Mallau explained that according to city regulations rigid gas connections to stoves, ranges and other appliances are required or flexible metal connections not over five feet long.

Rubber hose connections of all kinds are illegal, Mallau declared.

Flexible cords not over eight feet long used as drop connections to electrical appliances are legal, but must not be looped over nail or touch any metal. Conduits must be used on all except drop cords, the city fire marshall said.

He said all efforts are being made to enforce the law which results in McAllen's residents saving thousands of dollars annually in lower insurance rates.

Home-Town Boy Makes Good In Big Way In City, So San Benito Monday Has Day For Lew Valentine, 'Dr. I. Q.'

* * * * * *

SAN BENITO—This is a brief story of a home-town boy who made good in a large way, the story of a Valley boy whose radio personality is now known to millions of radio listeners throughout the country and whose voice will come back to the Valley over Station KRGV, beginning Monday night, October 7, at 8 p. m.

The name of this Valley boy who made good is Lewis Valentine, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Valentine of San Benito, and the famous "Dr. I. Q." of radio fame. He was born and reared in San Benito and attended San Benito schools until the urge of radio struck him and he yielded to the urge.

Bring Him Home

The sponsors of "Dr. I. Q." have decided to present him to Valley radio audiences through station KRGV, Weslaco, and this nationally known feature will be presented each Monday night henceforth through the National Broadcasting Company.

When KRGV was advised that "Dr. I. Q.," which has become one of the most popular of all the radio quiz shows during the past two years, would be presented in the Valley, Ken Lowell Sibsen, station manager, immediately informed San Benito citizens. The response was immediate. Mayor Louis Witte proclaimed Monday, October 7, as "Dr. I. Q. Day" in San Benito, and he and other San Benitans decided to make the celebration city-wide. Joining in this program, KRGV will present a specially transcribed interview with former schoolmates of young Valentine, his former teachers, othert San Benito friends and his parents.

This broadcast will be heard Monday evening, October 7, at 6:30 to 6:45 p. m. To be heard on this program will be Mr. and Mrs. Valentine, Mayor Witte, Mrs. J. E. McAnally, one of his teachers, and Grady St. Clair, now superintendent of the San Benito public schools and a former classmate of "Dr. I. Q."

Born In San Benito

Lewis Valentine was born in San Benito on August 5, 1912, and attended San Benito schools. In 1929 he went to Houston and joined the entertainment staff of Station KTLC as a tenor soloist. Later he became an announcer on the station before returning to the Valley. But, as his mother explains it, "He had had a taste of radio and he just wouldn't finish school."

It was in November, 1930, when he joined Station KRGV, then located in Harlingen, as its first full-time announcer. Prior to that time, the station's employes had done everything required around the station, including the announcing. Young Valentine remained on KRGV's staff for nearly a year, then returned to Houston, where he joined the announcing staff of KPRC, the Houston Post station.

About two years later, he moved to San Antonio where he joined the staff of Station WOAI. In October, 1935, steadily moving upward, he joined the production department of Station WLW in Cincinnati, where he learned much about the technique of radio presentations, later to stand him in good stead as he developed his own famous program.

In April, 1936, Valentine came back to San Antonio, and worked out the details of his "Dr. I. Q." program. Finally developing the presentation, he first was presented as "Dr. I. Q." in January, 1939, in Atlanta, Georgia.

First In Theaters

The "Dr. I. Q." program is broadcast from the stages of the most prominent theatres in the various cities throughout the United States. At the present time, "Dr. I. Q." is heard from the stage of the Capitol Theatre on Broadway in New York City. Previously, "Dr. I. Q." has visited Hollywood, Philadelphia, Dallas, Pittsburgh, Louisville, Boston, Chicago, Billings, Mont., and Denver.

"Dr. I. Q." asks his questions from the stage of the theatre, and he has six announcer-assistants, each of whom carries a portable microphone throughout the theater so that a member of the theater audience wishing to answer one of his questions may remain seated while doing so.

Must Hold Card To Enter Shelters

LONDON—(AP)—Admiral Sir Edward R. G. R. Evans, newly appointed director for air raid shelter in the London area, indicated that a season ticket system would be established for refugees from German bombers to assure everyone a shelter for a night's rest.

Evans urged a system to "insure that the right people go into the right shelters."

"Tickets will be available for tubes and public shelters generally," he added.

London is providing sleeping accommodations for a million persons, he said, but the rest are fending for themselves.

Texan's Assignment Is Ordered Changed

TANKER CALLS AT PT. ISABEL

New Submarine Also Is Expected

SAN BENITO—James C. Bowie, Port Isabel port director, said Saturday the S.S. Thermo, tanker, brought in a cargo of 35,000 barrels of crude oil Saturday for the Coastal Refinery.

The new U.S.S. Tautog, submarine on her shakedown cruise, is expected to arrive in Port Isabel on October 18 accompanied by a destroyer, Bowie stated. On arrival there a reception and celebration has been planned honoring the five officers and 54 enlisted men of the crew by the American Legion post in the port city. Large crowds from all Valley towns are expected and invited to Port Isabel to see this 307 feet long submarine. Arrangements for the celebration are in charge of Paul Reynolds, post commander.

Also on October 18, the tanker R. P. Smith, is scheduled to arrive to lift 85,000 barrels of refined oil from the Coastal Refinery for eastern seaboard destinations.

'Ugly Building'

Navy Asks Congress For $3,200,000

WASHINGTON— (AP) —The navy wants to construct a purposely "ugly" building amidst the scores of marble and granite government structures.

Asking Congress for $3,200,000 to finance an emergency steel and wood navy building, W. E. Reynolds, commissioner of the public buildings administration, told a Senate committee:

"The idea would be to make it somewhat ugly, so that we could tear it down" when a permanent structure was built.

Wife Was Fat

No Longer Attractive Lost Husband's Love

The above headlines appeared in a New York newspaper in connection with a divorce trial that had attracted wide attention: "She was a beautiful woman" one witness testified, "but she got fat and is not attractive any more."

Thousands of women are getting fat and losing their appeal just because they do not know what to do. If you are fat, how would you like to lose it and at the same time gain in physical charm and attractiveness—more energy—greater activity?

Why not do what thousands of women have done to get rid of pounds of unwanted fat? Take 1-2 teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast and keep it up for thirty days. Cut out pastries and fatty meals and go light on potatoes, butter, cream and sugar. Then weigh yourself and see how many pounds you have lost.

A bottle of Kruschen Salts will last you for 4 weeks and costs but little. Ask Brownsville Agents—Den-Russ Pcy., McKay's Phcy.; Harlingen Agents—Day Drug Co., Central Drug Store; McAllen Agent—Palmer Drug Store or any druggist for a bottle of Kruschen, plain or new effervescent—sparkling—pleasant—and start today to lose fat. Satisfaction guaranteed or money back.—Adv.

Valley Football

Taking a glance over Rio Grande Valley football as displayed last week-end, we discover that nothing startling occurred in any game. There were no upsets and the scores ran about as expected, with on exception—Mission was not supposed to run over Raymondville by such a wide margain (38-0).

Three Class A conference games were played with Mercedes, Donna and Mission putting marks on the right side of the ledger while La Feria, Phar-San Juan-Alamo and Raymondville were charged with losses.

No Class AA games have been played to date but Friday night Brownsville and San Benito will start the ball rolling with the Greyhounds meeting the Eagles at Brownsville. The rest of this week's AA schedule calls for McAllen to pay a visit to Thomas Jefferson in San Antonio and Edinburg to entertain Donna. Harlingen has an off week.

Two Class A conference games are scheduled Friday night, Mission playing at Mercedes and Weslaco meeting the Bears at Pharr. Other games are inter-district affairs.

When Frank Witherspoon chalked up a couple of touchdowns against Weslaco last Friday night he ran his total six-pointers to seven and this figure puts him well out in front of the leading scorers. His teammate, Billy Joe Livingston, is in second place with 30 points and Walter Leverman of McAllen is holding the third spot with 27 tallies.

In The Mail

In answer to an article appearing in the Valley Morning Star a few days ago relative to a criminal fish (Hitlerites) being the cause of lack of fish; well, let's analyze the situation. The Gulf and the Bay have been there a long time. The weather has been about the same, and the fish in the Gulf and the Bay have been there a long time. So that puts it up to one thing—commercial seining and netting, with destruction of spawning beds.

Here is the situation around Port Isabel, jetties, boats, seining and netting:

First, the jetties keep the surf or shallow water fish from entering the bay and also the river water from entering the bay. Redfish and trout are shallow water fish. They are obstructed by jetties from the channel anl the bay. There should be an opening in the jetties near the surf, allowing fish to pass in and out of the bay, and up and down the surf.

Second, seining is the real destruction. A few years ago before seining was constant, we could catch fish anywhere, but as seins became numerous in the bay and on the coast we were compelled to hunt a new fishing place. We went to Mexico, and there we found a real fishing place, but in a year or so we went back and discovered a fishing camp there, and our catch was lighter. In about a month we went back and caught nothing; but we found seins a mile long there. So we went to the second pass and there we found a good catch. In a short time we went back and found fishing camps there, with no good fishing again. We continued on down, with the same results, and finally we found them seining the surf and likewise we had no luck there.

So now we have nowhere to go and have a catch. The Gulf, the passes, and the Bay in Mexico are the same as years ago, except for the seining.

So there is only one answer: STOP seining and netting. Let the fish spawn and re-establish in the bay. DREDGE the channel below and above the jetties, in order that fresh river and gulf water can enter the bay and open a gap in jetties near surf, that water and fish may enter the bay.

Now as far as criminal fish are concerned, they have always been there, and I suppose for a purpose.

So let us—you and I—discard all personal feelings and build a real sports heaven, not a commercial center. Let us make Port Isabel a real resort, one that we can recommend and one tourists will return to.

I intend to push this No-seining to a finish. We do not care for shark hides or the personal interest of a few.

Dr. H. A. Life.

About Whitewings

Elsewhere on the sports page will be found an article setting out possible reasons for the coming decrease in whitewings in the Valley.

The article is written by G. B. Saunders of the Research Division of the Federal Fish and Wildlife Service and is an unbiased opinion from an expert in his line.

It would be well for every hunter to read this article and then decide for HIMSELF what HE should do to aid in the conservation of our whitewings.

We are not sure but we believe Hart Stilwell came up with the suggestion that each hunter register his day's kill with a game warden. We believe this would help cut in on the game hog as much as any other law could. Of course the cheater would still cheat but such a law would help. Then shooting only in the afternoons on certain days is an excellent idea.

So far as the writer is concerned this whole problem rests with the hunters themselves. Until the game hogs stop killing the whitewings by the hundreds and stop getting their limit of 12 birds several times each hunting day, it won't be long until there will be no shooting.

Perhaps when the game hogs lose their luck and get caught by the game wardens and are handed some stiff fines, it will help. At least it will be interesting to hear the loud cries let out by these cheaters.

Six Cadets Go Across Goal Line

20,000 Gridmaniacs See Contest

SAN ANTONIO —(AP)— Overwhelming power aground and superiority in the air gave the potent Texas A. and M. College grid machine an easy 41 to 6 victory over a stubborn Tulsa University Hurricane here Saturday.

The 1939 national champions managed for two markers in the first half and then wore down the embattled Tulsans who rallied but once to tally in the final period. The Hurricane fought valiently but failed to deliver in pay-off territory.

A crowd of more than 20,000 packed beautiful new Alamo Stadium in sunshiny weather. It was the first appearance of a Southwest Conference team here in many years.

The Aggie scoring was well balanced, no man crossing the Tulsa goal line more than once. The Texans got 108 yards on the ground to Tulsa's 88 but amassed 200 by the aerial route to the Oklahomans' 115. To this the Farmers added 124 yards by running back intercepted passes.

Shortly after the starting whistle Tulsa was forced to punt out on Texas A. and M.'s 48 after which the Aggies commenced their first scoring drive. Derace Moser raced around end for nine, then crashed over guard to the Tulsa 39. Marion Pugh sliced through tackle for nine and a nicely timed pass, Pugh to Jim Thomason, added another first down on the Tornado's 26. Pugh then cracked through tackle for 13 and Moser, swinging wide to the left, ran over standing up. A holding penalty nullified the placekick for point and Pugh passed to Elvis Simons for the point.

Late in the second quarter, John Kimbrough, all-American fullback last year, intercepted a pass and dashed 20-odd yards to the Tulsa three where he was run out of bounds. Pugh got a yard and Kimbrough plunged over. Pugh placekicked the point.

Field Goal Wins For Ohio State

COLUMBUS, O. —(AP)— Golden-haired, golden-toed Charley Maag, six-foot-three-inch tackle, booted a field goal with 21 seconds to play Saturday as Ohio State, battered and bewildered by fast and fighting Purdue, beat the Boilermakers 17 to 14.

A crowd of 54,556 sat tense as the blonde giant plummeted the winning placement between the uprights from the 12-yard line and then tossed a terrific cheer as they realized the Bucks had captured the opener in defense of their Western Conference football championship.

Ohio, outweighing Purdue about 15 pounds per man, were prohibitive favorites but the Boilermakers refused to concede anything—even after Ohio led 14-0 at the half.

WAKE FOREST 19; FURMAN 0

WAKE FOREST, N. C.—(AP)—A blocking back who had been the work horse of the Wake Forest football team for two seasons got his chance for real glory Saturday and he made the most of it, trotting 70 yards for a touchdown as the Deacons won 19 to 0 over a stubborn Purple Hurricane from Furman.

The blocking back was Jimmy Ringgold, Deacon captain and fullback.

Don't Let 'Em Scare You

Not goon-like men from Mars, but three stalwarts of the University of South Carolina's 1940 grid team are shown above wearing mattress-like blocking pads to protect them from injuries in dummy scrimmage. Coach Rex Enright has a small squad, and is wary about the injury jinx. Wearing the pads, left to right, are: Joe Hatkevich, senior guard of Erie, Pa.; Gus Hempley, junior end of Spartanburg, S. C., and Steve Nowak, sophomore tackle of Erie Pa. The Gamecocks opened their season against Georgia Saturday at Columbia, S. C., and were defeated 33 to 2.

Longhorns Post 13-6 Win Over Hoosier Eleven

Jack Crain Leads Steer Attack

By HAROLD HARRISON

BLOOMINGTON—(AP)— Indiana's aerial attack clicked everywhere except deep in enemy territory Saturday and a more versatile University of Texas team, led by Jack "Rabbitt" Crain, handed the Hoosiers a 13-to-6 setback in their football opener. The crowd numbered 17,000.

For the Longhorns it was victory No. 2 of the current campaign. They beat Colorado last week.

After turning back two Indiana threats in the first period, Texas scored in the second quarter after Malcolm Kutner blocked Hal Hursh's attempted quick kick and the Longhorns recovered on the Indiana 16. R. L. Harkins went over from the two-yard line and Orban Sanders added the extra point by picking up his blocked placekick attempt and running across the goal.

Crain smashed over right tackle in the third period for the second Longhorn touchdown after he had intercepted one of Hursh's passes on the Indiana forty-four and twisted his way to the six.

A 42-yeard march brought Indiana its touchdown in the final quarter. Harold (Red) Zimmer reeled off a 20 yard run and passes from Mickey McGuire and Ray Dumke and Howdy Elloitt, plus a penalty on Texas for unnecessary roughness, gave Indiana a first down on the one-yard line. Dumke scored around right end but the try for point failed.

Indiana had the edge in first downs, 15 to 9, but only three of them came from rushing. The Hoosiers gained only 11 yards net by rushing, but they piled up 234 yards by completing 19 of 35 passes. Texas gained 106 yards by rushing; only 48 by passing.

Crain's dashes through the Indiana line and the booming Texas punts, which averaged 43.5 yards, kept the Hoosiers back on their heels much of the time.

Lineups and summary:

Wildcats Wallop Syracuse 40-0

SYRACUSE, N. Y.— (AP) —Northwestern University's footballers came East to open their season Saturday, and found everything in readiness for them except a football team.

The girls were pretty, the sun was bright, and the turf in Syracuse's Archbold Stadium was springy and green. The Syracuse football team, however, was only green and soggy, so Northwestern had practically no trouble at all in winning by 40-0.

It must have been a shock to the 20,000 rooters to see how easily the lads from Evanston handled the men in the Orange and Blue of Syracuse.

For blond Bill Decorrevont it was a particular field day. The junior halfback finally showed himself to have developed into a full-fledged football player.

Decorrevont scored twice and shared touchdown and offensive honors with his classmate, 215-pound Don Clawson. Clawson threw his weight into the inept Syracuse line to good effect. That's the way he took over the first score. But on his second he leaped between Syracuse passer and receiver to pick an aerial out of the blue and sprint 42 yards over the goal.

Royal Lohry, sub quarterback, hit the line for the touchdown after Kansas had been penalized to its one-yard line for offside. Paul Darling kicked the point.

Mustangs Kick Teachers 20-7 With Pitching

Ponies' Air Attack Pays Off

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

DALLAS—(AP)—Ray Mallouf and Johnny Clement pitched strikes in the pinches, Clint McClain turned in some dazzling runs and their Southern Methodist University mates cashed in on the breaks to beat a gallant North Texas State Teachers College eleven 20-7 Saturday before a crowd of 12,000.

Action was scarce in the first half as a blazing sun beat down but the crowd was in an uproar over the driving finish of the green-shirted boys from Denton.

The stubborn North Texas line halted everything SMU tried in the first period but early in the second the Mustangs took to the air and with Ray Mallouf on the firing line marched to a quick touchdown.

Mallouf flipped a 33 yard pass to Bill Thomas who dodged his way 17 yards for the score. Thomas added the point.

The next Methodist counter came in the third period, a 13 yard pass by Clement to Roland Goss settling up the score as the climax of a 43 yard march. From the North Texas 30, McClain rapped guard for four then sliced through tackle and cut back through a bevy of North Texas players for the touchdown. Thomas missed the goal.

The Methodists got another shortly afterward, this time on a break. Johnny Riola, the 147-pound backfield star of the North Texans who for the day was the defensive terror, tried to pass but Clarence Booth batted the ball into the air and Ted Ramsey gathered it in. Ramsey dived toward the goal but fell on the North Texas 21. Next interference was ruled on a pass from Dick Miller to Kelly Simpson, giving SMU the ball on the North Texas 9 yard line. Miller plunged twice to carry it over and Johnston kicked the goal.

Visions of last week's garrison finish when North Texas almost caught Baylor arose as the Teachers began drive of their own with only minutes to play. Bobby Dodd intercepted Miller's pass and ran to the SMU 24. Riola passed to Clayton who lateraled to Sheffield and the latter ran to the 14. Clayton then flipped one to Revo Stewart for a touchdown. Nace Formagus added the point.

As the game ended SMU was driving toward another touchdown. The final gun found Cliff Hagerman being forced outside on the North Texas 2 yard line after a 12 yard run.

Horned Frogs Chalk Up 20-0 Win Over Porkers

By FELIX R. McKNIGHT

FORT WORTH —(AP)— Wee Dean Bagley and Kyle Gillespie, the Texas Christian thumbleweeds, steered the rapidly reviving ghost of other great Christian teams to a 20-0 rout of the University of Arkansas in the Southwest Conference opener here Saturday.

Vastly underrated by the preseason guessers, the Christian team that last week humbled Centenary, 41-6 snubbed the odds Saturday and twice drove into a vicious, southerly wind to score on uninterrupted marches of 78 and 69 yards, winding up both with spectacular passing plays.

But the Christians weren't too dependent upon their famed aerial antics, tossing only nine. Six of those, however, were completed, and three of them went for touchdowns on heaves of 45, 18 and 17 yards.

To Bagley and Gillespie goes credit for most of the 269 yards TCU rolled up, but another hero —, a tragic, forgotten boy—flashed back from obscurity for one brief moment to get the wildest cheer of the day.

Big Jack Odle, the lad they said only a season ago would carry on the great line of Sammy Baugh's and Davey O'Briens at Texas Christian, but who quietly folded in mid-season after an injury and dropped into the shadows, slipped into the game as a reserve fullback.

On a routine buck straight over guard the bronzed kid suddenly burst through the massive Porker line and hit the secondary at full speed. He veered to his left, spun off a tackler and streaked for the sidelines. Three Arkansas men dived at him and he kept going. Finally 40 yards downfield, two red-clad Razorbacks dropped him.

On the next play he cracked center again and simply powered for eight more yards. But he didn't get up that time. Injured, they carried him off the field. The fans cleared his fogged head with screams.

Arkansas, stout on the defense at times but lacking the fiery offense that has featured its play for many seasons, muffed the only good scoring chance it got. The Christions, still the opportunitsts, made good on most of their's.

COLORADO 7; KANSAS STATE 6

BOULDER, Colo.—(AP)—Colorado University of the Big Seven defeated Kansas State of the Big Six 7 to 6 on a wet gridiron Saturday. Vern Miller ran 40 yards for Colorado's touchdown in the second period. Johnny Pudlik placekicked the extra point.

Kansas State battled its way out of a hole in the third period and Gene Fair staged a 58-yard touchdown run. Nichol's place kick for the extra point was short.

Irish Race Over Pacific Tigers In Easy Style

Veteran Stagg's 11 Is Stubborn

SOUTH BEND, Ind.—(AP)—Notre Dame, perennial contender for the national football championship, swept over the venerable A. A. Stagg's little College of the Pacific team Saturday, 25 to 7, opening the 1940 campaign with an impressive display of power and deception.

Stagg, beginning his 51st year as a coach, put a courageous and smart eleven on the field, but was overpowered by the abundant talent of the fighting Irish.

A crowd of 30,000 spectators thrilled to the first quarter scoring drive of Stagg's underdog machine.

Alternating a smooth passing attack directed by Dale Halbert with a tricky ground game, the Golden Tigers drove 60 yards against the Iris regulars in the opening period. Dwayne Mears scored the touchdown on a center plunge from the one and Emil Seifert placekicked the point.

This lead stood up for the stubborn visitors until midway of the second quarter. Bob Saggau tossed a pass to Steve Juzwik for a 40 yard gain to the Pacific 25. After an incomplete pass big Milt Piepul drove to the seven and then Juzwik faked a reverse and skirted left end for the tally. Piepul tied the score with a perfect placement.

Wearing down the undermanned Stagg men, Notre Dame moved into high gear in the third, Fred Evans and Bernie Crimmins leading the attack. Crimmins sent the Irish ahead with a 16 yard end jaunt, but Joe Laibers placement was blocked.

The Irish muffed several other scoring opportunities in the third but easily clinched the decision in the fourth, scoring two touchdowns in one minute.

Mexico Grid Team To Receive Honors

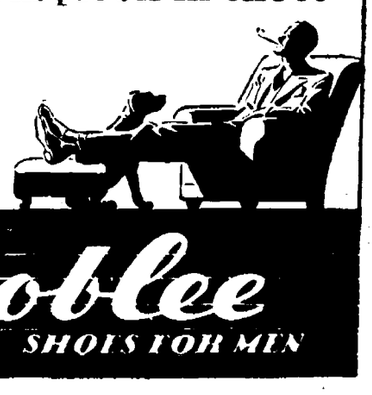

MEXICO CITY —(AP)— The national department of physical education said it had been advised that Governor Leon Phillips of Oklahoma had proclaimed October 6-10 as "Pan-American Good Will Week" in honor of a Mexican football team visitng Oklahoma City.

PRINCETON 7; VANDY 6

PALMER STADIUM, Princeton, N. J. —(AP)— Princeton's girdmen fought off a desperate last period Vanderbilt rally Saturday to defeat the rugged Commodores from Nashville 7 to 6 before about 16,000 persons in Palmer Stadium.

Derringer Squares Series Count For Reds

Sets Tigers Down With Five Blows

the bases and then making Derringer lay down an easy grounder.

The Reds kept right on making trouble, however, Werber again walking to open the fourth, going to third as Mike McCormick lined a double into right and scoring after Goodman had lifted a long fly to Hank Greenberg in left center.

Smith Holds Reds

Smith then managed to hold Cincinnati in check for two frames, but was removed for a pinchhitter in the sixth and the Reds went to work on Lefty Archie McKain for their final run in the eighth as well as singles in the seventh and ninth.

Two were out in the eighth when Werber needled a single through the box and went to second on a wild pitch. Mike McCormick came up with another single to bring Werber home.

The Tigers' runs came in the third and the other in the sixth but neither touched off an inspired rally such as Detroit produced to win the first and third games of the series.

Greenberg Gets Double

With one out in the second inning Barney McCosky waited out a walk, went to second on an infield out and came racing home as Greenberg hammered a double along the left field foul line.

Rudy York walked as Derringer took care to keep good balls away and then Bruce Campbell struck out.

In the sixth stanza two were out before Campbell singled sharply to right and came hurrying home as Higgins lifted a tremendous fly against the right field screen for a triple.

Derringer walked catcher Billy Sullivan, a left-handed hitter, and Earl Averill, pinch-hitting for Smith flied out to end the uprising.

The only other hits that Derringer gave up were a single by Higgins with one on and two out in the second a single by McCosky with none on and one out in the fifth.

Derringer Walks Six

The big right-handed star, who won 20 games and lost 12 during the regular season, and usually has fine control, caused some alarm in the early frames by allowing six walks, one of them intentional, but he kept as cool as an icebox and received fine support in every crisis.

In the first inning when he walked McCosky, second baseman Eddie Joost started a double play that immediately ended the inning and again in the fifth when McCosky himself singled Derringer fashioned a double killing. The victim each time was Charley Gehringer.

He struck out four batters, each in a different inning, to keep matters under control.

Atones For Defeat

This triumph atoned well for Derringer's defeat in the opening game at Cincinnati and put the Reds in good shape for the remainder of the series, which now is certain to return to Cincinnati and will be the first one to go six games since the New York Giants and Yankees struggled that distance in 1936.

Manager Bill McKechnie said after the game he was undecided whether to start young Gene Thompson Sunday or come back with Bucky Walters, whose three-hit pitching piloted the Reds to their victory in the second game.

The best judgment here was that Thompson probably would get his chance at last. With the tide even McKechnie can afford to string along with the young fast-baller just as Del Baker did Saturday with Trout. If Thompson wins, Walters would be available to try for the clincher Monday. If he doesn't, the Reds still would have Walters and Derringer available for the emergency on their own field.

Baker expected to start Buck Newsom again and hoped that the big fellow would repeat his first game success.

FOOTBALL ROUNDUP

By HERB BARKER

NEW YORK— (AP) —Two of last year's football powers, Tennessee and Cornell, moved into the forefront of the 1940 national rankings Saturday along with the Mid-Western big four of Minnesota, Ohio State, Michigan and Northwestern, as the day's one real full-fledged upset was engineered by the Diplomats of little Franklin and Marshall College of Lancaster, Pa.

The Diplomats invaded Hanover, N. H., with an alert, speedy team and handed Dartmouth's ivy league Indians a stunning 23-21 setback with a brilliant sophomore back, Billy Manotti, leading the way.

Vols Win

Meanwhile Tennessee's Volunteers, beaten by Southern California in the last Rose Bowl game, hammered out a decisive 13-0 victory over Duke in a game in which the highly-touted Blue Devils from the Southern Conference reached Tennessee territory only once.

Cornell, unbeaten a year ago, dealt Colgate an unmerciful 34-0 beating in its first 1940 start with Hal McCullough's passing a major factor in the rout.

Ohio State, Michigan and Minnesota all won after bitter fights and discovered another Western Conference entry, Northwestern, evidently would have to be reckoned with. With Bill De Correvont and Don Clawson scoring two touchdowns apiece, Northwestern buried Syracuse under a 40-0 count.

Charley Maag's field goal from the 12-yard line in the last 21 seconds of play enabled Ohio State to trip Purdue, 17-14, after the Boilermakers had rallied sharply in the second half to tie the score at 14-14. All-America Tom Harmon scored all of Michigan's points as the Wolverines won over Michigan State's pass-minded Spartans, 21-14, before 65,000 fans.

Fine line play and the excellent running of George Franck and sophomore Bill Daley carried Minnesota to a 13-7 victory over Nebraska's Cornhuskers, Big Six power.

Wisconsin made it a great day for the Western Conference by trouncing Marquette, 33-19, but Indiana's Hoosiers found Texas more than it could handle and the Longhorns punched out a 13-7 decision. Notre Dame opened its season against A. A. Stagg's College of Pacific outfit and won a routine 25-7 victory, spotting the visitors an early touchdown.

Missouri Loses

Despite Syracuse's route and a 19-14 set-back clever Virginia administered to Yale, the East did pretty well in intersectional games. Pitt's power off-set Paul Christman's passes and the Panthers turned back Missouri, 19-13. Princeton, holding off Vanderbilt's strong closing thrust, won 7-6, while Penn romped at Maryland's expense, 51-0. Navy worked out a 14-0 verdict over University of Cincinnati.

Williams, of the little three, came close to duplicating Franklin and Marshall's upset feat but finally bowed to the Army, 20-19. Fordham looked none too strong in a 20-7 defeat of West Virginia, and New York University came a cropper against well-coached LaFayette, 9-7.

Tulane's disorganized forces dropped a Southeastern Conference decision to Auburn, 20-14, while Kentucky and Georgia rolled up big scores over Southern Conference foes. Kentucky whipped Washington and Lee, 47-12, and Georgia walloped South Carolina, 33-2.

In Southern Conference games, Clemson handed North Carolina State is first defeat, 26-7; North Carolina tripped Davidson, 27-7; Wake Forest rolled over Furman, 19-0, and Richmond defeated Virginia Tech, 13-7.

Texas Christian hung up a 20-0 count on Arkansas in a Southwest Conference duel, while Texas Aggies and Southern Methodist, picked to battle for the championship, won over non-conference rivals. The Aggies, No. 1 team in the nation a year ago, trounced Tulsa, 41-6, and Southern Methodist rolled over North Texas Teachers, 20-7.

The year's first Big Six contest saw Iowa State nose out Kansas, 7-0. Oklahoma barely survived Oklahoma A. and M.'s closing drive, 29-27. Kansas State bowed to Colorado of the Rock Mountain Big Seven, 7-6.

In the Far West, Oregon State and Southern California played to a scoreless draw although the Trojans almost pushed over a touchdown in the closing minutes of play. Stanford, continuing its fine showing under Clark Shaughnessy, defeated Oregon, 13-0. California, routed by Michigan a week, showed a surprising reversal of form in beating St. Mary's Gaels, 9-6.

In the Rocky Mountain Big Seven, Utah continued its spell over Brigham Young, 12-6, while Wyoming held Colorado State to a 0-0 deadlock.

How About It? Was He Safe?

Nope, you're wrong. He was out. Tiger third baseman Higgins sprawls on the ground after being tagged out by Catcher Baker of the Reds in the eighth inning of the third Series game which was played at Detroit and won by the Tigers, 7 to 4, after a big batting spree. Higgins tried to score from second when Tebbetts grounded to Myers who threw him out to F. McCormick. McCormick beat Higgins to the plate with his throw for a double play. (NEA Telephoto.)

Rice Owls Open Season By Beating Gents 25-0

HOUSTON—(AP)—The Rice Owls started their 1940 season with a 25-0 victory over the Centenary Gentlemen Saturday night as a band of sophomores ran the visitors ragged. Passing brought two of the four scores.

First Quarter

Rice muffed a chance to score early in the first period when big Ray Zimmerman, end, intercepted a pass on the Centenary 37. Weems smashed to the 28 but Brumley fumbled on a spinner and the Gents recovered on their 32 and kicked out. The Owls began another drive from their 39 and got to the 10-yard line on smashes by Brumley, Ellis and Weems. The surge ended when May, Centenary halfback, recovered Brumley's fumble as the Rice fullback attempted to hand the ball off on a spinner. The Louisianans avoided further immediate trouble by kicking out to the enemy 45.

The Owls had trouble with the Centenary line and the teams exchanged punts after fruitless struggle around midfield. Coach Neely sent substitutes streaming in, trying to find an effective combination.

A penalty because a substitute talked on entering the game put Rice on the 24 as the period ended scoreless.

Second Quarter

Keel slapped a pass to Verlan Prichard on the 12-yard line and after two strikes at the lines, shot another from the 10 to the same player. Pritchard had no competition as he snuggled the ball behind the line for the first score. Vestal kicked point. Score Rice 7, Centenary 0.

Rice kicked off to Centenary, held the Gents on downs and took over on its own 35. The Owls started an attack that seemed headed for a score, but Centenary tightened on its 15-yard line and kicked out of danger again. Little Keel was the spark of the Rice drive, rocking the Gents' line with off-tackle plunges, but his last-effort passes from the 15 failed.

Rice took the ball on the Centenary 46 after Faith's nice punt, managed to pick up but a handful of yards and Weems spiraled a 36-yard punt which went out of bounds on the Centenary 3. Faith booted it back to his 35, and Centenary took the ball again when Rice's Weems fumbled on the Centenary 28 and Allums, Gent guard, recovered. Faith faked a punt and shot a 25-yard pass to the Owl's 47, but Barnes' pass two plays later was intercepted by Weems on the Rice 27. Weems then tossed an aerial to Everett on the 46. A talking penalty against Centenary and a 12-yard dash by Weems put the ball on the Gents' 27. Weems shot a touchdown pass to Ellis and Rice led 13-0 at the half.

Third Quarter

Barnes gave Rice a break early in the third by fumbling an Owl punt on the Rice 37. Quillian recovered for Rice. The Owls drove to another score, with Keel doing the heavy work. He teamed with McDougle and Zander to push through to the Gents' 37, then passed to Prichard on the 22. Keel shot off tackle to the 10 and then blasted to the one-foot line. Zander failed to get it over but Keel made it over right tackle. Vestal failed to convert. Score, Rice 19, Centenary 0.

Rice tallied again after a kicking exchange, when Weems intercepted Barnes' pass and raced 55 yards for a score behind strong interference. Brumley failed to kick point. Score, Rice 25, Centenary 0.

Fourth Quarter

Dickson failed to get the ball across and Centenary kicked to its own 28. Dickson began passing, and hit Price on the 17-yard line, but thereafter he failed. On fourth down, Tresch, end, dropped Dickson's heave behind the line. Rice took over again on its 43 after a Centenary punt and Dickson and Glaassie drove to the Centenary 40, whence Dickson heaved an 18-yard pass to Ellis. Centenaary recovered a Rice fumble on its own 20, however, to end the threat.

Rice took the ball on its 35 after the Centenary punt but was forced to reciprocate after picking up ten yards in five plays. Keel put Rice back on the trail again by intercepting Hamby's pass and dashing 26 yards to the Centenary 29. After a line try, Centenary drew a 15-yard penalty to the 13 for roughness. As the game ended, Keel was trying to spot a receiver behind the Centenary goal line. Final score, Rice 25, Centenary 0.

Girl Matador Will Be Seen

MATAMOROS — Juanita Cruz, Spanish girl matador, said to be the best woman bullfighter in the world, is carded to appear in the Matamoros Bienveida bullring Sunday, Oct. 13 at 4 p.m.

She will fight bulls of the famed Penuelas stock, known to be unusually ferocious.

Miss Cruz, famed also for her beauty, does all her bullfighting on foot. She is considered to be one of the most elegant cape artists among the women bullfighters of the current generation.

Alternating with Miss Cruz will be Carlos Vera, "Canitas" and Luis Briones, two up-and-coming bullfighters. Canitas and Briones gave a fine showing in their last appearance in the local ring several months ago.

The bulls are expected to arrive during the week and bullfight fans are invited by the impresario to visit the local ring and see the animals.

Pittsburgh Wins Over Missouri

PITTSBURGH—(AP)—Once mighty Pitt splurged some of its lost prestige Saturday by uncorking old time power to overcome passing Paul Christman and his Missouri Big Six champions 19-13 before 26,000 fans.

Ahead from the outset, Pitt doggedly fought off aerial maneuvers of the invaders while rolling up and down the gridiron for a net rushing gain of 215 yards to score in the first, third and fourth quarters.

Christman dazzled the crowd with a great passing show, hurling 29 of Missouri's 31 passes and completing 12 for gains of 210 yards. Pitt completed one of five passes for a gain of 18 yards.

Bear Ace Badly Injured Friday In D. U. Game

Lost To Baylor For Rest Of Season

DENVER—(AP)—A 14 to 7 victory over Denver University apparently cost the Baylor University gridders the services of their chief backfield candidate for All America honors.

Wilson, injured in the second quarter of Friday night's game, must remain in the hospital for several weeks and he won't play football again this season, Dr. Lewis V. Sams, Denver team physician informed the Baylor squad.

Coach Morley Jennings of the Texans spent most of the night at the hospital, where a specialist worked over young Wilson. The back was carried from the field on a stretcher after being tackled by Cecil (Butch) Scheffel, Denver guard, while catching a pass.

Also taken to the same hospital were two Denver players—fullback Dan Clinger of San Antonio, Texas, and Lou Liley, substitute end. Dr. Sams said they would be released Saturday, as their injuries were not serious.

The Baylor victory might be subtitled "The Triumph Of The Man With The Twisted Knee." Jim Witt, 180-pound veteran halfback, was supposed to have the damaged hinge, so all he did was go in at the pinch, replacing the injured Wilson and score both Bear touchdowns. He caught a short pass from sophomore Bill Coleman for one in the second quarter and scooted 27 yards through the entire D. U. team for the second.

Wolverines Trim Spartans 21-14

ANN ARBOR, Mich.—(AP)—All-America Tom Harmon roared down the touchdown trail again Saturday and scored three times as Michigan's Wolverines rolled to a 21 to 14 victory over an air-minded Michigan State football team. A crowd of 65,438 witnessed the performance, virtually a one-man show.

In contrast to his long gallops against California last week, Terrible Tommy this time dashed across the goal line on runs of 13, 9 and 2 yards. He place-kicked all three extra points and ran his scoring total to 49 points in two games this season.

The Spartans went through the air for their touchdowns, Sophomore Walter Pawlowski, speedy halfback, making catches for gains of 45 and 37 yards. Pawlowski and Quarterback Bob Sherman each booted an extra point.

Wasted Whitewings Cut Deep Into Future Supply

Comment has been made recently in Valley newspapers regarding the continued decrease in Whitewings. The conservation of the White-wing population means a great deal to the Valley both from the standpoint of recreation and financial returns.

One of the most effective means of increasing White-wings in the Valley would be to reduce the loss due to crippled and dead birds not retrieved by hunters who shoot them. Obviously there is no way of avoiding a considerable loss from these causes, but the present appalling mortality could and should be greatly reduced if hunters would take the situation to heart.

Many hunters are very conscientious about shooting from fairly open stands, shooting only at birds which they have a good chance of retrieving, and about retrieving them immediately to avoid losing them in the brush or weeds. There are hundreds of hunters however, who are still too thoughtless about this matter, and, as a result, thousands of White-wings are shot and wasted each season.

To determine this waste in one locality an investigation was made where many White-wings shot were falling in the brush. Twenty-one dead birds were found by one man in twenty-five minutes search near the edge of this brush, and it was estimated that there were at least 500 dead birds to the mile near each side of this road. Many others which were not killed outright had doubtless wandered farther back in the brush or had sought refuge in rat burrows or dense clumps of prickly pear. It was clearly evident that many hunters shooting there were retrieving only those birds which fell within easy reach. This practice causes a tremendous waste of game.

In one locality east of San Manuel several hunters who were shooting in a very small clearing in heavy chaparral were observed and a record kept of the birds they lost or crippled. For the forty-eight Whitewings retrieved there were twenty-seven killed and eight fatally injured which were not found in the dense brush. Sixteen other birds were wounded sufficiently that they separated from the flock and glided into the woods beyond reach of retrieving. Twelve other birds lost feathers and showed by their flight that they had been hit. For the forty-eight bagged there were thirty-five lost and twenty-eight wounded. Of those latter several were probably sufficiently wounded that they never took wing again. If these men had shot at birds within range of retrieving, this loss would have been greatly reduced.

The score of these hunters apparently compares with the average at stands surrounded by heavy brush and cactus. It has been reported by State investigators on the basis of many hunters' own statements that for every ten birds bagged in 1939 at all types of shooting stands four were lost, but field observations have indicated that many hunters greatly underestimate their losses. The wastage probably averages forty per cent in more open areas and much greater in brushy places, varying according to the type of area where the hunting is done and the skill of the shooter. Some hunters can rightfully claim that they lose very few birds, but for every such experienced, careful hunter there appears to be several who lose many birds. The pratices of shooting at high birds, at those already above brush where retrieving is very difficult, or into the flock rather than at an individual bird are three reasons for the continued decrease of the Valley's White-wings. It is the hunter who is little concerned about how many White-wings he kills or cripples and loses who deserves much of the blame for the continued decrease of this fine game bird in the Valley.

Hardin-Simmons Cowboys Defeat Arizona State

Ground Attack Is Big Factor

TYLER —(AP)— Hardin-Simmons Cowboys unleashed a powerful ground attack here Saturday to corral the Ariona State Bulldogs of Tempe 17-0 before 12,500 fans at the sixth annual Texas Rose Festival grid classic.

The defeat toppled the Bulldogs from the nation's unbeaten, untied clubs, and the victory was the third against no losses this season for the cowboys.

Paced by Owen Goodnight, Moon Mullins, and L. B. Russell, the Abilene, Tex., team piled up 12 first downs to four for the Arizona eleven, including one on a penalty. The Cowboys backs ran up yardage while a strong line held the Bulldogs in check.

Wayne Pitts, highly touted Bulldog back, was throttled most of the game, but managed to slip through for a few good gains. The best Bulldog showing came in the first quarter when the Arizona crew drove to Hardin-Simmons' 21 before the Cowboys braced.

The Tempe push started when Shamblee recovered a Hardin-Simmons kick, a line thrust by Hernandez gained three, and the attack failed when the Bulldog's aerials missed their marks.

Hardin - Simmons, evidencing power early, drove in the fading minutes of the first quarter 79 yards to the Bulldog one-yard line, but the Arizona line held. Murray Evans,, reserve Cowboy center, kicked a field goal from the 10 yard line to give Hardin-Simmons a 3-0 lead.

An attack which carried the Texans to the Arizona three midway in the second quarter bogged down, but a few minutes later the Cowboys drove 35 yards to score, on runs of Russell and passes from Russell to Parker and Burris. Russell passed to Goodnight on the Arizona State one and he drove over for the touchdown. Bryson added the extra point from placement.

The third quarter was scoreless, but early in the final period the Cowboys climaxed a 38-yard drive with Bryson going over for a touchdown through the line from the Arizona three. Bryson kicked another extra point to complete the scoring.

Olin Mason, star Bulldog tackle, went out of the game in the second quarter with a chipped ankle bone.

Rio Rico Plans Hunting Club

RIO RICO, Tamps., Mexico—Nimrods desiring to hunt game in the Republic of Mexico are invited to attend a meeting to be held at Joe's place in Rio Rico, Sunday, October 13, at which time all rules and regulations pertaining to hunting in Mexico will be discussed.

A "Club Cinegetico" has been formed with General Lopez Tafaya, president, and Jose Ortega, vice-president and manager. Valley hunters may join this club at a nominal fee and receive all the benefits, chief of which is the obtaining of permits.

A game warden from Victoria will be on hand to explain the open seasons on various game and the regulations governing hunting in Mexico.

Tennessee Vols Beat Duke 13-0

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. —(AP)— The Tennessee Vols' grid prestige, punctured in the 1940 Rose Bowl game, was patched and pumped up skin tight Saturday with a sparkling 13 to 0 victory over "one of the best football teams in Duke history."

Forty-two thousand sun-saturated fans who overflowed Shield-Watkins Stadium sat thrilled and amazed as Coach Bob Neyland's team, forsaking for the first time the solid old army game, ran the leks from under the Blue Devils with a tricky new shift, some fancy ball juggling and more passing than Vol fans have seen in a long time.

The scoring was confined to the second quarter, a pass good for 33 yards accounting for the first points, and a plunge following a blocked punt netting the second touchdown.

Only once did Duke invade Tennessee territory.

The twelve-month calendar was arranged by Julius Caesar.

Conference 11s Play Six Games In Five States

Will Cover Ground Saturday

FORT WORTH —(Spl)— Six games in five states constitute the Southwest Conference schedule for next Saturday. It will be the third successive week-end in which six contests have been booked, but it will be the last.

After next week, the conference elevens begin to battle among themselves more and more, and four contests will soon be the maximum for any Saturday afternoon.

One conference tilt will be played next Saturday—Baylor vs. Arkansas at Fayetteville. It has been four years since the Razorbacks defeated the Bears. Arkansas at home is never easy, but Baylor will be favored in many quarters.

Most interest will center on the Texas A. and M.-U. C. L. A. clash in Los Angeles. The Aggies and S. M. U. are still listed by most handicappers as the best bets to cop the Southwest flag. Some indication as to comparative strength may come from Los Angeles affair, since the Mustangs already have a 9-to-6 victory over the Uclans. Fan philosophy in the Southwest seems to be, "if the Methodists can beat them, the Aggies can."

Texas Christian goes to Chapel Hill, N. C., to meet the University of North Carolina Tar Heels, coached by Ray ("Bear") Wolf, former T. C. U. line coach, and Johnny Vaught, captain of the 1932 championship Horned Frog eleven and all-American guard that year. You could flip a coin on this one and have only one chance of being wrong.

Incidentally, the Aggies return from their jaunt to the Pacific Coast and the Frogs from theirs to the Atlantic, to meet each other in College Station one week later, on October 19.

Texas and Oklahoma meet Saturday in the annual Battle of Dallas. Whatever may happen on the football field that afternoon, the day's activities as a whole will be summed up, "A good time was had by all."

Coach Matty Bell takes his Southern Methodist eleven to Pittsburgh. Pitt routed the Mustangs 34 to 7 when the two elevens met in Pittsburgh two years ago. The Panthers this year, though, aren't up to the class of '38, and the Methodists have improved. Looks like sweet revenge.

Rice plays Louisiana State in a game at Houston. The Owls have been playing the Tigers annually since 1932; have won two, tied one, lost five—the last Owl victory coming in 1935.

L.S.U. 25; HOLY CROSS 0

BATON ROUGE, La.—(AP)— The Louisiana State University Tigers, led by Adrian Dodson with three touchdowns and scoring in every period, swept over the Holy Cross Crusaders in an intersectional football title Saturday night, 25 to 0.

Latin American Army Chieftains In San Antonio To See Randolph

SHAM BATTLE PLANNED FOR PART OF SHOW

Hemisphere Defense Is Mapped

SAN ANTONIO—Latin American army chieftains on a flying tour of United States defense establishments reached this strategic southwestern military area late Saturday for a two-day inspection.

Ending their swing west and the first week of their trip the chiefs of staff and ranking officers of Colombia, Bolivia, Peru, Uruguay, Costa Rica, Panama, Honduras, Dominican Republic, and Guatemala, will quicken the tempo of their already fast pace to study Uncle Sam's major pilot training fields—Randolph and Kelly.

At Camp Bullis

They also will review the second division at Fort Sam Houston here and watch a sham battle at Camp Bullis.

The officers landed at Randolph Field at 4:30 p.m. (CST) after a two-hour flight in perfect weather from Barksdale Field, La., where they were entertained at luncheon by General Frederick Martin.

They received his reassurance that the United States "takes its responsibility for defense of the western hemisphere."

The general warned that singly "we can be overpowered" but united none can make the Americas submit to their will.

"In the United States we are doing our utmost to be strong that we can help you . . . keep this hemisphere inviolate . . .," General Martin said.

"Fight For Liberty"

Lt. Colonel Refugio Fabrega of Panama responded with the significant declaration that the Americas want peace but will fight together to protect their liberty.

Lt. Gen. H. J. Brees, corps area commander, Generals Collins and Krueger, and Brig. Gen. Donovan welcomed the visitors when they alighted from their plane, while the Randolph Field band played the Volivian national anthem, and a 17-gun salute boomed.

Channel Authorized At Texas Port For Destroyer Building

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A Senate-House conference committee agreed Saturday upon a rivers and harbors bill authorizing $34,500,000 for projects classified as national defense measures.

The conference groups approved three Senate increases including a $137,000 project at Orange, Tex., on the Sabine-Neches waterway to provide a channel for a yard constructing destroyers.

The bill merely authorized the projects. Funds must be appropriated later.

Student Is Honoree At Hockaday School

HARLINGEN—Miss Billie Faye Trammell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. L. Trammell, was one of the honorees at a Club Council reception at Hockaday Junior College in Dallas, where she is a freshman student, Wednesday evening, October 2. Skits were presented by the six college clubs: Book Review, Dramatic, Classical, Current History, French, and Scribblers. She will designate the club which she prefers to join within a week.

Miss Trammell will also take part in the Mobilization for Americanism activities scheduled on the campus for the week beginning Sunday, October 6.

Legion's Auxiliary Not To Meet Monday

HARLINGEN—Announcement of the meeting of the Harlingen American Legion Auxiliary for October 7, published in a recent issue of the Valley Morning Star, Saturday was declared erroneous by officers of the local auxiliary. The meeting will not be held October 7.

BACK FROM CONVENTION

PHARR—Mrs. Folsom Mittelstadt, instructor at the Pharr Val Rie School of Beauty Culture, returned this week from San Antonio where she attended the national convention of beauticians, which was held in the Gunter Hotel.

Interpreting The War News

Tendency Of German Public To Expect Miracles From Army Worries Leaders; Victory Rests With Infantry

Blitzkrieg Secret Is Explained By Army Officer

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON

Thirteen months of up-to-date war in Europe, with Nazi blitzkrieg trimmings, leaves the question of British sea versus German air power unsettled; but has not changed a fundamental concept of how land battles are fought and won.

It is still bayonets that win battles, not machines. That is the essence of German blitzkrieg technique, of all military experience. The function of all other arms, from Roman chariots to 80-ton Nazi tanks, from rock-hurling catapaults to bomb - dropping planes, is to help the foot-soldiery to do its grim job.

Germans Expect Miracles

The only miracle referred to by German experts in recounting the stunning victories by Hitler's armies from Poland to France is a miracle of training and staff precision to achieve coordinated application in battle. That is the lesson of the war, of the World War and of all previous wars.

Nazi militarists have noted a tendency in German public opinion—which they regard as dangerous—to expect miracles where mechanical robots do the fighting, not men. Before this writer is a translation of an article in a Berlin technical military journal, "Militar Ochenblatt," appearing in Berlin last August. Its title is "Die Infantrie Im Blitzkrieg" and it came from the pen of a German professional soldier of rank.

He analyzes Nazi army victories from Poland to the final cracking of the French line on the Somme-Aisne which brought France to her knees. This is his conclusion:

"They (the battles) have proved that the enemy's last resistance must be broken, as hitherto, by the infantry, and that in the last hundred meters of a charge the infantry must accomplish this result unaided (by tanks, aircraft or artillery) and solely by force of its own weapons. . . . it (the German infantry) bore the main burden of the struggle and proved to be queen of the battlefield."

The writer quotes from present German army regulations to govern training for "combined arms" as follows:

Up To Infantry

"The object of all arms is to allow the infantry to reach the enemy while still in possession of sufficient firing and attacking power to bring about a final decision."

If "in many places" in those battles the Nazi infantry came to grips with "an already crushed foe" due to effectiveness of Nazi aviation and tanks, the author adds, "this mefely proves that our troops of all arms have been properly trained and not that the importance of the infantry's mission has diminished."

Because of that training, also, the writer adds, German infantry frequently reached its objective "with incredibly small losses" and was able to spring forward in hot pursuit to exploit a tactical success and turn it into a smashing strategic victory.

"This necessitates bold and decisive action on the part of subordinate commanders, who can usually count only on their own respective units and must wage the combat without relying on assistance of their neighbors," the article added. . . . "the commanders of even the smallest (German army) units were glad to assume responsibility. It was this fact that was new to our foes.

"They call it blitzkrieg and talk of our secrets. To us this quick success was due our training."

Police Find 'I Ain't No Rookie' Gal Tells It Straight In Dallas Arrest; Blotter Shows 751st Arrest For Her

DALLAS —(AP)— Though haggard, the woman was well-dressed —and sarcastic.

"Don't give me that line, coppers," she chided two policemen questioning her at the city jail Saturday concerning a recent robbery.

"You ain't got a thing on me and you know it. I ain't no rookie."

She was correct.

Police records showed it to be her 751st jail confinement here in 15 years.

5 INJURED IN THREE WRECKS

George Clayton Said Not Serious

McALLEN—George Clayton, 65, McAllen boiler worker, was receiving treatment in the City Hospital here Saturday for injuries sustained Friday night when he was struck by an automobile driven by Ross Currier of Raymondville on the highway inside the west city limits.

Currier told County Patrolman George Murray he did not see Clayton until he was too close to avoid hitting the elderly man. Currier was not going at a fast rate of speed, Murray said, and came to a stop within 25 or 30 feet after the impact.

Physicians said Clayton sustained multiple cuts on the right thigh and back of the head. His condition was not regarded as serious. Murray said the driver apparently was not to blame.

Antonio Riojoa, resident of San Luis Potosi, Mexico, was seriously injured when his car was in collision with a gravel truck driven by Charles F. Danner of Pharr on the U. S. 83 highway curve east of Mission Friday afternoon. Murray said Rioja's car failed to make the curve. The injured man received treatment at a Mission physician's office.

Slight cuts and bruises were sustained by three McAllen girls and two McAllen men in a collision at North Second street and East Hackberry Highway just outside the McAllen city limits late Friday. City Patrolman Earl Hersh, accompanied by Carl Skinner, was driving a new demonstrator car, which was in collision with a car occupied by Miss Woodra Bray, Miss Norma Lee Bray and Miss Clarine Nelson. Murray and State Patrolman Edd Hearn are investigating the crash.

Miss Schmale also will speak at 8 p. m. Monday at Market Square.

Harlingen Townsend Club Meets Monday

HARLINGEN — Meeting of the Harlingen Townsend Club will be held Monday at the city hall auditorium at 8 p.m., with Dan Martin of Mission as principal speaker, Club President I. A. Baker said Saturday.

Kolb Rites Set

Raymondville Mass Is Sunday At 8 A. M.

RAYMONDVILLE—White mass will be said here at the Catholic Church Sunday at 8 a.m. for Mrs. Margaret Kolb, 83, wife of Jacob Klob, Raymondville, who died Friday at 6 a.m. at the home of her son-in-law, C. W. Gist, after a short illness. Rosary will be said at 3:30 p.m. by Father Patrick F. Ward, Raymondville.

Pallbearers will be Anton Trophy, Ben Eckelkamp, John Morris, John Wetegrove, Doyle Bush and Agnes Young. Arrangements are in charge of Duddlesten Mortuary.

Survivors are the husband; a son Frank J. Kolb, Denver, who is to come here for the service; a daughter, Mrs. C. W. Gist, Raymondville; three grandchildren; one great-grandchild. Deceased was born March 9, 1857, at Burlington, Iowa, married Jacob Kolb June 14, 1877, at Danville, Iowa. She had been a resident of the Valley since 1936. She came here from Wichita, Kan.

ITALY SLAPS SERVILE TURK

Axis To Take Field Against Britain

ROME—(AP)—A denunciation of the Turks as "servile satellites" of the British and "the American columns which stand beside them was made Saturday by Virginio Gayda, one of the most authoritative of Fascist journalistic spokesmen.

Despite these bitter references to British-Allied Turkey, however, Gayda—had nothing specific to say as to the next military moves of Germany and Italy, beyond declaring roundly:

"The two Axis powers are resuming their war operations, never interrupted, with the greatest intensity. The effect will be seen soon."

An intensified attempt to drive the British out of Egypt and seize the Suez Canal was expected in foreign circles as Fascist observers forecast a strong fall offensive against Britain.

The conquest of Egypt is considered of such importance the possibility of the Germans aiding the Italians in a quick thrust there was seen by some. Hitler, these sources said, might help the Italians with planes, other equipment and supplies, if not troops.

France might be involved in Axis plans for the Near East, some onlookers thought, although both Italian and German circles discredited rumors of a possible peace settlement and alliance with France. France's conquerors, it was suggested, might be able to obtain the use of air bases in Syria by some arrangement short of an actual treaty.

More Safety Sallys

Safety Sallys are being distributed to schools throughout the valley. Pictured above is a portion of the remaining 100 being loaded into a truck at the Harlingen Fair grounds where they were constructed by the NYA under the sponsorship of the Valley's 20-30 clubs. Distribution has been made possible through the cooperation of the J. H. Robinson Truck Lines. 140 Safety Sallys have been delivered in Valley towns and Harlingen will receive theirs shortly.

SERVICE HELD FOR PIONEER

Mrs. Fernandez Is Buried Saturday

BROWNSVILLE—With members of many of Brownsville's oldest families in attendance, last rites were held here Saturday for Mrs. Francisca Champion Fernandez, 87, the mother of a promnient family here.

Mrs. Fernandez, who died Friday afternoon at her residence, Eighth and Elizabeth streets, had been a life-long resident of Port Isabel and Brownsville.

High mass was sung at the Immaculate Conception church by Father E. de Anta. Father E. Fuentes was deacon and Father Theofele was sub-deacon. Rites also were held at graveside in the family's plot in the Old City cemetery.

The decedent was the widow of the late Miguel Fernandez, who came to the Valley from Spain, first settling in Port Isabel and later moving to Brownsville. He became one of the foremost merchants in South Texas and northern Mexico.

Surviving are: Three sons, Miguel and Albert, both of Brownsville, and Gonzalo Fernandez of Florida; four daughters, Mrs. J. Gomez, Mrs. Lee Butler and Miss Francisca Fernandez, all of Brownsville; and Mrs. Anita Ortiz of Spain; 30 grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Seated Tea Pleasant Hospitality Of Weekend; Garden Affords Setting

HARLINGEN—The pleasant garden at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Grimsell, 122 E. Lee Street, made a perfect setting Friday afternoon for the seated tea given by the Harlingen Past Matrons Club for Past Matrons clubs of San Benito, Rio Hondo, and La Feria. A note of informality was predominant as the group renewed friendships and made new acquaintances.

Mrs. Helen Smith, president of the hostess group, welcomed the guests in a brief, informal talk.

Winners in clever contests and games that added to the enjoyment of guests were Mrs. Alyse Ammerman and Mrs. R. H. Briggs, both of La Feria. A bouquet of roses was presented to Jo Nell Wittenbach who played a group of accordion selections and sang.

Pleasing emphasis was given to the autumn theme in the attractive refreshment plates holding candied apples and other dainties in rich autumn tints.

Guests were: Mesdames Pearl Boynton, Helen Milum, Velma Brown, Claudia McSpadden, Imogene Wagner, and Helen Smith, San Benito.

Mesdames Mary Belle Zeigler, Margie F. George, Mabel Jones, Ruth Mallernce, Gertrude Mize, Maude Tredway, Beulah Lewis, and Rachel Lewis, Rio Hondo.

Mesdames Isabel Hegge, Daisy H. Swope, Jane H. Hensley, Mildred Branch, Eddie McNail, Elberta Wiley, Alyse G. Ammerman, Alta M. Brower, Florence McKnight, John H. Mitchell, Lowell L. Clark, Edith Buck, Juanita Burchfield, R. H. Briggs, and Edna Coleman, La Feria.

Mesdames Clairrette Reece, Kingsville; Florrie Clark and Sadie Walker, Brownsville; Mamie L. Tom, Runge.

Mesdames Helen Smith, Lizzie Lee Sanders, Mattie Hamilton, Ophelia Chaudoin, Lovetta Nowlin, Mabel Lee Perry, Florence Fonville, Myrtle Letzerich, Norma Hand, Lucille Chatfield, Mildred Allison, Bess Atchison, Berta Paine, Jennie M. Bennet, Sylvia Weed, Madge Cherry, and Ella Grimsell, Harlingen.

Two Events Honor Alamo Bride-Elect

McALLEN—Two delightful parties were given this week to compliment Miss Jean Ellen Dockter of Alamo who will marry Wayne Wiley October 12 at a twilight service at the Community church in that city.

Thursday evening Mrs. Ernest Anderson of Edinburg gave a dinner and bingo party at her home at which the bride-to-be was presented with a gift from the hostess and each time a prize was won in the bingo game it was given to her.

Large bowls of red roses decorated the home and the dining table was centered with a bowl of the flowers resting on a large reflector.

Guests were Mrs. J. E. Dockter, Alamo; Misses Florence and Priscilla Dockter, Alamo; Misses Eunice Faye and Kitty Earhart, San Juan; Mrs. Leonard Fox, Beaumont; Mrs. Earl Wallace, Edinburg; Mrs. Arthur Wiley and Miss Lucille Wiley, McAllen.

Friday noon a group of Mrs. Arthur Wiley's friends had a covered dish luncheon at the home of Mrs. Wiley. Red roses were also used for decorations and the guests gave the bride-elect a lovely gift.

Those attending were Mesdames L. M. Hubbard, Paul Snowden, F. Snowden, A. F. Myers, Lee Wilson, Sol Berridge, Henry Cramer, A. Barret, G. R. Carpenter, Jesse Lound, Misses Mae Hazel, Jean and Ann Myers, Lucille Wiley and Mrs. Wes Lynn of Pharr.

Girls Bridge Club Has Pretty Party

McALLEN—Miss Dorothy Lee Hawkins was hostess for a pretty appointed party having as guests members for her Bridge Club at her home here this week. Arrangements of flowers reflected the autumn theme.

In the series of games, high score trophy was awarded to Miss Irene McMahon.

Refreshments were served to the following guest: Misses Daisy Ellen and Mary Virginia Polk and Cathryne Melton of Pharr; Misses Margaret Brown, Irene McMahon, Lucille Wiley, Gloria Yzaguirre, Ruth Griffin, erlyn Bonner, Grace Miller and Annabel Adams, of McAllen.

Bride-To-Be Honored with Color Shower

McALLEN—All the colors of the rainbow featured the decorative note of the shower Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Reck and Miss Ann Serviere gave this week at the Reck home for Miss Alice Withers of Edinburg, bride-to-be.

Miss Withers will marry Ray Kotila of Edinburg at the latter city Sunday.

About 40 Upper Valley guests registered in the guest book, given the young bride-elect.

Feature of the evening was the opening of the myriad colored pile of gifts, found in the "pot of gold" at the end of an arch, toned in rainbow colors.

The same motif was used on the refreshment table, covered with woven paper to simulate the rainbow hues. Quantities of roses, lilies, and corona vine were used to make effective decorations about the rooms.

"Advice to the bride" games provided the party's amusement.

Assisting with hostess duties were Miss Rosemary McNallie, Mrs. Lena McNallie, Mrs. George Schultz, Marjorie Johnson and Mable Baker, the latter of Weslaco.

A resident of Edinburg, Miss Withers is well known in McAllen where she is employed as secretary at the office of the Texas Soil Laboratory.

Miss Schmuck Honored With Gay Party Round As Wedding Date Nears

McALLEN—A gay round of parties have kept Miss Laura Schmuck, October 12 bride-elect of Rogers LaPralle of Dallas in a busy whirl this week.

Foremost among the parties was a luncheon given to honor Miss Schmuck and Mrs. Don Sherer, a recent bride, by Mrs. Charles Holland at the Casa de Palmas Hotel. A large bowl of talisman roses on a reflector mirror centered the table with dainty handmade placecards marking the services for Mrs. Wilfred St. Clair Fisher, Mission; Mrs. Harrison Riddle, San Juan; Mrs. H. O. Schleben, Edinburg; Mesdames R. M. Schmuck, Percy Herman, McKee Caton, C. A. Marshall, Miss Leta Schwingel, the honored guests and the hostess. Mrs. Holland presented the two young ladies with a gift.

Miss Schmuck was honored guest Wednesday when Mrs. J. C. Ziebell entertained her bridge club at her home, decorated with white and pink roses. Guests included: Mesdames Schmuck, Charles Swallow, Sr., L. E. Berry, Will Cook, Arthur Jury, H. O. Hempel.

Mrs. Lee Green of San Juan entertained at her home with a luncheon Wednesday for Miss Schmuck when the table was colorful in green and white. The centerpiece was an arrangement of white zinnias and corona with the placecards featuring orange blossoms sprays.

During the afternoon Miss Leta Schwingel gave two clever readings.

Present were Mesdames Schaleben, Schmuck, George McCullough, Annie Sheldon, Wilfred St. Clair Fisher, Harrison Riddle, Misses Schwingel, Helen Sheldon and the honored guest.

Recent Bride Honored By Garden Party

LA FERIA — Mrs. Max Carnicom, a recent bride, was named honoree Thursday evening when the White Collar Club entertained with a garden party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. V. V. Routon. A miscellaneous shower honoring Mrs. Carnicom, who is the former Miss Clara Wyland, was a feature of the evening.

Greeting guests on the spacios lawn were Miss Edith Strickland, president of the club, Misses Pauline Routon, Virginia Routon, and Pauline Ritter.

Mrs. Jack Craig, sister of the honoree, had charge of the attractive guest book.

In charge of the gifts were the following club members: Misses Josephine Harpst, Annette Doude, Douglas Carroll, Lois Erickson, and Evelyn Lamphier. Many lovely gifts were displayed on tables on the lawn. Mrs. C. V. Somer gave an appropriate reading during the evening.

Adding to the attactive scene were many arrangements of cut flowers arranged in baskets and on on tables.

A pleasing frozen dessert course was served.

Present were Mesdames L. A. Francis, Luke Lott, Harold Stewart, P. C. Stewart, Foster Stewart, Roy Stewart, W. E. Richards, Henry Troppy, Monty Stewart, H. J. Kolb, Rowe, and Nittler.

Mrs. Hugo Visits

BROWNSVILLE—Guest here for a brief stay with Mrs. G. W. Johnson was Mrs. Maurice Hugo who arrived Thursday from her home in Mexico City, and departed the same evening for Kansas City, where she will visit her mother and sister. Enroute home, Mrs. Hugo will make a longer visit with Mrs. Johnson. Mrs. Johnson was her guest recently in Mexico City.

MISS GRIFFITH ILL

ALAMO—Miss Martha Griffith has been ill all this week.

Miss Monroe Is Bride of R. F. Mason

BROWNSVILLE — Nuptial rites will be read this morning at 8:30 o'clock for Miss Georgine Monroe, daughter of Mrs. Laura Monroe, and Richard Ford Mason, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Mason, Jr. The ceremony will be read in the presence of members of both families in the rectory of Sacred Heart church with the pastor, the Rev. Father William J. Moore, officiating.

Potted palms and white roses and asters in pretty arrangement will furnish the setting for the rites.

Attendants to the couple will be Miss Jane Richard and Barry Putegnat.

The bride has chosen for her wedding a frock of midnight blue velvet to be worn with black accessories. Her flowers will be bride's roses and lilies of the valley, in an arm bouquet. Miss Richardson will wear a frock of black.

Immediately following the ceremony, there will be a reception for members of the families and the bridal party at the home of the bride's mother. Here pink roses will be used for decoration. The bride's cake is to be a heart-shaped confection, iced in white, and topped with a miniature bridal pair.

The couple will leave after the reception for Monterrey and nearby points by motor, and upon their return in a week or ten days will make their home in the May Day Apartments.

The marriage claims much interest here as both bride and groom are long-time residents of Brownsville and have many friends here. The bride attended Brownsville schools, was graduated from the Brownsville high school and junior collge. The groom, who attended St. Joseph's College is connected with Pan-American Airways.

The formal meeting will get under way at 11 a. m. at the theatre with luncheon served at 1 p. m. at the Mercedes high school cafeteria.

Girl Reserves Plan Candlelight Rites

RAYMONDVILLE — Installation Service for Girl Reserves featuring a candlelight ceremony will be held at the Methodist church Sunday evening at 7:45. The address will be made by the Rev. M. C. Yeargan of the Presbyterian church on the theme "Widening Horizons." Other special features will include music and readings.

Sponsors of the Girl Reserves this year are: Mesdames Ira Page, R. M. Coole, James Strawn, W. E. Brownfield, J. C. Brandt, W. C. Beard, C. C. Conley, Ralph Scott, R. H. Fackelman and Misses Madeline Gilliland and Norma Bunten. Mrs. Ed. Raymond and Mrs. Violet Kennedy.

Autumnal Colors Mark Courtesy Given Friday By McAllen Hostess

McALLEN — The muted color notes of the autumn season were stressed in the coffee given by Mrs. McKee Caton at the Casa de Palmas Hotel Friday morning.

The decorative scheme was further enlarged by the smart fall frocks worn by about 75 Upper Valley women who formed the guest list for the delightful affair, eminent among the season's parties.

The De Maxey room of the hotel provided a fitting background for the refreshment table at one end. It was centered with an elaborately simple arrangement of asters and daisies with yellow the predominant note. Among the arrangement, which cascaded in ferns from the rear of the table brilliant colored autumn leaves were highly effective. Other appointments of silver completed the motif on the table covered with a yellow hand woven cloth.

Small tables about the room were covered with yellow organdy and centered with dainty arrangements of pink roses.

Guests were received at the door by the hostess, smartly frocked in a simple rust wool gown, topped with a gay corsage of yellow asters. Her accessories were black.

Mrs. A. J. Campbell and Mrs. John Lomax presided at the coffee table, assisted by Mrs. Jeanette Pride and Mrs. Charles Holland.

Recent Rites Announced In Pharr

PHARR—Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Allen announce the marriage of their daughter, Dorothy Rae, to Wilbur H. McClelland of Edinburg, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. McClelland of Edinburg. The marriage rites were solemnized September 12 at eight o'clock in the parsonage of the First Methodist Church with the Rev. Lawrence K. Brown officiating.

The bride was attired in angel blue sheer chiffon, made shirt-waist style with full pleated skirt. Her accessories were black and she wore an old-fashioned corsage of pink roses, jasmine, and sprays of honeysuckle tied with pink tulle bands.

Attending the bride was Miss Roberta Kreidenweis who wore an ensemble of pink crepe relieved by a white organdy blouse. Her accessories were black and her corsage identical to that worn by the bride.

The bride, a member of a prominent Pharr family, is the granddaughter of Mrs. W. H. Brittan.

The couple will be at home after October 10 in Edinburg where Mr. McClelland is connected with the Sun Oil Company.

Musical Tea Is Enjoyed In Weslaco

Lovely Setting Notes Fall Theme

WESLACO—A musical tea given by the Mothers Club of Stephen F. Austin school was one of the outstanding events on the week's calendar and was held at the lovely new home of Mrs. Ferris Wells.

A festive note was introduced with elaborate arrangements of fantasy zinnias, yellow lupine, and duranta berries, all expressive of the appropriate fall theme. Harmonizing corsages were worn by the president, Mrs. L. S. Riddle, who received with her officers, Mesdames Gordon Potts, J. D. Garnett, and Ferris Wells.

Other members of the house party assisting in the courtesy were Mesdames Earl Pike, Harley Deihl, and Irby Ford.

The table was laid with an exquisite lace cover and had a centerpiece of the chosen flowers flanked by yellow candles in crystal holders. Mrs. Charles Sherrill and Mrs. C. B. Cooper presided at the punch bowl.

Mrs. Fred Petch of Donna sang a group of solos, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. F. O. Fleuriet, during the first period and in the second period Mrs. James Medley was presented as a soloist. She was accompanied by Miss Lucille Bradley who also entertained with piano melodies.

Approximately 150 guests called.

In charge of arrangements with the hostess were Mesdames C. H. Schwedes, C. Davenport, J. A. Knapp, G. L. Wood, and Charles Sherrill.

Mrs. K. M. Anderson was hostess Thursday morning when the Weslaco Garden Club held an interesting program at her home.

The rooms were bright with pink roses.

In the business period in charge of Mrs. James Davis, president, plans were discussed for the Weslaco Birthday Party and Flower Show and the Bougainville Trail.
and the Bougainvillea Trail.
superintendent of the experiment station. His instructive talk was on "Rebuilding the Soil." The program was in charge of Mrs. C. H. Schwedes.

Miss Marie Hays was hostess to the Junior Literary Review Club Thursday night at her home. Roses decorated the living room.

The president, Frances Jackson, presided in the business session, when various objectives were discussed.

Following the regular business routine the evening was spent socially and a sweet course served by the hostess.

La Feria Girl Bride

Mrs. Robert Lee Spangler is a bride of the autumn season, having been Miss Mary Virginia Cloud before her marriage September 27. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Cloud of La Feria and Mr. Spangler is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Spangler of Stuart Place. Holbrook Studio.)

Couple Is Honored By Large Reception After Recent Marriage

HARLINGEN—Nearly a hundred guests were received in flower-filled rooms Thursday evening when Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Spangler entertained with a reception honoring Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lee Spangler after their return from a short wedding trip. The bride is the former Miss Mary Virginia Cloud, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Cloud of La Feria. The bridegroom is the son of the hosts.

Quantities of pink Briarcliffe roses and white chrysanthemums were artistically placed about the reception rooms. Guests were entertained on the spacious tiled porch and in the adjacent garden.

The bride wore a formal frock of light blue chiffon over blue satin with a corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Spangler's gown was a pale shade of old rose and her corsage was fashioned of white chrysanthemums and sweetheart roses. Mrs. Cloud, mother of the bride, wore a carsage of Briadcliffe roses with her navy blue costume.

Music was enjoyed during the evening, Mrs. Harry Eagleston playing the piano and Mrs. W. M. Driskell singing appropriate melodies Mrs. Driskell also gave a monologue in Negro dialect.

Guests inscribed their names in a book in charge of Mrs. R. F. Toepfer. Attractive refreshment plates noted the pink and white colors. Assisting in serving were the sisters of the bride, Misses Emma Jewel and Mabel Belle Cloud, Mrs. J. M. Lancaster, and Mrs. McWilliams.

Many lovely shower gifts were presented to the bride during the evening.

Valleyites Share Frolic At A. & I.

By CARL CHILTON JR.

Probably the outstanding event of the week at Texas A. and I., from the standpoint of raising student intest and enthusiasm, was the annual "Shirt Tail Parade," which has become a tradition here. On this occasion the freshmen boys and boys who have transferred from other colleges are lined up on the campus, their pants are pulled off, and they are marched to the business district of Kingsville.

Last Monday night the annual event held, with the parade stopping in front of the Rialto Theatre here. When all the boys had reached the destination a program was given by them, consisting of singing the alma mater, "Hail A. and I.," the fight song, "Javelina Victory March" giving school yells and engaging in various contests. Many boys from the Rio Grande Valley were in this parade, with Richard Rowe of McAllen and Jack Disney of La Feria playing prominent parts by engaging in a bottle-sucking contest. After the program all the boys were allowed to put on their pants and entitled to attend the theatre free.

Jack Rucker of McAllen received more comment in the press dispatches than any other man in the Javelina backfield during the game with Texas A. and M. last week. Rucker, who was an All-Valley back while playing with the McAllen Bulldogs in 1936, was named by many as the outstanding back A. and I. had on the field during the game. He was recently moved from center to fullback because of his exceptional blocking ability.

Bill Holmes of McAllen, has recently been named as sports editor of the South Texan, weekly newspaper at Texas A. and I. Holmes is well known in Valley newspaper circles, having served on the sports staffs of both the McAllen Monitor and the McAllen Press. He was also sports editor of The Wheel, McAllen High School paper, and The Campus Beacon, publication of Edinburg Junior College.

For the third successive year Clinton Schmeling of Brownsville has been elected student council representative of his class, which this year is the junior class.

Mary Ellen Osborne of Harlingen has been elected as treasurer of the senior class.

Among the officers of the sophomore class are Rosemary Smith and Richard Rowe, both of McAllen. These two serve as secretary-treasurer and reporter, respectively.

Two Valley boys are on the pledge list of the Kappa Sigma Nu fraternity. These are Wendell Drefke of Alamo and Jimmy Morrow from Donna.

Richard Rowe of McAllen has been pledged to Delta Sigma Chi.

Among the officers of Kappa Sigma Nu are George Jean from Donna, vice-president, and Porter Pile of Harlingen, reporter.

Richard Rowe, graduate of McAllen High School and editor of The Wheel and El Espejo, the newspaper and yearbook of MHS, was elected Wednesday evening as president of the Press Club of Texas A. and I. Richard also went to Edinburg Junior College for a year.

Myrtle Wolfshohl, also from McAllen and former editor of The Wheel, was elected secretary-treasurer of the organization.

The Beta Gamma sorority pledges elected Stella Peeks of Raymondville as their secretary.

Betsy Lee Kidder of Mercedes was elected as secretary-treasurer of th Alpha Sigma pledges.

Distinctive Region Topic For Lectures

HARLINGEN — Fascinating glimpses into typically American sections to which thousands of visitors flock annually were furnished Harlingen Garden club members in talks given Thursday at the regular meeting at the Woman's Building. Mrs. L. R. DuBois presided.

Mrs. Vaughan Clarke wove into her informal discussion, "Why I Am a Garden Club Member," interesting sidelights on Claremore, Okla. which has been much in the limelight as the home of Will Rogers. In view of the renewed interest in the home town of Will Rogers because of the current series being published in a national periodical, Mrs. Clarke gave personal anecdotes regarding Claremore which is also her home town, and of the Rogers family.

She described in detail the landscaping of the Rogers memorial in Claremore which has been carried out in entirety with native growth.

Most club members changed preconceived ideas regarding Taos, famous western art colony, during an animated report given by Eleanore Roth, local artist, who with her husband, H. C. Roth, became personally acquainted with a number of the artists there during the summer. Natural rock gardens in the canyons, great trees growing on the mountains, and an abundance of flowers were presented in word pictures.

The Indians are a pastoral tribe, making little pottery and no blankets, Mrs. Roth said. They do exquisite leather work and exchange grains for pottery from more distant tribes for pottery which they sell to tourists. She described especially the garden and home of the painter, Joseph Imhof, and also the two centuries old adobe structures housing about 800 Indians.

Her visit to Taos and surrounding sections, much publicized due to the observance of the anniversary of Coronado's expedition, has convinced her that the Valley region and adjacent Mexico has equal if not greater possibilities for distinctive material for artists.

Mrs. O. E. Stuart, president-elect of the Valley Garden Council, was present for the first time after a recent illness.

Members were reminded that it is now time to plant annuals of all varieties.

Three State Officers Included In Roster For Mission D.A.R.

MISSION—Wide recognition was accorded the Colonel Henry Hill Chapter, D.A.R., with the announcement this week of state D.A.R. officers and committees. Published in the state directory are names of three members of the Mission chapter who have been named to state offices. They are Mrs. E. A. Dugat, state vice chairman of museum; Mrs. Leon H. Brown, state chairman of D.A.R. student loan funds; and Mrs. J. W. Ferguson, state chairman of transportation.

The chapter will observe Navy Day with a program at their next meeting Friday, October 11, at the home of Mrs. S. M. Duffie. Mrs. Emma Jones, McAllen, founder of the Navy Mothers Clubs of America, will be the guest speaker.

Coming To Valley

RAYMONDVILLE—Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Thompson, Jr. and children Betty and Bobby left for San Antonio on Saturday morning where they will meet Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Thompson, Sr. and bring them to the Valley.

Home From Trip

BROWNSVILLE—R. A. Hightower returned to his home here Thursday morning from a several days stay in Houston and Angleton.

Club To Sponsor Series Plays For Children; Ticket Sale Opens Soon

Four Productions Set This Season

HARLINGEN—Wednesday, October 9, sale of season tickets will start for the Clare Tree Major Theatre for children which will present four performances during the season at the Fairpark auditorium. The Fine Arts Club of Harlingen is sponsoring the project for the second year after the shows last year won widespread acclaim of both children and parents and educators.

Cost of season tickets to the four shows will be one dollar. No reserved seats will be sold.

The plays to be presented are as follows: "Seven Wishes," October 30; "Alice in Wonderland," December 18; "Robin Hood," January 29; and "Hans Brinker or the Silver Skates," March 5.

Mrs. Stanley Crockett is general chairman of the project.

Children from all over the Valley are expected to attend the shows and the following women have been appointed to assist with ticket sales and publicity: Mrs. James D. Casey, San Benito; Mrs. Henry Lauderdale, Mercedes; Mrs. Wilbur Dorman, Weslaco; and Mrs. Wilfred St. Clair Fisher, Mission.

Not only are the plays chosen for their appeal to children but the stage sets are especially designed by artists who have made a study of child psychology. The actors, though adult and especially trained throughout the summer in their roles, are sufficiently juvenile for each child to identify himself with the principal hero or heroine. Throughout the performances are little quirks and details, carefully developed with a knowledge of the reaction of children.

The plays are interesting to all school-age groups and are especially appealing, according to reports, to junior high school students.

Mrs. Glenn Miller, president of the club, has called a meeting of the executive board of the Fine Arts Clubt for 9:30 a.m. at the Woman's Building.

MRS. GLENN MILLER

Navy Mothers Club To Meet Wednesday

Birthday Occasion For Jolly Affair

DONNA—Honoring her daughter, Eunice, on her 11th birthday, Mrs. Dick Terveen entertained 25 boys and girls with an outdoor party, Saturday afternoon at their attractive country home north of Donna.

A delicious supper of fruit juice, hot chicken sandwiches, mints, cookies and tea cakes decorated with rosebuds for the girls and birds for the boys formed the menu.

Events Set In Observance Of Week

BROWNSVILLE — Business and Professional Women's Club of Brownsville will observe "National Business Women's Week" beginning Sunday, according to Mrs. Erma Miller, president.

The observance will open with a breakfast at El Jardin Hotel at 8:30 a.m. Sunday, with an address by Ralph M. Cissne, Boy Scout field executive for the Lower Valley area. Mr. Cissne will speak on "Navy Day."

Monday night the club will hold a regular meeting at Chamber of Commerce building at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Miller, Miss Julia O'Brien, Mrs. Jackie Ridley and Mrs. Lillian Schmeling will take part in a round-table radio broadcast over station KGFI at 6:45 p.m. Monday to discuss "Making Democracy Work."

A banquet will be held by the club Wednesday at 8 p.m. at Landrum's with Mrs. Lena Gay More and Mrs. Fray Maclean as program chairman.

Practical Program Observed By Group Meeting In Alamo

ALAMO—"My Favorite Garden Tool" was the answer given to roll call at the Garden Club meeting on Tuesday. Mrs. George Chorpening was hostess. Six new members were added.

An interesting paper on "Novel Annuals" was given by Mrs. W. A. Tanner, and a seed exchange engaged in by all members. Mrs. Frank Denzer, president, gave every one present a package of blue bonnet seed.

Pan American Round Table Hears Description Of Missions, Monasteries

Mrs. G. W. Johnson Gives Impromptu Talk At First Gathering Of Year

BROWNSVILLE—Members of the Pan American Round Table, meeting in the first luncheon program meeting since the summer vacation, at El Jardin hotel Friday, held a round table discussion on South America and heard an interesting impromtu address by Mrs. G. W. Johnson in the absence, because of illness, of the program leader, Mrs. Joseph C. Jordan.

Mrs. Ben M. Freudenstein, director, presided at the session, and welcomed the guests. She gave a particular greeting to those members who have been out of the city for an extended period.

Mrs. Ted C. Pelikan played the Paraguayan national anthem. There was a round table discussion of events in South America, with especial emphasis on friendly relations between the United States, and the South American countries, and the teaching of Spanish in Texas schools.

Mrs. Johnson's talk was mainly on the missions of California, many of which were built by the Franciscan friars, and which are being restored to their original form now by the same order of friars. Mrs. Johnson visited the missions from Sonora in the northern part of the state to San Diego. She described a fiesta at the Santa Barbara Mission in which there was a beautiful and colorful parade and pageant, with numbers of floats. Especially notable were the horses, she said, with their trappings of silver, which are different in form from those used in Mexico.

Another interesting feature of Mrs. Johnson's talk was her description of monasteries she visited while in Mexico. It was from these monasteries, she said, that the friars went on their journey to California. She described, too, a trip to Guadalajara, 400 miles from Mexico City, mentioning particularly the beautiful flowers and roads.

The session ended with the playing of the Star Spangled Banner by Mrs. Pelikan. Preceding this mate tea, a drink used in many South American countries, was served.

In front of the director's place at the U-shaped table which had its inner edge bordered with greens, was a large reproduction of the Paraguayan emblem. This was a gold star on a blue ground, surrounded with two wreath of greens, tied with red, white and blue ribbons, and with the whole encircled with two narrow bands of yellow blossoms. The attractive place-cards and programs were decorated with the emblem also.

There will be a business meeting of the Table at the home of Mrs. Ben M. Freudenstein Monday at 9:30 a. m.

Exhibit Presenting Work Of Widely Known Painter To Be Shown Oct. 24-31

HARLINGEN — From October 21-31 an exhibition of the work of Harold A. Roney, well-known artist and teacher, will be held at the Woman's Building under the sponsorship of the Rio Grande Valley Art League, Mrs. E. C. Deering, president of the league, has announced that the sponsoring group will hold an open house from 5:30 to 8 p.m October 24 when everyone interested will be invited to view the paintings on display.

Active artists from throughout the Valley are particularly invited.

The exhibit is being shown this fall in a number of Texas cities including San Angelo, Abilene, Austin, Temple, and Kingsville. The exhibit is now being shown at Texas A. and I. College.

Roney, who is listed in Who's Who in Art in America and Who's Who in Pennsylvania, conducts an art camp for landscape painting on the Guadalupe river near Kerrville and is assisted in the project by visiting artists.

He studied in the Art Institute of Chicago, Chicago Academy of Fine Arts, and the Glenwood School of Landscape Painting jn Chicago. He studied privately under George Arne Aldrich, Dawson- Watson, John Folinsbee, and Harry Leigh-Ross. Favorite Characters Come Alive In Plays

Storybook personalities, beloved by children everywhere, will come alive for hundreds of Valley children this season attending plays given by Clare Tree Major players in the municipal auditorium in Harlingen. Alice in Wonderland, probably the best known character in storyland, is shown left, gasping with astonishment as she discovers that her queer feeling in her head is caused by the mysterious appearance of a crown when she reaches the eighth square. This role is played by Dorothy Burdette.

Hans and Gretel Brinker (Dennis Allen and Gertrude Ogsbury) dance gaily in their beautiful new clothes, in the center picture after their father is cured, their lost money has been found, and Gretel has won the coveted silver skates.

The scene at the right presents Robin Hood, played by Ralph Clanton, the bold adventurer of Sherwood Forest, whose merry men protected the poor and persecuted those who grew rich by taxation and fraud.

Four plays will be presented during the season under the sponsorship of the Fine Arts Club of Harlingen which is launching the second annual ticket sale Wednesday, October 9.

Group Studies Proposal For Paid Leader

HARLINGEN—Plans for employing a part-time assistant for Girl Reserve and Blue Triangle work were made when the Y. W. C. A. board of Harlingen met Thursday at the home of Mrs. D. W. Schuepbach. Participating in the meeting with the board members were advisors for Girl Reserve and Blue Triangle organizations and a group of mothers.

Plans were made to secure a part-time assistant to aid advisors and co-operate with the mothers in carrying out the activities of the three clubs.

Mrs. P. G. Maher was chosen to assist with the Blue Triangle club under the leadership of Miss Mary Lee Koniakowsky. Mrs. Norman Clark will assist Miss Reet Anderson with the junior girl reserves at the high school and Mrs. Hill Cocke will be assistant to Miss Gladys Sitz, who is senior club advisor.

Approximately 100 girls are enrolled in the two high school clubs and 90 in the Blue Triangle club at the junior high school. A group of ten mothers will be organized to form the mother-sponsor committee to assist with the activity of each club.

Miss Sitz announced dates for the Southwest Girl Reserve Seminar November 8-10 in Houston and plans were made to send a representative from Harlingen.

The Rio Grande Valley Girl Reserve fall conference will be held at the Y. W. C. A. camp at Rio Hondo October 12 and 13. Miss Marguerite Hyer, girl reserve representative from Houston, the Y. W. C. A. board, together with the Girl Reserve mothers and advisors, will meet next December 5.

DISMISSED FROM HOSPITAL

RANGERVILLE—Kenneth Kaigler, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Will Kaigler returned to his home here Tuesday evening after treatment at the hospital where it was necessary to take several stitches in his leg. While playing in the barn Kenneth fell upon a turning plow deeply cutting his leg. He was rushed to the hospital Monday evening.

Indoor Gardens Topic For Interesting Program

RAYMONDVILLE—"The Indoor Garden" was discussed when the Raymondville Garden Club met Thursday afternoon.

"Terrariums and Dish Gardens" was given by Mrs. D. B. Rapp, illustrated with lovely exhibits. Mrs. C. C. Knight gave practical suggestions and dimensions in diagram for window boxes.

"Ferns and Ivy," the varities suited to the Valley climate and the secrets of their successful raising, was presented by Mrs. J. B. Chambers who displayed pretty potted exhibits.

Mrs. W. L. Bradbury substituted for Mrs. Ed Raymond and Mrs. T. H. Harbin who were unavoidably detained, by presenting her paper on the "Cultivation of Mushrooms," offering knowledge for prospective growers, both amateur and commercial. Mrs. Bradbury also displayed the mushroom spawns, ordered specially for the program.

Open discussion followed the talk.

A seed shower for North Raymondville will be given at the next meeting of the Garden Club, Oct. 17. Members are asked to bring several packages of seed suitable for planting at this season of the year.

A continuous plant exchange is being promoted by the chairman of the plant exchange committee.

Ex-Valley Girl Wed In Texarkana

BROWNSVILLE — Of interest here, as the bride is a former Brownsville resident, is the marriage of Miss Ruth Hightower, of Austin, daughter of R. H. Hightower of Texarkana, and sister of R. A. Hightower of Brownsville, to Edwin H. Blaschke, of Austin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Blaschke of Sealy.

The rites were celebrated quietly September 8 at 8 o'clock in the evening in the home of the bride's father in Texarkana.

The bride was charming in a frock of grey crepe, made with a tucked waist, and semi-swing skirt. Rows of covered buttons ornamented the sleeves and neck of the frock, and were used to simulate pockets. Her corsage was of rose colored asters.

Following the ceremony, Mrs. Jerome Creekmore was hostess at a wedding breakfast. After a wedding trip to New Orleans and Baton Rouge, Louisiana, and Houston, Mr. and Mrs. Blaschke are making their home in apartment D, 1904 Colorado, Austin.

Mrs. Blaschke, who resided in Brownsville between 1929 and 1933, is a graduate of the University of Texas, and was secretary to Dana X. Bible at the University. Mr. Blaschke is with the U. S. engineers. Upon completion of the Marshall Ford dam, the couple will be transferred either to Cleveland, Ohio, or Tacoma, Washington.

Variety Of Events On Club's Calendar

WESLACO—Mrs. George Morgan and Mrs. Orville Hill were hostesses to the Southern Star Home Demonstration club at the home of the former Tuesday. The club voted to contribute five dollars to the fund for the inhalator for the fire department.

Plans were made for a cake walk Saturday night, October 5, at the Kiwanis Park; Thursday night, October 10, the membership will have a covered dish supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sid Rankin beginning at seven-thirty with the firemen and their wives as guests of the club; and on October 15 at the home of Mrs. Allen Holmes a kitchen achievement day will be held with Mrs. M. F. Shuford.

October 31 the Southern Star Home Demonstration club will entertain with a Hallowe'en party at the home of Mrs. E. I. Emmons.

A sweet and salad course was served by the hostesses to 30.

Mrs. J. F. Byrnes Hostess To Club

EDCOUCH — Lovely esperanza was used to decorate the reception rooms when Mrs. J. F. Byrnes entertained members of the Thursday bridge club. Mrs. E. W. Martin held high score at the close of the afternoon of bridge games.

The hostess served a salad plate to Mesdames W. C. Moore, Gordon Smith, M. P. Lackland, A. T. Moore, G. C. Norris, E. W. Martin and Jeff Stokes.

Sister From Havana Guest

Miss Mildred Matthews (pictured right) was honoree for a number of attractive hospitalities during her recent visit in Weslaco where she was the guest of her sister, Mrs. W. P. Briscoe (shown left). Miss Matthews has long held a missionary post in Havana, Cuba and talked on her experience to several Valley groups during her vacation. (Holbrook Studio)

Hobby Group Entertained

HARLINGEN—The Hobby Group met this week with Mrs. Tom Bowman for a one o'clock luncheon. The fall colors were carried out in decoration of the home. Beautiful vases of yellow and orange flowers were arranged about the living room and on the dining table.

Each member gave a short talk on her vacation during the summer.

The group voted to plant a bougainvillea on the grave of the late Mrs. W. H. Hall.

The afternoon was spent in handwork of all kinds, a number engaging in knitting for war victims.

The meeting days were changed to the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month.

Next meeting will be October 23 at the home of Mrs. Ivan Hamilton on the Parker Road, Santa Rosa.

Business Women Stress Objective

HARLINGEN—Women in the role of voters is the theme of National Business Women's Week, which members of the Harlingen B.P.W. Club will observe October 6-12, in conjunction with approximately 73,000 members over the entire country.

Special emphasis will be given to objectives of Business Women's Week at the luncheon to be held at noon Monday at the Reese-Wilmond Hotel.

To turn attention of the general public to the role being performed by business women in this community, several Harlingen store windows during the coming week will feature window displays of costumes meeting the needs of business women.

Subject for study of clubs last year was "Economic Problems of the United States," and formed the basis for the analysis of the political scene which is the objective of national leaders in suggesting programs for the year now beginning.

November provides for an outline for a close study of local government. December program chairmen are advised to plan either a Goodwill Festival or a discussion of the findings of the Women's Centennial Congress in New York November 25-27.

The January program emphasizes "Helping Shape Legislation;" February, "The Price of Peace;" March, "Evaluating Government Services;" April, "The Cost of Government;" and May will be stock-taking month.

Browne Tract Club Re-Elects Officers; Plans For Guest Day

RIO HONDO—Present officers of the Browne Tract Club were returned to office at the meeting of the club Wednesday at the home of Mrs. W. C. Conklin. Mrs. J. W. Rhyner was assistant hostess.

Officers are Mrs. M. H. Wesley, president; Mrs. K. B. Williams, vice president; Miss Nellie Jones, secretary-treasurer.

A demonstration of canning chicken and preparing chickens for market was given by Miss LuElsie Nagel, home demonstration agent. Use of chicken in planning the menus helps reduce expenses and at the same time gives needed food value to the menu, Miss Nagel said.

She expressed the hope that farm families would take advantage of the cold storage facilities offered in the various Valley towns in order that marketing could be carried out evenly through the year.

Plans for guest day at the home of Mrs. Leslie Carpenter were made.

The hostesses served lunch to 17 members and the following guests, Miss Phyllis Luskowski of Chicago, Mesdames Jack Rhyner, John T. Rhyner, and Frnak Stenge.

Attractive Reception Honors Mrs. Sherer, McAllen Newlywed

Upper Valley Gathers For Event Feting Former Miss Honea; Music Is Featured

McALLEN—Upper Valley society gathered at the Schwingel Dramatic Studio here Friday afternoon when Chapter F., P.E.O., entertained for one of their newlywedded members, Mrs. Don Sherer, the former Miss Lois Honea who was married at her home in Brownwood in August.

The all-white note of bridal parties was used with effect to decorate the refreshment table, centered with a huge arrangement of white chrysanthemums.

During the afternoon as the scores of smartly gowned women gathered at the studio Mrs. Bill Doyle and Mrs. Dorothy O'Brien played a number of piano selections while Mrs. George Fox sang the bride's favorite vocal numbers; Miss Eleanor Smith presented a number of violin selections.

Guests were received by Miss Leta Schwingel, Mrs. O. R. Osborn, Mrs. F. E. Osborn at the door.

In the receiving line were the honored guest, her mother-in-law, Mrs. Sherer, Mrs. George Osborn, Mrs. H. J. Houser and Miss Laura Schmuck.

Mrs. S. J. Young, Mrs. G. Aubrey Thomas and Mrs. E. N. Catlett poured with Mrs. M. P. Wilson, Mrs. Forrest Moore, Mrs. Lee Green, Mrs. R. W. Fenwick and Mrs. J. Wesley Taylor assisting.

Others in the house party included: Mrs. Roy Telford, Mrs. K. W. Jones, Mrs. Floyd Glasscock, Miss Angie Stroud, Mrs. J. E. Leslie, Mrs. O. K. Gilvin.

Delightful, too, was the sentiment attached to the assistance of five members of the Sub-Deb Club, a high school girls organization, which Mrs. Sherer sponsored actively while employed here as music instructor in the local schools.

McAllen Unit To Give Tea

McALLEN — All McAllen residents are invited to attend the Bundles for Britain, Inc., tea to be given from five until six o'clock this afternoon at the Casa de Palmas Hotel.

Mrs. John T. Lomax is hostess for the affair, marking the first concerted drive the recently formed local unit will make to obtain a strong membership list, anxious to give aid to the war-ridden British.

The tea will be a silver tea—small donations of silver will be expected from each person who attends.

All will be asked to register in guest book and to endorse an entry blank showing their preference for the type work they wish to do in the organization.

Formed last week here, members have launched an intensive drive for warm clothing. They expect to forward a box to London direct from McAllen in the near future.

The local organization is headed by Mrs. J. W. Ferguson.

Annual Fall Style Show Scheduled

McALLEN — Fifteen attractive Upper Valley young matrons, misses and sub-debs will show the latest in Dame Fashion's fall edicts at the 18th semi-annual style show given by the Ladies Supply at the Casa de Palmas Hotel, Thursday.

This year the show will have two performances—a luncheon show at 12:30 p. m. and a dinner program at 7:30 p. m. For both occasions an orchestra will be provided.

The night revue was inaugurated last spring when it was learned there were scores of men and women unable to make the luncheon engagement.

One of the swankiest affairs of the season the show attracts, at its semi-annual reviews of the current fashions, hundreds of women from over the Valley.

Reservations may be made by calling the Casa. Accommodations for large and small parties may be made.

The names of the models were not disclosed. The styles will run the gamut of the woman's day, from when she gets up in the morning to her social engagements at night. Mrs. Charles Reagan, Ladies Supply proprietor, promised.

Visit In Corpus

BROWNSVILLE — Departing Wednesday morning for a few days stay in Corpus Christi were Mrs. Harvey E. Nuckols, Mrs. Kate Youree, Mrs. Billy Putegnat, and Mrs. Charles Mathers, and young daughter. They planned to return at the end of the week.

Matchbox

Have you seen these match box covers of tooled leather with a slide-in frame on top into which you put a picture of your best beau, your child, your house or your dog. They are as original as anything you have ever seen and cost not over one dollar and a half each. The frame holds a kodak picture one inch by one and a half in size.

Direct Activties Raymondville Groups

Mrs. Carr Is Honored

PHARR—Mrs. John Carr of Elsa, director of the Pharr Baptist Church choir, was honoree for a prettily appointed surprise birthday party Wednesday evening. The courtesy was arranged by members of the choir after regular practice at the home of Mrs. A. J. Flowers, with Mrs. O. M. Jones and Mrs. W. O. Yates as assistant hostesses.

Arrangements of coral vine blossoms and sprays of lacy fern were used to decorate the rooms, and encircled the two tiered white embossed birthday cake, lighted with pink tapers, that centered the lace laid dining table.

The honoree was presented a beautiful white china flower bowl. Various parlor games formed the evening's diversion, and the birthday cake was cut and served with ice cream. Guests were Misses Ella Jean Fleming, Pauline and Gertrude Bennett, Elizabeth Ann Smith, Sylvia Lee Jones, Anna Mae Flowers, Mrs. E. M. Turner, Rev. and Mrs. O. M. Jones, Mrs. Ada Flowers, A. J. Flowers, Bobby Maurer, Gordon Lee Thayer, Richard Earl Lewis, Paul Addison Flowers, Walter Flowers, Mrs. A. J. Flowers and the honoree.

Mrs. Weaver To Address DuBois-Hite

"American Asleep" Open Program Topic

BROWNSVILLE—America Asleep will be the interesting topic of the address to be given by Mrs. Walter Weaver of Donna at the Saturday luncheon meeting of the DuBois-Hite chapter of the N. S. D. A. R.

Since this discussion will include accounts of un-American activities, the chapter members are cordially inviting all who are interested to hear the address, and have arranged an open program meeting.

Members of other DAR chapters and others interested may make reservations for the luncheon at El Jardin Hotel at 12:30 by calling Mrs. E. E. Dickason, or may join the chapter members at 1:30 o'clock, which is the approximate hour of the address. No reservations for hearing the address alone are necessary. Tickets for the luncheon are 50 cents apiece. DuBois-Hite members should call Mrs. Dickason for cancellation of reservations, if they are unable to attend.

This is another in the monthly series of addresses and programs on Americanism, and should prove of particular interest at this time.

People Of South American Topic For Alpha Study Unit

BROWNSVILLE — Mrs. Fitz Schmidt was in charge of the program at the Thursday morning meeting of the Alpha Study club at the home of Mrs. R. A. Hightower.

Mrs. Schmidt continued the study of South America, topic for the year, with an able discussion of the People of South America. She traced the history of the people from the aborigines to the present time, noting the fusions of Spanish, Portuguese and negro blood with the Indians.

Fifteen members answered roll call with current events on South America.

Mrs. Peter Heinz was a visitor.

The next meeting will be held the first Thursday in November.

Visits Grahams

BROWNSVILLE — Miss Bernice Graham has arrived from Burnet for a visit with her brother, F. T. Graham and Mrs. Graham, and other relatives.

MRS. BUNGE HOSTESS

HARLINGEN — The attractive garden at the home of Mrs. Wm. L. Trammell will be the setting for the meeting of the Flower Lovers Garden Club Monday morning at nine o'clock. Mrs. W. A. Bunge will be hostess.

Mrs. Joe K. Wells Leads Topic For Magruder-Ford UDC; Delegate Is Named

BROWNSVILLE — Mrs. Joe K. Wells chapter historian, was in charge of the program for members of the Magruder-Ford chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy when the unit met Thursday morning at the home of Mrs. Fanny D. Putegnat.

Information for Mrs. Well's talk on Richmond, Virginia, was gleaned from the Century Magazine of 1885. The Century Magazine succeeded The Bivouac, official organ of the Confederacy. She gave the story of the founding of Richmond by William Byrd in 1773, and mentioned St. Johns church, where Patrick Henry made his noted speech.

Richmond, she reminded the members, was the scene of Aaron Burr's Congress, and the Secession Congress.

Mrs. G. W. Johnson, chairman, presided for the first time in a year, as she has been in California and Mexico for the past nine months.

Mrs. Johnson was chosen delegate to the National Convention meeting in Alabama, November 20.

Observing a custom of many years' standing, the members presented a book to the high school library.

The members answered roll call with topics on founders. For her roll call, Mrs. Harbert Davenport read a letter to General H. B. Bee from Colonel John S. Ford, written from Fort Brown, September 1864, acknowledging a flag presented to him by the ladies of Brownsville. This letter was copied by Mrs. Davenport from the original letter which is in the Austin museum.

Mrs. Jennie Mendenhall, a member of long-standing, who has recently moved to Dallas, was made an honorary life member by the chapter.

Iowa Guest Is Honored

MERCEDES — Honoring her cousin, Mrs. Peter La Toney of Council Bluffs, Iowa, Mrs. W. R. Hoover entertained the members of the Crystal Bridge club and a number of guests at a bride luncheon Tuesday noon.

The tables were beautifully decorated with cosmos and corona vine. High score among members of the Crystal Bridge club was won by Mrs. Rosier George while Mrs. Beverly Caldwell received high score among the guests. The honoree was presented with a lovely gift by the hostess.

Members of the Crystal Bridge club attending the luncheon were Mesdames Rosier George, Herman Schmalzried, A. W. Lewis, Charles Le Blanc, E. Q. Farris, Woody Tullis and Dewey Acker. Guests were Mesdames Floyd Langford, T. J. Rippert, Beverly Caldwell, A. G. Acker and the honoree, Mrs. Peter La Toney.

Salem Guest

BROWNSVILLE — Mr. and Mrs. Herbert L. Stokley have as their guest for the month of October their daughter, Mrs. J. D. MacInnis of Salem, Massachusetts. Mrs. MacInnis is the former Miss Dorothy Stokley.

Visit Mother

LOS FRESNOS—Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Scarlett of Laredo were weekend guests of Mr. Scarlett's mother, Mrs. S. S. Sappenfield.

RETURNS FROM LEGION

MISSION—A. C. McHenry has arrived home from Legion, where he spent the last month. He was operated on there and is recuperating at his home.

'Kit Carson' Thrilling Epic Of The Old West

Adventure Of Famed Indian Scout Shown In Action-Filled Drama Of Pioneers Booked At Rivoli And Capitol

TEARING A PAGE from the history of the making of the Old West when the course of courage thundered it's American way westward "Kit Carson" is the sweeping, action-filled story of the great American scout, Indian fighter and plainsman.

The action-filled story unfolds some of the spectacular episodes in the life of the great American adventurer whom the Indians thought could not be killed and who joined forces with Captain Fremont to survey and map the shortest overland route to California, in the days when travel meant fierce attacks from the Indians and the countless dangers of unexplored country.

Scheduled for showing Sunday and Monday at the Rivoli Theatre in San Benito and at the Capitol Theatre in Brownsville Thursday, Friday and Saturday "Kit Carson" presents a large cast of favorites headed by Jon Hall as Kit Carson, Lynn Bari as the lovely Dolores, Dana Andrews as Captain John C. Freemont, Raymond Hatton as Jim Bridger and C. Henry Gordon as General Castro.

DEANNA DURBIN STARRED IN 'SPRING PARADE'

SET AGAINST the monarchal grandeur of the old Vienna of Franz Josef and the waltz, the lilting and gay musical romance "Spring Parade" brings a grown-up and lovelier Deanna Durbin to the screen in a story that moves at a smart pace and presents songs and dance, gay humor and mild pathos but always as a part of the plot.

Supporting roles are filled by able and popular stars including Robert Cummings, Mischa Auer, Butch and Buddy, Anne Gwynne and Reginald Denny who fit in to the tailored story of a peasant girl who buys a printed forecast of her future and is guided by it to it's fulfillment. This takes her to Vienna where she is employed by a baker, meets a soldier who is also a composer, meets also the Emperor much to the delight of those who see the film.

Miss Durbin sings four songs in "Spring Parade" all in the lighter and pleasanter manner, she dances and portrays the role of a young lady in a manner that befits the training she has had in the past.

"Spring Parade" is currently showing Sunday and Monday at the Capitol Theatre in Brownsville.

'HIRED WIFE' IS GAY COMEDY ROMANCE

ROMANCE RUNS WILD in the merry-mad comedy romance "Hired Wife" which co-stars Rosalind Russell, Brian Aherne, Virginia Bruce, Robert Benchley and John Carroll and is currently featured Sunday and Monday at both the Palace Theatre in McAllen and the Arcadia Theatre in Harlingen.

The rollicking story tells of a business man who must be married hurriedly and through the trickery of his secretary cannot get in touch with his fiance and marries her instead thinking she will divorce him when he desires but she is in love with him and here is where the fun begins. As the intrigue grows more intense the comedy becomes funnier.

All three stars are perfectly cast and turn in superb performances, making their characters appear real rather than mere shadows prancing across the screen. And they are given some excellent support by Benchley and Carroll. Funny-man Benchley, believe it or not, is an attorney. And what an attorney! Carroll is a Latin Romeo who tries to help Rosalind by attempting to woo Virginia away from Brian.

George Beck's highly diverting original story has been adroitly adapted into the screenplay by Richard Connell and Gladys Lehman. The swift action never sags and each reel is punctuated with pungent dialogue lines which registered with hilarious emphasis.

JAMES CAGNEY AND ANN SHERIDAN CO-STARRED

CAPTURING THE EXCITING movement of life in a big city and what it does to the little people who live in it, "City For Conquest" combines Ann Sheridan and James Cagney with a powerful and human story which is currently showing Sunday and Monday at the Ritz Theatre in Weslaco and at both the Arcadia Theatre in Harlingen and Palace Theatre in McAllen Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Cagney plays the part of an East Side newsboy who discovers that one must be hard and tough to make a dent in the town. Ann Sheridan has the role of a girl who finds that the price of success can be very high. Together they plan to accomplish something—to beat their way through the cruel oppression of the town's seven and a half million struggling souls. Ann dances her way to fame while Cagney tries to earn enough money to marry her and send his brother through music school. They find that the city can be conquered, but only if one can face great tragedy and sacrifice. Their's is a story that will never be forgotten.

Unexcelled support are given the two stars by Frank Craven, Frank McHugh, Donald Crisp, Jerome Cowan, Blanche Yurka, Joyce Compton and two newcomers that you will take to your heart, Arthur Kennedy and Elia Kazan.

HISTORICAL DRAMA PROVES A HIT

A BLOOD-TINGLING epic of the American Revolution, of the birth of a nation, "The Howards Of Virginia" comes to the screen one of the finest films that has been produced this year with Cary Grant and Martha Scott in leading roles and Sir Cedric Hardwicke, Alan Marshall, Richard Carlson and Paul Kelly head the supporting cast.

Produced and directed by Frank Lloyd who has brought such excellent films as "Mutiny On The Bounty," "Cavalcade" and "Wells Fargo" to the screen "The Howards Of Virginia" was adapted from the popular and best selling novel "The Tree Of Liberty" by Elizabeth Page and tells of the compelling romance of two young people in love set against this great nation's struggle for freedom and democracy.

"The Howards Of Virginia" is scheduled for showing Tuesday and Wednesday at the Capitol Theatre in Brownsville.

Rosalind Russell, above, is co-starred with Brian Aherne, Virginia Bruce, Robert Benchley and John Carroll in the gay, romantic comedy "Hired Wife" which is currently showing Sunday and Monday at both the Arcadia Theatre in Harlingen and the Palace Theatre in McAllen.

Above are Jon Hall, Ward Bond and Harold Huber in a scene from the thrilling story of the winning of the west "Kit Carson" which is currently showing Sunday and Monday at the Rivoli Theatre in Son Benito and scheduled at the Capitol Theatre in Brownsville Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Featured parts in the film are played by Lynn Bari, Dana Andrews, Raymond Hatton and C. Henry Gordon.

'THE WESTERNER' AT STATE

THE DAYS OF THE OLD WEST, with all it's adventure and color, provides the stirring background of Samuel Goldwyn's "The Westerner," starring Gary Cooper, Walter Brennan and Doris Davenport and booked for current showing Sunday and Monday at the State Theatre in Mercedes.

Brennan is cast as the famous Judge Roy Bean, the only "Law West of the Pecos" who is so enamoured of the famous Lily Langtry he would do anything, even pardon his prisoners, to meet her. Cooper, a roving cowboy, is released from jail when he promises to introduce him to Miss Langtry.

Among the most unusual sets constructed for the film is the saloon —a replica of that infamous liquor dispensary in which Judge Roy Bean held his court and ruled as the sole law west of the Pecos.

Lilian Bond is cast as Lily Langtry, with Doris Davenport, Fred Stone, Forrest Tucker and Paul Hurst in important featured roles in the large cast. William Wyler directed the picture.

Above is lovely Deanna Durbin who returns to the screen in the tuneful, humorous and heartwarming romance "Spring Parade" at the Capitol Theatre in Brownsville Sunday and Monday. Featured with Miss Durbin are Robert Cummings, Micha Auer, Butch and Buddy, Anne Gwynne and Reginald Denny.

James Cagney and Ann Sheridan share co-starring honors in the powerful drama of the big city "City For Conquest" which is currently showing Sunday and Monday at the Ritz Theatre in Weslaco and Thursday, Friday and Saturday at both the Arcadia Theatre in Harlingen and the Palace Theatre in McAllen.
